"There is a greater demand today than ever before for nursing service. To summarize the whole situation statistically: the estimated total shortage of professional nursing personnel in all branches of the nursing service now stands at $700. Of this number, 7,000 are needed in all types of hospitals; 1,200 are needed in the private duty field, and 500 are needed in the Public Health field."

The Canadian Hospital Council, continued Mr. McNamara, estimate that additional hospital accommodation is required immediately for approximately 40,000 patients, with a corresponding need for nurses.

"Today's nurse has need of a broad, professional education. The great advances in scientific medicine have called for similar advances in nursing. The nurse has become a highly-skilled expert."

"To enter a good school of nursing, a student must be at least 18 years of age and must be able to pass a thorough physical examination. She must be a high school graduate, preferably with senior matriculation."

"In conclusion, I wish to point out that the value of nursing training — both to the young woman and to the community as a whole — cannot be exaggerated, even if she does not intend to follow nursing as a career."

When you are so devoted to doing what is right that you press straight on to that and disregard what men are saying about you, there is the triumph of moral courage. — Phillips Brooks.

Council resumed, and opened the adjourned Court of Revision on drainage bylaw No. 283. There were no appeals, but Catherine one pound of sugar. With the relaxation of sugar rationing a sharp drop in honey consumption as well as in price is to be expected.

The disposing of the Canadian crop of honey at prices which would give producers a reasonable return under conditions of normal sugar supply is largely a question of distribution and marketing. Considerable attention is at present being given to that subject by various trade and government agencies. Many people who formerly were not users of honey are now buying considerable quantities as a result of sugar rationing. To maintain that demand in competition with jams, jellies, and other competitive sweets when rationing no longer exists will require a marketing system which will ensure equitable distribution and a minimum, well-graded product.

Method facilitates every kind of business, and by making it easy makes it agreeable, and also successful.—C. Simmons.

SION OF ONTARIO

FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 1947.

People Are Asking.

Q.—Will you please tell me if a tenant starts paying his rent in advance must it always be paid that way? Does a landlord have to call on the tenant to collect rent or can a tenant force the landlord to do this?

A.—Both these matters are outside the jurisdiction of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. They do not come under the Provincial Law for Ontario. We would advise you to consult your solicitor.

Q.—I understand the ceiling price of oranges varies according to the size of the fruit. How can a housewife know she is not paying more than the ceiling price when she isn't sure of the size?

A.—Displays of oranges being offered for sale must include a card showing the price and stating the size of the fruit.

Q.—Recently I could not leave my office at lunch time and sent out for a cup of coffee. Isn't this above the legal ceiling price?

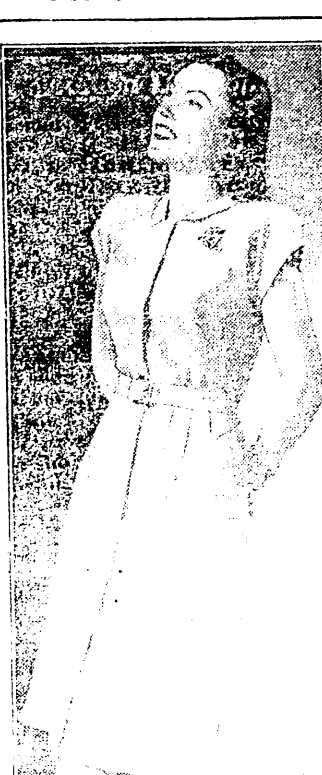

A.—The price charged you should be the same as that listed on the a la carte menu of the restaurant from which you obtained the coffee, plus any deposit for the container. This deposit would be refunded when you returned the container. If you will identify the restaurant we shall be glad to investigate.

Winter Reading.

Special care in selecting correct light for working and for reading, when inside a great deal during winter months, is advised by National Health authorities at Ottawa. They declare proper lighting cheap health insurance. Eyes-strain due to inadequate light can cause headaches and many other ailments.

We build our ideals and they in turn build us.—Le Conte.

THE choice of a woman of high taste is to wear Irish linen for her cruise wear. It is the only fabric that is both comfortable and stylish. It is the only fabric that is both comfortable and stylish. It is the only fabric that is both comfortable and stylish.

Emphasize the Value of Rural Surveys.

A report of a survey of the rural areas of the Dominion, made by the Dominion Bureau of Agriculture, shows that the rural areas are the most important source of food and raw materials for the Dominion. The survey also shows that the rural areas are the most important source of employment for the Dominion.

This tendency of races to seek out the various cereals which are most susceptible to them and to predominate in areas where such varieties are extensively grown, emphasizes the importance of continuing with surveys to determine the prevalence and distribution of physiological races of the cereal plants. The information gained from such surveys is essential in the development of varieties highly resistant to all races of these pests.

Job Adjustment.

No one will ever be killed by hard work if he loves, and is suited for that work, according to health experts. Work which may be harmful is that for which a person is not suited, or which can be performed only by constant strain and worry. Every one, therefore, should strive to find interesting, as well as profitable employment.

CANADA'S

Planned Living.

Health authorities point to the marked improvement in physical condition of the majority of those who served in the armed forces during the war as proof of the value of planned living.

Statistics show that when a man's body is kept in good condition, he is able to do more work, and his life is longer. This is the result of planned living.

Wise planning will result in a longer and healthier life.

Creep Feeding Spring Litters of Pigs.

Creep feeding of pigs while on the sow is a definite help in producing heavy, thrifty pigs at weaning. With a large litter, and in raising early litters, which do not have the benefit of sunshine or outdoor conditions, the use of a creep is particularly important.

Actually, creep feeding is a very simple and economical method of raising piglets. It is a method of feeding piglets while they are still on the sow, and it is a method of feeding piglets while they are still on the sow.

Statistics show that when a piglet is fed while it is still on the sow, it is able to do more work, and its life is longer. This is the result of creep feeding.

Wise planning will result in a longer and healthier life.

ELM GROVE

Mrs. Margaret Fitch, of Windsor, formerly of this district, celebrated her 80th birthday on Friday, January 17th, at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Nellie Wright, where a number of friends and relatives gathered to wish her many long years of good health. The evening was spent playing cards, honours going to Mrs. Thomas Addison, Hubert Boggs and Lawrence
Reeb. At the close lunch was served.
The table of attraction, at which Mrs.
Fitch and her immediate family were seated, was laid with a lace cloth and two birthday cakes topped with 80 candles and flanked on either side with tall pink candles in silver holders, and a background of red roses.
As she lighted the candles everyone sang "Happy Birthday" and "She's a Jolly Good Fellow." After lunch Mrs.
Fitch thanked one and all for the lovely gifts received.

Boys' Sports.
Before a gym full of energetic spectators was witnessed one of the most brilliantly fought basketball games of the year, and although the Leamington-Essex game was an exhibition, both teams battled until the last whistle, when Essex emerged victorious 35 to 30.

Essex juniors and seniors joined forces to bring us this exciting game.
Red Ross led the scoring with 14 points, Roach next with 8, Loebach and Allison 4. Otton and Irwin were the best for Leamington, with 20 points between them.

Next Friday, January 31st, Essex will board the bus for Kingsville to meet for the second time, Essex winning the first game.

pott as his warden, for the ensuing year, and Mr. Philpott spoke briefly, reviewing the year's work.

The following officers were elected:
People's Warden, J. A. Nightingale;
Vestry Clerk, J. M. Shaw; Budget
Secretary, G. I. Geddes; Lay Delegates to the Synod, F. B. Geddes, J. M.
Shaw, alternates, Ken Standing, G. I.
Geddes; Board of Management, the rector's appointees were Ernie Simson, Wm. Ede, Rev. C. G. Gulliver, Horace Clements, Don Maedel, Max Gulliver; elected to the Board, by the vestry were Geo. Weller, Wm. Wass, F. V.
Martin, H. W. Hall, E. McBrien and Wm. Morgan.

Undoubtedly the outstanding event of the evening was the financial report of the People's Wardens, showing the parish clear of all indebtedness, including the new rectory, purchased during the year, and a substantial balance on hand.

Forbes Geddes, in moving a vote of thanks to all officials and workers, summed up the year's work by saying that 1946 had been the most successful year in the history of St. Paul's.

Celebrate 60th Anniversary.

On Saturday, January 25th, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Dillon, of Detroit, held a reception in their home, in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Mullins, of Maldstone, the occasion being their 60th wedding anniversary. Mr. Mullins is 84 years old, while Mrs. Mullins is 82.

Among the eighty guests who gathered in their honour, Mr. and Mrs.
Mullins greeted grandchildren, nieces and nephews cousins and old friends, among whom were Mrs. Thomas Hufston of Maldstone, who is 85 years of age, and John McAuliffe, of Maldstone Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullins are the parents of Joseph Mullins, well-known butcher, of Maldstone, and Mrs. Jas.
Dillon, of Detroit. They have 17 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren.

Congratulations.

Our heartfelt congratulations
On your sixtieth anniversary,
May God grant you good health
To celebrate your diamond jubilee.

Dear Uncle Maurice and Aunt Mary.
After sixty years of married bliss,
We all join in wishing you
Many more years of happiness.

Married January the twenty-fifth,
In the year eighteen eighty-seven,
Your married life has ever been Just a little bit of heaven.

No doubt you have had crosses,
At times have shed some tears,
They've been forgotten by the joys
Of those sixty happy wedding years.

The friends that you have made,
Even you could not estimate
That you have made no enemies
We most truthfully can state.

Your children and grand-children,
And your great grandchildren, too,
Must be very proud and happy
To have a mom and pop like you.
Ed Byrne.

The Rule of the Convoys.

By Joseph Lister Rutledge.

Those who have seen the setback of John L. Lewis something final and decisive are possibly giving it greater weight than the fact warrants. It is the failure of a tactical maneuver, not of a campaign.

There is very little doubt that labor as a whole was not much in sympathy with the Lewis tactics. While leaders voiced a grudging accord, they were conscious that the public as a whole would not support such tactics.

But while labor, for all of its public statements, was not solidly behind the coal mines shutdown, there has been no break in its lines. Those who see the labor movement stopped in its tracks are deluding themselves. That is not the case. We would go further and say, happily that is not the case.

Those who have exultantly foretold a U.S. Congress bent on repressive measures are no doubt wrong and, again, happily wrong.

The danger of Mr. Lewis' tactics was partially that he might disrupt the economy of a continent and, beyond that, he might have induced so widespread a prejudice against organized labor that repressive measures would have been a probability, with resultant antagonisms that might have spelled complete disaster.

This danger has passed. There has been time for sober and less unimpassioned thinking. But this does not mean that the labor question can now be tucked away on the shelf. Whether plans involve a new series of wage demands remains to be seen, but all the probabilities point that way. Also, because it has been realized that price increases are quickly discount wage gains, there is a strong probability that correlated with wage demands will be a demand for maintained price levels.

Industry would admit quite readily that there are cases where profits could absorb increased wages. But if labor assumes that all industry is in this favoured position, then it is obviously basing its strategy on a delusion that can only be result disastrously. Even in the favored industries there is no assurance of year-to-year profits, and the fat years must bear some of the burden of the lean years that are inevitable in all business. That is as much in the interest of labor as it is in the interest of industry.

There is an increasing need for detached thinking on these issues. Particularly is that so in regard to the interests of the great mass of citizens like the recent mine shutdown have not helped that end.

It has been proven sufficiently that both industry and labour have now become so powerful that they can sustain themselves through conflicts that are tragic for the worker, both organized and unorganized. What must be understood if these disastrous conflicts are to be avoided is that there are many marginal industries, as there is a multitude of marginal workers, and that these must be the basis of any deliberation. As the speed of the convoys was the speed of the slowest tramp steamer, so all our economy must be related to the multitude of industries where such increases might mean the difference between profit and loss. Equally, the marginal worker sets the base on which all successful wage claims must be founded. The fundamental of a wage increase that shall not be offset by increased costs is that there must be increased production involved. This also implies that somebody must make up the deficiencies of the marginal worker and to meet accordingly. Liberty Magazine.

Rebunking the young man whose sense of good had discerned to be material, Christ Jesus said (Matthew 19:17): "There is none good but one, that is God." Whatever seems to be good and yet has a material basis is not good in the real or spiritual sense, is not Godlike, is not God-generated. Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" page 275: "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is all-in-all, and that there is no other might nor mind — that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle." And she adds immediately: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is." Here then is the starting-point for a right understanding of God and man. Reasoning from the spiritual basis that God is divine Principle, Mind, Spirit, Soul, Life, Truth, Love and that man is His image and likeness we can discern the spiritual fact which will solve our problem. The divine creation exists in perfect accord and unity, expressing God's will, fulfilling His law, conforming to the demands of Truth and Love. These spiritual facts correct the myriads of mistaken and erroneous concepts of mankind. No matter what material sense presents, we can confidently and courageously work from the starting-point of God — divine Principle, Spirit, truth and Love — as all-in-all. Our reasoning should never waver from this sublime standpoint. — Christian Science Monitor.

The Starting Point.

To demonstrate correctly any exact science, such as mathematics, we must have a correct understanding of its basic principles. Starting with the incorrect premise that twice two is five, we cannot reach right results in mathematics. In like manner we cannot demonstrate the Science of God, or God, unless we begin with a right concept of God and His creation, and understand His nature.

God is Spirit, as the Bible teaches. Hence all that He creates must be spiritual. We cannot understand and worship God, or demonstrate His love and power in our lives, if we reason about Him from a material basis, however good it may appear to be. To believe that good is to be found in matter to try to reduce God, good, who is spirit, no matter, betrays ignorance of His real nature, an ignorance which results in disease and discord until it is corrected by spiritual understanding.

Rebunking the young man whose sense of good had discerned to be material, Christ Jesus said (Matthew 19:17): "There is none good but one, that is God." Whatever seems to be good and yet has a material basis is not good in the real or spiritual sense, is not Godlike, is not God-generated. Here then is the starting-point for a right understanding of God and man. Reasoning from the spiritual basis that God is divine Principle, Mind, Spirit, Soul, Life, Truth, Love and that man is His image and likeness we can discern the spiritual fact which will solve our problem. The divine creation exists in perfect accord and unity, expressing God's will, fulfilling His law, conforming to the demands of Truth and Love. These spiritual facts correct the myriads of mistaken and erroneous concepts of mankind. No matter what material sense presents, we can confidently and courageously work from the starting-point of God — divine Principle, Spirit, truth and Love — as all-in-all. Our reasoning should never waver from this sublime standpoint. — Christian Science Monitor.

Agricultural Achievements for 1946.

First of all, in this message from the Ontario Government, I wish to give you a report on the agricultural achievements of the Province of Ontario for the year 1946. During the past year, the farmers of Ontario broke all records for farm production, in spite of increased costs and shortages of machinery and labour. Not only did they break all previous records but, in all preceding years, their effort of production placed Ontario in a class by itself when comparisons are made with the production of the other provinces of the Dominion. Ontario's farm production amounted to over $723,000,000.

As far as field crops are concerned, Ontario came first in eleven of the major field crops. Saskatchewan came first in two, wheat and oats, and might well be called the breadbasket of the Empire. Alberta came first in two, barley and sugar beets, and Quebec came first in potatoes, while we captured the other eleven first for the major field crops.

In manufactured farm products, such as meat, bacon, sheep, calves, eggs, poultry, fluid and condensed milk and such products, Ontario came first in twelve of these products, and Quebec came first in butter. And in ten of these twelve products, our farmers were in a class by themselves, showing that in Ontario our farmers are becoming manufacturers of their primary products into finished food products. Everyone must feel proud of what the farmers of Ontario have done to help feed the Empire and other parts of the world where millions of people were hungry because of food shortages.

But that was the year 1946. This is 1947. Food prices are high, and nearly all of our marginal farms can get along. But in the years to come, when there is keen competition, we have to take steps to hold and improve their position. So you might well ask, what are your future plans?

First of all, I hope that as soon as possible existing controls on prices of farm products will be removed so far as those sold in the Province of Ontario are concerned, and we will then be able to get down to a solid foundation based on the law of supply and demand. As long as controls are in existence, there is uncertainty, and as long as uncertainty exists, full production cannot be achieved.

My department, the Department of Agriculture, has always been educational. Eighty per cent of all the money we spend is apart from that which is paid in subsidies for food production. It goes into agricultural education of every type. We are now into that which is called the "fourth R," research, which is the foundation of the most efficient farming. At the time when we had no education as such, we had no research, and we were not able to become a competitive business. I have provided for research work and the future of tomorrow must come from these lines, we are confident have better farming than ever before.

We are expanding our Junior Farmers' Club and short course work, both under the Agricultural Extension Service and the Women's Institute Branch. Through these branches, the youth of our farm boys and girls are being educated in specific agricultural and farm home subjects.

In addition, we have started a new Soils Department at the Ontario Agricultural College. You have heard a great deal about soil conservation lately, but soil conservation would not have to be thought about at all if all of our farmers followed good farming practices and sound soil management principles. Through our new Soils Department, we will be better equipped to bring to our farmers the technical and practical knowledge they need for the conservation of our soil fertility.

We are spending a great deal more money on research, because we believe that research is the key to more profitable agriculture in the years that lie ahead. At the Ontario Agricultural College, we have expanded the buildings and facilities for research work, and have increased the staff of research specialists to deal with the problems which have to be solved in order to give our farmers the benefit of the latest discoveries of agricultural science.

Through this research programme, it is our aim to reduce the losses which are incurred by our farmers through the prevalence of weeds and insects which destroy crops and injure our animals adversely.

Let me give you some striking figures, which are almost unbelievable, but which have been compiled by our experts in their own fields of agriculture. Through weeds, our farmers in 1946 lost not less than $21,300,000; through plant diseases, $22,000,000; through destruction by insect pests, another $18,000,000; a total of $61,300,000 from these three sources of loss to field crops.

In our live stock losses, the figures are just as striking. Through diseases of cattle, such as mastitis, Bang's Disease, deficiency and other diseases, our farmers in Ontario in 1946 lost $27,000,000. Swine diseases cost them $2,000,000. Diseases of sheep and horses amounted to another $750,000. A total loss through animal diseases of $31,000,000, or a total of $96,300,000 of loss from these sources of damage to field crops and live stock. And this does not take into consideration losses in fruit and vegetables.

These diseases are preventable. For instance, Bang's Disease, which alone caused a loss of over $14,000,000 a year to our farmers, is being controlled by calfhood vaccination. In 1945 we started a programme of vaccinating all calves in the Province, at a nominal cost to the farmer of $1.00 per head. As soon as trained men become available in sufficient numbers to do this work, we hope to vaccinate one hundred per cent of the calves in Ontario. This vaccination is 95 per cent effective in the prevention of Bang's Disease, so we will be taking a big step forward towards doing away with this heavy loss. This is just one instance of what can be done.

In addition to what can be done to fight animal diseases, our weeds and insect pests can be controlled. These are problems which can be solved by research workers on a grand scale, then, ever before, and with the additional facilities and staff we have become a competitive business. I have provided for research work and the future of tomorrow must come from these lines, we are confident have better farming than ever before.

We are paying special attention to the scientific and maintenance of machinery for our farmers. Farm products are our main source of income, and we are fortunate at present in having an established market for most of our surplus. We have contracts with Great Britain for many years, in the con, cheese and eggs, the filling of these contracts will depend to a very large extent on the production of the farmers of Ontario. Half of the eggs required to meet the contract to Britain will have to come from the poultry flocks of Ontario. It is our job to give every assistance to our farmers in attaining the production that will be required, not only because of whatever profit may come to the farmers from that production, but also because we must see to it that the people of Britain, to whom we owe so much, do not suffer from hunger or want of food.

As further evidence of expanding markets, we have been able to export foundation breeding stock to nineteen different countries in the last year. Let me give you some of them: United States, Mexico and Colombia; Scotland, Chili and Cuba; Bermuda, Newfoundland and China; The Argentine, Puerto Rico and Jamaica; New Zealand, Costa Rica and Venezuela. And today there is a man in Ontario from Palestine, buying breeding stock for that troubled country. And lastly, England, that country which prided itself on having an ample supply of the finest quality of breeding stock, and of having to go to no other place in the world for breeding animals, has come to Ontario and paid half a million dollars to our breeders for foundation stock which has been shipped to England. This is the highest compliment that could possibly be paid to our breeders of foundation breeding stock, and I can say with assurance that in no place in the world could so large a proportion of high class live stock breeders be found as in the Province of Ontario.

In other fields, the Department is seeking new markets and expanding markets that already exist. We have made some successful shipments of apples to Great Britain, and have had some very favourable comments from dealers and stockholders there as to their quality on arrival. We shipped some of our apples to the United States to secure even larger contracts for such shipments in the years to come.

Another project which will be of benefit alike to producers and consumers of Ontario farm products is the establishment of the Ontario Food Terminal. Plans for this are well developed and much work has been done in grading the property and preparing for the construction of the necessary buildings. I see tremendous possibilities in the marketing of fruit and vegetables through the new Food Terminal. There are people in some parts of Ontario who are having to go without farm products which are in abundance in other sections. There are great possibilities for wider and more equitable distribution through the Food Terminal, with lower costs of distribution and we hope to correct some of the evils which have prevailed in fruit and vegetable marketing.

Twenty-one years ago we grew in Ontario a few acres of tobacco, a crop which was not supposed to be suitable to Ontario, because we were too far north. Last year, Ontario produced about 100,000 pounds of tobacco, sold for some $250,000. And the demands for this crop which there is still great room for expansion of our tobacco growing industry.

What is true of tobacco is true of other crops, and we may be growing products in Ontario which are not dreamed of in this Province today. I would like to prophesy that in a few years our largest field crop in Ontario will be corn, which is grown in only a few counties. Now through research and through the work of our experimental stations, we are developing strains of hybrid corn which will mature in almost any part of Ontario, and that is going to mean a wide expansion of that crop.

Farming will always have its ups and downs, with the diversified character of our farming in Ontario, which is shown by the wide range of products in which we have a place of leadership. Any fluctuations will not have so serious an effect as in those Provinces which have to depend on one or two crops for the livelihood of their farmers. This Province has a great future ahead of it in agriculture. I envy the young man of today who prepares himself for agriculture as a profession, and I say to him that there is no profession in Ontario that has a better future in prospect than that of agriculture.

Thousands of years ago, a man rose to be what we would call Prime Minister of his people, and as they went to take possession of a new land, he said these words to them about that land:

"For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land of brooks, of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills; 'A land of wheat and barley, and vines and honey; 'A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack anything in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass.'"

How true these words are of Ontario.

Over-Exertion. Warning against over-exertion and strain at work or play is contained in a health bulletin from Ottawa. "You wouldn't expect a row-boat to tow a battleship, so why ask your body to tax itself with tasks only a horse should perform?" ask National Health experts. They advise care in lifting and moving heavy objects.

Foods for the Family.

A famous nobleman feared he would be poisoned by his enemies. To prevent this he insisted on having a written list of all dishes to be served him at each meal, so that no poisoned dish could be slipped in at the last moment after his official taster had put his stamp of approval on each item.

Today printed menus used in public eating places are essential in selecting the meal. The homemaker however, may write out her menus for her own convenience. She plans her meals on paper to aid her in making her shopping list, budgeting her own time and to make sure that her family is getting well balanced meals.

Good meals are easily planned if Canada's Food rules are used as a guide. Menus should be planned several days in advance or at least there should be some idea of what the main dishes are to be. In this way the use of foods from the five food groups is assured. If some one food is not available another from the same group may be substituted.

The pamphlet "Foods for the Family," has just been revised by the Home Economist of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture. This little book is an excellent guide for the homemaker who tries to serve satisfying, well balanced meals every day.

One of the definite rules to be followed is, "at least one serving of potatoes and at least two servings of other vegetables" every day. These other two vegetables should be preferably leafy, green or yellow, and frequently raw.

This year's most vegetables are in liberal supply and there is a plentiful crop of potatoes. Perhaps it will be more practical for some families to have potatoes twice a day. This vegetable blends well with other foods and lends itself to use in a great variety of ways.

Here are three tested recipes for potatoes:

POTATO SCRAMBLE.
2 tablespoons fat
3 cups diced cooked potatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped onion
3 eggs
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Mix fat in frying pan, add potatoes, onion, salt and pepper. Cook slowly until browned. Beat eggs and milk, add 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper. Pour egg mixture over potatoes. Cook until eggs are set. Fold over as an omelet. Six servings.

STUFFED POTATO WITH GRAVY
6 large potatoes
Salt and pepper to taste
2 tablespoons gravy
1/2 cup chopped left-over meat
1/2 cup salt and onion. Cook slowly until browned. Beat eggs and milk, add 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper. Pour egg mixture over potatoes. Cook until eggs are set. Fold over as an omelet. Six servings.

POTATO SCONES.
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup mashed potatoes
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted fat
Mix and sift dry ingredients. Blend with mashed potatoes, add milk and melted fat. Pat out to 1-inch thickness and cut in diamonds. Bake on a hot ungreased griddle. When well browned on one side, turn and cook on other side. Makes 12 scones.

Local Codling Moth.

A large pear orchard in the Niagara Peninsula, Ont., has evolved a strain of codling moth all its own. In this orchard, codling moths have been found to emerge two to three weeks later than in comparable apple orchards. This is true of both larvae and of those collected and kept in the insectary. However, as a result of investigations by the Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, it has been shown that the increase in injury to pears during August, previously considered to be due to second brood larvae, has in reality been caused chiefly by first brood larvae, the progeny of the late-emerging spring brood of moths. It appears, says the latest annual report of the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, that a local strain or race has arisen in this orchard, with a life-history differing from that in apple orchards.

Food Rules
Be sure you get all the food values your body requires, advises an authority on nutrition at headquarters in Ottawa, of the Department of National Health and Welfare. "If you want to look, feel and do your best, be sure to get all the necessary food elements," says the expert, who points out that Canada's Food Rules, copies of which may be obtained, free, from the provincial health department, or from the federal health authority, indicate such healthful foods as milk, fruit, vegetables, whole-grain cereals and meat or meat alternates.

Our Good Neighbours.

By R. J. Deachman.

In one respect we are singularly fortunate. Canadians have the best neighbours of any country in the world. Despite their faults, and sometimes they are glaring, I wouldn't trade the Americans, as neighbours, for any other people on earth. I write with restraint for deep down in my heart I hold, by inheritance, a strong attachment for the Scots — in their own opinion, and in mine, they are God's chosen people.

Still the Americans are peculiar. Once an editor in the near South with whom I discussed national relations and other problems, told me that the Canadians were a more homogeneous people than the Americans. In started wonder I asked him why. "It is," said he, "quite obvious. What do the people in Kansas, Minnesota, Colorado or Oregon? In your country the wheat crop in the West is a vital factor in the prosperity of the East but what relationship exists between North Carolina and North Dakota. Your foreign trade, per capita, is far larger than ours. It is hard to make world citizens out of Americans, you are naturally that way. We simply do not give a hoot for the outside world."

I was shocked but isn't it true? Though to complete the picture, in the general interest of Canada I would like to bring the Maritime Provinces closer to us. Sometimes I feel that Prince Edward Island looks cold standing out there in the Gulf all by herself. I would like to put an arm around it — bring her closer to the rest of us. Pardon this momentary digression — the intention was good even if it did disrupt the picture.

To the American people the world has given a magnificent opportunity. The United States as it stands is the greatest creditor nation in the world. It has the power to exert a tremendous creative influence in human affairs. Her destiny is that of a great trading nation. Will she accept that role? If, in this, the United States fails, I fear that the fate that once befell her will come again and that with renewed violence. It would be tragic if the nation which should be the most beloved should become the most disliked. Equally tragic is it, if out of perversity, the United States continues to plan for new depressions with all their cursed tendency to pull others down.

What the world needs now is a nation which is not afraid to exchange goods with other countries. The world is full of nations trying to expand their export trade — there is only one nation in the world which is in a position to buy and buy freely — that is the United States. The free entry of goods from other countries would reduce her own cost of production, it would expand the real earnings of the American people lift her standard of living — act as a febrifuge in the heated veins of labor. True, the United States would have to loan capital abroad but if reasonable care is exercised and if the world can be made free from wars for the next fifty years, as I hope it can, and the interest rate is a reasonable one and the Americans are prepared to take goods in exchange for goods sent out and as interest on loans made, the result would be a rapid rebuilding of the shattered nations, a general increase in the standards of living.

But isn't there one fly in the ointment? Wouldn't there be a danger to the United States in providing Russia, for instance, with additional capital for the expansion of Russian industry and the improvement of the standard of living of the Russian people? I doubt it. Russia is desperately poor, her standard of living incredibly low. Why today does France stand stumbling on the verge of communism, production low, the people hungry. Russia is a communist nation and communism has an attraction for those who have abandoned hope. If Russia could raise her standard of living, if she could trade freely with the rest of the world, then communism would change, it would come, in the long run, something of which the rest of the world need not be afraid.

If Russian people could have closer contacts with the rest of the world, much of her fear would disappear. If the Russians could see the type of products which we can produce in Canada and in the United States and which Britain and other nations can produce they would realize that after all capitalists were not theimps of iniquity they have been taught to believe, but only honest people trying to do a great deal more than they have done before and do it in a better way.

What are the chances of this? I confess at the moment they do not appear very clear. It may take another depression to make the United States see that point of view, possibly sooner or later the soul seeking kind, but moving forward with big hearts and generous minds will see that their future lies with the prosperity of the world and that one nation no matter how great, how powerful and how magnificent it may be, cannot live with happiness and contentment in a world which is tragic with misery, a world for which America could do so much, if it only would.

Pasteurization.

Pasteurization is a process named for Louis Pasteur, scientist, by which every particle of milk is heated to not lower than 142 degrees for not less than 30 minutes, and then promptly cooled to 50 degrees or lower to destroy any harmful bacteria that may be present, without affecting flavour and food value.

THE CIRCLE IS NOW COMPLETE

Since that cold, bleak day in December, 1939, when the 15,000 soldiers of the 1st Canadian Division began rolling into Halifax on 35 Canadian National Railways troop trains up until the last contingent returned home on the Aquitania last, 1,200,000 service men have been carried in and out of the Atlantic port by the Canadian National Railways on 3,266 troop trains.

As in the First World War, the brunt of carrying troops, supplies and munitions in the Second World War, fell most heavily upon the C.N.R., not only because of its greater mileage but because it is the only direct all-Canadian route to the Atlantic seaboard, a fact of great strategic importance as long as the United States remained a neutral country. The tremendous job required the marshalling of 51,032 sleepers, 1,000 coaches and cars of other classes. To service each of the trains at least 31 railway men were used on all overnight runs which nearly all of them were five train crew, 44 for the commissary car, eleven porters, and the superintendent or the master mechanic who rode the train over each division. Meals served are estimated at 10,000,000. To feed the 400,000 soldiers on one troop train, from Vancouver to Halifax, almost three tons of foodstuffs had to be provided to serve the fourteen scheduled meals.

that is shown in the top photograph as she lay tied to the dockside in 1939 that took the first Canadian soldier aboard, although five ships were used for the full movement. The lower photographs show, right, a typical group of Canadian soldiers on their way overseas disembarking from a C.N.R. troop train at the Atlantic port, and, left, homecoming troops boarding another National System "trooper" at Halifax.

UNRRA included about 110 million meat products alone, with canned salmon will be half million cases for consumption compared to available in Canada in 1939. Marmalades and jam in large volume during the government permitting the manufacture of the smaller containers for these products. The soda ash strike output of glass. Soup, large volume item with an even larger pack in food.

During the year 1939, the vacuum packed the vacuum, another was casual returned in June of next year. Mr. Mann, one-third of the total in Canada will be paid in cans, provided sufficient.

Playing a vital role in these heavy food commodities, he said, was manufacturing technique possible substantial use of tin. The development process for sheets from which cooked thousands of pounds without, which many food containers in the ever could have been in the face of corn and subsequent restocking of cans, the Canadian Mann said, is a "good year" in 1939, "out of packers' rest."

Empty Pantries Soon to be Replenished.

Those nearly empty pantry larders of most Canadian homes will soon be replenished with canned fruits and vegetables, scarce household items since the pre-war days of plentiful supplies, as the result of a record breaking food pack in 1946.

But while many of the traditional canned food favourites were packed in year in volume never before attained in Canada, the supply is not sufficient to take care of the urgent needs of hungry Europe and still provide unlimited quantities in all lines for Mrs. Canadian housewife.

A review of the canning and manufacturing industries by the American Can Company, largest can manufacturer in Canada, indicates the pack of processed foods will go well over the one billion mark, with record volumes reached in tomato products, green and waxed beans, peas, peaches, pears and apple juice. Corn, cherries, and apricots were packed in large quantities, while average quantities, while whole tomatoes and pears were somewhat lower.

Canadian households will not see much this coming season in the way of canned meat products or of canned fish because of overseas requirements.

Gordon Mann, Canco general manager pointed out, UNRRA needs in 1946 included about 110 million cans of meat products alone, while exports of canned salmon will leave an estimated half million cases for domestic consumption compared to 300,000 cases available in Canada in 1945.

Marmalades and jams were packed in large volume during the year, with the government permitting the manufacture of the smaller size of metal containers for these products when the soda ash strike interrupted the output of glass. Soup continued as a large volume item with prospects for an even larger pack in 1947, Mr. Mann said.

During the year housewives welcomed back the vacuum packed coffee can, another was casualty which only returned in June of this year. By next year, Mr. Mann estimated, about one-third of the total coffee volume in Canada will be packed in vacuum cans, provided sufficient plate is available.

Larger-than-average crops throughout the country, combined with expansions in the canning industry, put a heavy demand on the can-making industry, already affected by shortages of materials and facilities, he pointed out. Despite these difficulties, he said, the industry was able to supply the unprecedented demands for food containers by digging deeply into their own reserves of steel plate and by diverting metal from other types of containers.

Playing a vital role in supplying these heavy food containers requirements, he said, was a war-developed manufacturing technique which made possible substantial economies in the use of tin. The development, an electrolytic process for tinplating steel sheets from which cans are made, saved thousands of pounds of precious tin without which manufacture of metal food containers in the volume needed never could have been accomplished.

In the face of continuing shortages and subsequent restrictions on many types of cans, the can-making industry, Mr. Mann said, is looking forward to "good year" in 1947 from the standpoint of packers' requirements.

Unselfish ambition, noble life-motives, and purity — these constituents of thought, mingling, constitute individually and collectively true happiness, strength, and permanence.

F. G. WILLMOTT

J. M. TEMPLETON

Two appointments in the sale staff of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Canada, Limited have been announced by Carl R. Cooper, General Sales Manager.

F. G. Willmott has been appointed manager of tire sales. Mr. Willmott has had wide experience in the rubber industry, having served Goodyear in various positions for many years.

In addition to his new duties, Mr. Willmott will continue to direct his dealer development department.

J. M. Templeton has been appointed manager of the Service Department. Mr. Templeton has been with the company a number of years, during which time he has had considerable experience in the field and at Headquarters in sales and service work.

Hello, Homemakers! All eyes are on the potato! A serving of potatoes every day is demanded by food rules for good health. Some people follow this rule without giving it a thought. But not everyone is quite that enthusiastic about our good friend the potato which puts it up to the cook to do a spot of luring, with a different presentation of the valued vegetable as bait. There are some who have boasted that they need not serve potatoes twice the same way in a whole calendar year.

I do not approve too much of that procedure myself, looking at the question from the dietetic point of view. There are some ways to serve potatoes which make them much more valuable, nutritionally, than other ways can ever do — and so these should be featured. It is well established that the best part of the vegetable lies just beneath the skin too closely applied to that for us to hope to do any peeling in the raw state without cutting away very valuable constituents. So, of course, our best practice is to cook the potato, skin and all — which means, for the most part, steaming or boiling or baking. The last method is supreme favourite, both from the enjoyment and the nutritional point of view.

But there are other factors to be considered besides the straight question of what is the one best thing to do with a food product. Potatoes can be substituted for many expensive or hard-to-get foods. For example, mashed potatoes can be used to thicken for flavour; in yeast mixture for good texture; add to omelettes to make more of this dish; in dumplings (cooked or raw); also in many supper dishes as potato-fish pie, scalloped potatoes with sautéed, split weiners filled with mashed potatoes, potato soufflé, pigs in 'taters, potatoes in half shell, potato-celery and nut loaf and vegetable plates.

POTATO CELERY LOAF.

¾ cup diced celery
¾ cup chopped nuts
3 cups mashed potatoes

To Address Potato Men on Nutrition.

A feature of the annual meeting of the Potato Section of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association, to be held in the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on February 1st, will be an address by Dr. L. B. Pett, on the subject of "Potatoes in the Diet." Dr. Pett is chief of the Nutrition Division of the Dominion Department of National Health and Welfare, and he is recognized as an outstanding international authority on the subject of nutrition. Considering costs of living and shortages of some foodstuffs, it is expected that Dr. Pett's address, followed by discussion, will be of keen interest, not only to potato growers, but to consumers, members of the medical profession and all those interested in nutrition.

Plans are now well advanced for Dominion-wide activities in connection with this popular event.

Chief Scout Sends Greetings.

Lord Rowallan, Chief Scout of the British Commonwealth and Empire, in a New Year's message to Scouts of the world in the Association's official publication "The Scouters," makes reference to his recent visit to Canada in these words: "For myself, this year will always remain a red letter one for my first visit to the great Dominion of Canada. I have recorded some of the impressions of this visit although no written word can adequately express the inspiration. Scouting is only just beginning and you will prove to be the greatest thing in the world for the young peoples together in the spirit of goodwill — which is the spirit of Christmas. Again I say, a Happy New Year to you all."

Irish Linens Featured for Cruise Wear.

American fashion creators have always placed Irish linen high on their preferred list and because of its firm crispness, have featured it in this season's cruise line in a starring role. Sun worshippers must be catered to, so in view of this designers these days have had a tendency to stray from their studio drawing boards to spend hours in museums browsing about, giving their attention to design, costumes and art objects or taking off by plane to South America, Mexico or the tropics.

Their exotic names such as Paradise, Wedgwood, Lahan and Island formed the "Ray Street Blues," a group of spectator sport numbers named for Nassau's famous thoroughfare. The finest quality Irish linen is used in these, for simplicity in cut and fine tailoring demand a quality fabric to emphasize costume detail.

Other specially dyed tropical colors, Coconut Tan and Oleander Pink, appear in Irish linen. To accent the tropical mood, Miss Cox unearthed a native craftsman who took her designs and under her supervision created from polished turtle shells. Large fish and miniature tortoise buttons add to the excitement and novelty of crisp linen casuals. Native woven play shoes and oversized hand bags were designed in Nassau and flown to New York to accessorize the dresses.

Her play clothes which are finely tailored from Irish linen. The Brooklyn Museum is one of Miss Leser's haunts where she often spends hours in the designer's room making sketches from old fabrics and costumes which are brought from their cases for her use.

Casual life as lived by Miss Leser in Honolulu, is reflected in her cruise outfit, a giant tropical butterfly bra top, perky shorts and matching skirt. The butterfly reappears appliqued on the neckline of the ruffled wrap around skirt. Her hair and fondness for using fish net also is a carry over from life in the Pacific paradise.

Sandwich South Council.

Monday, January 13th Council met pursuant to statutes. J. G. Hennin as Reeve, and John O'Neil, Perry McKee, Frank John and Homer St. Louis, as Council Officers, presided at their declaration of office.

The Reeve, in a short speech, welcomed the newly-elected members and hoped that harmony would prevail throughout the year, and then asked the other members if they wished to express themselves.

Mr. McKee stated that he wished to go on record as being in favour of the Council making application to some company to procure a Fidelity Bond for John McNeill, former Treasurer, in order to remove any suspicion that might prevail among the public that the former Treasurer, during his 17 years as an official of the township, did not willfully or even in error, take any of the township funds for his own personal use.

The former treasurer thanked Mr. McKee for his kind offer, but stated that every auditor's report for the past 17 years cleared his name, reputation and record of any wrong-doing in connection with the township affairs and that, under the circumstances he did not think an application for a new bond was necessary, and that in any event he might be refused a bond by every company. Further, Mr. McKee stated definitely that he did not wish to carry on any longer as Treasurer, and asked that one of the applicants for the position be appointed.

The following applications were received for the office of Treasurer: Mrs. Thekla Shaw, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Girdler, Wilbert S. Snyder, Fred D. Austin, Roger Langlois, Bertrand Bedford, K. J. MacKenzie and Chas. E. Plant. Communications were received from the Town of Kingsville asking support of a resolution passed by their Council to have bus companies pay taxes.

The Collector returned the 1946 tax roll.

From the Municipal Board advising that the subscription rates are now $2 per annum.

From the Department of Highways, Department of Health and Department of Municipal Affairs, asking for names of elected representatives and officials, and from Department of Municipal Affairs asking what action was requested in their letter of December 7th, 1946.

The matter of appointing a treasurer and secretary of the Telephone System was then taken up, and after due consideration a bylaw was passed appointing Fred D. Austin as Treasurer, at a salary of $500, and secretary of the Telephone System at a salary of $200 per annum.

A bylaw was also passed appointing John McAuliffe, Clerk of the Township at a salary of $1,300 per annum, and extras allowed by the Statutes of Ontario and bylaws of the Township.

Mr. Padbury addressed Council explaining what he was doing to repair the damage to the telephone system by the late sleet storm, and gave as his estimate to put the system in good shape again, at $10,000.

Moved by Messrs. John and O'Neil that Fred D. Austin be appointed Treasurer of the Township and secretary of the Sandwich South Municipal Telephone System, at a salary of $500 per annum, duties to begin at once. —Car.

Moved by Messrs. McKee and St. Louis, that the following settlement of the 1946 collector's roll be approved: Total amount of roll, $55,285.60, penalties and interest added by bank, 21c. Total to collect, $55,285.81. Collected by collector, $19,295.61; discount allowed $629.28; returned to Treasurer, $3,281.80. Car.

Moved by Messrs. St. Louis and John O'Neil, that after hearing Mr. Padbury telephone the man's report on the condition of the telephone system, and his estimate of the amount it will take to repair the system, approximately $10,000, that he be instructed to go ahead with the work. —Car.

Moved by Messrs. O'Neil and John O'Neil, that the Reeve and Clerk be authorized to sign the petition for the statutory grant for road expenditures for 1946. —Car.

Moved by Messrs. McKee and St. Louis, that this meeting do now adjourn to Monday, February 3rd, at 1:30 p.m. —Car.

Gives Views on Palestine.

The representatives of modern Jewry have not one iota of rightful claim to the ownership of Palestine, are certainly none the wiser to establish Palestine as a Jewish State. Such was the statement made by Rev. E. J. Springett, Dominion Commissioner, British-Israeli World Federation, during his address before a Toronto audience recently.

He explained that this was clearly set down in the Bible as a basic fact and said that had the British Government and people thoroughly understood it and accepted it, there would not have been all the turmoil of past years. "Britain would have declared Palestine to have been at least a Crown Colony or, better still, part of the 'Nation and Company of Nations' the British Israel Commission states."

Discussing the possibility of Britain's adopting the "Partition Plan" with Palestine, setting up a Jewish controlled section and an Arab zone of control, but reserving Jerusalem and the Port of Haifa as neutral areas under British trusteeship, Rev. Springett declared: "This plan is but a temporary expedient, which will satisfy none of the conflicting parties and will not endure."

He referred to the recent resignation of Secretary of State Rymond and predicted that "unless his successor was capable of carrying on his policy, it was very well to be that neither the British nor Arab will be the order of the day at the Moscow Conference next March." He said that such consequences and delaying tactics by two Soviet dictators will mean that what has been done will be null and void.

"There is absolutely no possibility of any peaceful settlement being attained by means of the present attempts being made on a purely human plane of endeavour," he concluded. "God and God alone will establish world peace, and then only after the failure of all human effort made without His help."

NEW RAIL CAR FIRST OF ITS TYPE IN CANADA

The new, streamlined Canadian National Railway bedroom-buffet-lounge car shown in the top photograph is a far cry from the old-time railway sleeper to be seen on the lower right. In those early railway days travellers sat on hard wooden seats, strained their eyes in the dim light provided by kerosene lamps and in wintertime huddled around the old pot-bellied stove.

The first of its type to go into service in Canada, the new car was designed by C.N.R. architects and engineers. It includes a combination of all the latest innovations provided for the comfort of European and United States railway travellers, and in some instances even further improvements on them developed by the Company's own experts.

One of twenty similar units to be built for the National System, the car has many new features. Among them is its combined direct and indirect panelled fluorescent lighting, automatically controlled heating and air conditioning and large, wide windows permitting the passengers to view the panorama of the countryside relaxed and comfortable.

The diagram shows, A, the electric and pneumatic end doors which on pressing a small metal plate automatically swing open and shut; B, the solarium; C, the spacious, comfortable lounge which seats 25 persons; D, the combination of the country-style folding back a partition; E, the four single bedrooms that may be formed into double bedrooms by folding back a partition; F, the porters' room, the first such space provided in a Canadian railway car; G, the lavatory and the Company's own experts.

Margaret Ann Shrum Dies.

The death occurred, on Friday, January 24th, at the family home, Stratton, Ontario, of Margaret Ann Shrum, wife of J. Franklin Shrum, after a lengthy illness.

Funeral services were held on Monday, January 27th, in the Stratton Community Hall, and were conducted by the Rev. A. H. Olson and the Rev.
M. R. White, assisted by Rev. Mr. Madden. Interment was in Fort Frances cemetery.

Born Margaret Ann Steed, near Essex, Ontario, of Irish parentage, on March 1st, 1873, she married Frank Shrum, in 1895, and they continued to reside near Essex for some years.
In 1910, with a family of four sons, she and her husband moved to the Rainy River District and settled on a homestead north of Stratton, where she has lived since, and where her kindly and generous nature endeared her to a host of friends.

She is survived by her husband and four sons, William, of Port William; Lawrence, Beauchamp and Everett, of Stratton; also two sisters, Mrs. Stanley
Barlow, of Windsor, and Mrs.
George Brinacombe, of Essex, and three brothers, Edward and George, of Essex and Beauchamp, of Windsor, and seven grandchildren, all of Stratton.

Charles Sale is Registrar.

LT.-Col. Charles Sale, well-known Windsor lawyer, and with the firm of Sale & Sale for 20 years, received word on Tuesday that he had been appointed Local Registrar of the Supreme Court, Clerk of the County Court, and Registrar of the Surrogate Court. He replaces Angus A. MacKinnon, who recently died.

The position carries a salary of $1-500 plus $220 cost of living bonus.

Local Shell Gas Station is Robbed.

Roland McCauley and Edward Deveau, of town, were charged in County Police Court, Windsor, on Tuesday with retaining $1,883.25 in 25-cent pic-ces allegedly stolen Saturday night from the home of George Andrew, service station operator. They were remanded one week without plea, bail being set at $2,000 each.

The men were taken into custody Monday night for questioning after chief of Police Norman Hogarth and Provincial Constable Harold Yule recovered the money from a deep well on the premises of the accused.

The loot, weighing approximately 105 pounds, is reported to have amounted to $2,130, all in 25-cent pieces, but the information in the retaining charge states that there was only $1,883.25 recovered.

One of Andrew's employees was first to discover the theft, finding the smashed lock on the small Andrew home, converted from an old Windsor trolley that lies alongside the service station in the centre of the town.

Chief Hogarth was immediately informed of the theft, and Andrew and his wife returned to Essex early Sunday afternoon from Leamington to supply details to investigating police.
"I started saving quarters several years ago," Andrew says, "and it was all kept in a five-gallon oil can right beside the bed. I don't know why I never got around to taking it to the bank."

Leading away from the Andrew home was the trail of a small handsized clearly visible in the new fallen snow. Chief Hogarth, joined by Constable Yule, followed the tracks to a field bordering the suspect's home.
After a long search of the accused's premises the search came to a successful end at the 18 ft. well, where by use of a hook on the end of a long pipe, a burlap bag, in which were 4 quart sealers filled with quarters, was pulled to the top.

The police then sought out the town's fire truck, dropped a hose into the well and drained the water. Two more burlap bags, each tied with this wire, containing eight more quart sealers filled with silver, were hauled to the surface.

McCauley and Deveau were then arrested. Two hundred and forty-seven dollars is said to be missing.

40th Wedding Anniversary.

A very delightful evening was held on January 21st, in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Tofflemire, superintendent and matron at the County Home, in Leamington.

A very appropriate program was held in the chapel. Lovely baskets of carnations, snapdragons, gladioli, baby mums and fern decorated the altar. Old time singing was enjoyed and Miss Roberta Tofflemire gave a very enjoyable reading. Mrs. Nelson Malott played the mock wedding march. Master Charles Tofflemire, 14, minister, took his place at the altar. With his long-tailed coat and high collar he looked quite charming.

Little Freddie Cull, as flower girl, was dressed in a long yellow satin dress, with a picture hat, and carried a nosegay of flowers, with long yellow streamers.

The bride and groom, Stephen Tofflemire and David Little marched up the aisle.

The bride looked lovely in her long white dress and veil and her corsage was of pink and white carnations, with fern. The groom wore a long tailed coat with white pants, and carried his high hat. After the ceremony the bride and groom presented their grandparents with their flowers.

Miss Roberta Tofflemire and Charles Tofflemire assisted Mr. and Mrs. Tofflemire in opening their lovely gifts. Then all went to the diningroom, which was decorated with pink and white streamers and a large white bell centering the room.

In the centre of the long table was the pink and white wedding cake with miniature bride and groom, and tall burning candles on both sides. All sat down to a sumptuous dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. Tofflemire each spoke a word of thanks.

Guests were present from Windsor,
Amherstburg, Maldstone, Ridgeway, Leamington and Essex, and all departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Tofflemire many more years of wedded bliss.

Court of Revision.

Monday, February 7th

The Town of Essex Court of Revision, viz., Dr. A. E. Benson, J. R. Linton and L. W. Allison, sat in the Council Chamber, at 8 p.m., on Monday evening, as Court for appeals against business tax assessment roll.

All subscribed to their oath of office.

The Clerk reported two appeals, that of M. Shepley, who appealed on the grounds that he wasn't a cement contractor. He also had appealed on his assessment on his house and buildings but this was month's late.

As Mr. Shepley has been manufacturing cement the Court continued the assessment.

The other appeal was from Bernard Wagner, on Maidstone avenue east.

The Clerk was requested to advise Mr. Wagner that he would only be taxed on his business assessment for the time he operated his station and that assessment be confirmed.

Court then adjourned.

diant in her bridal gown of white slipper satin, featuring a sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves, fitted a grey two-piece crepe dress with blue accessories and Mrs. J. J. Fitzsimmons Sr., dressed in aquamarine ered hat of violets. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

Rev. Fr. John Horan saying grace and proposing a toast to the happy young couple. The reception followed from 2 to 5 p.m. for 150 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons Jr., left by plane for a week's honeymoon in Chicago, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis., and will be at home to their friends

Louis Apartments. The bride looked smart in her going-away outfit of tailored navy blue suit and red gartering topper, blue stove-pipe hat with red plaid and sequin trimmed. Blue all-

Junior Farmers to Organize.

The first steps in the formation of an Essex County junior farmers' organization were taken when a group of enthusiastic young people, representing different sections of the county, met at the agricultural office in Essex, last week.

Representatives were present from the Cottam Junior Institute, Woodlee Junior Farmers, Amherstburg, Auld, River Canard, Comber, Paquette, Essex and Kingsville. Bruce Hodgins, assistant agricultural representative for Essex and Kent, was present, and Herb Norry, of Tilbury, acted as chairman.

It was decided to start the organization by holding a rally for the county in the form of a banquet and dance at the Anglican parish hall, Essex, on Monday evening, February 17th, the banquet to start at 6:30 and the dance at 9:30.

A provisional executive was set up to make arrangements for the rally, and to carry on business until a regular election can be held. This executive consists of one representative from each township, and is made up as follows: Anderton, Leona Benet; Malden, Jack Thomas; Colchester North, Lloyd Knapp; Colchester South, Stanley Hedge; Gosfield North, Orpha Stotts; Gosfield South, Bud Wigle; Mersea, Gerald (?)

Keeping Abreast.

In a memorandum issued this month to Ontario's industrial executives, R. R. Morley, general manager of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association, stresses the vital importance of keeping up-to-date on safety equipment.

He says, "It has been suggested to me that executives of some plants believe that unsafe practices on the part of employees are easy to stop, and that it would be the job of supervisory officials to stop them. Executives have given this as a reason that expenditures on safety equipment are unnecessary, although a little further thinking would prove the fallacy of the statement."

Pointing out that it costs more money to correct unsafe practices, Mr. Morley says, "Safeguards provide a barrier between the unsafe practice and personal injury." He suggests that executives use it as a means in stimulating interest in and understanding of fish and wildlife conservation, as the department realizes that without understanding and support on the part of the people it cannot expect to develop effective management of these resources. It is felt that if new generations will develop a sound attitude toward this subject, the future will be pretty well assured. A second consideration was the stimulation afforded in art improvement.

The final judging committee was made up of C. D. Gaiskell, Director of Art, Ontario Department of Education; E. P. Blenkarn, Creative Art Director, McKim Advertising Limited; A. R. Penwick, supervisor, Information and Education, Ontario Department of Lands and Forests; and T. Shortt, Artist and Ornithologist, Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology. R. V. Whelan, Public Relations Assistant, Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, supervised the organization and conduct of the contest.

Charles Diemer was elected president of the temporary executive; Theresa Beaudoin, vice-president; J. Tully, secretary-treasurer, and Evelyn Fox, reporter. Herb Norry was appointed to contact a speaker for the occasion, who will explain the aims and activities of the Junior Farmers' Association. Charles Diemer will act as chairman for the banquet and will describe what has already been done by the Essex County Junior Farmers and set a date for the next meeting.

Lloyd Knapp was named to investigate the possibilities of radio advertising, and Howard Holden, Bud Wigle and Lloyd Knapp were appointed as finance committee.

$25,000 National Barley Contest.

The provincial judging for Ontario and Quebec in the $25,000 National Barley Contest will take place in Toronto at the annual meeting of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association which is to be held February 10th to 14th, at the King Edward Hotel.

The actual judging of entries will be on February 10th and Awards of Merit with prize cheques will be presented at a dinner the following evening, by Col. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario Minister of Agriculture.

The National Barley Contest is being sponsored across Canada by the brewing and malting industries and is conducted through the cooperation of provincial departments of agriculture and Canadian agricultural colleges.

The grain entered in the final contest was limited to C. W. No. 1, six row only. Cleaning took place at central seed cleaning stations in both provinces. Field judging was conducted last summer and the top provincial winners for Ontario were announced at the Royal Winter Fair while those for Quebec were announced following judging in Montreal on January 12th.

Judges for the Inter-provincial contest are Dr. L. N. Newman, Dominion Cerealists of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa; Dr. G. P. available from your township representative after February 1st. As only a limited number can be accommodated for the banquet, tickets should be obtained as early as possible. Any who cannot attend the banquet, or are unable to obtain tickets are invited to attend the dance, which will start at 9:30.

All eligible young people are urged to attend this rally and make the first meeting of the Essex County Junior Farmers an outstanding success.

THE END OF A ROAD.

H. M. T. Aquitania, endeared to the hearts of more Canadians than any other troop ship afloat, turned over another page in her gallant history when she disembarked the final organized draft of servicemen and dependents at Halifax on January 19th. In her 33 years on the high seas, she has carried men and from two great wars. The last of the "four stackers" to ply the North Atlantic is pictured above. In photo No. 2 dependents are shown waiting in the pay parade for money exchange. In the photo is Mrs. Vera Miskimins and baby getting her first "feel" of Canadian currency. Shown in photo No. 3 is Capt. J. D. Snow, ship's captain, receiving the plaque from Major-General H. W. Foster, CBE, DSO., commanding Eastern Army Command. Capt. Snow expressed the personal appreciation of himself and the crew for the award which read: "Presented to H. M. T. Essex Town Council.

Monday, January 27th.
Council met in regular session, in the Council Chamber, at 8 p.m., with Mayor J. C. Linton, Reeve Irwin, and Councillors Chase, Lee, Shaw, Maedel and Pulleyblank present.

Minutes were read, and on motion of Messrs. Irwin and Lee, adopted as read.

The Clerk read a letter from W. A. Patterson, local superintendent of the Bell Telephone Company, requesting Council to appoint a local man to supervise the trimming of trees by their men, according to town bylaw.

Mr. Pulleyblank agreed to supervise the work for the town.

A letter, addressed to Mayor Linton, from the British Sailors' Society, requesting permission of Council to hold a tag day in Essex, sometime this spring, was referred to Mr. Pulleyblank to investigate.

The Clerk read a request from the members of the Essex Fire Brigade for a raise in salary of $15 per man, or a total of $150. This would bring salaries to $90 per man, with $105 for the fire chief.

On motion request was referred to the Finance Committee to consider when final budget figures are set.

Mr. Chase, chairman of the Fire and Light Committee, stated he was in favour of the raise.

J. A. Naylor and Herb Smithendort addressed Council re revival of the town Parks Board.

Mr. Naylor stated the Parks Board was formed under the Public Parks Act, about twenty years ago, following a vote of the people of Essex. The Board, however, died a natural death just before the town went into default, and has not been in operation since. The body is composed of six members, appointed by council, with the Mayor, a member, due to his office, Council can raise up to 1 mill, but not over 1 mill, to finance the Board each year.

Mr. Naylor stated the members of the last year the Parks Board operated were Russell Damm, J. A. Nightingale, H. R. Johnston, J. S. Pizer, Herb Smithendort and Mrs. I. Middleton.

After some discussion, Mayor Linton stated that Council would give its full consideration to the request.

H. C. Neice, Reeve, and Wyman Calhoun, road superintendent, Colchester North Township, addressed Council re deplorable condition of westerly end of Victoria street, from end of pavement to South Rear Road.

Mr. Neice stated that, would work on the road with their heavy grader, but there was nothing to work on, stating it needed a good coat of gravel.

Mr. Calhoun estimated it would take about 100 yards of gravel.

Mr. Linton stated that he thought that the road being in the County Road System, that it was up to the county to look after it, as it was the only way a town can get any value for the money paid by towns in their county rate, except the 50% refund paid urban municipalities if said amount is spent on roads within their corporation.

Mr. Linton, in the absence of Mr. Frantott, promised to give that portion of the road a good coat of gravel, when weather was right.

Mr. Calhoun promised to bring in the township grader and build up the road, as it was at present too flat, being gravelled, also advising Council to save some of the gravel proposed to be put on the road until fall.

Mr. Linton advised Council that Ernest Quick had been to see him, offering to scrape Intersection Road, gratis if town would supply him with a scraper.

On motion of Messrs. Lee and Chase, Mr. Quick's proposition was accepted, Mr. Lee stating he would get new blades for the scraper and see that Mr. Quick gets it.

Mr. Lee reported being contacted by Fred Baldwin and Oliver Rounding, re gravelling of Wellington street from St. James street to Langtry street, in order that road be passable in wet weather. At present they can not get their cars out. Left with Board of Works, with power to act, on motion of Messrs. Shaw and Chase.

F. B. Geddes, Town Solicitor, spoke briefly on Park Board matters following which, on motion of Messrs. Pulleyblank and Lee, the following were appointed members: J. A. Naylor, Herb Smithendort, of Rotary Club; Robert J. O'Hara, of the local Legion; W. E. Beaman, Rev. J. H. Whealen, of the lawn bowlers, and Rev. H. Parr, of the Kinsmen.

Mr. Geddes advised Council, in his opinion these appointed members will have to draw lots as to what two are appointed for one term, a two year term and the three year term. This is the legal procedure on the formation of a board, but there is nothing in the Act to state how a board is reappointed after a few years of inactivity.

The Clerk presented a copy of an agreement and necessary bylaw authorizing said agreement, between town and Liquor License Board of Ontario, as received from said Board.

The Liquor Board requested that bylaw be passed and agreement entered into so town could take advantage of new Liquor License Act, 1946.

Subsection (2) of Section 64 and Section 82 of the Liquor License Act, 1946, effective January 1st, 1947, reads as follows:

64 (2) Subject to section 82, all money penalties imposed under the provisions of this Act or the regulations, after deducting all necessary costs, shall be paid by the justice to the Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

82 Subject to the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, the Board may enter into an agreement with the Council of any municipality for the enforcement within the municipality of this Act, the Liquor Control Act, and the regulations hereunder and thereunder, and may in such agreement provide for the payment to the council of:

(a) a portion of the fees for licenses issued in respect of establishments in the municipality; and

(b) the fines or any portion of the fines imposed in any prosecutions instituted by officers designated by the council pursuant to the agreement.

Under this Act, the Liquor Control Act or the regulations hereunder or thereunder within the municipality.

The Mayor reported that Mr. Meyns, of the Meyns Construction Co., Windsor, who have the contract to build the new Imperial Bank, in town, requesting permission for his company to block off the sidewalk in front of the property while the building is under construction.

The request was granted, subject to supervision of Chief of Police, N. Hogarth.

Chief Hogarth gave a full report of his work from August 19th to January 15th.

The Chief was commended by the Mayor on the excellent report of his work during his brief term of office.

On motion of Messrs. Irwin and Maedel, the following accounts were passed—L. W. Allison, road liability insurance $176.45; Workmen's Compensation, insurance $174.35; Township of Colchester North, share of work on South Rear Road, 1946, $26; Mrs. Wilson, accounts, $72.30; Queen Motor Sales, fire pro., $10.68; R. They are the only pipe tobacco packs that are made in the United States. They are the only pipe tobacco packs that are made in the United States.

The great increase in heavy pipe smoking in the United States, in addition to the fact that the pipe tobacco industry has never experienced a slump, has brought about the greatest demand for pipe tobacco packs that the industry has ever experienced. Many large shippers are already booked to capacity for April and early May of this year. There are some shippers, however, who will still accept orders for April, but it would be advisable to get in touch with them without delay.

Individuals, as patrons, unite here, unanimously on the basis of justice and this is accomplished when self is lost for April, but it would be advisable to get in touch with them without delay.

The first steps in the formation of an Essex County Junior Farmers' Organization were taken on Saturday, January 25th, when a group of enthusiastic young people, representing different sections of the county, met at the agricultural office in Essex.

Herb Norry was appointed to contact a speaker for the occasion, who will explain the aims and activities of the Junior Farmers' Association. Charles Diemer will act as chairman for the banquet and will describe the what has already been done by the Essex County Junior Farmers' Association.

Lloyd Knapp was named to investigate the possibilities of radio advertising, and Howard Holden, Bud Wigle and Lloyd Knapp were appointed as finance committee.

The ages for membership are: for girls, from 16 to 28; and for men, from 15 to 30, but the directors may allow others to join. Tickets will be available from your township representative after February 1st. As only a limited number can be accommodated for the banquet, tickets should be obtained as early as possible. Any who cannot attend the banquet, or are unable to obtain tickets are invited to attend the dance, which will start at 9:30.

Girls' Sports.
Last Friday, February 7th, Essex met one of its opponents. The games were played at Leamington. The Juniors tied with Leamington in the first game at Essex, and this return game was to settle all accounts. In the first quarter the playing was confined to jumps. At half time Leamington was creeping away, with the score reading Leamington 6 Essex 3. When the final whistle blew Essex did not have ending 11 to 9 in favour of Leamington.
Melba Billing made 1 point.
Mary Lou McDermott 3. Ruth Harrison
5. Excellent guarding was done by Barbara Allen, Sidonia Durzik and Evelyn Queen.

The seniors then came on the floor.
Before you could turn around twice Leamington had scored 2 points. Essex was trying hard, but Leamington kept up till time was spent and the score read Leamington 41, Essex 17. Ola Barnes made two excellent baskets, or 4 points. Pat McCreery, 6 points, and Cora Morris 7 points.

Boys' Sports.
The Essex seniors and juniors met Leamington in the last game of basketball for the standings. The Juniors were first on the floor and put up a defensive struggle, as the score at half time stood 3 to 2 in favour of Leamington. Essex fought ahead and at three-quarter time the score was 10 to 5 in their favour. At the finish the score was 16 to 12 in favour of Essex. Loebach had high score with 5 points, and Gede, T. Johnson, C. C.
Johnston and Emmerson each followed with 2 apiece, and Fair and Davison 1 each. Tippit and Buchner were best for the losers.

The seniors then took the floor and at half time the score was 12 to 9 in favour of Essex, but Leamington true to tradition, bounced back and won the game 31 to 21. Roath led the scoring with 11 points, followed by Ross with 7, and Lebohm with next with 3. Jackson and Otton were best for the winners, with 12 points each.

This Friday we board the bus for Amherstburg, to play the first of the play-off games against the other groups.

Canadian Legion Initiates New Members.

Capt. Brian Branch, No. 201, Essex, put on a very impressive initiation of new members in their club rooms, on Tuesday evening last.
President Comrade O. S. Plant was in the chair, and opened the meeting with a two-minute silence for our fallen comrades, whose memory we shall ever cherish.

Sergeant-at-Arms Comrade Stanley Doan then escorted the new members into the general assembly, and read their names off, as follows: Comrades
L. Sinclair, L. Reynolds, F. Briggs,
H. Clark, E. W. Bartholomew, W. Pur-vis, G. Armstrong, H. Andrews and W. Cowley.

The aims and policies of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., were then explained to them by Vice-President George McQuarrie, after which the president declared them members of the Canadian Legion, and urged them to remember their new responsibility.
The new members were then greeted by the assembly with an enthusiastic round of applause.

The branch has taken many steps forward in the past few years, and this coming year, with many of our younger veterans holding office, and with their enthusiasm tempered by the wisdom of the veterans of the previous wars, the club has the well-balanced administration, coupled with the proper community spirit, to become an association which can make Essex just as proud of out of uniform as they were in uniform.

of seven contestants, all of whom gave splendid orations. The judges were
M. Lucas, principal of Sandwich Public School, and two of his staff, Peter Mitchell and Miss Humphries.

Russell Waltons, of Leamington, was chairman of the evening's program which was arranged by Geo. A. Hall, Harold Welch, of Maldenstone, and A. E.
Oliver, of Gesto, were soloists. There was an extra large turnout.

Tells of Work in Angola.

When the 200 delegates and members of the Essex Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society met for an all-day meeting in Harrow United Church, on Friday of last week, they had Mrs. Hugh D. Taylor, overseas mission secretary of the Dominion Board of Toronto, who has been covering the field of the United Church in Angola, Africa, as the guest speaker.
Mrs. Taylor stressed the need for more doctors, ministers and nurses as missionaries forced home due to overwork and ill-health at a time when Africans are eager for more Christian literature.

She spoke of attending a board conference in Africa last summer and mentioned three important results of the conference.

1. For the first time at a Christian conference European and African delegates lived together shared the same living arrangements and common diningroom and seven African delegates shared the same fellowship.

2. This in most cases was the first time the Africans had each left his own particular province and so it was their first opportunity to realize that each had common problems and to realize they belonged to a world-wide church. Many returned to their provinces and told what a world-wide institution the church of Christ was.

3. The basis of the work of the church in Africa was the Christian home and the education of women and girls.

Unlike Other Nations.
"Africa is unlike any other continent," she said. "It's people haven't the education or it hasn't the military right to force equality. It is almost totally under the control of outside powers and is economically dependant on the outside world. Shopping in Angola, there were to be found tin goods on the shelves from Canada that you couldn't get here; tennis balls that were almost impossible to buy here, were in abundance; also books that were printed in Montreal. Africa supplied us with essential minerals which were paid for in food supplies.
They are culturally dependant on us and are strategically the pawn of outside nations."

Junior Farmers to hold Ban- quet.

M. MCINTYRE HOOD.

It is announced that M. McIntyre Hood, of Toronto, will be the guest speaker at the first annual Junior Farmers Banquet, to be held in the parish hall, Essex, on Monday, February 15th. The committee in charge of the banquet are pleased that Mr. Hood has been able to accept their invitation.
Mr. Hood is well known both in Canada and the United States as an excellent leader in Junior Farmer and 4-H club work. He is the editor of the Junior Farmer News, official newspaper of the Junior Farmer Association of Ontario and is also an accomplished speaker and leader of the songs and play parties.

Plans for the program are well underway. The banquet will begin at 6:30 followed by a singing and guest speakers. A nomination for permanent officers of the new organization will be held after the banquet, and the election will follow at the first regular meeting.

A few tickets for the banquet are still available, and any interested young people are urged to secure their tickets immediately. Any who cannot attend the banquet are cordially invited to attend the dance, which will begin at 9:30, with Mrs. Peterson's orchestra in attendance.

Tickets are now available from the township representatives as follows:
Anderdon, Leona Benet; Colchester South and Malden, Allen McLean, Colchester North, Lloyd Knapp; Gosfield South, Bud Wile; Gosfield North, Orpha Stettin; Moresa, Gerald Orton; Sandwich South, Howard Holden; Sandwich West, Lucille Benet;
Leamington, William V. Ward; Mal-denstone, Charles Bismar; Tilbury North and Tilbury West, Reg. Dodson.

Come out and make this banquet an outstanding success.

Sugar Subsidy Announced.

Following recent discussion with the sugar beet growers associations, the War-time Prices and Trade Board on Friday announced that a subsidy of $1.25 per hundred pounds on refined sugar will be paid on sugar produced from the 1947 beet crop.

This means an increase of 6 1/4 cents over the 60% cents being paid on sugar refined from the 1946 beet crop.

This payment of $1.25 will place domestically produced sugar slightly above parity with the estimated laid down cost of empire cane sugars plus preferential duty.

The division of this $1.25 between the growers and each refining company must be reviewed and approved by the sugar administrator and the prices board.

anaemia in Pigs Can Be Prevented.

Anaemia in baby pigs is preventable but still too commonly encountered says the Division of Animal Pathology, Dominion Department of Agriculture. The therapeutic and prophylactic value of iron was clearly shown in all the experiments so far made by the Division. Life-long feeding of iron to the sow did not result in greater storage of iron in the young, these being equally as susceptible to anaemia as the young of untreated sows. A single dose of iron for young pigs was not sufficient. A minimum of three at weekly intervals was indicated. The first should be given when the piglets are a day or two old as cases of anaemia may be well developed at the first week in confined pigs.

At the other pole there still remained a few diehard loyalists holding to a concept that had died, somewhat reluctantly with Queen Victoria. These few still felt that Canada's growth from adolescence to manhood, and the growth of nationalism that manhood implied, suggested some disloyalty to what they still continued to call "the motherland."

On the other side of the coin, there were those who, like the last of the diehards, were still holding to a concept that had died, somewhat reluctantly with Queen Victoria. These few still felt that Canada's growth from adolescence to manhood, and the growth of nationalism that manhood implied, suggested some disloyalty to what they still continued to call "the motherland."

People Are Asking.

Q.—To settle an argument will you tell me if it is illegal for me to accept a reward for finding an apartment for an acquaintance of mine?

A.—Yes. It is illegal under Section 34b of Order 294 which reads "no person in letting or offering to let any housing accommodation or shared accommodation, or in negotiating a lease or renewal of a lease for any such accommodation or for furnishing any information respecting such accommodation, shall directly or indirectly charge, demand, collect or receive from any tenant or prospective tenant of such accommodation any commission, bonus, gratuity, reward, or premium in money or money's worth and if any such commission, bonus, gratuity, reward or premium is paid it shall be recoverable by such tenant or prospective tenant from the person to whom it is paid."

Q.—I bought a can of grape jam in London for 68c. In my own home city I paid 95 cents for the same amount of grape jam. Can you tell me why this should be?

A.—Your question is difficult to answer with the meagre details you have given us. There is a price ceiling on grape jam, but it may vary for different brands. If you will give us the names of the brand, the size of the can and the names of your retail dealers in both instances we would be glad to have the matter investigated and will determine the legal ceiling price.

Twenty-four members of the Wilson-Russell Evening Auxiliary met in the basement of the Essex United Church, at 6.30 p.m. on Thursday, February 6th, for a pot luck supper, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The devotional part of the evening followed the supper, with Miss Miller and Mrs. Earl Wright in charge. Mrs. Ward Steed sang a solo and a chapter of the study book, "India at the Threshold," was taken by Mrs. C. Stevens, Mrs. J. Coulter, Mrs. E. Wright, Mrs. S. Kennedy and Miss Miller. The meeting closed with a hymn and all repeating the Mizpah benediction.

Be Instant.

A light film of snow had fallen during the day upon the ice-coated pavements, and a young woman hurrying home from her work slipped and fell. Tears of pain flooded her eyes as she lay there on the ground, seemingly unable to move. No one was in sight to help her and the thought that perhaps at that time of night no one would be coming along for some time made her almost panicky with fear. After a few moments, however, she began to think more coherently. "All your life," she said to herself, "you have said that God is omnipotent and ever present. Well, is He or isn't He? Which do you really believe?" Instantly she answered her own question. "God is," she said, "and pain and fear have no power and no presence, for they are not of God." With a quick movement of her body she was up, and in another moment was on her way. For a moment she was tempted to wonder if she could walk the two blocks to her home, but again the thought "Is He or isn't He?" steadied her, and she went on, knowing that there is no lack of limitation in God's presence. Never before in all her life it seemed to her, had she been so conscious of bodily freedom; and humbly she gave thanks to God for her healing.

Almost everyone acknowledges the power of God; but often one's belief in the power of evil overshadows his acknowledgement of the power of God. This is a form of idolatry, for if evil were a power, it would have to possess some of the prerogatives of God. Christian Science teaches that this is utterly impossible.

"There is no power apart from God," Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 228). "Omnipotence has all power and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonour God." "Be instant!" Paul says (II Timothy 4:2). "In season, out of season." Being instant is preparedness of the very best kind. Jesus was so prepared. Instantly He healed all manner of disease and sin. It made no difference how lame or blind, how leprosy or dead, mortal man might seem to be. Jesus saw only the man of God's creating, perfect, whole, and free. He spoke with authority to every form of evil, then left the results with God, knowing that God had answered his prayer. Let us be instant to accept the truth that God is, and that God's man, the only man there is, is always His complete and perfect reflection—Christian Science Monitor.

Energy will do anything that can be done in this world, and no talents, no circumstances, no opportunities will make a man without it—Goethe. Goodness and benevolence never tire. They maintain themselves and others and never stop from exhaustion—Mary Baker Eddy.

This successful Kent County farmer has good rich soil for his soybean crop, due to his crop rotation plan. Soybeans, which add some nitrogen to the soil, work well in crop rotations, such as sugar beets, corn, oats, soybeans, or corn, soybeans, wheat and clover. That's why each year more and more Ontario farmers plant soybeans. But the Canadian crop must be increased many times to meet Canadian requirements. Victory Mills' huge new plant needs over 3,000,000 bushels a year. So there's a ready market for all you can grow!

15 SOUND REASONS FOR GROWING SOYBEANS!

1. Soybeans have a long planting period and are EASY TO GROW, using standard methods of cultivation and standard farm equipment.
2. A profitable CASH CROP. There's a ready market for all you can grow.
3. A real SOIL-BUILDER, improving soil, tilth and adding some nitrogen—soybeans fit into any "crop rotation" planning.
4. Soybeans are a HARDY crop—resistant to drought, light frosts, and heavy rains during growing season.
5. Growing soybeans is BENEFICIAL in its loosening effect on tight, heavy-textured soils.

Canada's Materials.

In view of Canada's needs for houses, for factories and for other business places that mean homes and jobs for our people there was great interest here in the news from Britain that the success of the Labour Government's housing program depended on how much assistance they could get from Canada.

There has been much stock-taking among the politically minded in Ottawa since the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe's recent statement on the progress that has been made in reconstruction and "reconstruction." Mr. Howe's statement that Canada has "done better" than any other country in providing homes—over 100,000 in 1945 and 1946—is discussed a great deal in view of statements that have been made pointing to Britain's "plumage."

Reconstruction "licked"? Just what is involved in Mr. Howe's statement that "reconstruction is 80% licked" is the question that is most often asked. The reply of the minister is that the Canadian steel industry is producing at top capacity; lumber is in increasingly better supply, although some types required in housing are still short, and practically full employment is well distributed across the country.

Another statement of the minister's which is being hotly debated by those who claim that all construction except housing should be discontinued, "Housing and industrial construction must be kept roughly parallel" because the purchase (or rental) of houses depends on the purchasers having jobs.

Political Discussions Rage. With the opening of parliament we have had more definite political statements, particularly over the radio, which brings into focus the clear distinctions between our three main political parties. The Progressive Conservative party continues to point to the "socialism" of the government while Mr. Caldwell of the C.C.F. still maintains that there is little difference between the Liberals and the Tories. Last week Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, a Liberal, expressed interest when he criticized the "co-operative" and C.C.F. policies and directed some of his fire at the "conservative" press. He challenged both parties to name a social service that has not been provided for directly or through proceeds to the provincial governments, and also challenged any opposition party to name one social service that should be discontinued.

Canada—World Power. The importance of external affairs to our economy—and Canada's position as a world power, was dramatically highlighted in the "speech from the throne" when parliament opened last week. Considerably more than half of the entire address referred to our interest in the peace treaties with Italy, Finland, Rumania, Hungary, and Bulgaria, our activities in the United Nations and our part in the international action for the relief of the destitute. Reference was made to Canada's "constructive attitude" with regard to peace treaties for Germany and Austria and much more will be heard of this before the session is over. The promise of better old pensions is welcomed on all sides.

Political Parties. Perhaps it is the numerous and "top level" political rallies held here that keeps discussion and argument going in the Capital. Last week it was the C.C.F. party with pronouncements on old age pensions and the purity of the Party. Next week it is annual meeting of the "advisory council" of the National Liberal Federation. Late in March a national meeting of the Progressive Conservative Party will be held.

Previous meetings of the Liberal "advisory council" had noticeable effects on government policy and this year's meeting will be watched closely. The young Liberals of Ottawa provide the banquet and dance.

Items of Interest. Still a Best Seller. The Bible continues to be the world's best selling book. The largest printer of bibles in the United States is now doubling its capacity in order to meet the greatly increased demand.

The International Trade Organization's preparatory committee proposes a clause in that organization's charter establishing the responsibility of each country to maintain "a high and stable demand for goods and services." The organization will meet in Geneva Switzerland, on April 8th, 1947.

Farmers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have paid off more than two-thirds of their mortgage indebtedness in the last eight years.

When the heart speaks, however simple the words, its language is always acceptable to those who have hearts.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The courtesies of a small and trivial character are the ones which strike deepest to the grateful and appreciative heart.—Henry Clay.

Destroy Wastes.

Vast quantities of waste products—human as well as industrial—result from the process of living. National Health authorities have issued a warning that accumulation of filth can be disastrous. Prompt, planned disposal of sewage and refuse is of prime importance to health maintenance. Care must be taken to ensure thorough removal of all such media of infection so that they cannot pollute the main sources of life—food, water and air.

Serene will be our days and bright, And happy will our nature be, When love is an unerring light, And joy its own security. —Wordsworth.

NAMED TO BOARD

ERLE KITCHEN

Operator with his sons of a large dairy farm near Woodstock, Erle Kitchen has been appointed one of three members of the agricultural prices support board ("floor prices"). Mr. Kitchen has been serving as secretary of the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers Association and of the Dairy Farmers of Canada.

Annual Meeting of Holstein-Friesian Association.

The annual meeting of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, held February 5th, in Toronto, was attended by close to 800 members from all parts of Canada. A resolution was passed asking that the Health of Animals Branch of the Dominion Government resume, as rapidly as possible, the work of T. B. accreditation along the same lines as were pursued prior to the war and that all vaccinated animals that have not become negative at the age of two years be removed from listed and negative herds without loss of their standing. The Ontario Government was asked to proceed as rapidly as possible with the development of its program with regard to universal calf vaccination for Bang's Disease.

An amendment to the bylaws of the Association calling for an increase of 50 cents in the transfer fee to members was passed, also a regulation providing that a license must be taken out before pasture breeding could be practised. Reports of officers indicated that 1946 was the best year in the Association's history. Registrations totalled 52,907, transfers, 55,760 (a gain of 7 per cent over last year) and the Association membership is 10,017, this being the first time that it has exceeded the 10,000 mark.

In his presidential address, C. J. Haviland, Wilsonville, Ontario, said, "During the past year we have seen the popularity of Canadian Holsteins reach new heights. Buyers have travelled to Canada from eighteen different countries of the world to select foundation stock. Now that the gate has been opened to world markets, it is the duty of each and every breeder to help keep it open by using all available methods of breed improvement."

"WHAT A GAME!"

SAY OUR FRIENDS FROM THE U.S.

Hundreds every year come to Ontario to cheer their favourites. We can't always give them "blue-line seats," but let's be sure—in all our dealings with them—they get the best we have to offer. In short, let's see they have a swell time!

WHAT CAN I DO?

The answer is plenty! In the next column are some of the things any one can do. The suggestions come from a well-known Ontario hotelman:

IT'S EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS... it's good business!

Worth his weight in gold! The Province of Ontario profits to almost the same extent from the tourist business as it does from the gold mining industry. It is up to each one of us to see that it goes on growing.

This diagram, based on figures supplied by the Hotel Association, shows how everyone benefits from the Ontario tourist income. Every tourist dollar is shared this way: 1. Hotels; 2. Retail stores; 3. Restaurants; 4. Taxes, etc.; 5. Amusements; 6. Garages.

It works both ways! They treat us royally when we visit them... we can't do less than return the compliment. Remember that it costs money to take a holiday... so let's see they get a good return for every penny they spend.

"Let's make them want to come back!"

Insecticides Aid to Health.

Speaking at the recent meeting of the Canadian Public Health Association, Dr. C. R. Twinn, Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, reviewed the newer insecticides, repellent against biting flies, and rodenticides of value in the field of Public Health. The exigencies of war, said Dr. Twinn, were largely responsible for the great increase in the research of these products that had resulted in the development of an almost bewildering series of compounds previously unknown in the pest control field. This research which was apparently being continued by government agencies, by universities, and by private industry in various countries but particularly in the United States and the United Kingdom, where many thousands of products have been tested to ascertain their possible value as pesticides.

Among these materials a number had proved of great value or shown promise of value and of the newer insecticides the most outstanding and most widely used at the present time was DDT. Its unusual qualities as an insecticide, its extraordinary effectiveness against many species, its formulation, application, and the precautions that should attend its use have been discussed in many hundreds of technical and popular press articles.

A close relative of DDT, said Dr. Twinn was DDD, also referred to as TDE. Other new insecticides were "666," or benzene hexachloride; "1065," a compound of chlorinated bicyclic terpene; benzyl hexazote, and synergists. The last named are activators which increase the insecticidal efficiency of pyrethrum and were of great value during the war in ameliorating the serious shortage of pyrethrum.

In regard to the new repellents to protect man from biting flies, marked progress was made during the war. A considerable number of preparations was tested under field conditions in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia during the spring and summer seasons of 1942, 1943 and 1944 by the Divisions of Entomology and Plant Protection, Dominion Department of Agriculture. Some of the repellent formulas were prepared in Ottawa, and others were received from the United Kingdom and the United States.

Of the new rodenticides, two outstanding ones have been developed recently under the names of "Antu" (alpha-naphthyl-thiourea) and "1080" (sodium fluoracetate). The latter, however, is not yet obtainable in Canada.

It is not enough to have great qualities, one must make good use of them. —La Rochefoucauld.

Increase U. S. Sugar Prices Again.

Effective January 18th, the wholesale ceiling price of refined cane sugar in the United States advanced 20 cents per 100 pounds to a list price of $8.20. Refined beet sugar with its usual differential of 10c is now listed at $8.10. The result of this increase in wholesale prices was a boost of about one-quarter cent per pound in retail sugar prices. Meanwhile, Canada's ceiling prices on refined sugar remain unchanged with $5.89½, the net wholesale price at Montreal.

This is the first increase in 1947 and follows a series of four boosts in the States during 1946 which raised the wholesale price of sugar from $5.50.

This latest increase according to informed sources, is not a direct result of rising prices of Cuban raw sugar as was the case in previous advances. Instead, it was granted to enable beet sugar processors in the United States to pay their beet growers an average of $11.50 per ton of average quality beets.

Because the Cuban raw sugar price is linked with ceiling prices in the United States to $4.93½, Cuba, by contract arrangement this price is established as the minimum for 1947 and is subject to increases similar to that of the United States.

This is the first increase in 1947 and follows a series of four boosts in the States during 1946 which raised the wholesale price of sugar from $5.50.

In his presidential address, C. W. Hayland, Wilsonville, Ontario, said, "During the past year we have seen the popularity of Canadian Holsteins reach new heights. Buyers have travelled to Canada from eighteen different countries of the world to select foundation stock. Now that the gate has been opened to world markets, it is the duty of each and every breeder to help keep it open by using all available methods of breed improvement."

Mrs. Helen Montgomery, widow of the late W. A. Montgomery, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Wood, of Woodstock, on Monday.

Mrs. Montgomery, who was 81 years of age, lived in Cottam until 25 years ago when she moved to Woodstock, where she has resided since.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs.
Wood, Mrs. Paul R. Hadley, of Pulaski, N.Y., and Mrs. Lorne Richardson, of Woodstock, and three sons, John C. of Cottam; Glenn, of Woodstock, and Archie S. Montgomery, of Stratford. A sister, Mrs. Emma Sheppard, of Woodstock, also survives.

Mrs. Montgomery was born near Dunville and had been ill for the past two years. She was a member of the Oxford Centre United Church.

Commit Pair in Robbery.

Eddie Deveau, aged 52, and Roland McCauley, 41, both of Iowa, were committed for trial in a higher court on charges of retaining stolen goods, following a preliminary hearing in Magistrate J. Arthur Hanrahan's court, in Windsor, on Tuesday. The charges arose out of the theft, February 1st, of $1,883.25 in 25-cent pieces from the home of George Andrews, Talbot street, Essex.

Don't Look Like It.

Mr. Andrews related in court how he and his wife had been saving quarters for a period of three or four years, dropping the quarters into a five gallon oil tin in their home. The tin was kept behind a radio but was not observed from view. Mr. Andrews said he did not think anyone would suspect that it contained a small fortune in quarters.

The tin can, Mr. Andrews said, contained $2,030 in quarters. He related that he and his wife had put $30 into the can on February 1st, and that his wife made entries in a notebook to keep track of the amount of money in the tin. Police later found $1883.25 in quarters in a well at the Deveau property, was related at the hearing.

Had Worked There.

McCauley had worked with Orrie Ruston, operating a radiator repair service station, but he hadn't been working there for some days before the breaking and entering at the Andrews' home, it was related.

Mr. Ruston said on the stand that he noticed the door of the Andrews' home hanging in the wind, before noon on Sunday, February 1st, and knew that the Andrews were away from home, so he called police.

Mr. Ruston stated he and Chief of Police Norman Hogarth, along with Ontario Provincial Constable Harold Yule, traced the tracks left by a child's sled. These marks led from the Andrews' home to the Deveau property, where Mr. and Mrs. Mc-Cauley lived with Deveau, it was related.

Putting a Sled.

Edward Tuttle, a witness called by the Crown, said he had been at Constable Yule's home with a girl friend the night of February 1st, and he took his girl home at 2:30 a.m. Sunday. After leaving her house, he said, he observed Deveau pulling a child's sled down Talbot street. There was something on the sled, but he couldn't make out what it was, Mr.
Tuttle said.

Chief Hogarth said the sled marks went to within three feet of the back door of the Deveau property. Search warrants were issued Sunday, but search of the Deveau property was without success. A second search warrant was obtained on the following day, when a 16-foot pole was used to probe the well at the back of the property.

Three burlap bags containing quarters in quart jars were recovered from the well it was stated.

Statements Admitted.

A statement made to police by Mc-Cauley was admitted, over the objections of Marshall Romanick, counsel for the defence. Mr. Romanick argued that the statement was of a high literary calibre, while McCauley was illiterate.

Magistrate Hanrahan pointed out that the question and answer method had been used in getting the statement, although it was written in narrative form. Mr. Romanick argued that without the questions it couldn't be determined whether McCauley had been subjected to undue pressure or whether the questions had been put in such a way as to invite the wanted answers.

McCauley's statement, read into the record, was to the effect that he was awakened from his sleep at about 3 a.m. by Deveau, who showed him the quarters.

McCauley stated that he and Deveau put the quarters into quart jars and then lowered the money into the well in burlap bags.

Deveau he said took the oil tin away and was gone 15 minutes.

Work to Live.

Pointing to the almost unanimous confession of those who have "retired" as proof that a life without saying to do is not a happy one, health authorities urge Canadians to keep busy, to keep alive.

It's all tied up with the need for an aim in life — even if that aim is simply the payment of a few bills, or achievement of a cherished ambition. The doctors urge the younger people to think of that aspect of the working day when they dream about the time when they will be able to "give up the grind" and settle back in idleness. It isn't fun, they say, to have nothing to do.

Feed Cost of Milk Production.

There are many factors that influence the feed cost of milk production, such as the inherent producing ability of the individual cow or herd; kind and quality of feed supplied; the length of the pasture season, and the quality of the pasture. Seasonal conditions influence the quality of the roughage very materially and without good quality hay, succulent feed and pasture, it is very difficult to maintain production, says Dr. S. A. Hilton, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Nappan, N.S., where feed cost records on their herd of Guernseys and Jerseys have been kept over a period of years. It is only by using long time averages that any fair estimate of the feed requirements per 100 pounds of milk can be arrived at, says Dr. Hilton.

From 1932 to 1945 inclusive, information was compiled on the monthly feed requirements per 100 pounds of milk produced in these herds. The yearly average size of the herd was 37.2 cows, the average percentage of butterfat in the milk was 5.11 and the average yearly production was 306 pounds of butterfat. Feed consumption of both producing and dry cows was charged against the herd. The pasture season averaged 130 days.

The average feed cost per 100 pounds of milk produced was as follows: Grain, 28 pounds; hay, 48 pounds; succulent feed (roots, silage, green feed), 144 pounds; pasture, 2.06 days.

On the basis of the cost of production of these feeds over this period, the average yearly feed cost was $1.12, and ranged from an average of 88 cents from June to October to 1.41 from November to May.

The average value of pasture per day, when compared with stable feeding, was the equivalent of 6 pounds grain, 14 pounds hay and 25 pounds succulent feed. On the basis of stable feeding, therefore, the average feed requirements per 100 pounds of milk would be 40.4 pounds grain, 76.2 pounds hay and 195.9 pounds succulent feed. Bearing in mind that these figures are averages for a period covering both good and poor crop years, and represent the feed consumption of a large number of individual cows, the application of local prices should result in a fair estimate of the feed cost of producing 100 pounds of 5 per cent milk in any given area.

Robot Brain Rivals Man's Mind

AN ACE OF BRAINS, an electronic mechanical "brain," surpassing in many ways the human mind, is being created in Britain. Deriving its name from the initials of Automatic Computing Engine, it will be capable of supplying 1,000,000 calculations an hour by the pressing of a few keys, Ace, according to 31-year-old Dr. A. M. Turing, one of its four British creators, has "implications so vast that we cannot conceive how it will affect our civilization." Pictured above is a mechanic working on a section of Ace. Another of its creators is Professor D. Hartree, of Britain's famed Cambridge University, who helped with Ace's U. S. "brother"—the American Eniac machine.

Hello, Homemakers! This week the decorations on school windows remind us of a special event known as Valentine's Day. We must have a party! Food for children should be plain. Red jelly moulds and fruits for a salad plate followed by ice cream and cookies or plain cake and cocoa will make them happy. Grow-ups also appreciate attractive food on this occasion, so here are recipes that will fit into the predominant colour of Valentine's Day.

BEETS IN HORSE RADISH SAUCE.

1. 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
- 1 teaspoon vinegar
- salt and pepper
- 3 cups cooked sliced beets
- 3 tablespoons beet juice

Mix the flour and the sour cream until smooth and cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add the horseradish and vinegar and season with salt and pepper. Add the beets and the beet juice. Six servings. Chill in electric refrigerator.

FEBRUARY SALAD.

Warble Grub Costs Farmers Big Losses.

Warble or heel flies cost a yearly loss to farmers in Canada in lost production of dairy products, bearing and hides for leather of many millions of dollars. It has been estimated that the activities of the flies when egg laying, and the injurious effects of the grubs in the flesh of animals, cause, in cases of heavy infestations, as much as a 25 per cent reduction in the yield of milk and 10 per cent in beef production. These losses can be avoided by inexpensive methods of control. Apart from the financial losses to farmers the loss of milk, beef and leather these days is particularly serious when more of these products are wanted both in Canada and other countries.

The best method of control of warble flies is to destroy the grubs after they reach the backs of the animals. This can be done by the

THE QUESTION BOX.

- Miss C. R. asks for easily and quickly prepared supper plates: 1. Onionette cold cut-beans seasoned with onion juice and creamed corn. 2. Bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes, until brown. Makes 1½ to 2 dozen.

Miss M. J. describes a cornucopia dish and asks how it was made:

BOLOGNA CORNUCOPIAS.

Production of Turkey Eggs for Incubation.

During recent years the rearing of turkeys has increased rapidly and the demand for poultlets is always in excess of the available supply. As a result of this demand for poultlets flocks of breeding turkeys to supply eggs for incubation are increasing in size and many new flocks are being established. The rearing of turkeys is thus becoming an established industry and it becomes more important than ever that the eggs for incubation be such as to produce poultlets that will hatch, live and grow, says A. G. Taylor, Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

As the breeding flock becomes larger, the tendency is to pay less attention to the individual in the flock and in turkey raising this point must be avoided at any cost. The male and females making up the flock should be well mated and at least ten months old at mating time. Poultry fanciers should select the best females for incubation. It is about a sure way to the production of poor poultlets. Early in the season to fair, but hatchability may be low and the poultlets that do hatch may lack vigor.

When the breeding stock is well mated and properly selected it should be housed in roomy quarters and if possible given an outdoor run during the winter months. Exercise is important to keep the breeding birds in good physical condition. Mating should be done at the rate of one male to ten females.

Feed liberally on energy producing feeds and attempt to use variety in the rations. Use a good growing ration until about four weeks before eggs are needed and then feed a well balanced hatchery ration and continue during the laying period. This hatchery ration should contain 16 to 17 per cent protein.

Turkey eggs produced early in the season should be gathered often and protected from severe cold. They should be held at a temperature of 45 to 55 degrees F. and turned daily during the collecting period.

The eggs should not be held longer than two weeks and the fresher they are when set the better will be the hatch other things being equal. Incubation may be done by the mother turkey, or in incubators. The use of an incubator in the hatching of turkey poultlets is recommended because of the advantage of keeping the poultlets free from disease particularly blackhead. If turkey poultlets are hatched in incubators, reared in brooders and kept on clean ground, fed and watered in a sanitary method there should be little or no death rate during the growing season.

Health Hazards.

As Canada's population gravitates to towns and cities such health hazards as noise, smoke, odors, dust and other evils of congestion increase. Public health engineering forces seek their causes and prevention. The Dominion is particularly concerned in ensuring safety of water for human use, adequate and efficient disposal of wastes and among other matters, sanitary conditions for water, ice and foods aboard trains, ships and planes engaged in interprovincial and international passenger service.

GUEST STAR

Anna Malenford, Canadian contralto, to be of note, appears as guest artist on the Northern Electric Hour on Monday, February 24. Miss Malenford was heard as soloist on the program last season and returns for another appearance this year by popular request. The Northern Electric Hour is heard weekly over the Dominion and the Quebec Regional networks of the CBC and is produced by Gordon Forsyth.

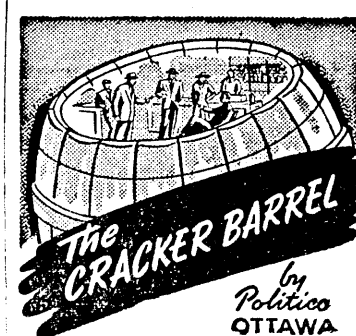

The School Dunce.

A little boy with a tear-stained face and a wistful sigh: "I cannot learn as sister can, no matter how I try, and mom is cross, and teacher scolds, and dad grows something low, just by the way he looks at me. I know he thinks me slow. The funny won't come right at all, although I try and try. I wish I learned as sister does." He walked with a sigh. I scanned the list, and noted with the shamed, dejected face, the well-built frame which undue blame had robbed of boyhood grace. Just think of all the other things which you can do well instead as curly horses, stables clean and giving the cows a bed. Be proud, my dear, you have two hands that do the work so well; for God loves little boys who work as well as boys who stall. Years passed, the boy to manhood grew; he never learned to spell, he never studied Factor's Prime; he never read Caesar fell; he owns and works the finest farm for many miles around; he in the council chambers sits, discussing things profound; and where is sister, who in youth could read and count so well? She's struggling with her own son now, for he can't spell.

People Are Asking.

Q.—I have a two and a half year old child who requires evaporated milk in his diet. When I obtained his first ration I had a doctor's certificate (recently I had to have the allowance renewed) and I was told that I must have a doctor's certificate every time I require more. Why is this?

A.—The ruling which requires a certificate every time a ration is renewed was made because of small supplies of the evaporated milk which is rationed in areas where fluid milk is available. As children grow older other foods are introduced into their diets. If his ration were renewed automatically it could be used for unnecessary purposes in the household. Available supplies must be conserved for necessary purposes.

Founding of Rotary Movement.

The Rotary Club of Essex, on Monday celebrated the 12th anniversary of the founding of the international Rotary organization at the club's regular meeting in the Boy Scout Hall.

"The first Rotary Club in the world was organized in Chicago, Illinois, on February 23rd, 1905. Paul P. Harris, a young lawyer, suggested the idea to a group of his friends and with them organized the club. It was called the Rotary Club because their first meetings were held in rotation, in the offices of the various members."

"During these past 42 years, the ideas of Paul Harris and his friends — ideas of friendship, fellowship and of service to others — have been accepted by men of practically all nationalities, of all political and religious beliefs."

"When he passed away in Chicago, last month, at the age of 78, Paul Harris had the deep satisfaction of knowing that there were Rotary Clubs in North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and in the Islands of the Pacific."

"Rotary has grown in an amazing fashion during these 42 years. In the last seven months for example, 175 new Rotary Clubs have been organized in Finland, Greece, Spain, South Africa — in 37 different countries. Today there are more than 6,000 Rotary Clubs in 75 different countries and geographical regions throughout the world, which have a membership of 250,000 business and professional executives."

"The general objectives of Rotary Clubs in every country are the same — the development of fellowship and understanding among the business and professional men in the community, the promotion of community betterment, and the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace."

"Rotary clubs in every country are composed of men representing the principal business and professional interests in the community. Therefore they are in a particularly advantageous position to be of service to the community and the nation in these critical days through which the world is passing."

"The Rotary Club of Jamshepur, India, is conducting a vigorous campaign against leprosy. Rotarians in Amherst, Nova Scotia, are cementing rural-urban relations by sponsoring musical-judging contests for boys and girls."

"There is an eye clinic and a school for the deaf and dumb in Chungking, China, under the direction of Rotarians."

"The Rotary Club of Coquimbó, Chile, is constructing a school for teaching trades to poor children. Rotary Clubs in the State of Georgia are bringing students from France, Greece and Norway to study on Rotary Scholarships at the University of Georgia."

"In St. Johns, Newfoundland, the Rotary Club was recently accorded official governmental recognition for its valuable contributions in fighting a high tuberculosis death rate. The Rotary Club of Durban, South Africa, sponsors an annual camp for students. Through the generosity and hard work of Rotarians, the Hospital for Crippled Adults in Memphis, Tennessee, has provided free care for more than 4,000 patients."

"The Rotary Club of Wayne, Michigan, recently donated $4,000 to purchase food for the war-devastated countries of Europe. In Haifa, Palestine, Rotarians are leading a campaign to reduce traffic accidents. More than $36,000 has been loaned to students by the Rotary Club of Luback, Texas, to assist them in completing their education."

"These are just a few of the service activities of Rotary Clubs around the world. Here in Essex our Rotary Club is especially active in crippled children's work, Boy Scouts, Boys' Band — they recently purchased the former Presbyterian church to be used for Scout activities."

"To assist in developing an informed public opinion on vital problems confronting the world, Rotary International provides all Rotary Clubs with up-to-the-minute background information on the United Nations organization and its specialized agencies. There were Rotary consultants in San Francisco when the United Nations organization was established and Rotary has been re-nominated every meeting of the United Nations since that time. In Atlantic City, Copenhagen, London, Montreal, New York, Paris and Washington."

President Ed. Beaman announced that next week Rotary Clubs throughout the world are celebrating Rotary's 42nd anniversary. He said that the local Rotary Club was organized in GROWS 124 BUSHELS OF CORN PER ACRE!

Dutton, Ont. (Special)—An outstanding corn yield of 124½ bushels per acre grown on a selected 5-acre contest plot, has won the 1946 Canadian corn growing championship for Jack Witherden, Elgin County farmer, in the 9th Annual DeKalb Corn Growing Contest. He is pictured above (right) with his father Ernest Witherden.

Witherden's yield was accurately computed according to contest rules from a selected 5-acre plot that had been in corn the year before. The contest field was spring plowed, disked and harrowed, and 100 pounds per acre of fertilizer was used. On May 10 DeKalb hybrid seed corn, varieties 240 and 65 were planted in drill rows 40 inches apart.

Witherden won over a field of 97 Canadian contestants whose yields averaged 88.5 bushels per acre on their selected 5-acre contest plots.

Lunch Well.

Health authorities advise parents to ensure that all members of the family have substantial lunches. They say that scrummy ill-planned lunches which are, in effect, little more than snacks, are responsible for deficiencies in Canada's diets, particularly among children.

Surveys made in two provinces revealed that one of every ten children examined was thin and underweight.

Ration Coupon Due Dates.

Coupons now good are butter B35 to B42; meat M64 to M73; preserves, S26 to S42.

Allowances for sugar and preserves are on a monthly basis, two coupons becoming good each month.

CANADA'S health

Side-STEP COLDS.

More than ordinary good health is needed to combat that scourge of modern civilization — the Common Cold. Good sense is equally important. Prevention lies in keeping clear of sources of infection if and when they are encountered.

The doctors agree that a healthy body in healthful surroundings will provide excellent protection, but they point out that even the healthy person is not immune if brought into close contact with a cold sufferer.

HEALTH EDUCATION.

Whether it be in the field of mental, physical or economic welfare, physical or economic welfare, all measures of improvement must be based on health education. All sources of health education, for example, springs from the people's desire for something better, and from the knowledge that improvement is attainable.

In recognition of this fact, health teams such as these are provided by your government, to advise, guide, encourage and inspire the people to the fight for a higher standard of living in Canada.

YOUR NURSE.

Authorities are agreed that no person in any community should enjoy, or deserve, a higher standing and public commendation, than the practicing nurse. Whether she is engaged in industrial, school, visiting, clinical or hospital work, she has a key post of great responsibility. The modern nurse, too, is a teacher and demonstrator of sound public health practices, as well as an angel of mercy in remedial nursing. The public should cooperate with the nurse in all her activities.

FIT FOR FOOD.

When feeling proud of being a Canadian, people of this Dominion should not forget what is being accomplished in the little-publicized field of Food and Drug control. Canada's people are admirably protected against falsity and deceit, as well as against carelessness, in everything which is destined to go into the human body.

Our national regulation in the Food and Drug field have been followed with interest, and are often copied, in Great Britain and in other lands.

SEE A DOCTOR.

Here's a real heads up from Ottawa — "Don't try to treat yourself and fill up on remedies which you have decided will be good for you. By resorting to such hit or miss medicines you may be only delaying the day when you will have to see a doctor."

Experts warn that, while you are dosing yourself — even if the remedy is "natural" — your ailment is probably becoming progressively worse. You will have the best chance for a complete and rapid cure if you consult a professional medical man at the first sign of trouble.

BANKING ON YOU.

When money "burns a hole in your pocket," that's bad, since you'll likely soon be thrash-broke. But, say the doctors, it'll be even worse if you expend your money on "miraculous" cures.

"SALADA" TEA

Delicious Flavour

Penicillin Helps Against Mastitis.

Good results were obtained with penicillin in the treatment of mastitis in cows by the Division of Animal Pathology, Dominion Department of Agriculture in the 12 months ended March 31st 1946. Results were based on a complete bacteriological examination one to three months after treatment. In view of the results obtained a later-scale field experiment was planned in which the practice of veterinarians in the Ottawa Valley were invited to cooperate. Short courses were given and forms were supplied to the attending veterinarians. Under the plan all animals in the herd are tested individually, milk samples from each quarter are subjected to bacteriological examination, infected quarters are treated and re-examined later to determine the value of treatment. The results of the examination carried out by practicing veterinarians will indicate whether mastitis can be controlled by the methods recommended.

Your energies as carefully as your cash. Extravagance is the well known cause of many evils, and never more than when it wears out reserves of physical strength. With health, as with money, you can't pay out all the time. You must put something into your account, to make both ends meet. Canadians, therefore, are urged to live wisely and moderately, in order to build a health which can bank upon.

TOLL OF CANCER.

It is estimated that nearly 200,000 citizens of Canada and the United States or the equivalent of the population of a sizeable city, died of cancer in 1946.

According to an authority, the real tragedy behind this terrifying total lies in the fact that at least one-third of the deaths occurred because the sufferers failed to suspect cancer symptoms, and to seek the early medical advice and diagnosis essential to successful treatment.

CARE WITH SPRAYS.

Care is urged by health authorities in the use of quantities of certain insecticides. Since these substances may be toxic if inhaled persistently, one should stay in their quarters too long.

The eyes should be protected and those using insecticides should not spray them near fires or other open lights, as some of them are mixed with inflammable solvents.

Nobody, even our own Scriptures, should backslide and despond with our trials. It'll be even worse if you expend your money on "miraculous" cures.

Oil Stoves.

In the interest of saving lives and property, more care should be exercised in the purchase of oil heating stoves and use of the proper type of fuel. The Canadian Underwriters' Association, as in a warning issued by the C. I. P. A. and the report of several fires caused by defective stoves and the use of dangerous fuels as a substitute for kerosene, of burning the stoves.

Since a shortage of distillate oil developed within the last few weeks, it is apparent that through lack of knowledge, people are using substitutes in oil stoves, which are extremely dangerous to life and property.

"Under no circumstances should such substitutes as kerosene, alcohol, benzine or derivatives be used for oil stoves, because they are explosive when used under certain conditions."

"In order to protect life and property therefore, it is advisable to issue a order warning to the public to be careful both in the purchase of oil stoves and the use of proper fuel. If oil stoves are purchased from manufacturers or dealers whose products bear an 'approved label' and are properly installed, proper fuel used and ordinary care taken, there is no reason why fires destructive to life and property should occur."

Elm Disease Control.

Up to the present the only known method of control of Dutch elm disease is to eliminate the source of the infection by felling diseased trees and removing the bark from the trunk and large branches, in order to prevent bark beetles from breeding there.

At the same time, it is advisable to reduce the number of beetles in the vicinity of diseased trees as much as possible by destroying or removing the bark from all dead trees or fallen trees, and also from piled logs and cord wood. The felling of large trees, particularly in cities, towns, and villages, states the annual report of the Dominion Minister of Agriculture is a difficult and costly operation and is only justifiable as a control measure when there is reasonable expectation that disease may be eliminated or at least confined to a comparatively small area.

THIRD SESSION OF CANADA'S PARLIAMENT OPENS

Amid additional pomp and ceremony which included the reading of the Peace Tower, beneath which His Excellency took the salute which a throne speech that stressed the Dominion's participation in international affairs, the third session of Canada's 20th Parliament, was opened on Thursday, January 31st, at Ottawa, by His Excellency the Governor-General, A. V. Viscount Alexander, and Her Excellency the Governor-General's wife, Mrs. Alexander. The Governor-General and Her Excellency the Governor-General's wife are shown as they walked through the Hall of Fame enroute to the Senate Chamber, where His Excellency delivered the speech from the Throne. Seated in the foreground are His Excellency the Governor-General, A. V. Viscount Alexander, and Her Excellency the Governor-General's wife, Mrs. Alexander. Pasture of Lambs.

Pasture in sheep husbandry is important and information gained for better utilization of herbage may go a long way in reducing the cost of lamb production. In this respect, two experiments are being carried out by the Field Husbandry Division, Dominion Experimental Farms. One is the study of the response of grass to chemical fertilizer and the influence of close grazing by sheep on the composition of the sward over a long period of time. This project was started in 1929, reports of progress having been given annually.

The second experiment is a study of a succession of cultivated crops pastured in rotation by ewes and lambs. Begun in 1933, it seeks to determine the best crops to provide uniform grazing during the whole summer season. Four one-acre fields were seeded down as if a farm rotation. First year — oats and Sudan grass, plus a grass mixture, with a complete fertilizer applied in the spring. Second year — clover. Third year — timothy, then ploughed in late summer and seeded to fall rye. Ammonium sulphate is applied to the timothy to stimulate growth. Fourth year — rye for early grazing until June, then seeded to rape for August and September grazing of lambs.

Dr. D. W. Clark of Essex, was the speaker at Cottam Rotary Club on Friday evening, giving an interesting and graphic account of his experiences while a prisoner of war following the raid at Dieppe.

Dr. Clark was one of the four medical officers captured with the Canadians and during his imprisonment, served as such. "We were locked in box cars, as many as sixty in a car, and shipped across Germany, not seeing out for five days," he said, "in the camp to which we were sent, Camp Stalag 4B, there were 8,000 and afterwards 14,000 prisoners of war, and the medical officers were kept busy."

Dr. Clark told of many amusing incidents, showing how they managed to outwit their captors. "Radios were absolutely forbidden," he said, "yet we always had the news. We had nothing else to do but scheme to outwit them. There were fifteen languages spoken in our camp."

The speaker paid tribute to the indomitable spirit of the Canadians, pointing out that no section of Canada had more lads in the Dieppe raid than the Essex Scottish.

The speaker was introduced by Robert Blackton, and Nelson Clark expressed the appreciation of the club. Arrangements were made to entertain the Boy Scouts and Cubs in two weeks and an invitation sent. The Treasurer, Earl Gamble, reported having received, to date, $551.35 for the "Aid to China" fund. On motion, the club decided to give $50.

After a discussion on the "Calf Club" the meeting closed with the singing of "O Canada." President Hugh Ferguson had charge of the meeting.

Cottam Red Cross to Carry On

The annual meeting of the Cottam and Gosfield North Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held in the Cottam library, on Wednesday evening, February 12th, with the president, N. G. Law, presiding.

It was decided the Branch carry on its activities for another year, and that the same slate of officers continue in office for 1947.

Officers are as follows: President, N. G. Law; 1st vice-president, Delbert Goslin; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Una Jackson; secretary-treasurer, Earl Gamble; civilian, Mrs. O. E. Lonsberry; reporter, Mrs. P. Bowers.

The main object of the branch carrying on is to secure a Red Cross hospital cupboard, consisting of hospital bed, wheel chair, etc. for the use of the community.

Mrs. Lonsberry was named to find out particulars regarding purchasing same. Delbert Goslin was named campaign chairman.

Cottam Women's Institute Meet.

Mrs. Everett Small, Talbot street, was hostess to a well attended meeting of the Women's Institute last week, at which the president, Mrs. Charles Billings, presided. The sum of $200 was voted to be applied to the memorial crosses for those who paid the supreme sacrifice in World Wars 1 and 2.

Mrs. Harry Cullen and Mrs. S. J. Ash were named as conveners to the Sportsmen's banquet, on March 10th, at the Women's Institute, on March 10th.

Mrs. Norman Simpson gave a thought-provoking address on "Citizenship." "Let us," she said, "as women who are interested in better government consider our rights and privileges. Every woman who has the privilege of voting should take a keen interest in civic and political programs of the day. I am convinced that if there were more women in all countries on the political programs that we would have cleaner governments and could go a long way toward eliminating future wars, because no woman possessing natural womanly and motherly instincts would subject her sons and daughters or the sons and daughters of any woman to the awful horrors of war."

Mrs. Simpson discussed citizenship from three angles, first, as it affects the present and future welfare of the young people of the nation; second, as it affects the nation as a whole, and third, how can good citizenship build good-will with other nations.

Mrs. Emerson Rupert played instrumental selections.

A coffee of "Do you know Bessie?" conducted by Mrs. Andrew Nesbitt resulted in the honours going to Mrs. S. J. Ash and Mrs. James McLeod.

Final arrangements were made for the 50th anniversary celebration of Women's Institute work in South Essex district to be held in Cottam United Church schoolroom on the afternoon of February 19th at which the Rev. Dr. D. W. Clark will preside.

Old Resident Passes.

Harry W. Thomas, aged 66, who as a young boy lived with his mother in the home of his cousins, George and Bertha Thomas, in town, passed away at his home in New Brunswick, N.J., on February 15th, after a lengthy illness.
He leaves his widow, a daughter, two sons and five grandchildren.

Three Injured.

After a head-on collision between two cars, on No. 3 Highway, about two miles west of town, on Tuesday afternoon, the three occupants of the cars were rushed to Grace Hospital, Windsor, by Kennedy's Ambulance, suffering from severe injuries.
The car of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Maxwell, of Kingsville, who were driving into Windsor, was hit head-on by a car driven by A. Parsons, of Windsor who, we understand, tried to pass another vehicle.

Parsons is suffering from multiple fractures of his lower jaw and had a number of teeth knocked out; Mr.
Maxwell has a broken rib and knee cap, while Mrs. Maxwell escaped with bruises. Both cars, one a new Hudson Coupe, are wrecks.

Charles Pearce Passes.

Charles Pearce, aged 53, passed away, quite suddenly, at his late home on Division Road, just west of No. 3 Highway, about 10 o'clock Tuesday evening. He had been ailing for some time.

He was born in Australia, but came to this country when a baby. He had resided near Kingsville and at Ridge-town prior to building his home on the Division Road.

Surviving are his widow, the former Elizabeth Hickmott, and seven children: Clayton, of Stratford; Elsie (Mrs. George Simpson) of Windsor; Glen, of Toronto; Gerald, of Kingsville; Everett, of Leamington; Jean and Clifford, at home; also a brother William, of Leamington; and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Sinclair and Mrs. Violet Comblies, both of Windsor.

Funeral services will be held from the Crawford Funeral Home, Kingsville, on Friday, at 2.30 p.m., with burial in Greenhill cemetery, Kingsville.

Rural-Urban Night at Essex Rotary Club.

The local Rotary Club held one of their Rural-Urban nights, under leadership of A. McKenney, at their weekly luncheon meeting, held in the new Boy Scout hall, on Monday evening.
Due to cramped quarters, the twenty-five farmers invited were from Maidstone and Sandwich South townships only.

Alex Burrell, of the local Department of Agriculture office, field man for the Dairy Herd Improvement Project, being sponsored by the Essex County Milk Producers' Association, was guest speaker.

Reviewing the aims, objects and accomplishments of the herd improvement project, Mr. Burrell stated that 1,200 cows, making up 90 herds, are tested monthly for average production of milk and butterfat. Each participating dairyman is sent a monthly report on his own herd of the average for the group, and the highest producer for the group.

Want High Quality.
"Our main object is to market the highest possible quality of product at the lowest price to the consumer and the highest margin of profit for the producer, through improved production and more efficient and economic methods. The average cost of production has been lowered to an average level of $3.60 per hundred-weight through this co-operative plan.

"Our second aim is for better breeding through use of production proved record bulls. It is hoped to have an artificial insemination station established here by spring.

"Improved crop yields form the third important part of our program which is to do our best for interested farmers to obtain all necessary information through sincere co-operation of the dairyman and the department of agriculture," he concluded.

The speaker was introduced by A.
McKenney and thanked by Len Black.

Willis Manchester Dies.

Willis Manchester, aged 68 years, passed away in Metropolitan Hospital, Windsor, on Wednesday. He was taken suddenly ill on Monday morning while on his way to work, and rushed to the hospital.

Deceased was born in Mersea Township, a son of the late Charles and Emma Manchester, in November 1878, and had lived in the County all his life, working for many years in Essex for the late J. A. Coulter, and later for the latter's sons, J. Stanley and Chas.
Coulter, in both Essex and Windsor.

Surviving are his widow, the former Ida Blanche Little, of 1153 Howard avenue, Windsor, and six children:
Emma (Mrs. Wesley Trimble), Windsor; Gordon, of Belle River; Cecil and Lewis (Dutch) Manchester, of Windsor; Una (Mrs. J. R. Atwell) of Ram-ington, Mich.; and Betty Alice, Winifred Inalls, also of Windsor; six sisters:
Sarah (Mrs. John Hunter) of South
Woodlee; Mrs. Della Elford and Mrs.
Della Reeves, both of Arcadia, Calif.;
Mrs. Hazel Irwin and Mrs. Mabel Llewellyn, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Millie Robinson, of Windsor, and two brothers, Robert, of Detroit, and Ed., of Pontiac, Mich.; also 16 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Morris Funeral Home, 1624 Wyandotte street east, on Saturday, March 1st, at 3.30 p.m. Burial will be in North Ridge cemetery.

Father and Sons.

The Father and Son banquet, held Tuesday evening, was a climax to the successful twenty-seven such occasions held in the Essex United Church, since the organization of the Essex community spirit, supplemented by a delicious chicken dinner and an excellent program, made the evening one to be long remembered.

The program, presented by the minister, Rev. R. H. Parr, consisted of community singing, led by Ernie Axon and Ivan Evan, of Windsor; instrumental accompaniment by the Van Impes, of Detroit; a reading by Harvard McMullen, representing the boys, and vocal solos by Murray Kennedy, accompanied by Miss M. Allen, and a memorable address by Dr. Evan D.
Welsh, of Ward Presbyterian Church,
Detroit, his subject being "Be Strong, Quit Yourself Like Men." His remarks were an inspiration to the lads and at the same time a challenge to the dads.

Carl Reeb expressed the thanks of the men and boys to all those who contributed to the success of the evening.

As in former years, the fathers and sons attended in a body, the church service on the Sunday preceding the banquet. This service was conducted by Rev. R. H. Parr, the guest speaker being the Rev. R. J. McKnight, of Amherstburg. A ladies' choir provided special music and lady ushers took charge of the seating and the offering.

Three octogenarians were present.
Reviewing the honours going to Mr.
Fred Taylor, Joseph Totten and Vi-liam Parker, who is 85, James Barrie, aged 83, was the youngest. The largest family was that of Angus Robson, who was accompanied by nine sons and sons-in-law.

Another Fatal'ity.

Len Sang, 58 years old, Chinese laundryman of Kingsville, died in Hopewell Rotary Hospital, Leamington, on Sunday afternoon, from injuries suffered in an auto accident in front of the Essex Dairies, in town.

"We have achieved an average of 9,000 pounds of milk and 3,000 pounds of butterfat per year per cow," he said.

Deceased was a passenger in a car
(a coupe) driven by George Stomp Jr., of Kingsville. He was sitting between the driver and Miss Betty Connors, also of Kingsville, when Stomp, who was driving east, lost control of his car after a gust of wind-driven snow had momentarily blinded him and he was the victim of a car just pulling away from the Dairy, before he knew it. As a car was coming west at the time he put his foot on the brake, the car then going out of control, on the slippery pavement and striking a steel light pole on the Legion corner. Miss Connors also suffered head and back injuries, but is not thought to be seriously injured. They were catapulted out of the car onto the pavement when their side door swung open from the impact with the post.

This is the second accident under exactly the same circumstances to occur at this spot.

James McLean Loses Sister.

Mrs. Mary Buckler, aged 84, of 838
Moy avenue, Windsor, widow of William Buckler, died Sunday at her home following a long illness. She was born in Lawrence Station, Elgin County, and had lived in Windsor for 35 years, moving there from West Lorne. She was a member of Lincoln Road United Church.

Mrs. Buckler is survived by one son,
William, of Detroit; two daughters, Mrs. C. McLennan, of Windsor, and Mrs. Beatrice Butt, at home; two brothers, Alex McLean, of Essex, and James McLean, of Essex, and grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.
Burial was in Greenlawn Memorial Park.

Some Reasons Why Fish and Game Laws Necessary.

During the years 1840 to 1941 on the North American Continent, man exterminated nearly one dozen species of birds. Whooping Cranes and Trumpeter Swans are nearly extinct. Most of the birds now extinct once could be counted in millions. In fifteen years man destroyed about ten million buffalo and only a small herd was saved. The beaver has disappeared from great stretches of country where once they were abundant.

In order to protect fruit trees, farm crops and forests from destruction by insects and to keep down weeds, all insect and weed eating birds are protected both in the United States and Canada.

If people were allowed to take all the fish they wanted or to shoot all the deer, moose, ducks, geese, mallards, snipe or other birds they wished, or to trap beaver and other scarce game animals they wished, very soon there would be no fish, birds or animals left. If such a condition was permitted to develop, no fish and wildlife would be available for the enjoyment of those who like to see a variety of creatures in their natural habitat for those who like to hunt or fish, or for the protection of orchard, farm and forest. Some of the ways in which we can help save our fish, birds, and animals from extinction are as follows:

1. Respect all game laws.
2. Do not destroy birds nests or eggs.
3. Help prevent abuse of wildlife by others.

Fishermen.

1. Do not take more fish than the law allows.
2. Do not take under-size fish.
3. Return all under-size fish to water.
4. Do not fish out of season.

Hunters.

1. Hunt only during lawful season.
2. Do not take more than the law allows.
3. Follow a wounded animal until found.

Trappers.

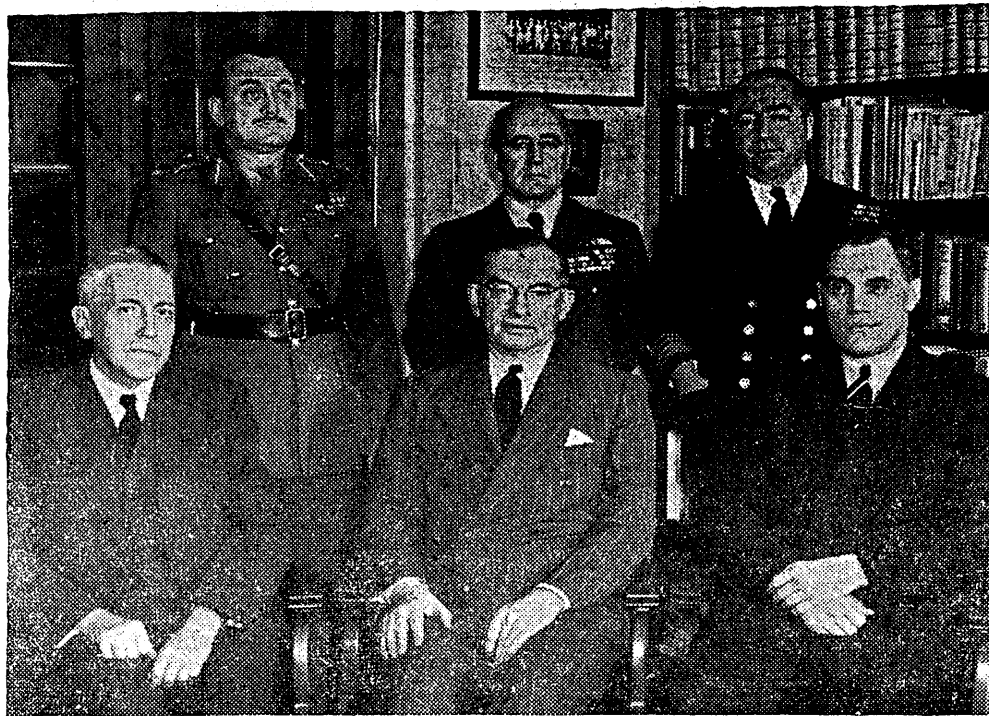

1. Do not trap protected fur bearing animals.
2. Do not trap animals out of season.

Forest fires every year destroy large numbers of birds and animals and leave many homeless. Be careful with fire in all its forms.

Fish and game laws exist only so that the fish, birds and animals they protect may be enjoyed by everyone forever. It is the duty of every boy and girl to take an active part in preventing the destruction of wildlife and in promoting its preservation.

True merit, like a river, the deeper it is, the less noise it makes.—Haitax.

The men above are responsible for guiding the destiny of Canada's Armed Services and research during the post-war years. To them lies the task of co-ordinating the three services into a smooth-running machine and to keep abreast of developments in the field of research whereby members of the armed services will be equipped with the latest arms. Selecting Gilts, Hog Breeding Factor.

With the recent increase in hog prices, a renewed interest in hog raising in Canada has been apparent, says E. B. Fraser, Division of Animal Husbandry, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Evidently there is considerable demand for bred sows and gilts of breeding age. A hog raiser can often keep some of his own gilts to replenish the herd, for if a good strain of hogs has been developed it is advisable to select some of the gilts for breeding purposes.

The common practice in selecting gilts is to pick them from a good litter. This is the logical thing to do, and if as well, the good litter is from a sow which has produced several litters of thrifty and high grading pigs, there is an even better chance that the chosen gilts will develop satisfactorily.

In selecting gilts from a litter or from several litters, if they are available, it is good business to choose carefully. The good breeder will select Cold Catching.

Even the healthy person is not immune to the common cold, if brought into close contact with a cold sufferer. Doctors point out that common sense is required to avoid the common cold—the scourge of civilization, even at this late date. Prevention lies in keeping warm and when they are encountered, select gilts which are large and well developed, and which have been grown rather than fattened. The chosen gilt should be of good length, depth and balance. The well balanced gilt is smooth and trim in the shoulder, well fleshed in the back, and carries a full, but trim underline, and with plump hams which are well filled down to the hocks. Again, in choosing gilts, it is particularly important to select those with good mammary development—those which have at least 12 and preferably 14 normal teats.

How vain, without the merit, is the name.—The Iliad of Homer.

International Trade.

Efforts are being made to organize an international trade organization to foster the recovery of trade in general, and it is to be hoped that it will work more quickly and effectively than have other such international organizations so far set up.

Practically everything which is being said about removing the blocks to international trade has to do with cutting down tariffs, as though this were the major block to the restoration of commerce between nations. Of course, tariffs, which have been in effect for some time, can scarcely be taken off overnight. It is easy to talk about the theory of general free trade, but Canadian gave up talking this way a long time ago, realizing that this country can never adopt all around free trade, as long as it shares a continent with the United States.

New and increased obstacles to international trade at the present time is the tremendous interference of government with trade. This interference developed largely during the war. Practically every country now has an elaborate system of controlling imports and exports, of controlling foreign exchange and all the rest of it.

These are the real blocks to the restoration of international trade and commerce.

For example, every country now tries to fix the value of its currency by some sort of edict of the government. Instead of the old-fashioned idea, by which, using the gold standard, the currency of every country would be valued according to what it would buy in its own country.

That is, the world now lacks an international currency, such as gold was. It is now generally agreed that the Bretton Woods plan is not going to replace this lack, and, until we get some real relation between the value of currencies in various nations, compared with their purchasing power, it is impossible to hope for trade to be revived on a large scale.

Thus, what the international trade organization needs to do at the start, anyway, is not to spend its time butting its head against the stone wall of trying to get nations to remove tariffs, but to accept the fact that nations will have tariffs, and try to remove other blocks to international commerce. These blocks were set up during the War for War purposes, but seem quite likely to be perpetuated indefinitely.

Bee Pollen Supplies.

Observations by the Bee Division, Dominion Experimental Farms Service, over a five-year period have shown that brood rearing generally commences in February in normal colonies, and, when pollen supplies are negligible, spring dwindling is severe. Results of experiments over the past four years have shown that 30 per cent more honey has been produced by colonies that were provided with ample pollen reserves. This increase in production may easily mean the difference between a profit and a loss during years when the honey crop is poor.

Self-Treatment.

Experts warn against filling up with remedies chosen at random, without professional guidance. They say "By resorting to such hit-or-miss medicines you may be only delaying the day when you will HAVE to see a doctor."

Even if a certain tonic gives temporary relief, the specialists say that an ailment may become progressively worse, if proper treatment is delayed or neglected. They advise consultation with a medical man at the first sign of disorder or trouble.

As plants take hold, not for the sake of staying, but only that they may climb higher, so it is with men.—Beecher.

Dishes Mother Used to Make.

Food habits and tastes are developed at an early age and invariably remain with us through life. This accounts for the exclamation we hear so frequently, "That's just like mother used to make." Such dishes recall old familiar flavours, along with associations of other days. These contribute to the enjoyment of the food served.

Dishes like mother used to make are the constant chagrin of the newly-married homemaker. Often through lack of experience and a faulty technique her efforts to recapture for her husband the flavour and aroma of these dishes prove most disappointing. With rationing, a few of these all-time favourites, such as apple pie, doughnuts and his favourite cake, piled high with frosting, are for the present, less frequently a home of contention.

However, it is to any bride's advantage at all times to be able to quickly mix up light, fluffy tea biscuits. Once the basic recipe has been mastered it may be adapted to a great variety of variations, e.g. good doughnuts are made by following the basic recipe, with the addition of more liquid... approximately 1 cup liquid to 2 cups flour. This gives a stiff batter that may be dropped by spoonfuls either as doughnuts or the topping for meat pies. It was also from the standard tea biscuit recipe that mother used to make roly-poly and these delicious tea cakes. If the roly-poly was to be served as the main course for lunch, or dinner the filling was either well-seasoned meat or fish, while for the dessert course the filling was fresh fruits in summer and jams in winter.

A pot of baked beans will regain the culinary charms of mother's kitchen. Her secret of success lay in the slow cooking of the beans until tender, then the addition of various seasonings and finally a long, slow baking to develop that tantalizing flavour and aroma.

For the perfect treat the baked beans were always with fresh home-made bread. The sponge for this bread was set the night before, but the same appetite-appeal may now be achieved in a few short hours by the

- 1 1/2 cups dried navy beans
- 1/4 cup finely minced onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
- 1/4 cup molasses
- 1 teaspoon dried mustard
- 2 tablespoons melted fat
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Pick over wash and soak beans in cold water for 8 hours or over-night. Drain well. Cover with boiling water and add minced onion. Simmer beans slowly until tender—about 2 hours. Add salt during last 10 minutes of cooking. Drain beans well and add celery tomatoes, molasses mustard, fat pepper and additional salt, if necessary. Place in a greased baking dish and cover with strips of bacon. Bake in a moderate oven 350°F for about 1 1/2 hour. Six servings.

FRUIT SCONES.

- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, OR
- 2 1/4 cups sifted pastry flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/4 cup fat

- 1/2 cup currants or raisins
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 egg—beaten slightly.

Sift together the dry ingredients. Cut in fat with a pastry blender, until mixture resembles fine bread crumbs. Add currants or raisins. Combine egg and milk and blend with dry ingredients. Turn out onto floured board and knead very slightly. Shape into rounds 6 inches in diameter and 3/4 inch in thickness. Brush top with milk and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a hot oven 425°F. for 15 minutes. Yield: 8 scones.

Diet Fads.

The fad of "slimming" isn't as prevalent as it was a generation ago, but Canadian doctors claim too many people still think themselves qualified to decide what they should not eat. Such people are actually endangering their health, by dieting, say the experts. This, of course, does not apply to the person following a doctor's instructions as a diet.

Normal people need only normal meals, say the experts, and unless the physician has given instructions to the contrary, Canadians should eat all the wholesome foods.

To say nothing of its holiness or authority the Bible contains more specimens of genius and taste than any other volume in existence.—Landon.

"LOOK! A CHEQUE FROM UNCLE JOHN!"

It is Bobby's tenth birthday... Uncle John has sent him a cheque. His father explains how Bobby can go to the bank and get cash that very day!

When you make out a cheque, you give an order to your bank to pay the amount specified to the person named.

If he lives on the next street, or thousands of miles away, he can take your cheque to his local bank and get the money.

He cannot get it without a receipt—his signature on the back of the cheque. If yours is a Current Account, your cheque comes back at the end of the month, and so you have a permanent record and receipt of the payment.

The enormous convenience of the chequing system is just one of the many services provided by your bank... for you.

Literally hundreds of enthusiastic skiers come from the States every year. Expert or novice, they really can have fun on Ontario's ski trails. And we certainly want to make sure they do!

WHAT CAN I DO?

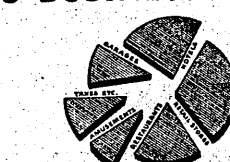

The answer is plenty! Here are some of the things anyone can do. The suggestions come from a well-known Ontario hotelman:

1. Know the places of interest and beauty spots in your district and tell people all about them.
2. When you write your friends in the States tell them of the places they would enjoy visiting.
3. Try to make any visitor glad he came.
4. Take time to give requested information fully and graciously.
5. In business, remember Canada's reputation for courtesy and fairness depends on you.
6. To sum it all up, follow the "Golden Rule."

IT'S EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS... it's good business!

Worth his weight in gold! The Province of Ontario profited to almost the same extent from tourist business as it did from the gold mining industry. It is up to each of us to see that it goes on growing.

We All Share! Yes, everyone benefits from Ontario's tourist business. This diagram shows it clearly. Aside from hospitality, it's good business to make all our States feel at home.

It works both ways! They treat us royally when we visit them... we can't do less than return the compliment. Remember that it costs money to take a holiday... so let's see they get a good return for every penny they spend.

"Let's make them want to come back!"

Dark Egg Yolks.

Feeding experiments with Barred Rock pullets at the Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow, Ont., have shown that due to the nature of the diet, quantities of saturated fat, such as cut and steeped alfalfa hay, have a tendency to intensify the colour of egg yolks. Eggs with rich coloured yolks are now favoured in the overseas market because a darker yolk is generally accepted as an indication of a satisfactory diet and the presence of valuable food factors, notably Vitamin A.

CANADA'S health

Cold Danger.

Prevention of illness has been compared by a leading Canadian medical scientist to avoidance of accident since he points out, it depends in large measure on keeping out of dangerous situations.

Most common infections, says this authority, are acquired by way of nose or mouth, through the air we breathe, and the food we eat. His advice is "Avoid talking 'at' people, if you have a cold, and keep out of the line of fire if another person has one. Always wash your hands immediately before eating and be particularly careful how, and by whom, your food is served, if you are eating out."

Public Enemy.

Are you a Carrier? This question is addressed by the medical profession to the normal, robust individual. Doctors point out that perfectly healthy people frequently harbor in their noses and throats, bacteria, which, when transferred to another healthy individual, can produce a most severe infection.

It is possible for anyone who is a carrier, to give someone else a common cold or sore throat, unwittingly. Each time they cough or sneeze they produce a "gas attack" with a danger range of from ten to fifteen feet. Germs may settle on articles subsequently handled by others. "Don't be a free cold-dispenser" the specialists plead. "Cover that cough or sneeze with handkerchief or tissue, or, at least, divert it downward with your hand, if you can't catch it in time."

Fact Finding.

Under Canadian law, a person is presumed to be innocent unless and until he or she is found guilty. So, too, in the matter of health. If one is suffering from anything serious, there will be ample evidence of it. And, as in law it requires clever brains sometimes, to unearth the truth, the body and the mind deserve inquiry by qualified medical men, trained to ferret out the facts and to prescribe treatment accordingly. That isn't the sort of thing one would simply trust to a layman.

Health Habits.

If you offer little children tea or coffee, don't expect them to grow up to prefer health-giving milk, warn the experts.

If you have raised a family in a home with windows always tightly closed, don't be surprised that the adult persists long after your childhood have grown up.

Childhood is the formative period, and parents are advised to take special care to set examples which will make for good healthy habits, if only for the sake of those they leave behind them.

Learn By Doing.

On the principle that if you work for, or at a thing, you become interested in the subject, many Canadian educational institutions are teaching health by conducting competitions which require pupils to make posters or write essays on health topics.

Health authorities commend this system highly. They realize that a pupil will be required to read up on their subjects before they can describe them adequately and, in so doing, will learn much which will stand them in good stead in the years to come.

Mouth Breathing.

Mouth breathing is often the cause of irregular teeth, according to one health authority in the Department of National Health and Welfare. It is pointed out, also, that young children should be examined regularly by the family physician for adenoids or enlarged tonsils, which obstruct the nose.

A child should breathe through the nose, to warm the air properly and to sift out particles of dust, etc.

These are elementary rules of child rearing, but authorities state that such measures are too often neglected in otherwise careful homes.

Eyes Right.

Importance of good lighting for close work is stressed by the specialists, who declare that care of the eyes is one of the prime health needs of our generation. With reading, writing, draughting and other modern techniques, the eyes are under severe strain.

Those who suffer even brief and apparently minor eye afflictions are urged to consult their family doctors about such ailments. What is bothering the eyes may be readily remedied, but serious trouble can result if these early warnings are neglected.

Safety Devices.

Fathers of Confederation could not have dreamed of health services which complexities of modern living demand. Federal, provincial and municipal authorities, working side by side, have established standards of sanitation and health-safety here second to none in the world.

Canadian health leaders declare that, for the maximum public health protection, every citizen should understand the services which exist, and how he must co-operate with them.

Health Education.

Health authorities throughout Canada are combining, at this time, to arouse public consciousness of, and co-operation in, the fight for a higher standard of living in the Dominion.

Appreciation that all measures for improvement must be preceded by education, whether in the field of moral, physical or economic welfare, and realizing that all successful health legislation must spring from the desire of the people for something better, the leaders in public health are striving to make it universally known that improvement must be preceded by education, whether in the field of moral, physical or economic welfare, and realizing that all successful health legislation must spring from the desire of the people for something better, the leaders in public health are striving to make it universally known that improvement in health is attainable.

Don't Want Snails.

Queensland (Australia) farmers and agricultural authorities are on the lookout to prevent the introduction of giant snails into the mainland from a remote island of New Guinea. These snails were originally taken to New Guinea by the Japanese, who used them as food, the Australian High Commissioner in Ottawa reports.

No wonder this Middlesex County farmer was pleased with the $2,600.00 he got for his 40 acres of soybeans last year—when it took no extra farm equipment to grow them. Shortage of labour at harvest time was no problem either, as he got in his soybeans with a combine. Ontario farmers are sure of a ready market for soybeans, too. For Victory Mills needs over 3,000,000 bushels a year now—and the Canadian soybean crop must be increased many times to meet Canadian requirements.

15 SOUND REASONS FOR GROWING SOYBEANS!

1. Soybeans have a long planting period and are EASY TO GROW, using standard methods of cultivation and standard farm equipment.
2. A profitable CASH CROP. There's a ready market for all you can grow.
3. A real SOIL-BUILDER, improving soil, tilth and adding some nitrogen—soybeans fit into any "crop rotation" planning.
4. Soybeans are a HARDY crop—resistant to drought, light frosts, and heavy rains during growing season.
5. Growing soybeans is BENEFICIAL in its loosening effect on tight, heavy-textured soils.

Blood Tests.

Declaring that periodic medical examination is a MUST these days, Canadian health authorities stress the importance of such probes prior to events like marriage and parenthood. The Dominion's records prove that a considerable number of unsuspected cases of syphilis, which can be transmitted to children, are uncovered by such examinations.

"A blood test in time" they point out, "may save family unhappiness and a lifetime of regret." Treatment makes syphilis non-contagious in a matter of weeks.

MAIDSTONE

The February meeting of Wesley United Women's Association was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Lawhead, with Mrs. Little presiding. The meeting opened with a scripture read by Mary Lawhead. The business was then taken up. It was decided to have a croquet party at the home of Mrs. Alex McDowell on February 28th and a pot luck supper to be held next month at Mrs. Charles Little's. The meeting closed with a reading of the creed. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The regular meeting of the Maidstone W. I. will be held at the home of Mrs. George Ellis, on Wednesday, March 5th, at 2:30 o'clock. A paper is being prepared on the founding of the first Women's Institute, in 1895, and the anniversary of the organization, also Mrs. A. E. Dodson, district representative, will present the report on the London Convention. A good attendance is requested at this special meeting.

There was a good attendance of members and visitors at the February meeting of the Maidstone W. I. held at the home of Mrs. H. Stanley. Reports were read by the various committees and plans are under way for an active season. We are looking forward to an increased membership and attendance at each succeeding meeting. Mrs. Spencer read a paper on "National Health." She said that one week out of the year devoted to health in school and community is little enough, but it does serve as a stimulant which it is to be hoped will continue in practical ways throughout the other 51 weeks. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and an interesting social hour followed. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Ernest Koehler.

Great joy especially after a sudden change of circumstances is apt to be silent, and dwells rather in the heart than on the tongue.—Fielding.

Our Babe Ruth.

We're so glad your getting better And able to be home once more. While you were dangerously ill Many hearts were sad and sore. Millions were calling "come on Babe" As we did in the days of yore.

We were quite sure you'd make it. That somehow you'd pull through. The same as you did on the diamond When, as kids, we rooted for you. Now young and old kids are hoping That you'll soon be as good as new.

Just take it nice and easy, Babe. When you feel right now is rest. Your soul has been very trying. But once more you've stood the test. To the health of the King of Swat. We're wishing the very very best.

Just as Mrs. Ruth tells you. Since you're now left in her care. To make you well more quickly. She will most gladly do her share. To let you play the ball game. For "Babe" will say a prayer. Ed Byrne.

Bee Equipment.

Timely warning to beekeepers to have all equipment required for the coming season's work put in readiness before it is actually needed is given by C. D. Gooderham, Dominion Apiarist. The active season usually commences with a rush and the beekeeper's time is fully taken up in giving the bees the necessary attention to the detriment of equipment if it has not been put in order during the late winter or early spring.

All equipment on hand he says should be gone over and put into proper working condition. If new equipment is needed it should be ordered at once and put together early. In ordering hives or hive equipment it is particularly economical to buy them in the flat, in crates of five. The material is cut to standard size and ready for assembling. If the beekeeper is handy with tools and good lumber is available, it is cheaper sometimes to make the hive bodies, floorboards, covers, and stands, using a standard hive as a model.

People Are Asking.

Q.—Are valid coupons for meat still being accepted in order to provide meat for European countries and the United Kingdom? Why?

A.—Yes valid coupons are still being accepted. In answering the second part of your question we will quote the Hon. Mr. Gardiner, chairman of the committee set up to deal with requests made for food for countries in Europe. Mr. Gardiner said the coupons "would be utilized to reduce further the consumption of meat and other supplies of the kind in Canada, and these would be sent forward to Europe in greater quantity."

Q.—At what hour does the meatless day start? I thought it was at midnight Monday and Thursday.

A.—Meatless days start at 4 a.m. Tuesday and Friday and continue until 1 a.m. Wednesday and Saturday.

Q.—I used to pay five cents for two doughnuts. What is the highest price the highest price has been changed. The highest price for two doughnuts is the highest price, because the increase permitted was 10 per cent. Since this increase in the case of doughnuts is one-half cent more. When the increase is a fraction and is one-half cent more the dealer may go to the next highest whole figure.

Q.—The store near us had red salmon the other day but it would not sell me any unless I bought some pink salmon which my family does not like. Can a dealer do this?

A.—No, this is a conditional sale and conditional sales of any and all kinds are still banned by the Board.

Q.—A fur coat which I bought a month ago is ripped and is going to pieces. It was apparently made from furs which had been used before. Can you make the store refund my money?

A.—I am sorry, but this is a matter which does not come under the jurisdiction of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Our only controls over fur are those which require dealers to state the kind of fur which is actually used, no matter what its trade name may be.

Spray Danger.

Warning is issued by National Health authorities at Ottawa against carelessness in handling certain insecticides. It is declared that some of these substances are toxic, if inhaled too freely, so that one should not stay in their vapours for long periods. The doctors and health specialists also advise protection of the eyes when using sprays. They should not be spread around near open fires, either, since some of them are mixed with inflammable solvents.

Grants Fall When the School Budgets Rise.

Dr. J. G. Althouse, chief director of education in Ontario, said last week that the province will spend no more money on education grants in 1947 than it did in 1946. Appropriations for grants throughout the province this year will equal, but not exceed, the total of $29,820,000.

Percentage Basis. This will mean, he said, that where municipalities have increased their 1947 budgets in education they will receive a smaller percentage of the total from the province as compared with last year, but in real cash their grants will be much the same.

He said the department of education was governed by 1946 regulations limiting grants to the 1946 level until findings of the Royal Commission on Education are made known.

The director said percentage cuts had been worked out and will be issued shortly.

Toronto's board of education anticipates it will be "short" $300,000 of the grant it expected—an impact on the local taxpayer of one-third of a mill. This is arrived at by the board's understanding that the percentage cuts determined by the department for all large cities are 10 per cent for collegiate institutes and public schools and seven per cent for vocational schools.

Public Enemies.

Normal, robust individuals may unknowingly be public enemies, if they are carriers of disease germs, say the doctors. It is pointed out that perfectly healthy people may harbour, in their throats, bacteria which when transferred to another healthy individual, can produce serious infection.

Since it is possible that anyone may be a "carrier" and give others a cold or sore throat, the specialists give this advice: "Don't be a free cold-dispenser. Cover up that cough or sneeze with handkerchief or tissue, or at least, divert it downward with your hand if you don't catch it in time."

Every time people cough or sneeze, the doctors say, they produce a "gas attack" with a danger range of from ten to fifteen feet, and germs may settle on articles subsequently handled by others.

Married—In Essex, on February 26, by Rev. W. F. Caribert, John William Crick, of Mersea, and Miss Grace Moe, of Gosfield North.

Magic Sprayer Wipes Out Mustard.

In June, 1946, mustard was wiped out of wheat growing near Regina, Sask., by a machine that applied less than five gallons per acre of a 2, 4-D solution at the rate of .85 of an acre per minute. Farmers call this machine the Magic Sprayer.

These sensational results were obtained in field scale experiments conducted by the Field Husbandry Division, Dominion Experimental Farms, on farms adjacent to the Experimental Farm, Indian Head, Sask., and on the Experimental Sub-Station, Regina.

Observations made by the field Husbandry Division in the year 1945 led to the belief that 2, 4-D could be effectively applied in much less water than the recommended rates. Further investigations at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in the spring of 1946 appeared to confirm this theory. The results obtained at Indian Head and Regina are a further verification of this belief, for in these experiments practically 100 per cent of the mustard was wiped out of wheat by 4.5 gallons per acre of a 2, 4-D solution that contained 500 cubic centimeters, this is less than a pint of one of the brands of 2, 4-D. This brand is sold in Canada for $8.00 per gallon, so that the cost of the chemical was a little less than one dollar per acre.

The mustard was killed before it was large enough to retard the growth of the grain, consequently the average increase in the yield of wheat was 2.6 bushels per acre.

No other method of killing mustard has made so great an appeal to Prairie Farmers. Speed of application, little water and low cost per acre are the outstanding advantages in favour of this novel method of killing mustard.

Health Habits.

Don't expect the children to grow up to like health-giving milk if you offer them tea or coffee in their tender years. This warning is issued by a national health authority who reminds parents that habits formed in childhood will almost certainly be lasting.

THE RED CROSS CARRIES ON

Our men and women back from the world battlefields often tell how the Red Cross was there to aid and comfort them—often times to save their lives. Now the Red Cross asks those who extended such solid support during the war years, to help keep the Red Cross strong in peace.

Today there are thousands of sick and disabled veterans who need the continued help and friendship of the Red Cross. Isolated frontier communities need Outpost Hospitals and nursing service—their only medical aid. Crippled children's hospitals must be maintained and expanded. Men, women and children across Canada need the Blood Transfusion Service the Red Cross has started to supply.

Will you continue to lend your help to sick and suffering humanity? The Red Cross work is your work.

Donations to this appeal can be left at your local bank.

The work of mercy never ends—Give

The only safe way...

Never touch a fallen wire!

Wind, snow and sleet break down electric wires sometimes in spite of every precaution. Shock or severe burns can result from touching such a wire. Never touch a fallen wire.

Warn children not to go near fallen wires... but do not risk a demonstration by trying to move one out of the way. It can be fatal! Remember these three things if you discover an electric wire on the ground or dangerously low:

1. Do not touch the wire under any circumstances.
2. Stay on guard and keep everyone away until Hydro men arrive.
3. Have your nearest Hydro office notified at once.

Everything possible is done to keep Hydro wires safe in your community. Some things... winter storms and human folly... are beyond control. When these things occur, Hydro asks your co-operation in being careful and in warning others. By doing so you may save a life.

These sensational results were obtained in field scale experiments conducted by the Field Husbandry Division, Dominion Experimental Farms, farms adjacent to the Experimental Farm, Indian Head, Sask., and on the experimental Sub-Station, Regina.

Observations made by the field husbandry Division in the year 1945 led to the belief that 2, 4-D could be effectively applied in much less water than the recommended rates. Further experiments at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in the spring of 1946 appeared to confirm this theory.

The results obtained at Indian Head and Regina are a further verification of this belief, for in these experiments practically 100 per cent of mustard was wiped out of wheat with 4.5 gallons per acre of a 2, 4-D solution that contained 500 cubic centimeters, this is less than a pint of one of the brands of 2, 4-D. This brand sold in Canada for $8.00 per gallon, that the cost of the chemical was a little less than one dollar per acre.

The mustard was killed before it was large enough to retard the growth of the grain, consequently the average yield in the yield of wheat was 2.6 bushels per acre.

No other method of killing mustard made so great an appeal to Prairie farmers. Speed of application, little water and low cost per acre are the outstanding advantages in favour of the novel method of killing mustard.

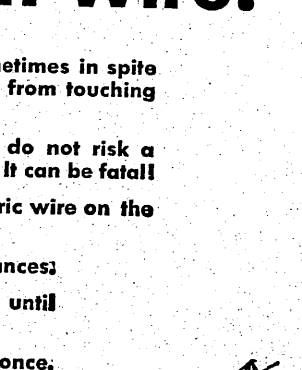

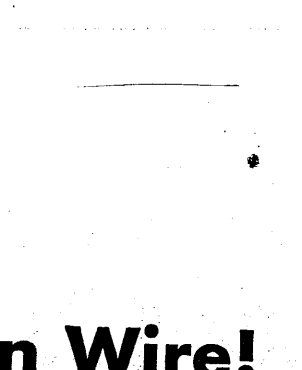

Health Habits.

Don't expect the children to grow up to like health-giving milk if you don't like it. This warning is issued by the national health authority who re-emphasize to parents that habits formed in childhood will almost certainly be followed in adulthood.

The Good Fight.

By Joseph Lister Rutledge.

There is something dramatic in the mission of mercy represented by the Red Cross in war days. Only on the occasion of great disasters does it appear as dramatically in days of peace. During the years of war, Canadians, proportionately to population, gave more dollars and gave more blood than any other people in the world.

That is rather a proud boast, but it is true, because Canadians were quick to realize the urgency of a need. But there is a world of suffering and sickness and separation that does not end with the war, and the Red Cross must remember those on whom the war has still left its mark.

The Red Cross, born out of the needs of war many years ago, has steadily broadened its conception of service, until now it takes in not only the emergencies of peace but a wide range of services in which the sense of emergency is distant and indefinite.

The Red Cross meets these new obligations with no resources other than the known generosity of its friends. Whatever funds were contributed in the past were definitely allocated for war relief. So it faces the future and the great peacetime demands that have always been made upon it, and its own widely expanded plans with only its tangible resources to meet these demands.

Perhaps there are some people who are not too clear as to what these demands are. First, of course, is the obligation to those who fought and suffered in the war and whose suffering is not ended. There remains a need for recreational centres, for residence clubs and convalescent centers, and the innumerable small services that the Red Cross has always offered to those who served in the war.

But beyond this is a broad plan of service greater in extent and wider in character than has ever been attempted before. Because the war demonstrated so fully the vast importance of blood transfusion the Red Cross has determined to make its blood bank available wherever there is sickness and suffering in Canada. It is the largest agency. In the less populated sections the fifty-four Red Cross Outposts stand for almost all there is of medicine and surgery and service. In those distant outposts on the fringe of this country where little groups of people—men, women and children—must face all the rigors of pioneer life, where accidents are frequent and illness often desperate, the Outpost Hospital is the symbol of civilization. Often it alone stands between life and death. Now, with the new blood-transfusion service these outposts can offer a new hope.

It would almost seem as though in these activities there was ample scope. But the Red Cross has reached out constantly for new obligations and new responsibilities. One of these new obligations is to battle that tragic needlessness represented by the thousand or more persons who are drowned every year in Canada. To educate people to protect themselves and to know what to do to protect others is another of the services that the Red Cross has voluntarily assumed.

How is all this to be done? Devoted service and sacrifice cannot make it all possible. Money is needed, and there is where Canada is able to get into a noble fight again. Five million dollars are needed to make these hopeful plans possible. Surely we do not need a war to teach us what vast things a little human kindness can accomplish!—Liberty Magazine.

A PRODUCT OF SWIFT

Editor's Note—This is the second in the series of weekly articles which Clark Young, treasurer of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, is writing from Britain. He is accompanying the tour of Canada's champion plowmen.

Here we are in London and our first day in the big city is almost over. We came up from Southampton this morning and we've already seen a great many things of interest.

Later I'll say something about our short stay in New York and the ocean crossing, but I think I should begin with the events of today because they have some connection with agriculture, and at the great Hays wharf where we saw the arrival of Canadian food products.

We docked at Southampton shortly after midnight and in the morning P. B. Birch, district traffic agent of the Canadian National Railways rushed us through customs and aboard the first train to London.

It was bright and sunny and we were glad to have our feet on land again. The port of Southampton was the target for many German air raids and there are still many buildings lying in ruins.

We enjoyed the train ride. The British cars are smaller than the way cars in Canada and are divided into eight small compartments each seating six. This is just right for our party because you may remember there are six of us: Floyd Steckley and Austin Nairn, winners of the Salada Trans-Atlantic class for horse-drawn jointed plowing at last fall's International Plowing Match; Fred Timbers and Alex Black, Esso Open Tractor Class winners; George Walde, trip Manager, and myself.

On the way to London we had a good view of the countryside and we passed some very fine farming sections, with placid cattle grazing in the fields and some plowing being done. We are looking forward to a closer examination of the land.

We arrived at Waterloo station where we were met by E. H. Gorton, European commissioner of colonization for the C. N. R., and Major R. H. Stapleton of Ontario House. They took us to the Cumberland Hotel, where we are to stay, across the street from the Marble Arch corner of Hyde Park, where the "soap-box" orators make their speeches. We saw Col. J. G. Robertson, of Canada House, and met Mr. Burton, the London representative of the Anglo-American Oil Co. Our next call was at Hays Wharf and Dock Office, Tuley street, where we were guests of Sir Aubrey Smith, chairman of the dock company. First we were served a very nice lunch, and then we were shown the warehouses and storage sections.

This is an immense plant, with an office staff of 1,000 and about 4,000 tons of goods are received and shipped to every country in the world.

We were able to compare Canadian and Danish bacon and, according to our guide, our best Canadian bacon is as good as any they receive, but it may not be as uniform as the Danish. There was butter at the docks from Australia, New Zealand and Denmark, all of first class quality. Canadian cheese and eggs are very much in demand and the box pack of our Canadian apples is much preferred to barrel pack, because of too much bruising and waste.

We saw the wharf where the China Clipper delivered her tea cargoes so long ago as 1900 and large storage plants which were full of beef from Canada, the Argentine, New Zealand and Denmark.

Our tour ended, we took a double-decker London bus to the hotel. We find the rooms much like a Canadian hotel, but too cold for our liking. Thus we've already had some first-hand experience of the fuel shortage here—but we're in England and our six weeks will go very quickly.

New High Reached in International Co-operation.

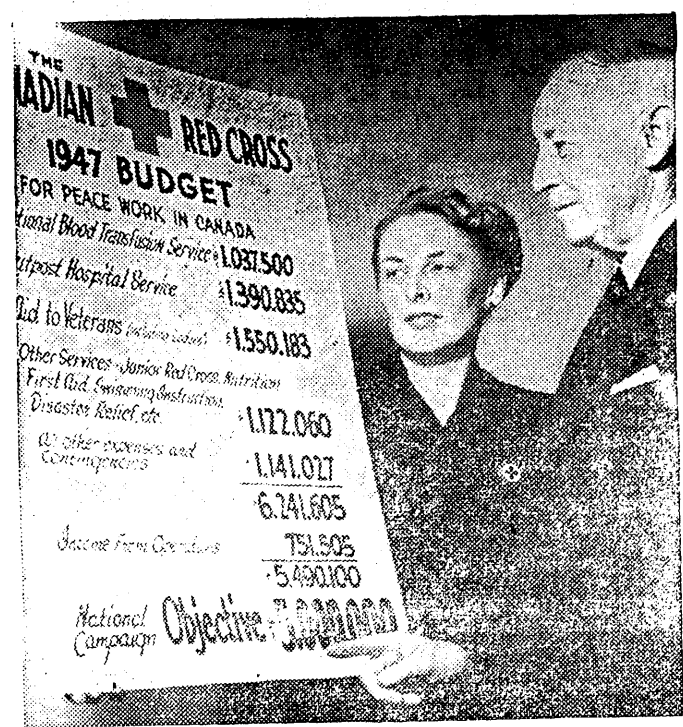

The second international gathering of the North Central Weed Control, held in Des Moines, Ia., last December, established a new high in international co-operation on the solution of joint agricultural problems.

The principal purpose of this conference is to pool results obtained during the 1946 season in chemical weed-killer experiments. While all types of chemical weed-killers are considered, the main emphasis falls on the new 2, 4-D herbicides. Both governmental and industrial research investigators contributed to the data presented at the conference and, according to the report of the C-I-L Agricultural News correspondent who attended the conference, it was a subject of comment that the distinguished delegation from Canada more than upheld its end in the volume and quality of experimental data submitted.

On the basis of the accumulated data from the two years of extensive experimentation the Conference adopted the following tentative statements and recommendations were issued:

1. Two years of research have proven 2, 4-D preparations to be valuable herbicides—useful tools in the fight against weeds.
2. To control broadleaved weeds in lawns and turf areas generally. (Caution is required on bent grass and buffalo grass lawns).
3. To control and perhaps ultimately eradicate a large variety of broadleaved weeds and many woody plants from ditch banks, right-of-way, fence rows, stony areas, and many other areas which it is not possible or desirable to plow.
4. For spot treatments of susceptible perennial weeds in pastures or to control susceptible annual and perennial weeds in pastures where legumes are not an important component.
5. To reduce the vigor and begin the eradication of susceptible perennial weeds, either alone or in tolerant growing crops.
6. To control many annual weeds, either alone or in tolerant growing crops.
7. For prevention of seed production of some annual and perennials, either on land not in crops, or in tolerant growing crops.

EXPLAINS RED CROSS BURGET.

This year's Canadian Red Cross Society budget is explained by Lewis A. Winter, O.B.E., Honorary Treasurer of the Society, to Miss Helen G. McArthur, M.A., recently appointed National Director of Red Cross nursing services. Alberta-born Miss McArthur was Director of public health nursing at her alma mater, the University of Alberta. Her present duties take her to all parts of Canada. Mr. Winter, now Honorary Treasurer, was Honorary Controller from 1939 to 1946.

Essex County Library Association.

With the end of 1946, the Essex County Library Association records six years of steady growth and extended service in the county. When it began in 1940 it comprised the nine libraries then existing in the county and made its first exchange of books with a total of 250 volumes. By the end of 1946 the county library association had added in the establishment of one more library, Roseland—bringing the total in Essex County to ten all members of the association. It now has a book stock of almost 4,500 books. Through the ten libraries and twenty schools which used these books in the past year there was a circulation of 25,000 volumes.

The original method of rotating books from library to library in boxes was abandoned last year. Four times a year a truck and driver are hired and with the county librarian make the rounds of the member libraries, carrying the books in specially constructed trays, from which each librarian chooses what would be most useful in her library for the next three months. With the close of 1946 the work of the association made necessary the appointment of a full-time professional librarian, Miss B. D. Hardie, B.A., B.L.S., who had previously been employed on a part-time basis by the association assumed full-time duties on January 1st, 1947.

The Essex County Library Association is one of ten similar co-operative county libraries in Ontario which have grown up in the past twelve years as an answer to the problem of providing small libraries with more books and rural areas with library service. These county co-operatives are following the pattern developed by electronics, travel biography, to mention a few of the varied selection available.

The activities of the Essex County Library Association are governed by a board composed of a representative from the board of each member library, the warden of the county and two members appointed by the county council, the public and separate school inspectors. The officers of this board for the current year are: President, C. A. MacAlpine, Harrow; past president, A. E. MacGill, Amherstburg; vice-president, to be appointed; secretary, Miss B. D. Hardie, treasurer, W. G. Wootton, Riverside; auditors, W. K. Sidney and R. E. MacGill.

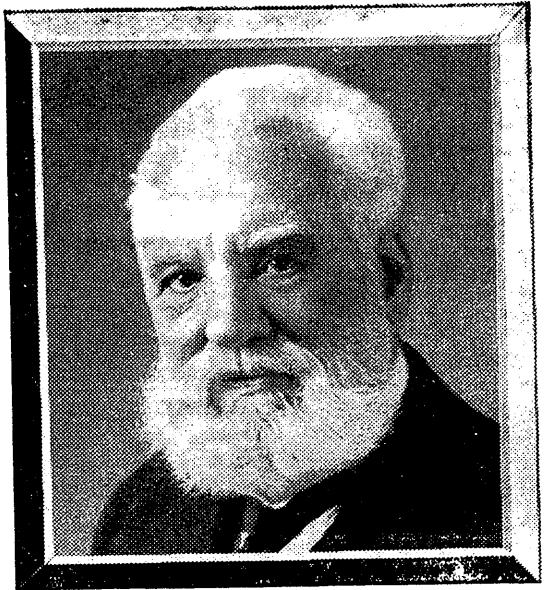

The Library Association is financed entirely by the membership fees of schools and libraries. The year 1947 budget was $1,000.00. The association is a non-profit organization and its funds are used for the benefit of the community. The association is a non-profit organization and its funds are used for the benefit of the community. The association is a non-profit organization and its funds are used for the benefit of the community.

Slow wind also brings the ship to harbor.—Swedish proverb.

To Meet Demand for Fall and Winter Eggs.

Canada's immediate poultry production program depends on producing eggs when the buyer wants them. This means production of increased quantities of eggs in the early fall and winter months—a stepping forward of production rather than increasing the total amount. Canadian poultry producers responded to the demand for more eggs during the war years. Now they are advised to advance the peak season of egg production by purchasing their chicks a month or two months earlier.

It takes nearly early fall and winter eggs. By the producers cooperating with the government in ordering eggs in the fall for delivery in the winter, the government can meet the demand for more eggs in the winter. The government can meet the demand for more eggs in the winter. The government can meet the demand for more eggs in the winter.

Barn Hay Drying Experiments

In 1946 experiments to test the efficiency of barn hay drying for Fraser Valley conditions were undertaken at Agassiz, B.C. The results of these experiments, however, are of general interest. The method used, says M. F. Clarke, of the farm staff, consists of placing partially cured hay over a system of wooden ducts laid on the mow floor and forcing a large volume of unheated air through the mass of hay by means of a large capacity fan until drying is completed. Those who have tried the system recommended that the hay be placed in a layer not exceeding eight feet in depth after it has been field wilted down to approximately 40 per cent moisture. Supporters of the method further contend that by handling partially wilted hay loss of valuable leaf is practically eliminated and if drying is carried out properly, green colour is retained, thus making a high grade feed.

The Agassiz installation was placed in a mow 30 x 36 feet and equipped with a fan capable of delivering 15,000 cubic feet of air per minute, or approximately 1 cubic foot per square foot of mow area per minute. Cost of the installation, including materials, labour, fan and electric wiring, totalled $586.05.

During the hay season three trials were made. In two of these the hay was placed directly over the duct system. In the third the fresh hay was placed on top of the previously dried layer. In the three trials the hay was field wilted down to 45 per cent moisture or slightly less before hauling was started. By the time hauling was finished the last loads were dried to approximately 30 per cent moisture. In the first experiment the hay was definitely over-mature at time of cutting and in the second run rain which came immediately after cutting, resulted in some loss of nutrients. In both instances however carotene and protein content were superior to comparable field cured hay on the basis of chemical analysis. The third trial was carried out in good weather and produced a hay of excellent quality from the analytical standpoint.

The mow finishing period extended between 10 to 14 days and at the end of this period the hay was dried down to 15-20 per cent moisture. Field wilting from a freshly cut moisture content of 75 per cent down to 45 per cent required 24 to 36 hours in good weather. In the second trial rain intervened immediately after cutting and 72 hours were required before the hay was ready for hauling.

The three trials produced an estimated total of 42.5 tons of cured hay. The average increase in cost including power consumption and depreciation on equipment amounted to $1.70 per ton of dry hay. The first season's results must of necessity be regarded as preliminary. It was evident that the efficiency of this method is determined to a large degree by weather and even after the hay is placed in the barn. During rainy weather drying was slow and vice-versa during warm dry days. The method appears to offer some further measure of control over weather in hay making. More experience is necessary under a wider range of seasonal conditions and feed trials must be carried on with barn cured hay in comparison with grass and clover silage and field cured hay.

Merit exists without high position, but no one can reach high position without some merit. — La Rochefoucauld.

There is much agreement in Ottawa circles and, according to this column's wide circle of contacts, all across Canada in statements made by Ottawa's popular and able Mayor Lewis in an address last week. "During the War," said Mr. Lewis, "our eyes were directed at affairs across the ocean — outside of Canada, at the present time in my opinion our eyes are focused a little too much on the European situation. We have some local problems."

Contractors of Canada. It is very evident, too, that there is a growing feeling of exasperation among Canadians at the political and business leaders who continually abuse everything done in Canada. The leaders of the C.C.F. Party are the biggest offenders against our country and the speech delivered by the leader of that party last week comes under fire in many discussions. Mr. Coldwell's comparison of the cost of houses in Canada and in New Zealand did not take into account the difference in structure required because of our Canadian climate and is considered unfair.

Those who favour Canada point out that members of parliament who visited New Zealand found that New Zealand farmers were getting 12½¢ per lb. for cheese when Canadian farmers were getting 24¢. Hogs which sold for $17.40 in New Zealand brought $30.40 in Canada. Besides this New Zealand farmers were paying much higher prices for farm machinery. A 6-foot mowing machine, which sold for $122.75 in Western Canada cost the New Zealand farmer $208.80. It is hard to convince Canadian farmers that they should prefer conditions like this.

The Question of Subsidies.

The leader of the co-operative Commonwealth Federation has come under fire recently on another count. He is taken to task in many places for the inconsistency between his statements in the House of Commons and his statements outside the House.

On January 22nd, in a radio address reported by Canadian Press he criticized the federal government for not paying a milk subsidy (the handling of milk comes under provincial milk boards) and at the same time implied that the federal government was improperly paying subsidies to the Dominion Steel and Coal Company "such corporations had been granted subsidies amounting to millions of dollars over the years."

On Wednesday of last week Mr. Coldwell set in the House of Commons and concurred when a C.C.F. member asked that the government pay a further subsidy to the Dominion Steel and Coal Company. "The only agency that can cope with it (the coal strike) is the federal government by way of subsidy."

The coal mining problem in Nova Scotia is largely caused by a drop in production. Mines which were producing 2.7 tons per man per day in 1939 are now producing only 1.5 tons per man day. The government conciliator recommended that the increase of $1.40 per day be granted, $1 of which was to be paid by the company and subject to improved production, the 40¢ to be paid by subsidy. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board agreed to allow coal to go up enough to pay the 40¢ increase instead of a subsidy.

ECHOES FROM PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Mitchell (Minister of Labour): We have had many arguments here this afternoon. Some have criticized this report. Some think they have a better answer than this commissioner had to the problem of the coal industry, but if they have it, let them stand up on their hind legs and say what it is.

Mr. Gillis (C.C.F.): We have told you many times.

Mr. Mitchell: Because the people of this country are looking for that.

Mr. Gillis: You have been told many times.

Mr. Mitchell: We have had the suggestion of socialism. But you cannot dig coal by making speeches. The only way to dig coal, as they are finding out in Great Britain is to dig it.

Mr. Coldwell (C.C.F.): And they are doing that.

Mr. Mitchell: They are doing it. But their production has gone up per ton per man.

Mr. Coldwell: It has gone up.

Mr. Mitchell: The exports of British coal have dropped from thirty-eight million in 1939 to four million last year.

Mr. Coldwell: Because private enterprise wore the mines out.

Mr. Mitchell: My honourable friends do not need to go any farther than this chamber if they want to look at socialism. It all comes back to the question of subsidy.

Value of Alfalfa to Succeeding Crops.

The effects of alfalfa grown for hay, on crops to follow it in the rotation, depends on a number of factors relating to the soil and the succeeding crop. In greenhouse studies, a comparison of alfalfa, oats and timothy as preceding crops to an oat crop on different soils, has recently been made by the Field Husbandry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Soil was obtained from two farms on each of eleven soil types in Carleton County, Ontario, and from four locations on the Experimental Farm at Ottawa.

When no fertilizers were applied, oats grown after alfalfa gave an increase in grain yield of 43.6 per cent over oats grown after oats on nineteen of the soils, but a decrease of 17.5 per cent on seven of the soils. Under similar conditions, oats grown after alfalfa gave an increase in grain yield of 68.1 per cent over oats following timothy on eighteen of the soils, but a decrease of 13.7 per cent on eight of the soils. With a treatment of 6-12-12 fertilizer on the soils, the increase in grain yields for oats grown after alfalfa as compared to oats grown after oats and timothy, were 41.3 per cent and 77.1 per cent respectively, on the twenty-six soils. With a treatment of 4-12-12 fertilizer, the increases in favour of alfalfa over oats and timothy were 28.0 per cent and 37.3 per cent respectively on the twenty-six soils.

On these points it is known that oats respond to nitrogen and to a lesser extent to phosphorus and potassium. The results above indicate that alfalfa was superior to oats or timothy as preceding crop on soils with an adequate supply of phosphorus and potassium, or when these minerals are added to the soil. But on some soils alfalfa was inferior to oats or timothy as a preceding crop unless phosphorus and potassium treatments were applied. When nitrogen was added along with phosphorus and potassium to the soil, smaller increases in favour of alfalfa were obtained than when the minerals only were supplied indicating the relative merits of alfalfa in maintaining the nitrogen supply of the soil. But even in the presence of nitrogen fertilizer, the more favourable soil nitrogen supply, following alfalfa is reflected in the succeeding oat crop.

In similar experiments on soils from St. Anne de la Pocatière, Que., and Ottawa, Ontario, oats following alfalfa gave large increases in grain yields, over oats following timothy, unless nitrogen fertilizer was added to the soil.

In field experiments at Ottawa, alfalfa has been shown to be superior to oats or timothy as a preceding crop for mangels, corn, fall rye, oats and potatoes, on untreated soil. With manure similar results were obtained excepting that timothy was superior to alfalfa as a preceding crop for corn and potatoes.

The merits of alfalfa as a preceding crop appears to be well established, especially where the crop to follow shows more response to nitrogen than to phosphorus and potassium. When alfalfa is grown, and the crop is harvested, the soil nitrogen may not be increased, but at least it is maintained more favourably than under oats or timothy crops.

Cottam W. I. Marks Anniversary.

(Crowded out last issue.) The fifth anniversary of the Women's Institute which today boasts of 3,000 branches throughout Canada, was celebrated Wednesday afternoon of last week, when Cottam W. I. entertained delegates from the Institutes comprising the South Essex District, namely Olinda, Harrow, Malden, Anderton, Essex, Kingsville and Cottam. Junior W. I. Mrs. Aaron Hill, of Essex, was in charge of the register in which 107 names were recorded. The district president, Mrs. Stanley Orton, of Olinda, presided, and Mrs. Emerson Rupert acted as accompanist for the opening part of the meeting. Mrs. James Ward, of Anderton, called the roll of the district institute members. Contributions to the program were made by the various Institutes. Mrs. D. E. Bondy, of Malden, brought greetings from her fellow Institute members. Mrs. George Hammond, of Harrow, gave a reading.

An original skit entitled "50 Years Ago," written for the occasion by Mrs. Andrew Upcott, was presented by the Olinda ladies, the cast comprising Mrs. Andrew Upcott, Mrs. Robert Upcott, Mrs. Ormond Middleton, Mrs. Ezra Fox, Mrs. Roy Lee and Mrs. Cecil Squires. Cottam's contribution was made by Mrs. F. R. Cordey, who sang "Husband and Wife." Mrs. Gilllett Doyle, Mrs. Ambrose Shilway, Mrs. Pearl Roberts and Mrs. Aaron Hill representing Essex, presented the skit, "The Price You Pay."

Gives Report. Mrs. Orton gave a very comprehensive report of the South Essex district from 1908 to 1947 (this district having functioned for 39 of the 50 years of Institute work), reviewing the work. "During the years the money raised by the South Essex District Institutes has been put to good use by financing the Home for the Aged, Red Cross work, Navy League, hospital supplies, etc., children's shelter and fencing and the care of convalescents; paying hospital bills for the needy; sending girls to conference at Guelph, to mention a few."

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the "Win One" Evening Auxiliary of the United Church, which included the birthday cake presented by Mrs. Orton, beautifully decorated and alight with 50 burning candles. Mrs. Harry Webster, an ex-district president, and Mrs. E. E. Adams, the first district secretary, cut the cake, and during the tea hour incidental music was furnished by Mrs. Edison Squires.

Man is Not Homeless. For many months the writer felt keenly the trials of others unable to find homes, and so became interested in planning a much-needed housing project for her community. Hardship and overcrowding demanded that something be done, and public-spirited people got together to form an organization which would help to remedy the desperate shortage. In endeavouring to further the project she sought divine guidance, and felt confident that efforts put forth to meet a legitimate human need would be rewarded with success. But the hoped-for progress was not made; doors that should have opened remained closed and accomplishment seemed blocked in all directions.

As she reviewed this disappointing experience in the light of Christian Science, the writer recalled these words from the one hundred and twenty-seventh Psalm: "Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it." What does the expression "The Lord" mean? Surely the source of goodness, righteousness, perfection, everlastingness, and spiritual power.

As she pondered the relationship of God and man as divine Mind and spiritual idea, the writer saw that the first essential in any right undertaking is to establish in consciousness our clear title as children of God to "an inheritance, incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away" (1 Peter 1:4). "A building of God . . . eternal in the heavens" (11 Corinthians 5:1).

When earnest prayer had purified personal desire and illumined human thinking, it was not long before interesting developments appeared. Some who had long been awaiting the promised housing plan reported through other channels their needs had been met. Officials were co-operative. Finally, one who had been interested in the housing project proposed a plan on new lines which afforded fresh opportunity, and is still helpfully unfolding.

When we give first place in our thinking to the spiritual truth that God, good, is the only reality and is ever present, we shall begin joyfully to discern the universal, uninterrupted, impartial activity of good. We read in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 254): "Pilgrim on earth, thy home is heaven; stranger thou art the guest of God." Christian Science Monitor.

Be faithful over home relations; they lead to higher joys; obey the Golden Rule for human life and it will spare you much bitterness. — Mary Baker Eddy.

This Norfolk County farmer, who put in a 20-acre trial crop last year, was pleased to find he needed no extra farm equipment or special methods of cultivation to grow soybeans successfully.

And Ontario farmers are assured a ready market for all they can grow! Victory Mills now buys over 3,000,000 bushels a year—and the Canadian soybean crop will have to be increased many times to meet Canadian needs.

15 SOUND REASONS FOR GROWING SOYBEANS!

1. Soybeans have a long planting period and are EASY TO GROW, using standard methods of cultivation and standard farm equipment.
2. A profitable CASH CROP. There's a ready market for all you can grow.
3. A real SOIL-BUILDER; improving soil, tilth and adding some nitrogen—soybeans fit into any "crop rotation" planning.
4. Soybeans are a HARDY crop—resistant to drought, light frosts, and heavy rains during growing season.
5. Growing soybeans is BENEFICIAL in its loosening effect on tight, heavy-textured soils.

SORRY—WRONG NUMBER!

It's 11 p.m. You and the family have gone to bed early . . . when the silence of the house is smashed by the ringing of the telephone. Down you rush, two steps at a time—your heart in your mouth . . . to discover that the party at the other end of the line has "the wrong number". Most people have had this unhappy experience which, in many cases, can be avoided by speaking the number clearly to the operator—or dialling it carefully in the case of an automatic phone. Essex Town Council.

Monday, February 24th. Council met in regular session, in the Council Chamber, at 8 p.m., with Mayor Linton, Reeve Irwin and Councilors Chase, Lee, Shaw, Francotte, Maedel and Pulleyblank present.

Lawrence Lambier addressed Council re raise in salary for 1947. He thought that due to increased cost of living he should have an increase from $100 to $120 per month.

On being asked, he stated he collected from the houses once a week and twice a week from the stores and business places.

Mr. Lambier was advised that his request would be considered when Council went over final figures in 1947 budget later on in the evening.

Major T. Bruce Jennings, Public Relations Representative of the Salvation Army for Essex, Kent and Lambton counties, with headquarters in Windsor, addressed Council re grant to Faith Haven, in Windsor. He stated the three county councils gave grants, most of the towns and some of the townships to this humane work, but the grants didn't come near paying their expenses. Prior to 1929, he said, he understood the town gave a grant of $25.

Major Jennings was advised that his request for a grant would be considered when budget figures were gone over.

F. B. Giddes, town solicitor, advised Council there had been an amendment passed last year re discounts and penalties on taxes, and that he would like Council to set a date as to when taxes are payable, at par, which is now according to statutes, for one year only. He would then draw up necessary bylaw and submit same to Town Supervisor, Mr. Orr, for his approval before having Council to pass same. He explained that both discounts and penalties were now 12 of 12 per thirty day period, however town tax collector could still use the ten equal payment plan, without penalty, as town has done for years.

Chief N. Hogarth stated he thought the jail should be water-proofed and cleaned up.

On motion of Messrs. Francotte and Lee, a committee of Messrs. Irwin, Pulleyblank and Mayor Linton, were appointed to meet Mr. Maedel and Chief Hogarth and inspect the jail and be empowered to make improvements they deemed necessary.

Minutes of last meeting were read and adopted, on motion of Messrs. Irwin and Shaw.

On motion of Messrs. Lee and Irwin, E. Richardson was appointed on the Essex Library Board, for a three-year term.

Reeve Irwin stated that H. P. Smith, who had requested that he be taken off the Parks Board, J. A. Niehtingale, was appointed as representative from the Rotary Club.

A discussion followed on the fatal fire in an auto accident in front of the Essex Hotel, on Sunday afternoon.

Mayor Linton reported that the new firemen's Pumps Board had had two meetings, had asked for a grant of $200 for 1947, and would ask Council to place control of the Pumps Board in the park system.

Mr. Linton reported that a ratepayer in the south section of town had spoken to him about the bridge into Roberts Bros. property on the town line, acting as a dam to the drain, recently cleaned out—Left with Mr. Lee to look into and report.

Mr. Linton tabled an estimate from Canadian General Electric Co. of $510.80 for material for a stop light on Talbot, at Imperial Bank corner.

Cost of installing would be extra, and he thought possibly an additional $200.

Mr. Irwin stated that it had been brought to his attention that water was covering the sidewalk on Arthur avenue, in front of Mrs. C. M. Johnston's home.

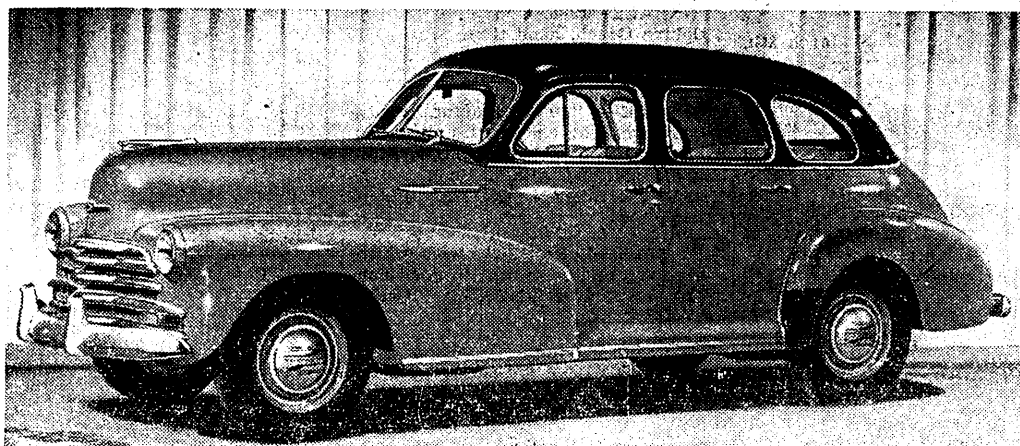

Mr. Francotte stated he had looked this matter over on Saturday and had advised Hughie Johnston that nothing could be done for the present due to the frost in the ground, but that he would have the piece of walk raised first thing in the spring.

The town budget for 1947 was gone over, item for item, and on motion of Messrs. Irwin and Pulleyblank, it was referred to Mr. Orr, Town Supervisor, for his approval, requesting that he o. k. same and a tax rate of 42 mills for public school supporters, a decrease of one mill over 1946.

On motion, the following accounts were passed: W. E. Beaman, salary, less tax, $150; N. Hogarth, salary, less tax, $145.45; Treasurer, postage, $13; Ed. Kennedy, drains, $6; Thos. R. Johnston, insurance, fire protection, $70; Essex Hydro, street lights, park, $220.66; Queen Motors, P. Pro., $2.90; J. Kennedy, salary, $8; County Treasurer, grading, $10; Wm. Kennedy, salary, $135; L. Lambier, salary, $100; K. E. Brett, salary, B. The 1947 Chevrolet.

With virtually no interruption of production for the change-over, General Motors of Canada this week announced its new line of 1947 Chevrolet passenger cars, comprising 11 models in three series, all smartly restyled.

The three series are the specially styled Fleetline, the deluxe Fleetmaster and the economy-range Stylemaster. All show marked advances over previous models in exterior styling and trim and in interior finish and fittings, the announcement said.

The traditional shut-down for new model switch-over was by-passed in making the change at this time, according to E. J. Umphrey, Director of Sales.

"Not only was the usual shut-down for retooling avoided," Mr. Umphrey said, "but there was virtually no decrease in the rate of output when their models went into production. On the day of the change-over, the first of the new models followed the last of the old on the assembly lines almost without a gap.

"GM thus was successful in its determined effort to bring out an improved line of motor cars without halting or seriously retarding production, in order that the great number of waiting purchasers—both those who have placed orders and those planning to do so—should encounter no additional delay.

"This factor is one reason why changes have been confined largely to those improvements that could be made without causing the car-needy public to face further inconvenience and disappointment," Mr. Umphrey said.

In restyling the new Chevrolet, emphasis has been placed on a more massive front end and a smoother sweep to body contours. New front-end grille and complementing bright work, as well as elimination of the body belt moulding give the new models an air of greater luxuriousness.

Body interior changes include new ultra-modern instrument panels, new ornamental treatments of the door upholstery panels and scuff pads, new colors in garnish mouldings, new steering wheel and horn button caps and new friction-type adjustable sun shades.

In all instrument panels, the dials, indicators, controls, clock and glove compartment locations remain unchanged but the panels and their equipment are completely new in color and decoration. A one-piece, die-cast radio grille of new design is the outstanding feature.

The valve-in-head engine that has powered millions of Chevrolets is continued without basic change.

Dominion Sugar Output is 206 Million Pounds.

Production of beet sugar in Canada from the 1946 crop was 205,969,600 pounds as compared to 164,050,647 in 1945. This is an increase of 25.5 per cent over the previous year but 31 percent below the capacity of the Dominion's six beet sugar factories. One new factory is being built in Taber and a second planned in Brooks, Alberta, which could boost the nation's domestic sugar production capacity to about 400 million pounds, almost double last year's production.

The Dominion's sugar beet crop was 66,791 acres as against 58,861 in 1945, or an increase of 13.5 per cent. Yield per acre in 1946 was 11 tons, making a total harvest of 735,864 tons of sugar beets. This compares to a 10.5 ton per acre yield in 1945 for a total of 618,010 tons. The acreage goal set for Canada by the Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference for the 1947 crop is 95,000 acres. Present factory capacity is 105,000 acres.

The Alberta crop in 1946 set a new record of 387,296 tons of beets from 29,800 acres. In a 125-day campaign, the two factories produced 106,187,500 pounds of refined sugar from these

An amazing feature of the new chemical weed killer 2-4-D is its selectivity, or its ability to kill one plant and leave other adjoining plants unharmed. Plants of the grass family—and these include oats, barley, wheat, and rye—appear to be immune to attack from 2-4-D sprays. This makes possible the killing of weeds which are attacked by 2-4-D in lawns, parks, pastures and grain crops without injuring the grass or grain. 2-4-D appears to be a non-poisonous non-corrosive and non-injurious to the soil.

The Ontario crop of 23,293 acres amounted to 232,426 tons of beets which yielded 69,918,300 pounds of sugar. All of these beets were processed in just one (Chatham) of the two factories in the Province in a 92-day run. Had the Wallaceburg plant operated, 55 million pounds more could have been produced.

Manitoba farmers grew 11,600 acres of beets, yielding 997,900 tons. Their single factory outturned 25,400,000 pounds. Quebec's crop was 2,098 acres with 18,242 tons of beets producing 4,463,800 pounds of sugar.

Spending Strength.

Expenditure of energy, which you may not be able to spare, is even more foolhardy than letting money burn a hole in your pocket, say the doctors.
Extravagance is never more dangerous than when it wears out reserves of physical strength. The medical authorities say that, with health as with money, you can't pay out all the time; you must put something to your account, if both ends are to meet.
Canadians are urged to live wisely and moderately, in order to build health they can bank upon.

The Scarcity of Corn Products

With present production above pre-war level, corn processors are becoming optimistic about an early end to the shortage of starch, syrup and related products which have made shopping difficult for housewives for the past several years.

"Present production in Canada is more than enough to supply normal demands," G. F. Benson Jr., president of The Canada Starch Company Limited, said this week, but added that, "it will be some time yet before depleted inventories have been built up by wholesale and retail grocers, and until then there may be occasional shortages in some localities."

"Another reason there are shortages," Mr. Benson continued, "is the natural tendency of people to buy large quantities of scarce products. Since products from corn have been short for the last two years, a great many people yield to the impulse to buy more than they need when they find supplies available."

The shortage over the past few years resulted from failure of corn crops in Canada and elsewhere. Mr. Benson said, adding that the Cardinal plant, one of the largest producers of products from corn, was closed for several months last year because of the inability of the Company to obtain supplies of corn from any source.

Boys' Sports.

On Tuesday Leamington came to Essex to play the first of two games to decide the winners. In the first quarter there was a superb defensive battle but Leamington forged ahead 4 to 3. At half time the defense still held but Leamington got 5 more points and Essex 4, to make the score 9 to 7. Essex crept up at ¾ time and were shading Leamington 15 to 14. Leamington's defense fell apart and in the last quarter Loebach and Johnston scored enough points to make the score 27 to 18.

Loebach scored 10 points, T. Johnston 8, Fair 5, Carl Johnston 2 and Claude 1.

Upcott and Tippitt were the best for the losers, scoring 12 points.

Following this game, two house games were played, the Reds winning over the Whites 40 to 24. Red Ross scored 25 points for the Reds.

On Tuesday, a return game was played at Leamington and a large crowd was on hand. When the whistle blew at half time Leamington was ahead 12 to 9, and at the finish the score was 44 to 43 in favour of Leamington.

The week was concluded with a first of a two game series with Amherstburg, and was a win for the latter by 54 to 21. It was a well-played game. Amherstburg comes here Friday of next week.

Learn by Doing.

Approval is expressed by public health authorities of the system in vogue in some Canadian schools for teaching by the aid of competitions, essays or posters. It is pointed out that pupils who have to produce written or pictorial descriptions must, of necessity, learn something of the subjects they are to depict. When the subject is health and health preservation, the doctors believe that the youngsters will learn much which will stand them in good stead in later years.

Church Women Join for Prayer Day.

The women of the congregations of Ruscomb and South Woodlee United Churches met in Woodlee Friday afternoon to observe the annual World Day of Prayer. Mrs. Roy Allison and Mrs. Arthur Edmunds conducting the service.

The address was given by Mrs. David Cavers, who spoke on "The Spiritual Highway," in which she followed the theme of the service, "Make Straight in the Desert a Highway for Our God."

George R. Sinclair Passes.

(Crowded out last issue)

Funeral services for the late George R. Sinclair were conducted on Saturday afternoon, from the H. S. Anderson Funeral Home, Windsor. The cortege proceeded to the Church of the Ascension from the funeral home, where services were conducted by Rev. W. B. Cunningham, assisted by the Venerable Archdeacon H. P. Westgate.

Mr. Sinclair was very active in Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. work throughout Canada, being brought to Windsor in 1925 by the Y.M.C.A.

He got to be well known throughout the county when appointed Inspector for the Essex County and Police Island Children's Aid Society. He had been rentals administrator for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board the past few years.

In attendance from outside of Windsor were his mother, Mrs. Marie Sinclair, of Toronto; his brothers, Dr. J. W. Sinclair, of West Virginia, and Dr. John D., of Toronto; and his sister, Miss Olive Sinclair, of Toronto.

The honorary pallbearers were Dr. Frank Adams, Judge J. J. Condon, Magistrate D. M. Birdie, J. P. Twigg, James Leithead, A. W. Harold, John Wenn, Bert Meak, James Burt and John C. Holmes.

Active pallbearers were Dr. James Sinclair, Dr. John Sinclair, Dr. W. K. Ponton, M. Taylor, H. Meade and Melvin Lucas.

Cancer Toll.

The equivalent of a sizeable Canadian city, or nearly 20,000 persons, died of cancer in the United States and Canada in 1946, it is estimated in health circles.

One medical authority is on record with the statement that the real tragedy in these figures lies in the fact that at least one-third of these deaths could have been prevented. He declares that this large percentage died because the sufferers failed to suspect cancer symptoms in the first place, and did not seek the early medical advice, diagnosis and treatment essential to successful conquest of cancer.

The small courtesies sweeten life; the greater ennoble it.—Boece.

Your RED CROSS help is needed!

In frontier districts of Canada the nearest hospital or doctor may be a hundred miles or more away. Over twenty years ago the Red Cross began establishing outpost hospitals and nursing stations in these remote regions. Today a whole chain of Outpost Hospitals can be found in the frontier districts of the Dominion. They bring medical science within reach of these isolated communities. Hundreds of thousands of patients have been treated in these tiny hospitals, including thousands of confinement cases. These hospitals also serve as health centres for their communities, carrying on medical inspection in the schools and organizing clinics for the children. Your help is needed to maintain and expand this vital work. Stand behind the Red Cross, and help bring medical aid to your fellow-Canadians pioneering on Canada's frontiers. Give NOW... give generously.

Donations to this appeal can be left at your local bank.

FIRST COMMERCIAL TELEPHONE LEASED BY SON OF FOUNDER OF THE CANADA LIFE

On the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Alexander Graham Bell, The Canada Life pays tribute to a famous scientist and to the great communication system which bears his name.

It is a matter of interest that in October, 1877, Hugh C. Baker of Hamilton, Ontario, son of the founder of The Canada Life, leased the first telephone instrument for commercial use. He and two other subscribers started the first telephone exchange in the British Empire.

Thirty years before this epoch-making event, The Canada Life issued its first policy. We look forward with pleasure to our own centennial later this year.

Henry Mansell Passes.

The people of Essex were shocked, on Monday morning, to learn that Henry W. Mansell, well-known M. C. R. station agent, who had been stationed at South Woodilee, but resided in town for years, had passed away suddenly in Grace Hospital, Windsor, early on Sunday evening, to where he had been removed by ambulance but a few hours previous, from the home of his sister, Mrs. Annie Allison, in South Woodilee. He had been ill only two days.

Deceased was born in Essex, on March 27th, 1881, a son of George Mansell and the late Catherine Harper, and had been in the employ of the Canada Southern Railway since 1904.

Surviving besides his father, are four brothers, William T. of Redhouse, Nev.; who was unable to attend the funeral due to just recuperating from a severe illness of pneumonia; Russell and George, of Woodilee, and Leo, of Tecumseh; also three sisters, Mrs. Thomas P. Hooker, Mrs. Annie Allison and Miss Isabelle, all of South Woodilee.

Funeral services were held from the E. J. Hicks Funeral Home, on Tuesday, in charge of Rev. R. H. Parr and Rev. D. A. Cavers, with burial in Cotnam cemetery, the pallbearers being six nephews, Paul, Bruce and James Allison, Thomas Mansell, Ed. Mansell and Thomas F. Hooker.

E. Howey, of Lansing, Mich.; Mrs. Andrew Thorn, of Detroit; Mrs. Maryn Files, of Leamington; and Mrs. Elmer Wright, of Windsor.

The W. M. S. of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. J. Naylor, on Tuesday, March 11th. Mrs. Arthur Plant, vice-president, was in the chair. Mrs. Findlay reviewed an article on Temperance, from the Missionary Monthly. Mrs. Richardson reported our special missionary, Miss Margaret Brown, in China, then gave a short review on the life of Dr. Grenville. Mrs. Prince reviewed the chapter on "Women of India," from our study book.

A substantial cheque was reported as received from Miss Alena Stone, in honour of her aunt, Mrs. Blight.

Plans for the Mother and Daughter banquet to be held on Wednesday, March 26th, was discussed. An invitation to the Mission Band party, to be held on Saturday, March 29th, was given by Mrs. Parr. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Harry W. Thomas Laid to Rest

The following item is taken, in part from a Cornwall, Ontario, paper: Harry Thomas lived in that city for several years after leaving Essex.

"After finishing his education in the city schools, he entered a knitting mill in Amsterdam, N.Y., of which his uncle, F. E. Wilson, was superintendent.

After gaining a thorough knowledge of the business he became general manager of the American Rayon Corporation in West New York, N.J., which position he held for a period of years, after which he was appointed sales manager of Loyal T. Ives Company, of New Brunswick, N.J., and held this position until the time of his death.

Mr. Thomas was widely known in the knitted textile industry as a development engineer. During World War II he was cited in the New York Herald-Tribune for his developmental work on plastic radomes for radio equipment in conjunction with the United States Government. He held many high ranking offices in the Masonic Order and was Past High Priest in the Order. He was also active in church work, having served as an elder and Sunday school superintendent, and at the time of his death was chairman of the Board of Trustees of the First Methodist Church of Highland Park.

Deceased possessed many sterling qualities and was a man of fine Christian character, and kind and genial disposition. He leaves to mourn his loss, his widow; one daughter, Helen E., teaching in Collegiate in West New York; two sons, Harry W., metallurgist with the Crucible Steel Co. of America, Syracuse, N.Y., and Douglas W., a journalist with the Home News, of New Brunswick, N.J., and five grandchildren.

Essex Tax Rate 42 Mills.

At a special meeting of Essex Council, Mr. Orr, Town Supervisor, of the Department of Municipal Affairs, Toronto, approved of the Council's budget for 1947, viz., a tax rate of 42 mills, a decrease of 1 mill from 1946. The Public School rate remains the same at 8.5 mills, the High School rate jumps from 2 mills to 3 mills, while the general rate has been reduced from 32.5 mills in 1946 to 30.5 mills this year.

What About Essex?

When Hon. D. C. Abbott, Finance Minister, tabled his estimates of federal expenditures for the fiscal year 1947-48 in the House of Commons last week, the figures included $10,000 for repairs and improvements to the harbor at Kingsville; $23,000 for additional alterations and fittings to Leamington Public Building, and a sum of $28,000 for what improvements on Pelee Island.

Because of being an inland town, the only federal money ever spent in Essex was for the building of the post office. We wonder what kind of reception we would get in Ottawa if we asked for $140,000 grant as part payment on getting water from the lake. We are sure the expenditure of $140,000 on this project would be of far more benefit to the Dominion at large than spending it on Kingsville harbor.

Maldstone Women's Institute.

Celebration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Women's Institute marked the regular meeting of the Maldstone Women's Institute held last week at the home of Mrs. George Ellis, with the president, Mrs. J. W. Simpson presiding. Mrs. A. E. Dodson, of Colmer, gave an excellent report on the London convention. Mrs. Simpson gave the review of the accomplishments during the half century of progress of what is now a world-wide organization of rural women, and a resume of the life and work of Adelaide Hoodless, founder of Women's Institutes. A picture of Mrs. Hoodless was shown.

Roll call was items of interest from "out of the past," taken from the branch minute books.

Mrs. Stanley Welsh presented a contest on "Irishisms," the honours going to Mrs. J. Buchanan, of Colmer, and Mrs. Garnet Wilson.

A tribute was paid to three of the past presidents, Mrs. S. Welsh, Mrs. R. Bryden and Mrs. Keith Howard (Mrs. Howard was unable to be present) for their fine work and appreciation of the ideals, problems and interest in the welfare of Institute work.

Their value as presidents, or members was, and is, far-reaching, also to a resume of the life and work of Adelaide Hoodless, founder of Women's Institutes. A picture of Mrs. Hoodless was shown.

Mrs. Srigley, who is the buyer for the bazaar, gave a very satisfactory report on the fruit and articles bought. Fifteen dollars was voted to the blind.

A 50th anniversary cake was served afterwards. Mrs. Laurens, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Andrews assisting the hostess.

Colchester North Municipal Telephone System.

It seems, from the recent item of the Edgar Mills correspondent to the Free Press, that that party appears to know a good deal about the Township system. It also seems too bad that he or she was not included in the management. However, that not being the case, there may be a few things of interest that is not known to the subscribers in general.

It has been over two months since the last storm, and after the storm there was just one phone out of our 24 lines that could reach the central office at Essex. Both of our trunk lines were completely down. The North Rear Road has had all poles replaced, and at least 600 of the 850 neopress splicing sleeves were used on these lines. We now have seven of our lines going to the Essex exchange. Unfortunately supplies of splicing sleeves ran out two weeks ago and through some shortage of metals are still unavailable. We have been unable to get any wire up to the present time and our latest information is that it will be 16 to 18 months before we can. At the present time we have practically all our poles replaced and relocated to go ahead with our plans, but without this badly needed material it is naturally going to be slow. We also must realize that the weather during the past two months has not been ideal for telephone reconstruction work.

The committee and management welcome suggestions at any time. But rather recent stabs in the back by someone who does not see fit to come out in the open for discussion. The old-fashioned bee idea would have worked well if it had been proposed two months ago, before the heavy part of the work was all done.

It would appear that it will require a good deal of patience on the part of some of the subscribers until such time as material and weather conditions improve. Signed by the Committee and Management.

Elford-Rounding Nuptials.

White snapdragons, stocks and palms formed the setting of a beautiful double ring ceremony, in the First Baptist Church, Essex, when the Rev. F. V. Wakeling united in marriage Miss Ellen Ann Marie Rounding, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Rounding, and Claire Wilfred Elford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Elford, all of Essex.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of heavy white tulle, the fitted bodice featuring a boat neck with an off-the-shoulder yoke of appliqued marquisette, short puffed sleeves, and a very full hooped skirt. The finger-tip veil of illusion was held by a lace Dutch cap, and she wore long matching lace gloves, and carried a shower bouquet of red roses and white baby mums. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Miss Jean Renshaw, cousin of the bride, as maid of honour, wore a floor-length gown of pink marquisette, round neckline, cap sleeves and a full hooped skirt. Her headress was a bandeau of pink lace, matching gloves, being centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with bells, and embellished in tulle. Miss Elizabeth Levitt, Miss Elsie Barnett, Miss Beatrice Moore, Miss Phyllis Mulcaster, Miss Loraine Elford and Mrs. Edwin Plant assisted in serving.

Mrs. Rounding chose for her daughter's wedding an orchid crepe dress with a black hat and accessories, and a corsage of white and orchid chrysanthemums. Mrs. Elford chose a two-piece dress of navy and white, with a navy hat and matching accessories, and a corsage of white and pink chrysanthemums.

Murray Elford assisted his brother as best man, and the ushers were Sterling Elford and Robert Cutting. Mrs. Arthur Huesey played the wedding music and Capt. John Carter sang "O Perfect Love," and during the signing of the register "Because."

Bean Growers Meet.

Directors of the Essex, Kent and Middlesex Soy Bean Growers' Association met in Chatham, on Saturday, to discuss possibilities of increased prices for Ontario grown soy beans for 1947.

According to William Wallace, of Woodlee, the discontinuance of the subsidy on beans imported into Canada from the United States and a compensating price allowed to crushers of beans for oil in lieu of the subsidy, places the market for Canadian beans in a different light than it has been since the war.

With Ontario mills having to rely on imported soy beans for sufficient supplies for year round operations, it would be to the advantage of Canadian soy bean processors to encourage an increase in average of Ontario grown soy beans.

This could be done through an increase in the price of $2.20 now paid to growers. Current farmers' prices for soy beans in Ohio and other soy bean producing states is in the neighborhood of $3.15 per bushel.

Representatives of soy bean processing companies were invited to meet with the growers' county boards of directors.

Increase in Sugar Ration.

An increase in sugar rations, of from 15 to 20 per cent is in prospect during the present year, with a portion of it coming on April 1st. The remainder will be allocated progressively during the year.

This increase is based on the improved world sugar position, and greater allocations to Canada.

There is only one possibility which might interfere with these increases to Canadian consumers, officials state. It is that the United States might do away with its import control regulations, allowing United States interests to go out and grab the bulk of sugar available in the world markets.

However, this is not anticipated, and plans are now to step up the rations as of April 1st, with other increases, to a total of 15 to 20 per cent.

Aid to Hearing.

Reminder that aids to hearing affect a delicate bodily organ is issued by medical authorities in the public health field. They suggest that those who feel the need of such aids should consult their family physicians about this, as in any other matter involving their physical well-being. There are no known cures for deafness, the doctors remind Canadians, and the adoption of any instrument to be applied to the ear should be entrusted to qualified medical people only.

Where Entomologists Went to the Dogs.

Apparently some of the amenities of life to a visitor to the Northwest Territories are not very enviable. In the summer of 1946 Alan G. Duston, who is in charge of Garden and Vegetable Insect Investigations for the Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, visited the settlements on the Mackenzie River for the purpose of making a study of garden and vegetable insects, because in some of the settlements there are flourishing flower and vegetable gardens. He made the greater part of his extensive journey in a single-seater aeroplane and since his return has made an enlightening report as a result of his official survey.

In the January issue of the Agricultural Institute Review he has an article in which he gives some impressions of the social life in the settlements he visited. No story of life in the settlements, he states, can be complete without reference to the ubiquitous dog.

In every settlement visited dogs were all over the place. The traveller is conscious of them, morning, noon and night, because they make themselves heard and surround the villages on all sides as well as being present along the main streets. Most of them are huskies or have husky blood in them and are used as sleigh dogs during the winter months. There is a law up in the North which definitely states that all dogs over six months, or younger, must be tied up when in the settlements.

Sleeping in the north in the summer months, due to so little darkness, is difficult for a visitor even without the noisy dogs but with the dogs around, it is impossible. From the time that daylight commences to wane these animals set up their weird howling and barking. The noise they make does not resemble in any respect the barking or howling of Eastern dogs. It is a weird mixture of howling, yelping, and screaming and is beyond any verbal description. It has to be heard to be believed. The howling is intermittent throughout the night—the animals' tongue in chorus—suddenly as though someone had fired a shot. There seems to be no reason for the outcry which appears to spring up spontaneously from all sides, with in and without the village. It keeps up for a short period and then subsides almost as suddenly.

"Fresh Wind Blowing."

Family Herald to Feature Grace Campbell's Latest Novel.

"Fresh Wind Blowing," the latest romance to come from the pen of Grace Campbell, well-known writer of "Thorn-Apple Tree" and "The Higher Hill," is to appear in the Family Herald as a serial, prior to its publication anywhere else or in book form. Family Herald readers are being given this early opportunity to read "Fresh Wind Blowing" as the result of special arrangements made by the Family Herald Star with Mrs. Campbell and her publishers, Wm. Collins Sons & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

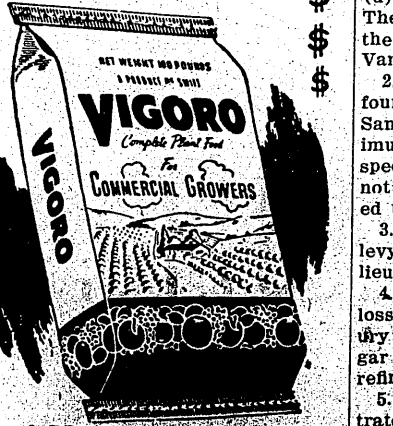

Like the previous two novels by this Ontario born minister's wife, "Fresh Wind Blowing" has its setting in Canada. A story about that generation of young people whose willing sacrifice was like a fresh wind blowing across the dusty wastes of common life, it begins on a farm in the lovely valley of the Qu'Appelle in Saskatchewan, moves to the prairie city of Regina and then, with quickened tempo, to Montreal.

Starting in the issue of March 19th, "Fresh Wind Blowing" is being featured by the Family Herald in line with its declared policy of "the best of Canadian fiction."

A PRODUCT OF SWIFT

This is the third in the series of weekly articles which Clark Young, treasurer of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, is writing from Britain. He is accompanying the tour of Canada's champion plowmen. Others in the party are Floyd Steckley and Austin Nairn, winners of the Salada Tarns Atlantic class for horse-drawn jointer plowing at last fall's International Plowing Match; Fred Timbers and Alex Black, Esso Open Tractor Class winners; and George Walde, trip manager.

Since my last letter, we have been to the King's farm at Windsor and to other points of agricultural interest in Southern England. But before I try to describe anything else, I think I should begin with London, the big city that requires so much of the produce of these islands and of the rest of the world.

On our second day here, Major R. H. Stapleford of Canada House, showed us around the main section of the city. Like all other travellers we were impressed by the transportation system. Above ground it is nearly all by double-decker buses and cabs, with a few electric street car lines (they call them trams) in the centre of the city area.

But the main transportation system is the wonderful subway far beneath the earth. It serves many parts of the city, uses electric trains of six cars and is very speedy. Some of these "tubes" are more than 150 feet down and they save many lives when people took refuge there during the blitz. The London Transport Commission has 87,000 employees and they provide a splendid service.

We were taken to many places we had heard about or read about in history: Trafalgar Square, Buckingham Palace, the Tower of London, and great sections of bombed areas, much of which have not been rebuilt, due to lack of material. In the residential area near Regent's Park there are many houses still unoccupied because of blitz damage.

Visit to Canada House.

At Canada House, where the affairs of the Dominion are handled, we were received by Hon. Norman Robertson, the Canadian High Commissioner. Later we went to Ontario House, where Major J. S. P. Armstrong gave us an interesting talk about the work for the Province conducted there.

Sunday morning all our party attended service in St. Paul's. The building is beyond my powers of description. That it stands today is a miracle, as practically all the buildings around have been demolished. Even now some windows are still boarded up because of the glass short age.

Our two days of sight-seeing gave us many things to remember about London—but perhaps the most important is that the people there need food; all the food we can send them. Next morning a private bus took us 30 miles to Windsor to see the Castle and the King's farm. We saw the great walls and inner building of the fortress, built in the Middle Ages; we visited St. George's Chapel, one of the most beautiful in the world; and we were shown the tombs of many British monarchs.

After lunch we were taken around one of the Royal farms by the manager, a Mr. Ritchie. It contains about 700 acres and stocked with some Jerseys and Scotch Shorthorns. A large flock of sheep were grazing on the hills.

This was our first British farm and rather a special one. Since then we have visited quite a few others and have formed some opinions—though you will understand they have been made in a hurry.

The following is not based on what we saw at Windsor but in general we have found that farming methods differ greatly from those at home.

Opposition Queries Government on Sugar.

Among fourteen questions asked in the House of Commons by J. G. Diefenbaker, K.C., M.P., on February 17th, were the following:

1. In each of the years 1941 to 1947 inclusive, what has been (i) the average price per hundred pounds paid in sugar control or by the Sugar Controller for raw sugars L.O.B. (a) Cuba; (b) San Domingo; (c) British West Indies; (d) other British possessions? (ii) The laid-down cost of such sugars at the ports of Saint John, Montreal and Vancouver?

2. Will the prices paid during the fourth quarter of 1946 for Cuban and San Domingo raw sugars be the minimum prices for sugars from their respective 1947 crops? If the prices have not been settled yet, what is the estimated price for 1947 will be?

3. What was the total amount of the levy by the Sugar Administration in lieu of duty since April 1, 1942?

4. What was the total amount of the loss in revenue to the Dominion treasury through the reductions of the sugar excise tax on (a) cane; (b) beet refined sugar?

5. What does the Sugar Administrator show as his profit or loss for the year ending August 31st, 1946, and the four months ending December 31st, 1946?

6. Has the loss in revenue to the Dominion treasury through the exemption of raw sugar duty and reductions of sugar excise tax been taken into account by the Sugar Administrator in his statement of Profit and Loss on sugar transactions?

7. Is the British duty preference on British West Indies sugar still in effect?

8. If not, when was it eliminated or suspended?

9. Was it eliminated or suspended with the approval and consent of the British West Indies or by special arrangement with the United Kingdom Government?

10. Has any date been set for the restoration of this duty preference?

11. What would be the cost of refined sugar in Montreal, refined in Canada from Cuban raws at the current laid-down price of same including the statutory General Tariff Duty and the refiners' margin but excluding the sugar excise tax?

12. Has the government given consideration to restoring the statutory custom duties on imported raw sugar?

A NEW DAY DAWNS.

A new day dawns for men with the announcement in Toronto by L. W. Smith, manager of Monarch Knitting Company, that nylon is now being used in the manufacture of men's socks. "Using nylon in the toes and heels will mean that socks will now have far fewer holes," Smith said. If so, Oscar ABOVE won't have to yell at his wife about a hole in the toe and accuse her of delaying and preventing him from getting to the office on time.

Is Spray Equipment Ready to Operate?

With the approach of spring there is plenty to be done on the farm in the line of preparedness before ploughing and planting begins. One of the most important activities along this line says Alan G. Dustan, Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture is the overhaul of all spraying and dusting equipment. This entails the greasing and oiling of all moving parts the careful examination, and possible renewal of rubber hose and hose connections, the thorough cleaning of tanks, metal pipes, spray rods, nozzles and strainers and the overhaul and tightening of wooden tanks and barrels. Immediate attention to such details will save not only valuable time, but money, too, when spraying and dusting operations actually begin in the spring.

The seed catalogues have already put in an appearance, listing insecticides and fungicides which will be available for use during 1947. In these days of reduced supplies, it would be a wise precaution on the part of growers to send in their orders for spraying materials without delay, before stocks are all used up. This applies particularly to DDT requirements. Some of the larger insecticide companies advise that DDT supplies are not expected to meet the increasing demands. By figuring anticipated acreages, it is easy to figure out reasonably closely the volume of insecticides which will be required to treat crops during the growing season.

As a guide it should be remembered that one pound of actual DDT or two pounds of calcium arsenate, when in spray form, or 20 to 35 pounds of prepared dust will treat on the average one acre of field or garden crops once.

PEOPLE ARE ASKING?

Q.—In looking over my ration book I have discovered that sugar coupons $51 to $55 are missing. I never used them because they are not yet valid. How may I obtain coupons to make up for these?

A.—We regret that these coupons cannot be replaced because they evidently were detached by a store clerk instead of coupons $26 to $30. The last named coupons were the first in Book six to become valid on September 19th. This was in the middle of the canning season and many housewives used their books to purchase the full amount of sugar. Grocery clerks unaccustomed to the new book, in many cases, detached coupons $51 to $55. They are not being replaced because sugar has already been purchased with them. The fact that these coupons were actually detached by store clerks has been established by the returns made by retail and wholesale dealers.

Q.—Can you tell me the ceiling price of shortening?

A.—The ceiling price of shortening varies according to the brand. If you would give us details of the name of the brand and your dealer we would be pleased to check and give you the proper ceiling price.

Q.—Isn't there a ceiling price on canned salmon? I paid 35 cents for a half pound can. If there is a ceiling, what is it?

A.—There is a ceiling price on canned salmon but it varies according to type. In London the ceiling for one-half pound tins is approximately 33 cents for fancy sockeye, 25 cents for fancy coho and 15 cents for fancy pink. Fancy pink pound tins have an approximate 28 cents ceiling. Prices in outlying areas may be different to London prices because of freight charges.

Drive Safely.

When you start out motoring. Though perhaps not going far. Make sure at all times. You're the master of your car.

If the roads are wet or icy. Be wise, and don't drive fast. Or perhaps you will be sorry. That might be your last.

Carelessness behind the wheel. Has caused many an accident. While carelessness behind the wheel. Accidents did, and will prevent.

Now speeding at any time. Is unsafe, all will agree. The wise driver won't try it. In any kind of emergency.

Meeting a car on the highway. Especially on those wintry nights. Always give him half the road. And be sure to dim your lights.

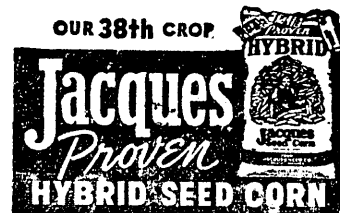

Accidents do not just happen. They are generally caused somehow. Let's resolve to drive more carefully. And practice safety first right now.

Don't take any more chances. A minor accident today. May cause you future sorrow. — Ed. Byrne.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

Learn and Live Up To Your Local By-Laws

In order to make your town a better place to live in, certain local laws are enacted by the civic administration as occasion or circumstances dictate. Often, the breaking of these by-laws brings penalties in the form of fines.

Now, every citizen can avoid infractions—and the resulting assessments simply by becoming familiar with the statutes. In this way, you not only protect your pocket-book, you fill one of the important demands of "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

EDGAR MILLS.

(Crowded out last issue)
Mrs. John Slater, of Parbank, Sask., is visiting Mrs. Thos. Huggard.

Eric Healey, of Wheatley, was a visitor here on Tuesday.

Sunday visitors here included D. Duncan, Len Neice and Don Grant, of Windsor, and W. T. Gilbert, of Amherstburg.

Considerable excitement was caused here on Saturday evening when the home of George Gould and his sister Bess, was robbed by armed thugs who entered the house with flash lights, a shot gun and revolvers. While in the act of robbing the place Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wirth called and they were also lined up and relieved of cash and two good watches. The thieves have the case in hand and their arrest soon is anticipated. Had Gould's dog not been locked in the barn the thugs would not have reached the door. George was struck two heavy blows with a revolver during the holdup. Little Martin Wirth escaped from the scene and notified Bert Shepley who arrived almost in time to prevent their escape.

Richard Neice and wife are spending the week in Florida.

Boys' Sports.

On Friday, February 28th, a full house witnessed the final game of our basketball series. Essex and Amherstburg showed good form and equal effort. At quarter time Amherstburg had the edge on Essex 7 to 1, and a bigger edge at half time 12 to 6. At three-quarter time the score was 20 to 14 with Amherstburg on the long end. The final quarter, the best of the game, Essex tied two times, but Amherstburg scored on a foul shot and the game ended 27 to 26 in favour of the Burg. Ross scored 8 points, Leacock 2, Allison 6, Fay 2 and Liebeck 1.

At the close of the meeting tea was served by the hostesses.

Essex County Jersey Men Attend Annual Banquet.

(Crowded out last issue)

Work undertaken by Essex County Dairy Herd Improvement Association will spread throughout Ontario, James Bremner, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Breeders' Association told some 450 persons who attended the annual banquet of the Essex County Jersey Breeders' Association at the Municipal Hall in Harrow, on Friday night.

Farmed Recently.

Formed a few months ago through the co-operation of the Essex County Milk Producers' Association and the Ontario Department of Agriculture at Essex, the Essex County Dairy Improvement Association is the only organization of its kind in Ontario.

Delegates who form part of the association are mostly young dairy farmers in the county who keep an accurate check on the milk production of individual cows with the idea of improving production through better feeding, the removal of poor producing animals from the herd under observation.

Emphasis is placed on the desirability of improving the overall production of herds rather than striving for individual records.

Mr. Bremner called attention to the fact that Essex County while not having as many Jersey cattle as other counties in Ontario has the largest number of breeders of any county in the province.

Congratulates Members.

He congratulated members of the association for their interest in junior farmers and their show at the Leamington fair.

Exports of dairy cattle to the United States, Mr. Bremner told breeders, has enabled dairy herd owners to develop more cattle than would otherwise have been possible.

"Breeders have had the opportunity to develop cattle which might have been sold as vealers because of lack of room for them on their farms," the speaker explained.

Certificates were awarded to Carl Smith, Harrow; the Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow; Everett Kimball, Wheatley, and Fred Liebeck, Wheatley.

A poor feed supply, particularly of high protein feeds, is proving to be the greatest bottleneck against increased production of dairy products in Canada at the present time, Mr. Bremner told his audience.

Harold Butcher, field man for the Jersey Breeders' organization in Ontario, showed a number of motion picture films made at Jersey shows throughout Canada.

Fit for Travel.

A mid-winter trip for tourists comes from the National Health Department of Ottawa, where it is suggested that those contemplating a cruise abroad this year should not overlook the necessity for a pre-travel medical examination.

The public health authorities recommend Canadian travellers that they should be advised in advance of possible health hazards which may be encountered overseas, and prepared for them.

Democracy in Action.

As this is being written provincial legislative assemblies are in session in Canada and three others are scheduled to open soon. It is fortunate that many "commentators" and students of public affairs pay little attention to these important links in the Canadian scene. Closer to the lives of our people than a federal government can be, they deserve more recognition.

Schools, roads, bridges, health and old age pensions are among the vital things that, under our constitution, are the primary responsibilities of our provincial legislatures. Although changing conditions have made it necessary for the federal government to assist in many things, provincial responsibilities are still jealously guarded in all provinces and much understanding and compromise will still be necessary if we are to work out divisions of responsibility in keeping with our changing conditions.

Party Standing.

The representatives of the various political parties in the legislatures is interesting. Only one party, the "Union Nationale" of Quebec is strictly a provincial party. The provincial representation of another, Social Credit, is almost altogether confined to the Province of Alberta; having only two members outside, both in Manitoba. The total party standing is: Liberal 187, Conservative 116, C.C.F. 77, Social Credit 54, Union Nationale 39, others 24. The "others" include nine service representatives in the three prairie provinces. Increased interest and participation in both municipal and provincial governments are needed.

Canada is to maintain the well balanced economy required in the interests of all her people. Liberals are represented in all provincial legislatures if the two Liberal "Independents" in Alberta are included; Conservatives are represented in six provinces and the C.C.F. in five.

Legislation to confirm tax agreements with the federal government will be asked for in at least six legislatures.

Trade Again.

There is much interest here in informal talks that John Strachey, British Minister of Food, had in Canada with respect to Canada's purchase of British goods. The facts which have come to light show that under British socialist government production and export — the life blood of that island people — is very low and of little that is being exported much is being directed by the Labour government to other parts of the world.

The three reasons given for this are: The need of European countries is great; no higher profits can be made in shipments to countries like India; the elaborate licensing machinery would be necessary to direct exports to Canada.

Party Platforms.

The Vancouver Sun an independent paper is not always friendly to the Federal Liberal Party but in commenting on the resolutions which were recently presented to the Prime Minister by the National Liberal Federation Advisory Council meeting it said: "Most of the Federation's ideas represent the progressive Liberal line on the problems of the day. An enumeration of some of the proposals leaves no doubt of their appeal. There is national health insurance, a contributory old age pension, extension of irrigation projects to reclaim land for production, development of the tourist industry, an enlarged immigration policy and measures to improve the lot of the farmer. There is also the advice to abolish appeals to the Privy Council."

"It is a solid program; nothing in the realm of the flighty or fanciful about it. For common sense and practicality, within the means of the free enterprise system to which Liberalism is committed, it will be hard to beat."

The "Prince Edward Island Agriculturalist" quotes J. W. Boulter, Manager of the P.E.I. Potato Growers' Association, as saying, with regard to the contract between the British and Canadian governments for the sale of P.E.I. potatoes, "This is the biggest thing gentlemen that ever came to Prince Edward Island."

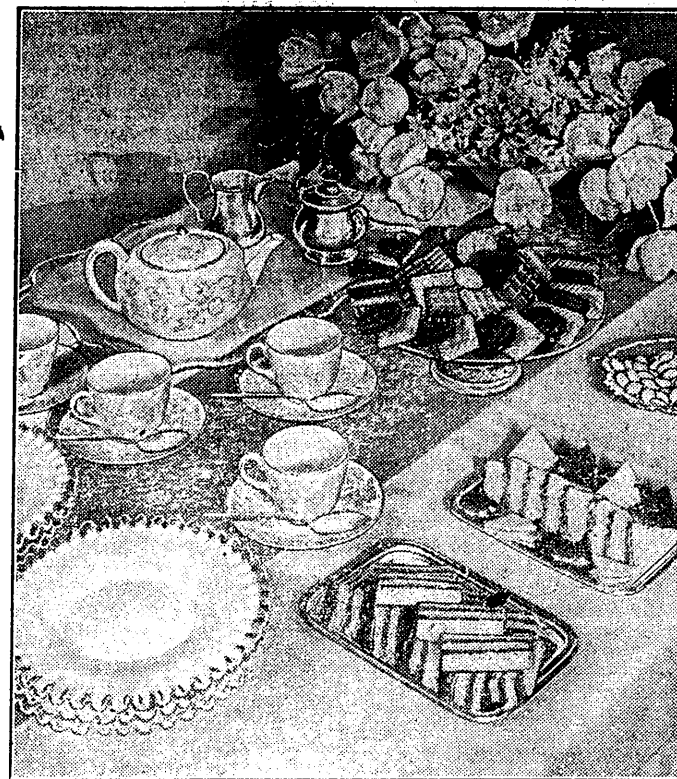

An Eastern newspaper has accused M. J. Coldwell, M.P., of having obtained "confidential" information of a recommendation that was made to the government on which to base a false charge that the government was going to raise by 10% the rent ceilings on dwellings.

Cold Comfort.

Avoid "talking at" people if you have a cold. This sound advice comes from Ottawa, where National Health experts remind Canadians of the danger of spreading a cold which may be spread. If another person has a cold, the advice is — "Get out of the line of fire."

Careful washing of hands before meals, and general personal hygiene, are also advised in the "cold comfort".

Irish Linen for Teatime Charm

THIS after the Easter Parade tea table is a symphony in pink, gray and white: pink Irish handkerchief linen tea cloth, hand hemstitched and inset with matching embroidery; white china in Wedgwood's gray Wildflower pattern; and a centerpiece of white tulips spiked with pink hyacinths. For refreshments, a noble assortment of embossed cakes and chocolate marshmallow puffs.

Public Protection

Under the Food and Drug Act of Canada, there are certain conditions and diseases for which treatment may not be prescribed, except by a fully qualified person.

A section of this Act prohibits anyone from importing, selling or offering for sale, any article of food or drug advertised to the general public as treatment for these specified diseases.

Every disease covered by this section of the Act is serious enough to demand professional care. Therefore, it is possible that remedies recommended to public for them would either be dangerous or ineffectual, and thus, by resorting to them, the patient would lose the great benefit which early medical care would have given.

Conquer Disease

Great progress has been made by modern science in understanding the causes of typhoid and para-typhoid fevers and in applying measures for their eradication. The death rate has dropped markedly in this century, due to filtration and chemical treatment of water supplies, pasteurization of milk, and the control of disease-germ carriers.

Public health officers say that it all goes to prove what can be done when a concerted attack is made on disease. Wonders achieved with these fevers can be duplicated, they assert, against almost any known type of human affliction, particularly if the public co-operates with the medical profession and the research scientist.

Slow Down

The doctors say we must learn to relax. No one, they claim, can keep in a flurry of excitement and bustle all the time without an eventual "crack-up". Drawing on the resources of vitality can harm a person, if it's overdone.

Experts assert that the moderately energetic person, rather than the plunger and pusher, will go further in the long run. He'll have more to draw upon, in reserve. They advise living at a sensible pace, to get the most out of life — longest.

Health Aids

Child Specialists, admitting that life is tough enough, ask parents not to make it hard for youngsters to keep healthy.

For instance they suggest that mother give the child warm water and soap, while training him to keep clean; see that his tooth brush is handy, and that there is a comb readily available to him when he should be using it.

Further, mothers should give the child a place in which to play, and see that he or she has other children to play with, if the offspring is to be permitted to develop the healthful play-way. The experts again remind parents that habits are as easy to form as they are difficult to break.

Hearing Devices

There is no known contraption which will cure deafness. However, many excellent aids are available to improve hearing. Those in need of such instruments are reminded by medical specialists that the ear is a sensitive organ, and that its attention should not be entrusted to a non-professional persons. The family doctor they repeat, is the best qualified to advise you concerning a hearing device, as in all other matters affecting health.

Tips For Tourists
While winter reigns in Canada, thoughts of many are turning to foreign travel, now that the war is over and passages may be had.

Health authorities remind Canadians contemplating journeys to a foreign land, that a complete medical examination before undertaking such a trip is even more important than securing a booking for an ocean voyage.

There are certain immigration medical requirements of various lands, about which the prospective globe-trotter should be fully informed, also.

Once he leaves Canada, the tourist cannot take it for granted that the food he eats is thoroughly inspected the water he drinks is pure and that he is protected, as he is here, by all the health conservation services Canada maintains, in order to enjoy his trip, and to return home healthy as well as enriched in experience, the Canadian tripper is urged to take common-sense precautions against health hazards abroad, and to stick as closely as possible to the first class establishments and the recognized tourist routes.

True merit, like a river, the deeper it is, the less noise it makes.—Halifax.

This successful Kent County farmer has good rich soil for his soybean crop, due to his crop rotation plan. Soybeans, which add some nitrogen to the soil, work well in crop rotations, such as sugar beets, corn, oats, soybeans . . . or corn, soybeans, wheat and clover.

That's why each year more and more Ontario farmers plant soybeans. But the Canadian crop must be increased many times to meet Canadian requirements. Victory Mills huge new plant needs over 3,000,000 bushels a year. So there's a ready market for all you can grow!

15 SOUND REASONS FOR GROWING SOYBEANS!

1. Soybeans have a long planting period and are EASY TO GROW, using standard methods of cultivation and standard farm equipment.
2. A profitable CASH CROP. There's a ready market for all you can grow.
3. A real SOIL-BUILDER, improving soil, tilth and adding some nitrogen—soybeans fit into any "crop rotation" planning.
4. Soybeans are a HARDY crop—resistant to drought, light frosts, and heavy rains during growing season.
5. Growing soybeans is BENEFICIAL in its loosening effect on tight, heavy-textured soils.

Heaton-McCallum Nuptials.

A quiet but lovely wedding was so-lennized in Harrow United parsonage, on Thursday, March 13th, when Rev.
Walker united in marriage Peggy Irene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
E. A. McCallum, of Colchester North, and Lawrence A. Heaton, son of Mr.
and Mrs. Ed. Heaton, of Colchester South.

The bride was lovely in a white gown with silk jersey top, a bubble net skirt over tulle, and short puff sleeves.
The necklace was featured in a sweet heart style, and a veil fell from a halo.
She wore fingerless gloves, elbow length and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Catherine McCallum, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She chose pink over tulle, with a headdress of pink carnations. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Celcel Fox was best man.

A bride's dinner, for 25 of the immediate families, followed at the home of her parents.

Miss Alta White, Miss Ila McCallum, Mrs. Dick Eldridge and Mrs. Violet Lansing assisted at the table. A reception followed in the evening, with 50 guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Heaton later left on a short trip. Mrs. Heaton travelling in a green and black striped dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

The couple will reside in Colchester
South.

Accidentally Killed.

Louis Westfall, 12-year-old ward of
Mr. and Mrs. John Diemer, of No. 55 Highway Woodstock, was shot and instantly killed by his playmate, Russell Bolsinger aged 14, a ward of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Mousseau also of 55 Highway, in the basement of the Diemer home, on Sunday afternoon. Both boys were wards of the Roman Catholic Childrens Aid Society of Essex County.

The Bolsinger boy had called on his chum at the Diemer home, and after eating some pop corn they decided to go out to the barn to play.
Louis went to the basement for his hat and coat, and Russell followed.
When they got to the basement Russell picked up shot gun, aimed it at his pal and pulled the trigger, thinking the gun not loaded. He was not more than five feet away and the charge struck the victim full force on the right side of his head.

Deceased was the youngest son of Mrs. Mary Westfall, of Windsor, but

Facts Worth Knowing on Swine Rhinitis.

In a recent address to the Alberta Provincial Swine Breeders' Association at Edmonton, Dr. R. C. Duthie, Division of Animal Pathology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, dealt fully with the subject of swine rhinitis. The term "Rhinitis," he explained, simply meant an inflammation of the mucous membranes of the nasal passages and might extend to the sinuses or the middle ear by way of the pharynx and eustachian tube. The condition might be acute or chronic. It was given all sorts of qualifying prefixes, depending on the nature of the discharges and the tissues involved. A good example of acute catarrhal rhinitis, he said, was the common cold in the head, which as is generally known, might lead to something far more serious.

The type of rhinitis in swine which had been under study at the Dominion Veterinary Research Laboratory, Lebel, during the past year and a half might be classed as a "chronic atrophic or dystrophic rhinitis" in which the normal growth of the upper jaw was arrested and the nasal passages destroyed. The general roosting of the upper jaw, together with the interrupted growth of the lower jaw, caused the lower jaw to project far beyond the upper part of the face. The deformation of the mouth made it difficult for the animal to eat and if the animal were forced to compete for its food, it would slowly starve to death.

However, said Dr. Duthie, the disease seemed to interfere little, if any, with the general health and nutrition and the animals would do almost as well as the normal ones, if properly fed and especially if the food was moistened. In the experience of the Laboratory, pigs up to a weight 80 to 100 lbs. showed little difference in the rate of growth, but above that weight the pigs began to fight for food at the troughs and the animals suffering from rhinitis did not get enough to eat by themselves. A number of experimental animals were finished for market and graded and A and B bacon. Many theories had been advanced regarding the transmission of the disease from herd to herd and animal to animal and from purchase of infected stock, or breeding girls or sows to an infected herd. While all these theories were quite plausible no acceptable evidence had been offered to support such views.

Treatment Control.

Under Canada's Food and Drug Act, there are certain conditions and diseases for which treatment may not be prescribed, except by a fully qualified person, and the Act prohibits the importation, sale or offer for sale of any article of food or drug advertised to the general public as treatment for these diseases.

Every disease concerned is serious enough to demand professional care. Therefore it is possible that remedies recommended to the public for them would be either dangerous or ineffective and, by resorting to them, a patient would lose the benefit early medical care would have given.

Beef Cattle Pastures.

Three pasture experiments with beef cattle are now under way at the Animal Husbandry Division, Dominion Experimental Farms. The first seeks to determine the relative economy of applying different fertilizer formulae for renovation of permanent pasture. This project is now in its eighth year.

The second experiment which is of importance in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec deals with the necessity of providing good succulent grazing for beef cattle throughout the summer. Begun in 1936, this experiment aims to find out whether a rotation of crops for pasture purposes will provide a greater and more uniform production of herbage than continuous grazed blue grass pasture. Based on an average of seven years, the experiment was compared with a permanent pasture in crop rotation giving an increase of 11.3 per cent over the permanent pasture. The net return per acre over the permanent pasture was $2.19. Cultural practices are included in the cost of the pasture in a crop rotation. Progress reports are extended jointly every year of the two experiments.

The third experiment started in 1935 and is destined to study comparative value of various seed mixtures for pasture purpose with special emphasis on combinations of alfalfa and broomrape compared with permanent pastures.

Jack Miner's Bird Sanctuary Saves Pheasants.

While the Jack Miner Bird Sanctuary became world famous for having waterfowl yet at the same time it has been wintering a supply of pheasants. Some forty years ago the late Jack Miner started planting evergreen trees around the ponds and at the time of his death he had planted over forty thousand which acted as a windbreak and shelter for the upland birds.

With the winter having so much snow and ice storms Jack Miner's sons have supplied corn and rolled oats in shelters and under the trees with the result that an official count was made this week and over five hundred pheasants were estimated in the sheltered area of the sanctuary. Not only do they find food but they roost in the green trees.

In the spring the birds branch out all over the county. Two years ago one-handed on the Sanctuary was shot eight miles away. In the summer there are no more pheasants in the Sanctuary than on the outside.

A law is valuable not because it is law, but because there is right in it. Henry Ward Beecher.

I believe in obeying the laws of the land, I practise and teach this obedience, since justice is the moral significance of law. Injustice denotes the absence of law.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Hay and Pasture Mixtures.

The importance of hay and pasture in Eastern Canada is clearly shown by the total acreage occupied by these crops. There are close to 10 million acres under hay and around 14 million acres used for pasture, but only 7 1/2 million acres are sown to cereal grain. It is not surprising, therefore that more attention is being given to the methods of improving these crops, says F. S. Nowesod, Forage Plants Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Sowing the most suitable seed for the particular purpose under existing environmental conditions is an important step in the improvement of the production of hays and pastures.

The selection of a seed mixture for hay or pasture will depend largely on the length of time the field is to remain seeded will depend largely on the length of time the field is to remain seeded down. For example, some farmers follow a definite crop rotation, where the mixture of grasses and legumes are used for one or two crops of hay before the field is used for pasture for one or two years.

In such cases hay-pasture mixtures would be recommended and would be somewhat different from the mixtures which are intended for a long-term pasture only, where no hay crops are to be taken.

It should be borne in mind, however, that no one mixture can be recommended to suit all purposes and under all conditions of soil climate, etc. The following mixture may be regarded as a general basic recommendation for hay or hay-pasture (short-term) where alfalfa can be grown successfully: Timothy 6, alfalfa 6, red clover 6 and alsike 2 pounds per acre. Where alfalfa is not adapted due to soil acidity or inadequate drainage then the following may be regarded as a general recommendation for hay or hay-pasture: Timothy 8, red clover 8, and alsike 3 pounds per acre.

If the mixtures are to be used for hay for the first year or two and are to be followed by pasture for several years, then it is often advantageous to add to the above mixtures some "bottom" species, composed of Kentucky or Canada bluegrass 3 pounds per acre, and Ladino 1. This may be seeded with perennial ryegrass at 5 pounds per acre as a nurse crop and pastured the year of seeding.

There are many other species that may be used to advantage under certain conditions. Among the grasses there are meadow fescue, brome and orchard grass which may be used to replace all or part of timothy in the mixtures given above. Ladino clover has been found to be particularly well suited in hay-pasture mixtures under favourable soil and moisture conditions. It may be used to replace the White Dutch or Wild White Clover of the Alsike.

Reed Canary Grass, on the other hand, is especially suited to moist locations which are low-lying and poorly drained or where the area is flooded for short periods in the spring. Under such conditions a mixture of Reed Canary 6, and Alsike 4 pounds per acre should give abundance of hay or pasture.

Mixtures for long-term pasture where no hay crops are taken usually contain less tall-growing legumes such as alfalfa and red clover and have more "bottom" species added. The total rate of seeding per acre is usually somewhat heavier than when used for hay or hay-pasture. Where alfalfa grows well such a mixture may be as follows on the basis of pounds per acre: Timothy 4, Meadow rescue 3, Brome 5, Orchard Grass 3, Kentucky blue 3, Alfalfa 4, Red Clover 2, Alsike 1, and Ladino 1. This may be seeded with perennial ryegrass at 5 pounds per acre as a nurse crop and pastured the year of seeding.

For further information on different mixtures for hay or pasture write the Division of Forage Plants, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Price of Empire.

By Joseph Lister Rutledge.

That price of Empire of which Kipling was wont to speak has certainly been paid in full by the people of the British Isles. The danger is that this present price comes dangerously close to being too much for any nation to bear. It is idle to lay this burden on the shoulders of the Labor government, as idle as it would be to believe that Conservative or Liberal could materially change the situation.

Britain, also recovered from the disasters of one war and almost beguiled by another, still assumed a share of the burdens of the world proportionate to the days of her Empire might. Because she has dominated so many crises, it has been easy to believe in her exhaustless recuperative power. Britain is near exhaustion now.

A people, tired beyond all believing by six years of terror and suffering, must provide not only the austere necessities under which they have lived for years, but they must at the same time step up their exports to one and three-quarters times the exports of the beautiful year of 1935. That is the price of survival as a solvent nation. This must be done while they continue to carry on exhausting conflicts in their far-flung empire under the bitter and continued criticism of those who do not share the burden.

The necessities are all too clear; too clear also the grim reminders that the credits from Canada and the United States, that were to have lasted through the period of readjustment — to 1951 and beyond — will hardly last beyond 1948. What then? That is the grim challenge. In a world that has narrowed so alarmingly, Britain's problem is very much our interest and our business.

If Britain's commitments in Germany become too exhausting she may be tempted to forego her long-time consideration of what is best for Europe in favour of easier and less costly adjustments. How will that change the hopes and the future of our world?

If the steady drain of her obligations in Africa and Asia and the Mediterranean continue, how long will Britain's dwindling resources permit her to hang on? If the need to liquidate these obligations becomes suddenly more acute, what peaceful future can be assured for these troubled lands?

If the home crisis becomes more acute, it is doubtful if even a merging of political forces could materially modify events. The one hope is in the quality of the people and in a better and more sympathetic understanding of their vast problems. Britain's fate is everyone's fate. There is no country in the world whose fortunes are more vital to us all or whose welfare influence could be less easily ignored.

PEOPLE ARE ASKING?

Q.—What is the ceiling price of feed corn? Or is there a ceiling?

A.—There is a ceiling price on feed corn but it may vary in different districts and with different dealers. If you would supply us with the name of your dealer and the type of feed you buy we would check. All such information is treated confidentially.

Q.—Would you please give me details of the increases recently allowed on meals sold in restaurants?

A.—The increase allowed varies according to the original price of the meal but in no case may it be greater than 10 cents. Any meal of 50 cents or under may be increased up to five cents. On meals over 50 cents the increase allowed is ten per cent of the cost before the increase was permitted. Increases are permitted only on meals containing meat fish poultry or eggs.

Under-Nourishment.

Many common ailments are due to under-nutrition, declares a food authority of the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. "Too often," says the expert, "illness is blamed on something eaten, when it may be due to something which should have been, but was not included in the diet at all. Of such ailments are headache, stomach-ache and fatigue." Nutrition authorities say that such healthful foods as milk, fruit, vegetables and meat or meat alternatives are essential to the daily diet.

Last week's vote in the House of Commons have stopped all the "election talk" in political circles here. The Progressive Conservative amendment to the speech from the throne was carefully phrased so that all the opposition could combine in an effort to defeat the government. Under the circumstances a majority of 50 voting confidence is considered a sure guarantee that the government will live out its term of office.

Those who have been criticizing the attendance in the House also received a setback in last week's crucial vote. By parties the vote showed an attendance of Liberals 95%, Progressive Conservatives 93%, C. C. F. 70%, Social Credit 100%. It is recognized that the result of the "non-confidence" votes will create greater confidence in industrial, labour and financial circles which should tend to maintain employment and markets at a high level.

Parliamentary Representation.

There is a great deal of new and interesting discussion here, stimulated by the work of the Redistribution Committee in parliament on the importance to democracy of finding the most workable and practical method of parliamentary representation. It is recognized that there is a great difference between elaborate and complicated theories and actual practice although there are still some who argue in favour of proportional representation and others in favour of some form of transferable vote in single member constituencies.

One of the major points in dispute is the old question of representation by population. Canada and most other democratic countries have always given rural and farm areas a smaller quota of representation in order to more nearly equalize the farmers influence with the urban population who are able to exert great pressure on governments by reason of their daily press, which even reach into and influence farm thought and their service clubs, labour organizations and Boards of Trade, etc. Even with this principle agriculture has found it difficult to compete for attention with city populations in many countries.

There are powerful forces now at work to abrogate this equalizing factor and they point to New Zealand where the "Farm quota for representation was wiped out. This was only one of three changes in its method of parliamentary representation in New Zealand that is seriously criticized here as a serious threat to democracy.

The second item was to change the basis of election from the population of constituencies to the number of electors in the constituency a change that disregards the rights of all who do not have a vote by reason of age or citizenship, or any other reason.

The third change is to have the distribution of constituencies taken away entirely from parliament and vested in a commission of seven. The decision of the commission is printed in the "gazette" and has the same standing in law as if it had been passed by parliament. Parliament has no control or veto power whatever.

Danger to Canada.

Some of these changes are now being advocated in Canada and many strong believers in democracy are in their guard. The C. C. P. party in our House of Commons has already asked that redistribution be made by a commission.

The changes were made in New Zealand against strong but unavailing protests from farm representatives. One of them moved that the title of the Act be changed to "The Labour Government Security Act."

There is great interest in the report of the representation committee in the legislature in British Columbia which recommends an experiment in compulsory voting which has little support in any circles here.

Other Imports.

Those who talk glibly of Canada's ability to produce many times her needs are inclined to create the inference that we can be self supporting. A glance at the records of our imports of necessary commodities — necessary if our present standard of living is to be maintained — impresses with the importance to Canada of world trade. Our imports of agriculture and vegetable products last year were over 310 million dollars. This included nuts, fruits, rice, tea, coffee, rubber and sugar. Fibres and textiles products of 264 million dollars included cotton, silk, artificial silk, flax, hemp and jute.

Non-Eaters' Zero Hour.

Eleven o'clock in the morning may be the "zero hour" for those who are dabbling breakfast eaters, warns the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. "You can't work like a horse and eat like a bird," declared a departmental nutrition expert. "A good breakfast, which includes at least fruit, wholegrain cereal and milk, won't let you down in mid-morning." The department urges all workers to start the day right on a substantial breakfast.

Brooding Early Hatched Chicks.

"More space, equipment and care will be required to successfully brood chicks in January, February and March than in late months," says Dr. F. N. Marcellus, of the Poultry Department, Ontario Agricultural College. "This does not mean that it cannot be done efficiently or economically," says the doctor, "as many producers are doing just this at present. It does mean that those who are attempting time must give due attention to the time to carry on such a program for the first foregoing statement and what it involves."

"Brooding pens must be well enough built and perhaps insulated to enable the operator to maintain safe brooding temperatures of 50 to 100° F. and the hovers in the most severe weather. The temperature may be lowered as the chicks get older. Let the comfort of the chick be your guide. They must not be subjected to chilling at any time. There must be ample floor space to avoid overcrowding; approximately 1/2 square foot to four weeks of age, 1 square foot from four to seven weeks, and 1 square foot from seven to ten weeks. Additional space will be required after ten weeks if the chicks are not then out of doors. If additional space and heating equipment would be better advised to start with fewer chicks because, as the late E. H. Marston once remarked, "If pens are over-crowded, nature will reduce the flock to the proper number."

The equipment used for early brooding must be adequate and of good quality. If the brooders are too small, forcing them to provide sufficient heat may increase the fire hazard. In the case of coal or oil burners, there is also danger of the fuel supply not lasting through windy winter nights with the result that the chicks get chilled and pile up and are perhaps ruined before morning. "Sufficient food, hoppers and drinking fountains must be supplied at all times to avoid any crowding for feed or drink. One drinking fountain to each 75 chicks and six feet of double feeder space to each 100 chicks will be sufficient. The operator must remember that as the chicks get older additional equipment will be required to accommodate them for efficient results. As additional floor space is needed and provided, provision must be made for any additional brooders or heating equipment to provide the necessary heat for bird comfort."

"Chicks that have suffered a severe setback from chilling or over-crowding, even though not showing serious mortality and apparently recovering from such a shock, will usually show poorer production results when mature."

"The extra care necessary in growing winter hatched chicks will be well repaid in low mortality and in husky, well-developed birds capable of giving a profitable egg yield next fall when egg price premiums prevail. Good stock well grown, is an asset to the owner while the poorly grown birds are not only a disappointment but a definite national loss with the present acute food supplies."

"Be sure you are right, then go ahead. Remember, the wise and successful operator plans well ahead of his needs."

Who bathes in worldly joys swims in a world of fears.—Phineas Fletcher.

Winter Vegetables for Vim and Vigor.

Vegetables are an indispensable item of food the year around. For luncheons and dinners they form the mainstay of the meal, along with meat served. Winter or "root" vegetables as they are called, include a wide variety such as carrots, parsnips, beets, turnips, onions and potatoes. This gives the homemaker ample opportunity for serving one or more of these vegetables along with the usual potato. Besides contributing to our well-being, they add eye and appetite appeal to the foods served, whether raw or cooked. They also give the needed contrasts in color, texture and flavor.

During the summer months the age-old, green, leafy vegetables are abundant. In winter these types are usually imported and their cost prohibitive. But there is no excuse for not serving vegetables with winter meals. The vegetables canned from summer surplus, also make a valuable contribution to winter meals. If the proper use is made of both root and canned vegetables during the winter months, there should be no need for the old-fashioned "spicy" tonic.

Do not always serve these vegetables in the same way. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, would like to suggest favourite ways of "dressing up the old" to avoid monotony. Both root and canned vegetables make delicious scalloped dishes. A plain cream sauce may be used or a little grated cheese may be added to give zest. Souffles are always a tempting way to prepare winter vegetables or one vegetable may be used to stuff another.

To give variety to plain boiled vegetables mix two or more kinds together and serve "au gratin" style. New interest is also aroused by changing the shapes, e. g., if you always serve carrots sliced try them cut in long, thin slices "julienne" style. Turnips may be cut in the same way. Good turnips in a small quantity of boiling, salted water, in a tightly covered container, only until tender.

Another tip that may be appreciated is that what vegetables go well together, such as green beans and thinly sliced carrots; a border of mashed turnips filled with green peas; parsnip matchsticks and sliced beets; mashed carrots and creamed onions.

4 slices bread cut in cubes
In saucepan place 2 tablespoons fat, the vegetables mixed together, the seasonings and bread cubes. Heat well. Transfer to a greased casserole or baking dish and top with remaining fat. Place under broiler until top has browned — about 10 minutes. Six servings.

REMOVE FIRE HAZARDS FROM YOUR HOME

Since the earliest days, fire has been one of man's best friends, yet one of his deadliest enemies. There are many ways to protect your property against fire. Check your electrical outlets and accessories; repair or replace worn wiring cords; never leave an iron or a toaster "on"; always place matches and inflammable materials beyond the reach of fire; see that chimneys and flues are kept clear of soot. In other words, be your own fire inspector! By reducing fire hazards in your own home, you live up to the laws of "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Bovine Ills are Described to Farmers.

(Crowded out last issue)

Penicillin in a form which can be administered by the average herdsman, offers the greatest possibilities yet found for the control of bovine mastitis, Dr. A. L. McNabb, principal of the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph, told members of the Essex County Milk Producers' meeting, at the Essex Town Hall, on Tuesday.

Technical Talk.

Speaking on Bang's disease and mastitis, Dr. McNabb's talk was largely technical, but not so much so that the 400 milk producers who attended the meeting couldn't follow him well enough to fire questions at him for three-quarters of an hour after his talk ended.

M. C. Dalton, president, reviewed the activities of the association during the past year. Other speakers included Alexis Burrell, who is conducting the Essex County herd improvement work, and a number of the members who discussed various phases of milk marketing in the Windsor area.

The election of the following directors for various parts of the county were confirmed by the meeting: John R. Shnel, Paquette; Hector Bonny, River Canard; Thomas McNabb, Guelph; H. C. Nicks, Essex; Fred Whitney, Cottam; E. Ross, Essex; Albert Markham, Stoney Point; Clifford Morris, Comber; Warden McCormick, Harrow; Stanley Hedges, Harrow; Raymond Benedict, Amherstburg; J. G. Parks, North Malden; John Walcott, Woodlee; A. Mousseau, Woodlee; Russell Simon, St. Joachim; Sylvain Pilonneau, St. Joachim; Milford Dalton, Kingsville; Harold Selton, Leamington; Ray Hope, Blytheswood.

Puce Home and School Club Celebrate First Birthday.

The Puce Home and School Association celebrated its first birthday this past week, with a most impressive annual meeting, when reports showing a very successful year just over were read. The association had spent more than $500 during the year, on a stove for the school (first step in a school lunch program), a radio-victrola, outfits for the baseball team, dishes and other aids, it was announced.

A capacity attendance was on hand for the meeting, and the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Grant Patillo, president; Mrs. Harold Lawe and Mrs. E. Peterson, vice-presidents; Charles Hutchison, recording secretary; Miss Catherine Bickerton, treasurer; and Mrs. Lois Wickoff, Mrs. Carmen Patillo and Mrs. Thomas Addison, executive.

Mrs. M. Tossington, Mrs. Chas. Bosley, members.

Mrs. Malcolm D. McPhail, president of the Puce Home and School Club, said that the association had been very successful in its first year, and spoke briefly, praising the association enthusiastically for such a splendid year.

Mrs. Grant Patillo, as president, was named to attend the Provincial Home and School Federation meeting in Toronto early in April.

Lunch Boxes.

Lunches to "take out" should consist of more than a mere sandwich, in the opinion of nutrition authorities of the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. In advice to those making up "box lunches," the department's nutrition officers advise: Put in raw carrot sticks, fresh tomatoes, cooked or prepared fruit, in a covered paper container, and a hot or cold drink in a thermos bottle. These will add variety and food value to the lunch.

The great obstacle to progress is prejudice.—Bovee.

"Fulfilling Our Church Membership in Christian Stewardship" was the theme of the worship service, which was conducted by the president, assisted by Mrs. Fox. "The Church in India" was the chapter of the study book, "India at the Threshold," which was led by Mrs. Cecil Hodge. Mrs. Frank Wagner, Miss Ethel Bode and Mrs. Edgar Flemming. The hostess served lunch at the close of the meeting.

The prejudices of ignorance are more easily removed than the prejudices of interest. The first are blindly adopted, the second willfully preferred.—Bancroft.

It was decided to invite Miss Mary Mahon, Leamington, of the Essex Presbyterian Women's Association, to be the guest speaker at the meeting April 2nd.

Sunshine Oils.

Parents are reminded by the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, that this is a period of the year for starting children on Cod Liver Oil again. "Without sunshine or fish liver oil, healthy bone and tooth development is not possible, say the health authorities. The use of fish liver oils for children, particularly in winter, is recommended in the booklet "Canada Food Rules," now available through official channels.

Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary.

One spring morning, just 50 years ago, March 16th, 1897, two young people, both residents of Gosfield North, were married at the home of the bride, by Rev. A. L. Beverly, rector of St. Paul's and Trinity Anglican Church. They were Norman E. Buckland, son of John Buckland, and Louella Ash, daughter of W. R. Ash, both prominent farmers in the Township.

This March the couple, with their family, held "open house" at their home on Fraser Road, Leamington, during the afternoon and evening. The house was gaily decorated with spring flowers, among them being a beautiful bouquet of yellow roses from their friends at Gosfield, and a lovely bouquet of mixed flowers from their neighbours.

The table was centred with yellow daffodils and covered with a lace cloth. The door was opened to their many guests by their two grandchildren, Ann Buckland and Dorothy McAlpine.

The family presented them with a beautiful mantle radio, and they received many gifts, cards and telegrams.

Their family, who were all present, consists of a daughter and two sons, Claire (Mrs. A. C. McAlpine) of Toronto; Ray, of Detroit, and Percy, of Guelph.

At 6 p.m. they enjoyed a sumptuous dinner at the Four Oaks, Leamington. Those present besides the family were Mrs. Lottie Reid, of Windsor, bridesmaid of fifty years ago; Will Buckland, best man, and daughter Eva, of Fenton, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ash and Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson. There were five present who had been at the wedding, Mrs. Reid, Will Buckland, W. J. Ash and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Ash.

In reminiscing of the past Mr. Buckland said he well remembered the condition of the roads fifty years ago. Talbot street was ankle deep in mud and they had to drive a team on a buggy to get to the station.

Last year the International Salvation Army supplied 34,172,555 meals to needy or underprivileged persons. Nearly eleven and a half million beds were provided.

Passes Suddenly.

Mrs. Mary Valeria Bede, wife of Albert J. Bede, well known Gosfield North farmer, died suddenly from a coronary thrombosis, at their farm home on No. 3 Highway, just east of town, on Friday evening. She had not, however, been in the best of health for some time.

Deceased, whose maiden name was Mary Valeria Wiele, was born at Ruthven, September 27th, 1877, a daughter of the late Cornelius Wiele and Mary Cook. She was a member of North Ridge United Church, and an active worker in the Women's Association of the church.

Surviving, besides her husband, are two sons, George and William, both of Essex, and two daughters, Mabel and Mrs. Bernard Joyce, of Windsor. Also three brothers, Harry Wiele, of No. 3 Highway, Essex; Herbert W. Wiele, of Windsor, and Richard Wiele, of Kingsville.

Funeral services were held from the E. J. Hicks Funeral Home on Monday, in charge of Rev. J. H. Withershaw, with Mrs. Bernard Joyce as soloist. Burial was in Greenhill cemetery, Kingsville, the pallbearers being Russell Raymond, Harry Hutchinson, Orville Bailey, E. Stanton, Prosper Adams and Donald Taylor.

Easter Seals.

In the first week of Easter Seals sales for the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, over nine hundred dollars has been sent in to the Essex Rotary Club, who have sponsored the appeal in this district. Elsewhere in the county the splendid contribution made by Stokely-Van Camp of Canada, Limited, in donating almost fifty dollars worth of postage. And also we are very grateful to F. Bear and A. Milne, who volunteered two hours hard work with the team of about fifteen Rotarians who prepared forty-five hundred letters for mailing. There is still time for you to send in your gift if you haven't already done so, to Box 398, Essex. Every dollar received helps to give a crippled child fresh hope, new courage and an opportunity for normal living. Give generously, and do it now.

Joseph Gauthier Passes.

Joseph Gauthier, aged 81, of River street, Belle River, died Tuesday at his residence, following an illness of six weeks. He was born in Elmstead, and had lived in that area all his life. He was a retired farmer. Deceased was a member of the St. John the Evangelist Society and the Holy Name Society of St. Simon and St. Jude Church, Belle River.

He is survived by his widow, Louise; three sons, Charles, of Belle River; Theodore, of Maidstone Township; and Norman, of New York City; one daughter, Mrs. William Ellwood, of Belle River; 13 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren; and three brothers, Fred and Julius, both of Tecumseh, and Robert, of Pike Creek.

Services will be conducted on Friday at 8:30 a.m. from the late residence to St. Simon and St. Jude Church, at 9 a.m.

Mothers and Daughters.

Despite the inclement weather, some two hundred and seventy mothers and daughters assembled, Wednesday night for their annual banquet. The men of the church, under the chairmanship of Clarence Totten, had charge of the kitchen, while a second group acted as waiters.

The oldest person present was Mrs. Addie Fallis, a nonagenarian, while the youngest was Gale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Robson, aged 2 years.

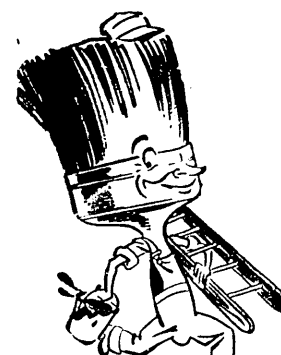

Mrs. Thomas Kennedy was present with three daughters, three granddaughters and three daughters-in-law. The program was capably presented by Mrs. (REV.) Parr, the initial number being a sing-song, ably conducted by Marion McIlwain. Maxine Price rendered two well-received piano solos and little Anna Kennedy delighted the ladies with her readings.

Miss Mary Lewis, of Kingsville, in her usual good voice and pleasing manner, presented two timely solos. Amy Affleck, in behalf of the daughters, cleverly expressed their gratitude and affection for the sacrificial service of the mothers. Mrs. J. A. Naylor responded with a pithy reply in behalf of the mothers.

The guest speaker was Miss Eleanor Bowes, former dean of Alma College, and globe traveller, now of Kingsville. She spoke of the origin of Mother's Day and reviewed the careers of noted world women, including Mary, the Mother of Jesus, and our present Queen Mary. She warned the mothers of a present-day tendency of being over-indulgent with their offspring, and spoke of the constant responsibility of the daughters to register their gratitude to the mothers, their benefactors.

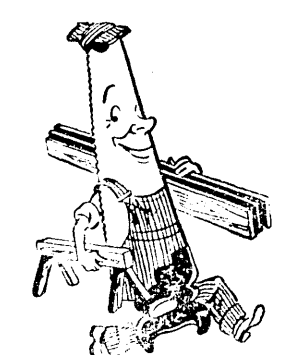

Her account of her experiences while travelling, especially in England, was most interesting. Several flashes of humor added much to an excellent address.

Mrs. Alger Naylor capably expressed the thanks of the banquetters to all who had contributed to a historical evening.

Drive to Raise $145,000 for Blind Opened Monday.

In keeping with Canada's outstanding world position in aiding the sightless among her population the Windsor branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind launched its most ambitious program of all time on Monday last.

A total of more than 300 workers began the task of raising $145,000 which will include funds for a new riverfront home for the blind and also the money $15,000 necessary to carry on the normal activities of the association during the year in Essex County.

A splendid start has been made. The national headquarters of the organization has allocated $50,000 to the Windsor project. Another $15,000 has come or is in sight from private sources. This leaves approximately $80,000 still to be raised.

The riverfront home and furnishings will cost an estimated $30,000. The Lions Club of Windsor has pledged its members to the task of equipping the home of the new building with a minimum $8,000 expenditure. The total campaign objective, including the amounts pledged is $145,000. The county office of Windsor has an objective of $10,000.

The planned new structure will be Reduced Fares for Easter Holidays.

Reduced railway fares for Easter between stations in Canada and from stations in Canada to United States border points will be in effect from April 3rd to midnight of April 8th, J. A. Brass, Chairman of the Canadian Passenger Association, announced this week. Easter fares for teachers and students will also be available, but for a longer period.

These low holiday fares will be based on one-and-one-third single fare for a round trip ticket. The tickets will be good going from Thursday, April 3rd to 2 p.m. on Easter Monday, April 7th, and they will be honored for the return journey up to and midnight on Tuesday, April 8th.

The special Easter tickets for teachers and students will be available upon presentation of a receipt or certificate from a school or university. The tickets will be good from Friday, March 28th to April 7th, and they will be honored on one and one-third single fare for a round trip ticket.

One of the most serviceable and at the same time attractive additions to the city's beautiful riverfront. Located on property at the corner of River side drive and Stratford avenue it will include a lounge, social hall, 24 bedrooms, modern kitchen and dining facilities. A well-furnished handicapped rooming house where the sightless will be taught to read and other educational services peculiar to the blind will also be part of the general layout.

The drive is well organized and has the backing and support of every important group in the community. Its general chairman is G. H. "Bud" Strickland, Chairman W. Peterson, a finance chairman, J. F. Twiss, R.C. is chairman of the Essex County advisory board of the CNIB, the organization responsible for the welfare of the blind in this area.

The drive has the blessing of the city's newly formed Community Fund. After discussion between members of this latter group and those in charge of the drive it was agreed that the blind project would be best handled this year as a separate appeal.

Mr. Strickland points out that there will be no such "high pressure" methods used in the appeal.

Appeal to All.

"The cause itself stands on its own feet and has its particular appeal to everyone," he said. "It is of sufficient importance to us all as a community that our sightless people be properly cared for and provided with the utmost in aids and services to make their lives more complete. Those who are fortunate to have their sight appreciate the problems of the sightless and wish to do their part."

In describing the projected building, Mr. Twiss explained: "It will be a modern center and will provide a haven for aged blind folk. It will centralize our general activities for the blind and will be the basis of health and happiness among those who have suffered the loss of their vision."

Service clubs, LODGE chapters, school principles and teachers, Catholic Women's League and other important groups and individuals in the community will form the canvassing personnel. There is to be a block canvass, special names list, an industrial canvass and a school campaign. The full support of organized labor has been promised.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

BE PROUD OF YOUR COMMUNITY

If we didn't think a whole lot of Our Town we wouldn't live in it. Take stock of its advantages — for example — cleanliness — pleasant residential districts — beautiful parks — excellent educational facilities — modern stores!

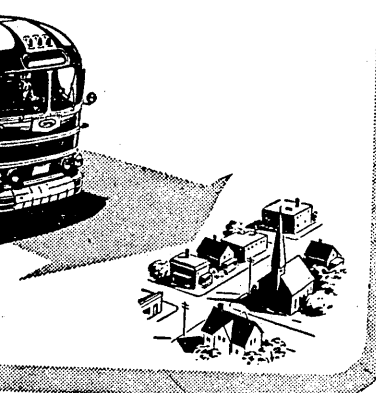

It pays to support local athletics — to take an active personal interest in civic affairs — to lend a helping hand to any campaign aimed at bettering general conditions. Yes, it pays you — in the satisfaction you get out of being a part of the world around you — that's "Good Citizenship". It pays the community by making it the best place in which to live.

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

To date over 5,000 former Dundasians have received official invitations to attend the event, which marks the 100th anniversary of Dundas as a town. Names of hundreds more are being received every week from across Canada and the United States.

"Nasty Little Virtue."

By Joseph Lister Rutledge.
Charles Kingsley once spoke of "that nasty little virtue of prudence." The occasion escapes us but the phrase sticks like a burr. It intrudes, for instance, whenever the government suggests its prudent reasons for doing this or not doing that. All too frequently this attitude of prudence involves lost liberties, lost opportunities, lost population and, sometimes that is included in them all, lost income.

Last year Mr. Dwyer told us regretfully that there wasn't much he could do about the income tax. We were looking for a deficit of $260 million. We grumbled but we accepted without too bad a grace.

But something happened in the interval something much to the credit of the government that, strangely enough, it seems reluctant to capitalize in place of a deficit we are to have a favourable balance of close to $200 million. We are thus some $460 million better off than we might have been, and expected to be. We have saved a sum almost equivalent to our combined Corporation and Excess Profits taxes, or about three-fifths of our total personal income taxes. In view of this fact the seeming reluctance to reduce taxes sharply may not be as prudent as our government would like us to believe.

That there is a real and urgent demand for relief is suggested in the many letters that come to our desk. One young writer urges a cogent and obviously a personal case. He suggests that any action our government might take to stay the alarming draft of our young people across the line, or any immigration policy it may formulate to attract new Canadians, is just so much buying at the moon while we destroy our own natural increase by taxation that makes marriage and children virtually impossible for the young.

"Consider the present policy of immigration," says the writer, "and the enormous expenses involved in getting these people settled. Consider the enormous sums lent to foreign countries, and the long period of years before they will be repaid, and then ask: Do our fathers remember their own or do they realize the radical changes in our thinking that must follow when young men must count their earnings closely before they decide whether they may even dress properly?"

Perhaps after all the really prudent course would be for the government to have a thought for the population that is drifting away or never being born. Let us have some of our own money so that the young can have the babies, and even look after them themselves, so that those who are not so young may have the opportunity to prepare for their own future; so that incentive may not be stifled before it too is born.—Liberty Magazine

Who bothers in worldly joys swims in a world of fears.—Phineas Fletcher.

No wonder this Middlesex County farmer was pleased with the $2,600.50 he got for his 40 acres of soybeans last year—when it took no extra farm equipment to grow them. Shortage of labour at harvest time was no problem either, as he got in his soybeans with a combine. Ontario farmers are sure of a ready market for soybeans, too. For Victory Mills needs over 3,000,000 bushels a year now—and the Canadian soybean crop must be increased many times to meet Canadian requirements.

15 SOUND REASONS FOR GROWING SOYBEANS!

1. Soybeans have a long planting period and are EASY TO GROW, using standard methods of cultivation and standard farm equipment.
2. A profitable CASH CROP. There's a ready market for all you can grow.
3. A real SOIL-BUILDER, improving soil, tilth and adding some nitrogen—soybeans fit into any "crop rotation" planning.
4. Soybeans are a HARDY crop—resistant to drought, light frosts, and heavy rains during growing season.
5. Growing soybeans is BENEFICIAL in its loosening effect on tight, heavy-textured soils.

Editor's Note—This is the fifth in the series of weekly articles which Clark Young, treasurer of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, wrote from Britain. He accompanied the tour of Canada's champion plowmen who have just reached home on the Queen Elizabeth.

BELFAST (Delayed)—Now we're in Ireland and the weather continues to be bad—so bad that it begins to seem we'll have to return to Canada without taking part in any plowing matches over here. It's a great disappointment to all of us but the conditions have been extreme and the matches are just postponed.

In my last letter we were in Glasgow just about to leave Scotland. We took an afternoon train for Carlisle, where we stopped overnight at the Crown and Mitre Hotel. Next morning we were driven the 25 miles to Workington.

Workington is a mining town in Cumberland and it was here that we were to have competed in our first plowing match. We were received by Mayor R. Townsley and were his guests at a civic luncheon. The afternoon had been set aside for plowing practice in preparation for the match next day, but due to the heavy snow and cold and their effect on the ground, the match was postponed for two weeks. This was a disappointment in the town, too, because the people seemed very interested in us and had made many careful arrangements. As an example, the Education officer had planned to bring 500 schoolboys to see us compete. The champion plowman of Devon, who has won 43 cups, had intended to enter the matches.

Trips to Cumberland.
However, the postponement gave us a little break and most of our boys took the chance to catch up on their sleep before a Rotary dinner that night. Next morning we were taken for a beautiful drive through the Cumberland mountains. Our first stop was at the very fine farm home of Joseph Musgrave at Tarnbank. After viewing his herd of Holsteins and other stock we were received in his home by his wife and family—another example of the British hospitality we have received everywhere.

We had lunch at Keswick, a very popular resort in the summer, and then we drove a few miles further to a sheep farm in the hills. Here the owner, a Mr. Ralph, gave us a demonstration of sheep dogs at work that was simply amazing. The three dogs were directed by their master's whistle, each by a note of its own, and rounded up the sheep with remarkable intelligence and skill. This was one of the most enjoyable trips of our entire tour so far.

In the evening we were the guests of the Workington and District Agricultural Society at their annual dinner. This was to have been the plowmen's banquet at which prizes would have been presented if the match had not been postponed. Proposing a toast, J. Lancaster, the chairman, said:

"There never was a time when agriculture was quite so necessary in England. This is an industry that has been neglected in the past. Now if we are to survive, we must get back to the land."

Mr. Lancaster also declared that plowing matches between one Dominion and another are an activity that will help to bring the countries of the Empire closer together.

"Canada came in with us right at the beginning of two World Wars," he said. "We have stood side by side to fight a military enemy. Now we are prepared to continue side by side to fight what is an even greater enemy, the world food shortage."

Next morning we visited another farm near Workington, where we saw a large herd of grade milking Shorthorns. They had nearly 200 head, young and old, with over 100 milking. The farm house and other buildings were built of stone and the house and barn were attached, but the arrangements struck us as inconvenient and making a lot of extra work.

That night we took the boat for Ireland, where we arrived next morning after a smooth crossing of the Irish Channel. We were met at the wharf by James Rutledge, secretary-treasurer of the North Ireland Plowmen's Association and a number of directors.

Bad Weather in Ireland.
Ireland is sharing England's bad weather and conditions are very unfavourable for plowing. Because of the fuel shortage there is no heat in our hotel rooms and we aren't very comfortable. But the lack of heat is being made up in kind hospitality for nowhere in our tour have we received warmer welcome from the people.

On our first day in Belfast we were shown through the buildings and park of the Agricultural Association. These grounds were used as a military camp during the war and now require some extensive repairs. This is the headquarters for livestock sales in Northern Ireland, like the Perth Sales we saw in Scotland. They have a very fine building which is used for hockey in the winter with an ice surface of 220 feet by 180 feet.

By Monday morning it was quite evident that the plowing match which had been set for the following Wednesday could not take place because of the frost and snow and it was postponed to the end of the week.

We were taken to Belfast City Hall where we were presented to the Lord Mayor, Mr. Neill. After touring the building with its beautiful stairway of Italian marble, we returned to our hotel, where we were guests of the Hon. Mr. Moore, Minister of Agriculture of Northern Ireland, at luncheon. After a few short speeches, each member of the party was presented with a shillelagh stick as a souvenir of Ireland.

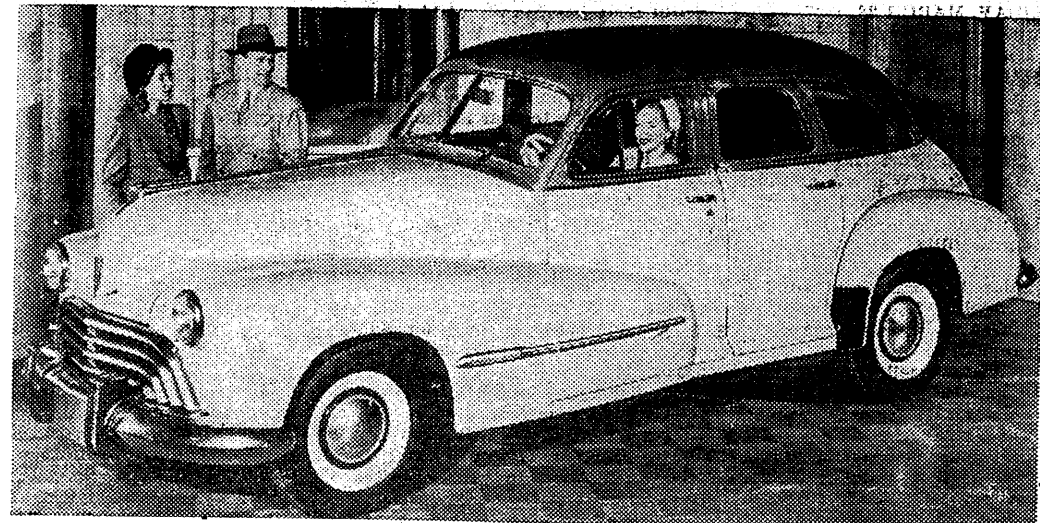

In the evening we were guests of the Farmers' Union of Saint Field at their annual social. The Farmers' Union of Great Britain is similar to the Federation of Agriculture in Canada. Each country and each county has its own organization like our provincial and county organizations at home. It is quite evident they are doing good work, as the farmers in Britain are receiving much better prices for their produce than we are in Ontario.

Young Farmers' Entertainment.
The Young Farmers' Union is very active. Under the direction of Mr. Kirkpatrick, who is chief organizer for Northern Ireland, over 80 groups have been formed. We have been invited to be the guests of the Young Farmers' at meetings in the next few evenings. A finer bunch of young people would be hard to find in any country.

The postponement of the match here will mean that our itinerary must be rearranged. We will put the time to good use because there is a great deal to see, and we are not very hopeful that the postponed matches will be held. It has been our luck to visit Britain during the worst winter they have had in many years and we may have to leave for Canada without ever turning a sod in the Old Land.

The public sentiment is helpful or dangerous only in proportion to its right or its wrong concept, and the forward footsteps it impels or the prejudice it instills.—Mary Baker Eddy.

HERE'S THE 1947 OLDSMOBILE.

The 1947 Oldsmobile offers the new and improved General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive as an option on all models. The Drive affords fully automatic shifting through all four forward speeds and totally eliminates the clutch pedal. Oldsmobile is the only car in its price range that is equipped with this feature. First introduced on the 1940 models, Hydra-Matic Drive has since been tested beyond any doubt. It is the absolute in drive control for 1947.

The new Oldsmobile retains its basic beauty, sturdiness of construction and economy of operation and is further enhanced by addition of several new exterior styling changes. Other Oldsmobile features for 1947 include extensive interior restyling, appealing new colors and all-round engineering excellence which have been combined to produce the most distinctive Oldsmobile in history.

The new models are available in three series and twelve body styles. In the popular priced "66" Series are the Club Sedan, Four-door Sedan, Four-door Coupe, Club Coupe, Convertible Coupe and Station Wagon. All these cars are of 119-inch wheelbase and are powered with 100-horsepower six cylinder engine. Four designs are included in the "76" and "78" series—Club Sedan, Four-door Sedan, Deluxe Club sedan and Deluxe Four-door Sedan. The wheelbase is 125 inches and either six or eight cylinder engines are available. Horsepower is 100 in the six or 110 in the eight. Three body styles are available in the "98" Series—Club Sedan, Four-door Sedan and Convertible Coupe. They are of 127 inch wheelbase and are powered with 110-horsepower motors.

Importance of Sire in the Dairy Herd.

Progressive dairymen know that the sire is the most important member of the herd. Practically speaking a dairy cow inherits about half its milk producing ability from its sire, and half of it from its dam. Thus theoretically, a sire of 500 pounds of fat inheritance mated to a cow of 200 pounds of fat inheritance will give offspring yielding about 350 pounds of fat. In actual practice, the results are influenced somewhat by the prepotency of the individual animals concerned, by variation in inheritance, by feeding practice, by housing conditions, and by general care and management. The factor of variation in inheritance makes testing and selection necessary. However, there is ample evidence that the performance of low producing herds can be very greatly improved by use of good sires.

Even with high quality herds, production of milk and butterfat can be improved and maintained through a systematic breeding and selection program using good sires. Evidence supporting this is provided by the Jersey herd maintained at the Dominion Experimental Station, Summerland, B.C. In this herd a line breeding program using test sires closely related to the "proved" bull Standard of Oaklands has been followed since 1922. Proved immature bulls from proved sires are used sparingly until their daughters complete their first and sometimes second lactations. The performance of these daughters determines whether the bull is kept for further service or sent to the butcher. In the meantime these potentially good bulls are leased to neighbouring dairy farmers for breeding purposes. The improvement in production due largely to the use of good herd sires, and therefore good inheritance.

Parents should ensure that the little ones look after their hands when they get chapped and cut. Deep, sore cuts or fissures on the hands can cause considerable distress to active children. They favour infection, too.

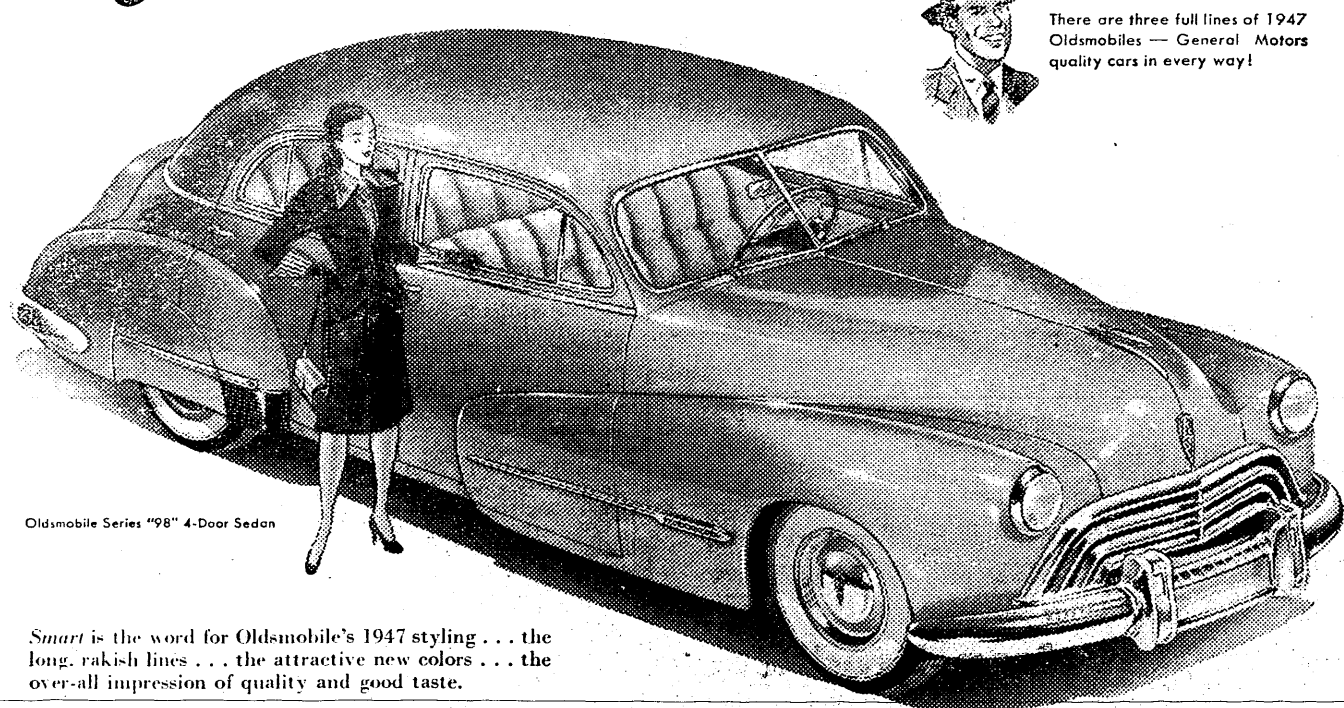

Doctors at Ottawa say—"Have the children dry their hands thoroughly after getting them wet, and apply hand lotion, or rub in a few drops of olive oil. And, be sure to examine the youngsters' hands frequently.

5.71 per cent). In 1945 the production had risen to 8619.9 pounds and 499.5 pounds respectively (average test 5.85 per cent). Thus during the 12 year period there has been an average increase of 894.8 pounds of milk and 5.1 pounds of fat. Throughout this period feeding practices have remained almost constant and the same herdsmen has been employed. The improvement in production due largely to the use of good herd sires, and therefore good inheritance.

Chapped Hands.

Parents should ensure that the little ones look after their hands when the weather gets cold and dry. Deep, sore cuts or fissures on the hands can cause considerable distress to active children. They favour infection, too.

Doctors at Ottawa say — "Have the children dry their hands thoroughly after getting them wet, and apply hand lotion, or rub in a few drops of olive oil. And, be sure to examine the youngsters' hands frequently."

The Society has tried to improve conditions by providing a nursing service and camp program. There are now five nurses working in 23 counties and two camps providing three weeks holidays for 336 children. It is realized, however, that the nurses are constantly overworked, and that the accommodation at the camps should be doubled.

A great step forward will be made when the $100,000 is raised. Send your donation for this much needed work care of Essex Rotary Club, Box 389, Essex.

Cottam W. I. Votes $25 to Library.

(Crowded out last issue)

Mrs. Stanley Orton district president of the Women's Institutes, as the guest speaker at the March meeting of the Cottam W. I. for which Mrs. Charles Scarlett opened her home, gave a report on the resolutions passed at the Federation meeting in Toronto, and expressed her thanks to the Cottam Institute for its co-operation in making the 50th anniversary celebration of the W. I. in South Essex District, such a success.

Mrs. Harry Webster gave an interesting talk on "Plant Propagation" and the members exchanged bulbs and slips. A donation of $25 was voted to the Library Board.

The April meeting will be a feature by the annual election of officers, and Mrs. Una Jackson, Mrs. John Burns and Mrs. W. J. Ash were appointed as a nominating committee. Mrs. Chas. Billing will be hostess.

Albuna Irish Supper Nets $75

Moving pictures, with sound effect, was shown by J. R. Cross of Leamington, at the annual Irish Supper supper at Albuna United Church, one night last week.

The program included "Alice in Wonderland," "Ski Trails of New France," "Jack and the Bean Stalk," and two pictures of Central India.

A feature of the evening was a historical sketch of the King's Daughters' class given by Mrs. William McLenon. This class had sponsored the supper for years and recently dissolved. This year Group II of the Woman's Association, under the leadership of Mrs. Wm. McGuire, was in charge. The proceeds of the supper were $75. The Rev. S. R. Johnston was chairman.

Easter Seals.

This week you probably received a letter asking you to buy Easter Seals to help the Ontario Society for Crippled Children to carry on and extend its work. Thanks to each of you who have already sent in your gift and are using your seals. Just in case you haven't got around to sending in your donation, here's a friendly suggestion: DO IT NOW! The sale of seals lasts only until Easter.

Every dollar you send in will help bring happiness to a little girl or boy who is handicapped. "The Society discovers handicapped and afflicted youngsters," says R. W. Hopper, executive director, "transports them to hospitals, arranges treatment and appliances and helps them to enjoy a more normal life. Despite advances in both prevention and treatment of crippling diseases, there are 15,000 disabled children in the Province of Ontario. But many if they received proper care and treatment in early stages, would be spared a great deal of suffering and their chances of recovery would be greatly enhanced," stated Mr. Hopper.

Parents of average means have found that the care of a crippled child is expensive. In many cases they have lost homes or farms to provide treatment or more frequently, delay treatment of the ailment until it is too late.

The Society has tried to improve conditions by providing a nursing service and camp program. There are now five nurses working in 23 counties and two camps providing three weeks holidays for 336 children. It is realized, however, that the nurses are constantly overworked, and that the accommodation at the camps should be doubled.

Blind Campaign in Progress.

A campaign is now in progress throughout Essex County, to raise funds, object $100,000, with which to erect a "School for the Blind" in the City of Windsor. Locally, the campaign is being sponsored jointly by the Kinsmen Club and Capt. Brian Branch of the Canadian Legion, under a committee, with Ted Richardson as chairman. Others on the committee are Dr. Charles Benson, Jim Ashton, Max Miller, Addison Burling, of the Kinsmen, and Les McQuarrie, Horace Clements and A. Shipway, of the Legion the latter being secretary-treasurer of the campaign.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind will erect a building on property located on Riverside Drive at Strathmore Avenue, in Windsor, to accommodate the needs of the 227 blind persons residing in the City of Windsor and County of Essex.

This beautiful building, which has been designed with special consideration for the blind, who will use its facilities, will provide residence for the aged, recreation for all the blind and will be the centre of the broad rehabilitation program which this Institute carries on among those who live in a darkened world.

The building will cost approximately $100,000, the furnishings $20,000, and the land has been acquired at a cost of $5,000. The normal annual operating deficit of the Windsor-Essex Board will be $15,000 in 1947. The objective set for the campaign, which will be conducted from March 17th to 29th, is set at $145,000, having a contingent allowance of $45,000.

In Essex and the surrounding district there are a number of persons registered with The Institute, all of whom will benefit as they are served through the facilities of this building. Essex is asked to contribute its share of the cost of this worthy project.

A contribution to this cause, no matter how great or how little, represents an investment in the welfare of our blind. The returns from this investment cannot be measured in terms of dollars but must be accepted in that satisfaction which comes as we see the blind reaching out to help themselves we contribute to the well-being of our community as well as to those who live in darkness. Campaigns will be conducted in every community in Essex County in as much as this is a county-wide project planned to serve every blind person residing in Essex County.

On March 17th, and for two weeks following, the residents of Essex and other towns and cities of Essex County will be approached once again, and asked to "dig deep" on behalf of their fellow citizens who have been deprived of vision. The Windsor-Essex Advisory Board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind has finally felt it necessary to erect a residential, rehabilitational and recreational centre to care for the 227 blind scattered throughout Windsor and Essex County.

There are individuals both in the small towns and rural districts, who are struggling to maintain a home for themselves, a struggle complicated by the absence of vision essential for such tasks as housecleaning, sewing, fire tending, and proper preparation of food. These folks love their independence and as citizens of Essex County we take pride in their attempt to maintain it. But with advancing years, each must eventually yield to the necessity of accepting assistance from friends or in homes for the aged.

How much more cheerful will their lot be, when they exist as a residence where they may live among friends, in an atmosphere of understanding and constructive assistance, where they may share mutual interests and entertainment with those similarly afflicted. Social activities, planned for their enjoyment and for the blind residents of Windsor City, will render their life enjoyable and be a constant reminder that others in similar condition can make useful and happy lives, despite their handicap.

Mr. and Mrs. John Perrin have returned from a two months' visit with relatives in San Mateo Calif.

The task of raising funds for erection of this building has been carefully planned by the Windsor-Essex Advisory Board. Representing Essex on the board is Ted Richardson. The co-operation of every citizen is essential. Remember, blindness is no respecter of persons, creed, or race. A cent, such as above is an asset, a guarantee of assistance and a project every individual may take pride for his share in its successful conclusion.

Loyal Orange County Lodge Install Officers.

(Crowded out last issue)

Past County Master Sir Knight Harvey Knox was the grand installing officer at the annual meeting of the Loyal Orange County Lodge, held in the Orange Hall, Cottam, with fifty members present. He was presented with a jewel for his faithful service as County Master.

Brother David Hanna presided for the election of officers, which resulted as follows: County Master, Sir Knight R. E. Sampson; Deputy County Master, Sir Knight Archie Reid; recording secretary, Samuel Wallace; chaplain, William E. Trusset; financial secretary, R. A. Simpson; treasurer, Sir Knight Andrew Bunt; County Marshal, Sir Knight Wilfred Deacon; 1st lecturer, Kenneth Dennis; 2nd lecturer, Orville Sell; associate secretary, Lewis Thompson.

Delegations were present from Toronto and St. Thomas.

Announcement was made that July 12th, 1947, will be celebrated at St. Thomas.

People Are Asking.

Q.—Does the Wartime Prices and Trade Board have any control over the prices of fur coats? They are terrifically high at the present time. Is it possible that prices will come down?

A.—The Board has no regulations regarding prices of fur coats. It is impossible for any one to state accurately if prices will come down, since they are governed by the laws of supply and demand.

Q.—I am renting an upstairs apartment. There is a long stairway to my apartment. There is only one very dim light at the head of the stairs, which leaves the lower hall and stairs in darkness. If one of my guests were to fall down these stairs would not the landlord be liable for any medical expenses.

A.—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has no jurisdiction over the problem on which you ask advice. This is a matter of civil law involving negligence and contract. Your own lawyer will be able to advise you fully and completely on these matters.

Help a crippled child to happiness.

Beyer-Myles Nuptials.

A quiet wedding took place, at the United Church parsonage, Essex, on Saturday, March 15th, at 4 o'clock, when Marian Luella, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Myles, of Essex, was united in marriage to Wellington
Beyer, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs.
Thomas Beyer, of Baxter, Ontario.

Rev. Harold Parr performed the ceremony.

The bride, looking charming in a pearl grey suit with pink and black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Galloway, of Windsor, looked attractive in a blue grey suit with baby blue and black accessories, and a corsage of pink cer-nations.

Ray Reid, of Essex, was groom-sm.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the Dominion Golf Club in Windsor. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Beyer of Toronto, brother of the groom; Orzie Davies, of Windsor, and Mr. and Mrs. George Myles. After the dinner the happy young couple left for points north.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Beyer will reside in Essex.

Padbury-Jacobs Nuptials.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Maldstone United Church, with Rev. N. Pick officiating, on Saturday, at 2 p.m., March 29th.

Miss Jean Elvira Padbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Padbury, was united in marriage to Jack Beverly Jacobs, son of Mrs. W. Cracker, of Chatham, and the late Lew Jacobs.
Pink and white snapdragons in baskets decorated the altar of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a two-piece dress draped front, of pale blue crepe and wore a corsage of deep red roses. Her attendant, Miss Ada McClellan, of Chatham, wore a pale blue draped dress and her corsage was of yellow roses.

Ken McKellar, of Chatham, was groomsman, and the ushers were Gordon and Bruce Padbury.

During the ceremony Miss Maxine Jones, of Chatham, rendered very sweetly "The Lord's Prayer" and "Through the Years."

The dinner and reception for the bride party was held in the dining-room at Sewell's, Essex.

Greeting the guests at the reception was the bride's mother, looking very smart in a flowered blue and black Jersey dress with blue accessories, and wearing a corsage of roses.

The groom's mother was attired in a grey dress with grey accessories and corsage of roses.

Leaving for London, the bride was nuttily attired in a blue gabardine dressmaker suit and accessories of pink.

Relatives attended from Chatham,
Windsor, Blenheim and Maldstone.
The young couple will reside in Chatham after their honeymoon.

George Gould Again Victim of Robbers.

George Gould, well-known pure-bred box breeder, was once again the victim of armed robbers at his farm home at Edgars, early Sunday morning.

George was entering his barn about 6:30 in the morning, ready to do his chores, when he was attacked by three thugs, who had evidently arrived at the farm earlier, in the cover of darkness.

He was struck on the head seven or eight times by loaded blackjacks, causing two wounds that required stitches later, when medical attention was called. His only weapon was a pitch fork which he carried, but evidently he was so surprised by the sudden attack that he hadn't much chance to use it.

Principal Police are convinced it was the same gang who visited the Gould farm home on the evening of March 1st, and possibly those who were uninvited guests of about a year ago.

After binding and gagging Mr. Gould the unwelcome visitors entered the house through a window, where the victim's sister was sitting in a chair in the kitchen, and tore everything apart in their search for hidden money.
They found slightly over $100 in a pocket of a coat, after even pulling down stove pipes in their search, of close to two hours.

Neighbours reported the men left in a light coach, believed to be a Plymouth, and headed towards Essex.

Wet Clothing.

Dampness invites disease of the rheumatic type, particularly in under-nourished children. Parents, therefore, are urged by the National Health authorities to give special attention to the youngsters' clothing when they come in wet from play. Wet and cold shoes, outer clothing and other garments which have become damp, should be changed immediately. Mothers should encourage active, healthful outdoor recreation, but are reminded that they must protect the children against sickness, and wet and damp clothing is a sure way of encouraging ill of all sorts.

DO YOU WANT TO GROW SUGAR BEETS THIS FALL?

We ask this question because the Sugar Company's representatives met with Messrs. G. H. Wilson, Eugene King and Cameron McTaggart, the negotiating committee of the Ontario Beet Growers Association, on Thursday, March 27th, and failed to agree on the terms of a contract for 1947 beets.

WHAT THE COMPANY OFFERS

The Company offered to the Association's Committee the Fifty-Fifty form of Contract under which all the sugar beets in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin have been grown during the past 15 years. It is regarded as the fairest form of contract from the growers viewpoint in use in the United States. Under it

NET RETURNS ARE SHARED EQUALLY

(From sugar, pulp and molasses)

BETWEEN GROWER AND FACTORY

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS

ITEM	FARMER'S SHARE	FACTORY'S SHARE
PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT SUBSIDY	100%	0%
REMISSION OF EXCISE TAX (50c)	100	0
DOMINION GOVERNMENT SUBSIDY	80	20
NET RETURNS ON SUGAR	50	50
NET RETURNS ON MOLASSES	50	50
NET RETURNS ON DRIED PULP	50	50

Under the 50-50 Contract there is no minimum guaranteed price but the grower is guaranteed one-half of the net returns from Sugar, pulp and molasses regardless of the sugar content of his beets. There is

ONE PRICE FOR ALL GROWERS

THE GROWER

PLANTS, GROWS, HARVEST AND DELIVERS HIS CROP OF SUGAR BEETS TO ONE OF THE ONTARIO FACTORIES AT HIS EXPENSE.

THE FACTORY

PROCESSES THE BEETS, BAGS THE SUGAR, DRIES AND BAGS THE PULP AND HANDLES THE MOLASSES AT ITS EXPENSE.

The Association's Committee agreed that this is a fair and equitable contract. They admit that on the average, including the increase in Government subsidy, The growers'

PRICE MAY BE BETTER THAN IN 1946

However, the Association's Committee refused to accept the 50-50 contract because, as it is so near planting time, they claim there is not sufficient time to explain it to you growers. The Company is willing to take on this task since it is our Fieldmen who always do the job of meeting you growers.

THE COMPANY HAS NO ALTERNATIVE TO OFFER

and with so fair a contract no alternative is needed. So

House Siding
Barn Siding

We are now in a position to take orders for Cedar-Grain Asbestos SIDING shingles — Dover White. It is expected that delivery may be made in May or June. This is the modern firesafe house siding that does not require painting.

Immediate delivery can be made of Polished Aluminum Clapboard. This material is Fireproof and shatterproof. It has high insulating value and never needs painting.

For garages, barns and implement sheds we recommend ASBESTOSIDE, pure asbestos, firesafe siding in sheets 16" by 50". This is the siding known all through ONTARIO NORTHLAND, as White Mine Siding. It has a paper white asbestos face, that will remain white for many years.

A happy, holy Easter! The many friends of Leo Greenway will be glad to know he was able to leave Detroit by train for Arizona, to continue his convalescence, and his many friends are hoping for a speedy recovery. His address is 1161 Columbia Avenue, Tucson, Ariz. A card or letter from our friends will help to pass away those long hours so far away from home.

Ed Madenault's office in his garage was broken into on Sunday night and robbed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kane received word that their son Norman had left Lazon on March 29th and hopes to arrive in San Francisco on April 17th.

The sixth and final successful series of picture parties was held on Sunday evening, with 21 tables in play. These parties have been real popular and socially successful.

Grub for Grown-Ups.

Nutritionists remind us that food needs vary with age. In advanced years, they say, protein requirement is reduced. Only a small amount of tissue-building material is needed for body repair. Physical processes and activity having slowed down as we grow older, caloric need from food is reduced.

While the same basic food rules apply to all ages the form and quantity of meals for the elderly differ from those required by younger people. As "age" up in years, our meals should be simple and should consist of easily-digested foods. We need smaller, more frequent meals with warm food, easily chewed.

In putting away heavy winter clothing, be sure that they have been cleaned. If you may have some next time you wear these coats. The washing comes from the fact that winter garments have been soiled as much as those worn in summer.

Control Weeds in Soybeans.

One of the problems in soybean culture is the control of weeds. Competition from weeds can reduce yields considerably and at the same time prevent harvesting problems that may result in a lowered quality of seed. Lack of adequate weed control in the soybean crop restricts the general farm weed control program, says C. W. Owen, Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow, Ont.

The most effective control practices for weeds can be accomplished before the crop is planted. Thorough working of the land to obtain a good seed bed destroys a large number of weed seedlings and provides conditions which will enable the soybean seed to germinate rapidly. The less delay there is between planting and germination of the seed, the greater will be the opportunity to control weeds. For this reason soybean seed should not be planted too deeply. Where weeds are expected to be a menace it is advisable to give the land another working just previous to planting even though this may slightly delay the date of planting.

Once the soybean plants are up, cultivation may begin by using the rotary hoe, or spike-tooth harrow sloping the weeds slightly backwards. Warm, bright weather will be found best for this operation as the dislodged weeds will soon dry up under these conditions. This operation may be repeated at intervals until the plants are about six inches high, keeping in mind the fact that a small weed is much easier to destroy than later when it becomes established.

Soybean crops planted in rows allow later cultivating between the rows with corn or beet cultivators. This is a distinct advantage over the solid drilling method of planting which requires considerably more seed and only lends itself to weed control in the early stages of growth. In later cultivations of rows beans it is advisable to use a weed type of hoe. Most of them have to do with experience and attention to the many small details of breeding, feeding, manure and sanitation. From a breeding or inheritance point of view the sow is mainly responsible for litter size. The boar's influence is later apparent.

New Government Renews Beet Subsidy.

Ontario Growers to Receive $112,500 From Province.

An Ontario Minister Kennedy has announced that the Ontario Government will renew its subsidy of $112,500 to sugar beet growers of the province for the 1947 crop. This was granted as a result of payment for assistance by the growers' association to help defray rising field labor costs. A delegation of growers visited Toronto after Federal authorities announced the Dominion subsidy would be increased by $100,000, or 10 per cent over the 1946 figure. The producers contended that this will bring the total return for 1947 up to parity with sugar received from duty-free imported raw sugar from foreign sources.

This is the fourth year the New Government has given support to Ontario growers to increase sugar beet production and help to relieve the world sugar shortage. In 1941 and 1942 the subsidy granted a maximum of $125,000 and in 1943 this was reduced to $112,500. Canada and Dominion Sugar Company, Ltd., argued that the sugar beet crop in 1946 and 1947 in an effort to secure sufficient acreage to supply both factories. One of the largest of the two Ontario sugar plants—the largest in Canada—has been inoperative for the past five years.

Ontario's sugar beet crop in 1946 was 23,293 acres, an increase of 22 per cent over the previous year. This province's two plants can process beets from 45,000 acres, with an output of 125 million pounds of refined sugar.

Clean Seed Means Profit to Farmers.

All seeds require thorough cleaning and grading to remove weed seeds and chaff, as well as light and shrunk-on kernels. Both experience and experiments have demonstrated the fact that clean seed yield per acre may be expected from the use of large, sound, plump seed rather than from seed which has been poorly cleaned and graded.

In many places in Canada there are well-equipped seed cleaning plants available to farmers, but it may so happen that these seed cleaning establishments may not be conveniently near some of the farmers whose only alternative is to clean their own seed. The farm-sized fanning mill, however, can do a good job if carefully operated. Improper cleaning of seed is due in most cases to lack of proper sieves or screens, or to improper adaptation of the mill. Some of the weed seeds are difficult to separate, but most of them can be removed if proper sieves are used and time is taken to determine the proper combination of size and slope of sieve, shake, air blast and rate at which the seed passes over the sieves.

The labour of cleaning and handling seed on the farm may be reduced considerably where the facilities permit the elevation of the seed from the cleaner to an overhead bin. From this bin, the seed may be spouted back to the fanning mill for a second cleaning. It is necessary to run seed through a farm fanning mill at least twice, and sometimes three times. If seed is to be cleaned a third time, it may be elevated to a second overhead bin which is within spouting distance of the fanning mill, on the floor below.

Circumstances do not shape men, but reveal them.—Lamennais.

THE PICK OF PIPE TOBACCOS

More Pigs Per Litter.

In any discussion of cost of hog production the question of cost of feed, cost of breeding stock, cost of equipment, overhead, and other items must be considered. There is another point of equal importance which is sometimes overlooked and that is the question of the average number of pigs raised per litter, says J. G. Stothart, Division of Animal Husbandry, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. As the yearly cost of maintaining the sow has to be charged to the litter or litters she raises, and as it takes almost as much feed, the main item of expense, for a sow to raise and wean only five pigs as it would if she weaned ten or a dozen, it is obvious that the number over which this cost is spread is particularly important.

There are several factors which influence the number of pigs weaned per litter. Most of them have to do with experience and attention to the many small details of breeding, feeding, manure and sanitation. From a breeding or inheritance point of view the sow is mainly responsible for litter size. The boar's influence is later apparent.

parent on the thrift and type of the pigs, but it is the sow and her care which influence the number born and weaned.

Care and feeding before and during pregnancy is of the utmost importance to the number, health, and vigor of the litter. The sow needs good feed, minerals, and exercise. Iodine in the form of iodized salt is essential in deficient areas if hairlessness is to be prevented.

A warm farrowing pen, its freedom from draughts, its guard rail to prevent the sow crushing the very young pigs, and its cleanliness, are also important.

anaemia, the cause of considerable loss of sucking pigs, is the result of an iron deficiency in the sow's milk and can be remedied in several ways. One of the simplest is to feed each little pig an amount of "reduced iron" equal in size to a tablet of about a quarter inch in diameter when about three, ten and twenty days old.

If after the foregoing details are followed the sow raises a small litter of runt pigs the best place for her is the pork barrel. However, there are not many strains that fail to produce when given the chance and if profit is expected attention to the small item is essential.

At the request of Mayor J. C. Linton, a special meeting of the Essex Chamber of Commerce was held in the Department of Agriculture committee room, on Thursday night of last week.
Mayor Linton, in addressing the members, stated he had had Mr. Felstead call the meeting so that he and the members of the Utilities Commission could place before them a proposed extension to the Essex Water Works System, which is to cost in the neighbourhood of $60,000 and will be voted on by owners of property in town, early in May, following the passing of a bylaw by Council and publishing of same in the Free Press for three weeks.

The proposal is to build a reservoir 150 feet x 180 feet, on the land purchased last fall from Mr. Page, which will hold slightly over one and one-third million gallons of water.

Beet Grower Deal Made.

Terms for the 1947 sugar beet crop growers' contract were agreed on at a special meeting of the Ontario Sugar Beet Growers' Marketing Board negotiating committee and the Canada and Dominion Sugar Company, Saturday.

Withdraw Ultimatum.

Charles Gladman, secretary of the board, stated the refinery has agreed to withdraw its demand for a 50-50 contract in 1947 and at the same time its ultimatum that unless such a contract is adhered to plants at Chatham and Wallaceburg will not be operated this summer.

The agreement ends a statement which began last week when the negotiating committee broke off its attempt to reach an agreement with the company over the 50-50 contract.
Terms of the contract will not be made known until they have been approved by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and the Farm Products Control Board, but it is understood the new contract will be on the basis of the 1946 agreement.

Strike Unlikely.

The agreement ends the danger of a sugar beet producers' strike and will permit issuing of contracts without delaying normal seeding of beets.

Growers at a mass meeting supported the marketing board's stand against the 50-50 contract and said unless a more equitable pact was made they would turn to other cash crops instead of sugar beets this season.
It is understood that at Saturday's meeting the negotiating committee assured the sugar company that a 50-50 contract would be explained to the growers before 1948 contracts were signed and will be considered again next spring.

County Baseball.

By Carson Jessop.

Although the weather is far from thawed out to get baseball out from the hot stove league, spring signs are now around the corner.

The Roseland Club, which was run-up in the North and South Essex Leagues of 1946, are already organizing for the 1947 season, in the hope of taking the title this year. Don Curtis, of the Curtis Automotive Co., who understands, may sponsor the club this year. The club has signed a good roster of veterans and some promising rookie material.

The to no team at Maidstone, some of the old Shamrocks will appear in Roseland union, which will add strength to the Roseland club this year.

By kind permission of Rev. Fr. Gleason, of St. Mary's Church, Maidstone, and the aid of some of the old Shamrock board of works, the Maidstone diamond has been presented for this season's play, and it is believed that Johnny Robinson, former Essex County baseball wizard, will aid the new club with some of his wise baseball tactics.

The slate of officers for the club this year is as follows: Hon. Presidents, Don Curtis, Rev. Fr. Gleason, Ernest Southon, Pat McAniff, and "Spud" Brown, president and manager; Pat Dimond, vice-president; John Robinson, honorary vice-president; Frank McCloskey, secretary-treasurer; Carson Jessop, coach; Marshall Jessop.

Due to the war, a lot of North Essex baseball material has been depleted, but it is hoped that old Sandwich, South will again produce clubs that will be the team of the diamond again. Memories of old fans can't help but recall clubs that were feared through-

Little Girl Writes from Her Native Greece.

The following thank-you letter was received by Jeanette LeBoeuf, of town, from a little girl in Greece. The letter has been translated from Greek into English.

My dear little Jeanette LeBoeuf, Essex, Ontario, Salutations.

"Received a little Comfort with a small note included, which was sent us by the War Fund. I thank you with all my heart for the present I received from you. I hope the good Lord gives you good health, and keep helping the needy."

"The war is over, but the damage done by it is still with us. It is going to be a long time before things get better. I am a young girl 12 years old, who never done harm to anyone, and I hope the Lord gives you plenty and all your family."

"If you want to write me a few words they would be welcome."

"Wishing you a happy Easter, with health and happiness."

out Essex County and Western Ontario. Here are some of them: Old castle U. F. O., once the heart of the county during the Essex Fair days, which would slug a ball out of most parks; then came the light but fast Titans, during the twenties and thirties, which were the king of the old North Essex League for about eight years; the Maidstone Shamrocks, waited along in the early forties and no doubt for them with a lot of respect, a team with a county title and two Ontario intermediate titles, a record that will take a long time to beat.

Now Roseland hopes to rebuild a team in the old township and keep her recall clubs that were feared through-

Essex Town Council.

Monday, March 31st.

Council met, as per adjournment, in special session, with Mayor J. C. Linton, Reeve Irwin and Councillors Chase, Lee, Shaw, Francotte, Maedel and Pulleyblank present.

Dr. L. Crowley, owner of the Grand Central Hotel, addressed Council re-gravelling of parking lot and alley to Talbot street. He also asked Council if town had any bylaw controlling amusements in town. He is considering building an open air dance floor on the back end of his lot next to the building lots facing Alice street. In Windsor permission of the immediate property owners is required and he would expect to get permission here or he would not go to expense of building the floor. Dancing, he stated would stop at 11:30. He also advised Council that he intended building quite an addition to his hotel.

Mr. Francotte promised Dr. Crowley to look after the gravelling of alley and parking lot.

Bylaw No. 1130 was read three times and passed. The bylaw sets up the discounts and penalties on taxes, according to the amendments of the revised statutes of Ontario. The bylaw sets June 30th as date taxes for 1947 are payable at present. During April 15% discount will be allowed, May 1%, and June 1% of 1%. Starting July 1st, 1% of 1% per month will be added. However, those paying their taxes in ten monthly instalments do not pay a penalty after July 1st, if payments are kept up regularly.

Bylaws 1131, 1132, 1133, re salaries for Mayor, members of Council and Public Utilities Commission were read and passed. The salary of Mayor is set at $200, the Reeve and each member of Council and Public Utilities Commission, $100 each.

Mr. Goddes, town solicitor, then explained procedure necessary for a money bylaw to make improvements to local water supply system. He had been in touch by long distance with Dr. Berry, M.O.H. for the Province of Ontario, and had been advised by him that town could proceed, under his authority, without a vote of the people, however he (Dr. Berry) must approve of the plans and specifications but he would give a temporary permit on submitting of tentative plans, in order that Council can give bylaw two readings and submit question to a vote of the ratepayers eligible, but work on project cannot be started no matter what course taken, until final plans have been approved by his office.

Mayor Linton stated that the Public Utilities had not and decided they would like to place matter before members of local Chamber of Commerce. Practically all of whom are property owners and get their recreation to project. A meeting, to which the public is invited, has been called for the agricultural office this Thursday evening.

If Council decided to go ahead, under Dr. Berry's authority, without the vote of the people, four to six weeks of valuable time could be saved.

After a short discussion Council decided to place matter before the people.

On motion of Messrs. Francotte and Shaw, the solicitor was instructed to apply to the Department of Health for a temporary certificate of approval, empowering Council and Public Utilities Commission to go ahead with proposed improvements to the Essex Water Works System.

Earl Pulleyblank tabled a blue print of the Essex Fair Grounds and invited Council, as a whole, to attend a joint dinner and discussion meeting of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Chamber of Commerce and Canadian Legion, to be held in the Aberdeen at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, April 8th.

On motion, Council adjourned.

Keep in Order.

Normal people wind watches regularly, and keep their other precious accessories in good condition, but, complain National Health officers, few people seem to think of the need for maintenance and repair of that most valuable possession of all—their health.

The more finely-balanced a mechanism, the doctors point out, the more care and attention it requires. Neglect is the forerunner of decay and disease. "Which is more important — periodic physical check up and attention to needs of mind and body, or upkeep of material things?" they ask.

NOTICE!

EDGAR MILLS

(Too late for last issue)

Harold Shepley had his arm badly injured while at work on Monday.

Stephen Langlois returned on Monday after spending a couple of weeks in Michigan.

Armed robberies are getting much too common here. Twice at one home is decidedly unusual and most everyone is quite alarmed and the thugs must be caught. George Gould was badly beaten up with a revolver and blackjacks and left bound hand and foot when he resisted four armed bandits Sunday morning about 6.30. After ransacking the place they made their get-away about 8 o'clock.

A shower is being tendered Mr. and Mrs. Clair Elford, at the Ladies' Aid Hall in Gesto, this (Thursday) evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Neice are making extensive improvements in their residence.

Pat Shepley has recovered from his recent illness.

Buck Bellmore has moved to his new home near McGregor. We are sorry to lose them.

PEOPLE ARE ASKING?

Q.—My husband was not working last week when we should have paid our rent. Now my landlord says I must move. Is this right?

A.—The rentals regulations provide that the landlord may take action under the Provincial law if the tenant is behind in his rent 15 days or more. If you pay your rent within the 15 day limit and do not make a practice of paying your rent after it is due no valid proceedings may be taken to evict you on the grounds of arrears of rent.

Q.—I rented a house and some land for one year. May the landlord put me out at the end of the year named in the lease?

A.—It is impossible to answer your letter without further information. If you will let us know the amount of the land involved and the purpose to which it is put we will be able to give you an answer.

Q.—Are potatoes still under ceiling regulations?

A.—No. All fresh fruits and vegetables, with the exception of the 1946 crop of apples, were removed some time ago from ceiling regulations.

Q.—I had some alterations made to my home and the price is much more than the estimate. Can I do anything about this?

A.—The services involved have no ceiling prices but some materials used may have. If you will obtain an itemized account from your contractor we would be able to give you a definite answer as to whether or not you may make an official complaint to the Board.

Seek Help for Farmers.

In co-operation with the Ontario Farm Service Force, the Minister of Education has announced that provision is being made whereby some secondary school pupils may be released from attendance from school after May 23rd, to assist in farm work.

Asks Co-operation.
A carry-over from wartime regulations, the Ontario Farm Service Force is again asking the co-operation of principals and teachers in encouraging pupils to offer their services to farmers.

This extra help on the farms has been made necessary because of the high production costs set for agriculture, and in the past students help has materially assisted in the harvest, besides being a great value to the students.

Regulations.
Regulations covering students who wish to volunteer for farm service are as follows: (Upper school students will not be allowed to participate).

At the discretion of the board, the principal may release from attendance after May 23rd, a middle school candidate, who normally would not be required to write the department examinations, and who has made written application to engage in farm work.

Insofar as it is applicable the plan may be followed with secondary school students, passing from grade to grade, from grade 9 to grade 12.

Representatives of the Ontario Farm Service Force will, where possible, visit schools during March and April to discuss with teachers and pupils plans to enrol students for farm work.

CANADIAN PLOWMEN ABROAD

by CLARK YOUNG, Treasurer, ONTARIO PLOWMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Editor's Note—This is the sixth in the series of weekly articles which Clark Young, treasurer of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, wrote from Britain. He accompanied the tour of Canada's champion plowmen who have just reached home on the Queen Elizabeth.

LONDON (Delayed)—It is quite definite now that our men are to return to Canada without taking part in a single plowing match over here. The tour of the land involved and the purpose to which it is put we will be able to give you an answer.

My last letter was from Belfast while there was still a faint hope that our men might compete. Our itinerary had been rearranged — we were to return to Scotland but later were to make a fast trip back to Ireland to plow.

We had some unexpected free time in Belfast which we used to good advantage. In the evenings we were guests of different groups of young farmers and each day we saw something of particular interest.

On the Tuesday we were shown through the Parliament buildings and spent an hour in the gallery while the house was in session. Wednesday two members of our party were interviewed on the BBC and in the afternoon we attempted to plow but the soil was too frosty.

Thursday we were driven to the University Farm at Hillsborough, where we saw a good herd of milking Shorthorns and a fine lot of large Yorkshire hogs. This farm is similar to the Ontario Agricultural College and has the most modern stables we have seen in Britain. After lunch we motored to Duncannon where we visited the farm of Stephenson & Son, Ltd., manufacturers of linen goods. They are building up a very fine herd of Ayrshire cattle and are preparing for a modern stable. They are also going extensively into poultry, specializing in Rhode Island Reds and Light Sussex.

Belfast Linen Mills.
Friday we were shown through the linen mills of William Ewart & Sons of Belfast. This mill was badly damaged in the blitz and is now being repaired. Part of the factory was operating and we saw the flax processed from the raw state to the finished product.

Saturday noon we were the guests of the Plowmen's Association, along with the Scottish and English contestants. Each of us was presented with a half dozen linen handkerchiefs, just one more example of the warm welcome and kind hospitality we received everywhere.

That evening we took the boat to Scotland and we spent the next few days visiting farms and friends along the western coast. I left the party to go to Ayr and Glasgow to see some relatives and met the boys on Tuesday night when we again took the boat for Belfast. But in Ireland we found that due to the continued cold and the fact that no milder weather was expected, the match could not be held. The local committee had gotten to no end of trouble and expense but nothing could be done.

This had a much more serious meaning than just the cancellation of our contests. Most of the plowing in Britain is conducted during the winter and everywhere the farmers are becoming worried. Because of so much lost time they are behind in their work. Normally many of them would be seeding in the last week in February but now there still is a lot of plowing to be done.

We left Belfast for the last time on Friday night, bound for Liverpool. The sea was very calm as it was on our other crossings, and we were very comfortable on the Ulster Prince.

We docked on Saturday morning and George, Floyd and Austin went on to London; Fred went to visit relatives in Stockton; and I spent a few days in Shropshire. Alex had remained in Belfast to cross over to Glasgow, the following day.

During the few days I was in Shropshire I paid unscheduled visits to sev-

Vitamins in Poultry Feeding.

Farmers know that vitamins are essential to the normal functioning of life processes. The effects of vitamins are somewhat out of proportion to the relatively small amounts required.

Fortunately, most of the vitamins are somewhat out of proportion to the relatively small amounts required. Fortunately most of the vitamins are well distributed in natural products and by using a combination of feed-stuffs the required levels for any vitamin can be met, says M. Novkoff, Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Under adverse conditions, however, as at present when shortages of some essential commodities have to be contended with and when substitutes must be found to supply the lacking nutrients, vitamin containing concentrates have come into prominence. It is important to note that vitamins more than any other nutrient are liable to deterioration with age or under improper conditions of storage and lose their potency or vitamin power. Light, temperature and aeration are only a few factors that may affect them. For this reason it is helpful to become familiar with the symptoms of vitamin deficiencies.

The most prevalent conditions in practice are the marginal shortages which are not sufficiently severe to promote characteristic symptoms of a particular vitamin deficiency but the continued effects produced on poultry are those of general unthriftness, stunted growth and poor feather development in young birds and in adult stock a run down condition resulting in lower egg production. In more severe cases the individual vitamin deficiencies may show up as, for example, curled-toe paralysis, an obvious symptom of a deficiency of riboflavin and perosis, a possible deficiency of the vitamins or folic acid or the mineral manganese.

Fortunately, of the many vitamins required by poultry, only one vitamin A, vitamin D, riboflavin, choline and pantothenic acid, are likely to be lacking in feeds under practical conditions.

It should be emphasized that the plant leaf is the source of most vitamins, and particularly so of carotene, which is the form of vitamin A found in plants. Owing to the rapid deterioration of greens great care should be taken as to proper curing and storage. Vitamin A is also supplied by fish oils; vitamin D by sunshine, and fish oils; riboflavin, by liver meal, yeast, milk products, well cured greenfeeds, distillers or fermentation solubles or synthetic riboflavin; choline, by yeast, fish meal, soyabean and synthetic choline chloride; Panthothenate. Recently it has been shown that factors as yet undetermined, presumably of a vitamin nature, are present in dried distillers' solubles, dried brewers' yeast, dried whey, casein and dried liver.

It should be remembered that natural sources of vitamin concentrates supply other nutrients which are of ten important. Thus when using a synthetic vitamin to satisfy a deficiency, one must be certain that it is the only vitamin lacking and there is a proper balance of all nutrients.

Further information on the subject is given in publication No. 541, "Poultry Feeds and Feeding," available from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

In the Northern Ontario district, from Parry Sound to Rainy River, there is also provision for a vote of the producers by mail. Producers may send their registration in to their Agricultural Representative in these districts, and he will send out a ballot which must be marked, signed and returned to the Agricultural Representative in these districts, not later than April 30th. This provision, however, is not applicable to any of the counties of Old Ontario. All ballots must be returned to the Agricultural Representative not later than April 30th, as any received after that date will not be recorded.

Only one person is allowed to vote from each operating farm unit, but that person may be the husband, wife, son or daughter on the farm. The vote is being taken under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Board, of which G. F. Perkin is chairman. The series of public meetings throughout the Province, however, is being organized by the Ontario Cream Producers' Association. Named in the proposed scheme as the first members of the Ontario Cream Producers' Marketing Board are the following: Crawford Dewar, Braeside; James Gifford, Ennisville; W. J. Wood, Alliston; J. Earl Lane, R. R. 1, St. Ann's; William Rennie, R. R. 3, Fergus; Harry Gowdy, Wroxeter; Louis Davis, Dobbinton; Arthur D. Wilson, Chatham.

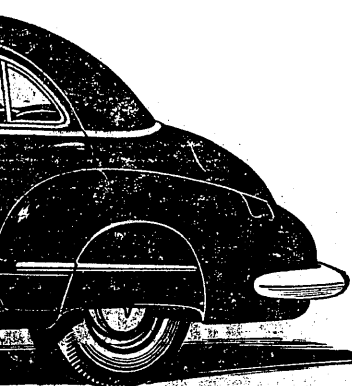

Copies of the proposed scheme may be secured from the agricultural representative's office in each county or district, or at public meetings which are to be held. In this district it will be held on April 7th, in the Agricultural office, Essex, at 5.30 p.m.

Value of Liver.

Canada's food rules, issued from Ottawa, recommend servings of liver at least once a week for health reasons. They declare that few foods are more nutritious than liver, which gives essential food elements in amounts at least equal to those in other meats.

Also liver provides vitamin A for growth and protection against infection, riboflavin, essential for general good health, and iron, needed for formation of red blood cells.

Seed Cleaner Should Know Seeds, Weeds.

A well-operated seed cleaning plant can be of great service to the farmers of the district in which it is situated. Whether or not a plant is thoroughly successful depends primarily on the ability and energy of the operator, but he must have the support of the farmers whom he is serving, said W. H. Wright, Chief Seed Laboratory Services, Dominion Department of Agriculture in a recent address in Toronto.

In addition to thoroughly understanding the operation and capabilities of the machines which he has to operate, the operator of the cleaning plant must know the characters of the seeds, both crop and weed seeds, which he has to handle. To be able to identify the more important and common weed seeds is something which the operator must be able to do himself, unless he is provided with a competent seed analyst who can do the job for him. This knowledge is necessary if thorough cleaning is to be done because all weed seeds can not be removed with equal ease from the different kinds of seeds which pass through the plant. That is particularly true of the small seeds such as alfalfa, clovers, and timothy. Special methods have to be used to remove some kinds of weed seeds.

If a certain lot of seeds is to be offered for sale, it must be cleaned to meet the requirements of the Seeds Act. That cannot be done if the operator is unable to identify the weed seeds which are grouped into four classes in the Regulations under the Act; namely (1) Prohibited; (2) Primary Noxious; (3) Secondary Noxious; and (4) Other Weed Seeds.

The only way an operator can learn to identify weed seeds is to study them carefully. This requires patience and should be done, if possible, under instruction by someone who is thoroughly familiar with them. In the Laboratories operated by the Dominion Plant Products Division, it is considered that it takes at least a year of continuous training to make a reasonable competent analyst capable of making ordinary tests of less difficult seeds, and much longer before all the most difficult seeds can be identified with accuracy. The value of the trained seed analyst is becoming more and more appreciated by seed firms. Most of the analysts employed by seed firms have been trained in government laboratories, and at the request of the seed trade, courses for a limited number of students have been conducted in some of the district laboratories for persons who are already employed by seed firms.

In the observance of the laws of God and in the promise of the Gospel of Jesus Christ there is the best guaranty of peace upon earth and the only hope of eternal life.—Benjamin Harrison.

This successful Kent County farmer has good rich soil for his soybean crop, due to his crop rotation plan. Soybeans, which add some nitrogen to the soil, work well in crop rotations, such as sugar beets, corn, oats, soybeans . . . or corn, soybeans, wheat and clover. That's why each year more and more Ontario farmers plant soybeans. But the Canadian crop must be increased many times to meet Canadian requirements. Victory Mills huge new plant needs over 3,000,000 bushels a year. So there's a ready market for all you can grow!

5 SOUND REASONS FOR GROWING SOYBEANS!

1. Soybeans have a long planting period and are EASY TO GROW, using standard methods of cultivation and standard farm equipment.
2. A profitable CASH CROP. There's a ready market for all you can grow.
3. A real SOIL-BUILDER, improving soil, tilth and adding some nitrogen—soybeans fit into any "crop rotation" planning.
4. Soybeans are a HARDY crop—resistant to drought, light frosts, and heavy rains during growing season.
5. Growing soybeans is BENEFICIAL in its loosening effect on tight, heavy-textured soils.

The case of Pat Sullivan, Communist head of the Canadian Seamen's Union, who renounced Communism and resigned the presidency of the union at the same time, is still causing much comment here and the discussions go much deeper than the particular controversy stirred by the labour leader.

Highlighting the controversies is the claim that both labour and farm organizations have suffered great setbacks when they allowed themselves to become the "arm" of any political party. Among the repercussions was the charge by a former minister in the Saskatchewan government, charging in the legislature that "C.C.F. and communist groups were undermining" a sound approach to labour problems by seeking to purchase political advantage in their dealings with labour unions. It is recognized that the organized farm movement lost much of its effectiveness as a force for the benefit of agriculture when the United Farmers of Alberta organized itself as a political party. The experiment was dropped with the defeat of the U.F.A. government in that province in 1934 and since that time the farmers of Canada have looked with suspicion on any attempts to "use" them on the part of any political parties.

The Class War.

Many believe that the more sinister aspect of the attempts to have labour or farm unions as integral parts of a political party is that this is the Communist pattern in bringing about the "Class War" which all Communists believe is "necessary" and "inevitable."

It is recognized that the socialists have gone a long way along this road of provoking class war and this is blamed very largely on the Communist infiltration into the C.C.F. party. Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan claimed that the C.C.F. in two provinces has been reorganized in an effort to combat this Communist infiltration. Alan Embury, armed forces representative said that Mr. Douglas should not only name communists within the C.C.F. but "let him exploit them." One prominent C.C.F. member in the Saskatchewan legislature, Jacob Benson, M.L.A., criticized his party severely for broken promises and claimed that labour in Canada has lost farmer support "because of unreasonable demands." I'm not afraid to tell the House that I have no use for any Communist or Communist organization. A Liberal member of the legislature concurred and said, "The heart of labor was never sounder than it is today, but there were those outside of labour who did not have the Interests of labour at heart." "It is regrettable that class should be set against class in Saskatchewan." This seems to be a strongly expressed sentiment in all of Canada today.

D. P. Controversy.

One ever-live topic in Ottawa, it is the question of Dominion-Provincial relations. A new angle was added impetus when Premier Drew of Ontario criticized a well known and highly respected publicist and commentator, Wilfred Eggleston, for the statement that "The budget statements of Ontario and Quebec destroy any hope which may have remained that tax agreements could have been reached soon with all nine of the provinces and a new conference called later on this year to discuss social welfare measures and public investments."

Mr. Eggleston was on the secretariat of the Rowell-Sirois Commission which investigated all the factors in Dominion-Provincial relations, and speaks with a great background of knowledge. Speaking to one of Ottawa's many "discussion lunch groups" last week he showed that the commission was appointed in 1937 because the division of revenues and responsibilities laid down at the time of Confederation had broken down when faced with the depression of the 1930's and the government sought to equalize against any possibilities of the future.

The Critical Future.

It is quite generally recognized in Canada that our economy is dependent to a great extent on external trade and external amicable relations on every front. While Canada is doing everything it can to promote greater trade and peaceful world we must recognize the difficulties that are in the way. Only because of his interest in seeing Canada prepare itself to meet any situation that might occur does Mr. Eggleston feel it necessary to speak seriously to Canadians now. "Perhaps," said Mr. Eggleston "the time has already passed when a settlement can be reached, it is almost two years since the end of the war." He went on to say that it is a question which transcends party politics. It was not necessary to allocate blame for the past; if Canada was to avert possible great hardship and dislocation all Canadians must work for a new Dominion-Provincial charter now.

Ration Coupon Due Dates.

Coupons now valid are: sugar, 82¢ to 24¢; butter, 11¢ to 14¢. Next coupons become valid are: sugar, 84¢ and 84¢ and butter, 15¢ on April 17th.

Prescription Drugs.

Unless armed with medical prescriptions, Canadians cannot buy some drugs over a drug store counter. Health authorities who have drawn up, and enforce, regulations to protect health in this field, explain that such restrictions are essential.

Such drugs, they say, have a very narrow margin between what is effective and what is positively dangerous. Further, the unregulated use of such medicines could lead to conditions which may progress to a serious degree before the sufferer is aware of them.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

THE DISABLED DESERVE AN EQUAL CHANCE!

Don't make the mistake of thinking that physical disabilities are job handicaps. It's what a person can do, not what he cannot do, that counts! Frequently the loss of one capacity or faculty is compensated for by the development of another. The disabled want only a chance to compete with their fellows on equal terms. Analyze the physical requirements of the job you want filled and try a disabled Canadian, capable of doing it 100%. You'll not only be helping him, you'll also be displaying "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Children's Aid Annual Meet- ing.

Stressing the ever-increasing cost of operating a County Children's Aid Society, Frederick G. Gardner, K.C., of Forest Hills, Toronto, president of the York County Children's Aid Society, and a member of York County Council, being reeve of Forest Hills, spoke before over one hundred persons at the annual meeting of the Essex County Children's Aid Society, held in the basement of the Town Hall, Essex, on Thursday evening of last week.

The speaker stated that the York County Society covered an area of 20 miles by 50 miles, with a population of 260,000 people, very comparable to the Essex County Society.

In 1936 the cost to York County was $50,000, while he had asked his council for $225,000 for 1947.

Since becoming a member of the board in York County, he stated, he made it a point to bring before the council a statement of how much of the budget represented legal liability and how much additional cash was required for protective work done under the C.A.S.

"Since I have followed that practice,
I have found that the county council is infinitely more interested in our work and is ready to provide very substantial funds in excess of its legal liability," he said.

Objections raised in council are not objections to the money spent by the society so much as to the system whereby the community shoulders the cost. Mr.
Gardner went on to show why, to a great extent, it is better for the municipality to share in the cost of the work that is being done within its boundaries.

"You realize, as well as I do, that the financial burden of children's aid is increasing at an alarming rate," he repeated. "Those of us who operate children's aid societies must have a practical realization of what is going on — we are becoming a burden upon some charge upon municipalities which provide the major amount of our working capital. I don't know what the situation is in Windsor, but complaints are coming in suggesting that the government take the burden from the municipality."

He said the opinion that it would be a wrong step for the province or the Dominion to take over the control and direction of C.A.S. work in a state operated plan.

"Children's Aid would lose its most valuable asset if it lost the kind, considerate and charitable interest of these private citizens who expend so much of their time, energy and effort," he insisted.

He outlined the responsibility of the municipality in the problems of child care.
The Children's Protection Act, the work of the shelters, the maintenance of wards and the preventive services of the C.A.S. came under discussion. Preventive actions, he said, are not part of the responsibility, but the work done along these lines, he felt, had equal importance with the work done after children actually became wards of the society.

"I am confident," he said, "that your municipality representatives will readily agree that monies expended for protection work are not only socially advisable but are the best insurance that it can provide that wards for whom they are legally responsible will be kept at a minimum."

Turning to the question of workers to staff the C.A.S. branches, he told of a severe shortage in Ontario at the present time. Keen competition for their services is resulting in substantially increased salaries, with minimum rates ranging around $1,900 a year. To take on workers at these rates, salaries of present workers also must be adjusted.

"It seems to me that social workers should be able to attain their academic qualifications in a shorter time than is now required," he remarked. "At present they need a B.A. for entrance to a bachelor degree in social work and three years for a master's degree." The worker, when she is ready to enter the field, is 23 or 24, at a marriageable age, and the investment is likely to pay her few dividends.

"If the situation continues, it seems to me that our societies will have to undertake their own training facilities," he said.

In opening his address Mr. Gardner congratulated the Essex Society for having such a fine superintendent as Mr. Dawson, also the executive and staff, for the work they are doing in the county, as he gained from spending the afternoon at the Shelter in Windsor. He said he had learned a few things while he was going to take back to York County.

Mr. Bulmer, the outgoing president, as chairman, in his opening remarks gave all the credit to his executive, the directors and the very efficient staff, for the splendid work being done by the Essex County Children's Aid Society.

J. K. McLean, of Harrow; James Gow, of Windsor; and Reeve Leclair, of La Salle, added a few words, Mr. Gow extending thanks from the City of Windsor to the Board and its staff for the splendid work they were doing. J. C. Linton, Mayor of Essex, extended greetings from the town.

Executive Board.
President, J. G. Turnbull, of Andover Township;
vice-president, B. H.

Serves Twenty-Five Years.

L. W. Allison has resigned the secretary-treasuryship of the Essex High School District Board, after serving in the office for 25 years. He was appointed secretary-treasury of the Essex High School Board 25 years ago, on the resignation of the late William Chatterton. He continued on in office when the Essex Board of Education was formed 21 years ago. However when the local Education System reverted back to a High School and Public School Board, Mr. Allison now finds the High School Board work too heavy and detailed so he resigned, but is staying on as secretary-treasury of the Public School Board.

At a special meeting of the High School Board one night last week, Arthur Milne was appointed to fill the position.

Fire Destroys Farm Home.

Fire of unknown origin, but which started in the roof, completely destroyed the practically new farm home of Percy Birch, on the 11th Con., Gosfield North, about 9.30 on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Birch had retired for the night and was awakened by the fire. Mrs. Birch was not at home. Neighbours soon gathered, as did the members of the Cottam fire brigade, and together they saved most of the furniture, while the village firemen saved all the other buildings, the garage, which was but very few feet from the home, not being even scorched.

Easter Seals.

Next week will be the final week of the sale of Easter Seals for Crippled Children. Sponsored in Essex by the Rotary Club, the Seals sale has brought in almost $1,700 already from the generous hearts and hands of folks in this district. We hope to reach the two thousand dollar mark, so if you haven't sent in your gift, do so right now in care of the Essex Rotary Club, Box 389, Essex. The Ontario Society for Crippled Children with offices in the Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, has ambitious plans for bringing hope and cheer to hundreds of crippled boys and girls in our province. Their "Doing is in direct proportion to your 'Giving.' Do your best, won't you!"

Essex Clubs Promote Park.

At a joint dinner meeting of the Kinsmen Club, Rotary Club, Canadian Legion, Chamber of Commerce and Sportsmen's Club, held Tuesday night, plans for a memorial park were discussed and a committee composed of the club presidents named.

Stanley, president of the Legion, told the meeting of the plan which had been fostered by the Legion and showed blueprints which had been prepared. He proposed that July 1st be known as "Essex Town Day" and the activities of the day be sponsored by all the clubs, with the profits going to the memorial park project.

After a discussion it was generally agreed that the fair grounds should be sufficiently lighted on July 1st as a first step in a program extending over a number of years, to provide a place for athletic activities.

National Barley Contest.

The $25,000 National Barley Contest inaugurated in 1946 will be repeated again this year. The purpose of the contest is to promote the quality of Canadian barley and to encourage the production of high quality barley.

In making the announcement, the contest officials said that last year's contest attracted intense interest from farmers and that there had already been a considerable improvement in the quality of Canadian barley. This year's contest is open to all farmers interested in the production of high quality barley.

The National Barley Contest is sponsored by the Government of Canada and the Canadian Barley Growers' Association. The contest is open to all farmers in Canada who produce barley. The contest is held annually and the winner receives a cash prize of $25,000.

The contest is held in two stages. The first stage is a preliminary contest held in the fall. The second stage is the final contest held in the spring. The winner of the final contest receives the $25,000 prize.

Fall Recreation.

Even with summer holidays a pleasant memory only, recreation should not be neglected, warns the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. While waiting for the opportunity to enjoy outdoor sports again in the winter months, the department recommends "daily dozen" setting-up exercises for keeping fit, and reminds seekers after health that there is always opportunity for hiking and cycling.

The measure of choosing well, is, whether a man likes and finds good in what he has chosen.—Lamb.

Breeding and Environment in Poultry Keeping.

Quality in poultry is the result of heredity and of environment. Inherited characters can be reproduced in succeeding generations but characters which are the result of the environment are not passed on to the progeny. Nutrition, management, housing and climate are examples of environmental factors, says A. S. Johnson, Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

It has been found that differences in growth rate and fleshing between different flocks of the same breed are caused chiefly by environmental factors. Mature body weight depends to a greater extent on heredity.

Egg production has been developed through many generations, combined with increasingly good management. Breeding played an important part in developing chickens to a point where they have the ability to lay 200 eggs per year. Improvement beyond a certain point is apt to be slow and uncertain, however, due to the complexity of the genetic basis for egg production. The difference in production found between various flocks of the same breed are due, chiefly, to differences in management and general environment of the birds. Fertility and hatchability are also affected by environment although genetic factors likewise are of importance. These conclusions as to the interaction and relative effects of heredity and environment are the results of carefully controlled experiments conducted on the Dominion Experimental Farms where exchanges of stock were made between locations having consistent differences in the performance of their flocks. When stock from several locations was raised under the same environment the differences which had been previously observed disappeared in the case of most of the characters being observed. If they did not disappear and only then could the importance of strain rather than the environment be stressed.

It appears that the following recommendations to poultry keepers are sound:

1. Start with good stock of a suitable breed from a reliable hatchery or breeder.
2. Place extreme importance on proper care for the birds from day-old to maturity. If brooding or subsequent rearing is defective stunted chicks are likely to result which may either die or be delayed in maturing. The adult birds will not give the same performance that they would had they been raised properly.

3. The laying performance of the average flock depends to a great extent on feeding and general management.

4. Approved methods of feeding and management combined with practical ability and experience will give good results in the production of poultry meat, commercial and hatchling eggs. Using breeds of recognized merit these will be very potent forces in determining the success of the operator.

The strongest principle of growth lies in human choice.—George Eliot.

Medicine Dosages.

People who take more than the prescribed dose of medicines are taking chances with their very lives, say health authorities.

CANADIAN NATIONAL
THE RAILWAY TO EVERYWHERE IN CANADA

Recommendation to Department Lands and Forests.

That the tourist traffic is highly important to the Province of Ontario is apparently beyond argument. There is no doubt that visitors to the Province spent a great deal of money here to the general financial benefit of the Province. So much is this so that everyone, including the Government, tried to increase the number of people visiting the Province.

People seem to have acquired the idea that the tourist traffic is profitable and that there is no expense attached to it, but this is not correct. Among the people who come to this province are a large number of hunters and anglers, who kill our game and take our fish. These people, of course, are welcome and are within the law, but it would be well to take stock of the effects which outside hunters have on our game, as these people have cut considerable importance on the tourist traffic. This may not be so easy to do in the winter parts of the province, but the south-western counties bordering the United States can give some idea of this. The deterioration in the amount of small game is very noticeable.

Essex, Kent and Lambton Counties are within a stone's throw of an area populated by three million people. It does not take any elaboration to prove that the three counties mentioned have been badly off. Unless something is done immediately to protect game life, artificial means there would be any game. Once we have reached the stage when our game is extinct the hunters will not come here to hunt and fish as they are doing now. Once they stop coming, the government will lose considerable revenue that they are now paying here in the form of license fees.

We suggest that it is in the public interest to establish proper and sufficient hatcheries for hatching and raising birds for education in these counties. We further suggest that areas should be set aside as game preserves to serve as places of refuge for birds and other small game.

For sixteen years we have been in touch with considerable money to further the work of propagation and preservation. We have maintained a proper equilibrium between the farmer and the urban dweller, and we can afford some more now. We have to do this to protect the public health. The future of these counties depends on the protection of game as they now are, any more.

We respectfully recommend that the government of the Province of Ontario take the necessary steps immediately to increase the supply of small game in places where it is subject to intense hunting, and we would name, as the districts most seriously affected, the Counties of Essex, Kent and Lambton.

Under the auspices of the Young People's Union of Cottam, Albion, Essex, Kent and North Riding United Church, an Easter service will be held in North Riding United Church at 7:30 a.m. on Easter Day, April 21st. The service will be conducted by Charles V. P. U., assisted by Ewart Clark, Dan Gamble, Grace Colnett, Fay Mulbas, and Doris Hunter. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered by Rev. Stanley R. Johnston.

SPRING TRAINING CAN BE STRENUOUS

It's so easy to greet the Spring with too much enthusiasm. Whatever your outdoor recreation—golf, gardening, tennis or any other—take it easy for a while! Muscles that have hibernated all Winter will exact "stiff" payment for your exuberance. Hearts, like automobiles, should be accelerated from low to second to high—but never started in high! So avoid strains and sprains. Keep healthy—that's "Good Citizenship"!

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

While there's a thrill in watching a sports event, there's more health in active participation in games. This reminder is issued by the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, in a bulletin which calls on those interested in health to "climb down from the grandstand and take part in some game." Fun and fitness, the department points out, go hand in hand.

C. A. Keeley County Clerk.

Clair A. Keeley, popular and well-known young farmer of Colchester North, who has been Clerk of the township for the past ten years, and prior to that assistant to his grandfather, the late A. C. Atkinson, was appointed to the office of County Clerk at a special meeting of Essex County Council, held on Thursday of last week. The office became open when W. P. Coyle, Clerk for many years, resigned because of advancing years. He is 75 years of age.

Mr. Keeley, who is 32 years of age, was chosen by a vote of 20 to 2 over J. Cahill, the present County Warden. We commend the members of Council on their choice, as we know of no other young man with his municipal experience and background.

At a special meeting of Colchester North Council, held on Monday evening, Clair resigned as Clerk-Tax Collector of Colchester North. He will take over his new duties May 1st.

Moran-Brett Nuptials.

St. Paul's Anglican Church, Essex, was the scene of a lovely wedding, on Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, when Rev. J. H. Whelan, in a double ring ceremony, united in marriage Miss Betty Lou Brett, daughter of Mrs. Bernice Brett, of Leamington, and the late R. R. Brett Jr., and Sgt. Bryce Moran, A.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moran, of San Antonio, Texas, formerly of Leamington.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, A. G. Cascadden, chose for her wedding a powder blue gabardine dressmaker suit with rose accessories, and wore orchid corsage, while Miss Gloria Wales, Leamington, her bridesmaid, was dressed in a pale blue wool tailored dress with black accessories, and wore a corsage of roses. Max Moran, of Leamington, a cousin, assisted the groom. Music for the wedding was played by Mrs. J. A. Nightingale, of Essex.

Following the ceremony a reception for the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. A. G. Cascadden.

The happy young couple left on a short honeymoon and on their return will visit for a few days with friends and relatives in Essex and Leamington. Sgt. Moran will report back to his unit on May 4th.

Mrs. Sam George Passes.

Mrs. Deba George, aged 68, of Belle River, widow of Sam George, died Sunday at Hotel Dieu following an illness that lasted one week. She was born in Syria and had lived in Belle River only four years, moving there from South Woodlee, where she and her late husband had owned a general store and lived there for 30 years.

She was a member of the Catholic Women's League of SS. Simon and Jude Church, Belle River.

Mrs. George is survived by two sons, Dr. George George, of Windsor, and William George, of Toronto; also two daughters, Mrs. Clifford Wales (Margaret) of Woodlee, and Mrs. George A. Renaud, (Rose) of Tecumseh; nine grandchildren; two brothers, Joseph, of Belle River, and Michael, of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Services were conducted on Wednesday at 8.45 a.m. from the residence of Dr. George George, 2039 Richmond street, Windsor, to SS. Simon and Jude Church, Belle River at 10 a.m. Burial was in Woodlee cemetery.

Jim Flood Awarded Best Actor

Jim Flood, who portrayed the role of a crusty old bachelor, brought home to Maidstone, last week, the Border City Young People's Union Award for best actor, in their two-day dramatic festival, held at Lincoln Road United Church, Windsor. Awarded honourable mention for her performance as Amarela Rand, the bachelor's former sweetheart, was Mrs. Margaret King. The Maidstone Young People's Union won runner-up position with the comedy, "All Cares to the Rescue," and was the only country charge represented in the festival in which five United Church Young People's groups took part.

The winning play in the Festival was presented by the Young People's Union of Ottawa United Church. This play will compete with the winning play in a drama festival sponsored by Anglican Young People's groups, at Walkerville Collegiate, on Monday, April 24th.

Ninety persons from the Maidstone charge, many of whom had seen "All Cares to the Rescue" once or even twice, when it was given at the Maidstone church hall the previous Thursday and Friday evenings, turned out to support the young actors and actresses in the Windsor dramatic competition. They applauded vigorously when the "best actor" award was given to Mr. Flood, president of the Y. P. A., when Mrs. King received honourable mention, and Mrs. Parough commended for the the flair for comedy she showed in her role of Darlene Dummett, the bachelor's athletic fiancée.

Other members of the cast were Miss Ruth Chapman, Miss Lois Knight, Bill Gerard, John Greaves and Miss Beulah Knight, and Mrs. Parough commended for the the flair for comedy she showed in her role of Darlene Dummett, the bachelor's athletic fiancée.

Mrs. Thomas Cunningham directed the play and Ralph Dawson was stage manager.

County ExWarden Meet.

A. A. Marentette County Sheriff, was elected president of the Association of County Ex Wardens, at a meeting held in the Aberdeen Hotel, on Wednesday. Other officers elected were: Fast president, E. S. Scratch; 1st vice-president, James Gow; secretary-treasurer, W. B. Clifford. Instead of having a guest speaker, all present were called on for a few words, each reminding of their association with County Council work. Highlights were: D. M. Eagle. He, with Mr. Reynolds had never missed a meeting since the Association was formed, also that today is St. George's Day, a holiday in England, and the 33rd anniversary of the birth of the great English writer, Shakespeare, Thomas Plant. He had sat on County Council for 15 years and missed only two meetings of the Association. A. McKenney, "I came to Essex County in 1907, when the Provincial Government first opened the agricultural offices in the province, and we well remember when Warden was Reeve of Essex, and County Warden in 1911," he said. He also told how co-operative County Council had always been in agricultural matters. E. B. Reynolds: Praised county officials, stating the county credit was very high, with no financial worries. W. H. Knister: He stated he had served under all Wardens present, except Mr. McCausland. H. C. Cada: Spoke a few words on county finances, stating county spending had increased $80,000 over five years ago.

A. A. Marentette. Dealt with the increased cost of criminal justice, which was $200,000 more in 1946 than 1945. Wilfred Gravel. Gave a brief resume of the work county assessors had done, and stated some municipalities were not co-operating the way they should. J. McLean: Urged all to attend the annual fall cruise to Pelee Island, stating last year was his first visit, but he wasn't going this miss anniversary as long as his health permitted.

Those present were ex-Wardens E. S. Scratch, E. McCausland, D. M. Eagle, A. A. Marentette, P. Grondin, Thomas Plant, James Armstrong, J. McLean, W. B. Clifford and Leo Sylvestre; E. B. C.N.I.B. Campaign Opens This Week.

This week let's think about our blind neighbours. Let's give all we can to The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The work it does means the difference between idleness and activity, poverty and employment, despair and hope to blind people all over Canada. When we help the C.N.I.B., we're not just keeping the wolf from a blind man's door — though that is important too, we're helping to restore his independence, his ability to stand on his own feet and to fill a valuable place in the community.

This is the work that we are helping to do when we contribute to the current campaign of the C.N.I.B. Think while through the services of the Institute. Think how we would appreciate such service if we were blind — and let us give with a free hand to continue the good work.

Essex W. I. will sponsor a Tag Day in Essex on Saturday, May 3rd.

Farm House Plans.

Five thousand blue prints and about 30,000 offset printed sheets of building plans and details were mailed direct to 4,000 applicants by the Architect's Office, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, during the financial year ended March 31st, 1946. The demand for farm house plans and for live stock, poultry, and service buildings is large and increasing. The plans and information sheets are designed particularly for small farms and are available for general distribution. During the year, the Architect's Office prepared plans, specifications and sketches for several large agricultural and technical buildings during the year.

Hespeler Old Boys' Reunion.

Arrangements have been completed to billet a minimum of 4000 guests each night, or a total of 24,000 for the week — during the Hespeler Old Boys' Reunion, from June 30th to July 6th.

Due to the widespread interest in the event among the one-time Hespelerites in every Canadian Province and many parts of the United States, Fred Hutchings, billeting chairman, has issued a statement assuring all old boys and girls coming from a distance that ample sleeping accommodation has been arranged in Hespeler and nearby points. It is conservatively estimated that during the week the 3,400 residents of Hespeler will play host to 100,000 former residents and friends from western and central Ontario.

The committee is anticipating considerable help in billeting from citizens and will provide tents available for rental to townspeople, the chairman explained. The 300 homes here have offered a minimum of three beds each, or accommodation for a total of 2,400.

The committee has also ordered 700 cots and requests for their use already have been received. Every possible hotel room in the vicinity has been reserved for visitors. In addition a survey has been made of the seven Sunday schools, the gymnasium, two elementary schools and other public buildings for potential billeting space so that every old boy and girl will be assured of adequate sleeping quarters.

Mr. Hutchings reported that already 2,600 families of former Hespelerites have registered for accommodation for all or part of the week.

Tick, tick, tick, tick,
Another second gone,
Tick, tick, tick, tick,
Time keeps marching on.

Back and forth the pendulum Keeps swinging steadily,
The music of the old clock
Is a pleasant melody.

As you sit about day dreaming
Listening to its gentle tone,
It brings back old memories
Makes you feel you're not alone.

Tick, tick, tick, tick,
Through smiles and tears,
Measuring off the seconds,
All through the years.

The Larder.

What just happens to be left over in the larder isn't quite good enough for your meals, from a nutritional point of view, at least. This is made clear by the Department of National Health and Welfare, which has issued a reminder to housewives to stock up carefully, so that there will always be healthful food on hand. The department invites applications for its free booklet entitled, "Canada's Food Rules," of interest to all home-makers.

Drying Corn Seed.

Studies of the artificial drying of ear corn intended for use as seed show that drying temperatures of 105 degrees to 110 degrees F. are satisfactory for corn containing up to about 35 per cent moisture in the kernels at the time of harvest, according to the experiments carried out by the Division of Forage Plants, Dominion Experimental Farms Service, Wheat

ing a reduction in the percentage germination and slowing down the rate of emergence from the soil of those kernels which do not germinate. Continued studies by the Division on the crib storage of corn indicate that ear corn containing up to 35 per cent moisture at harvest can be safely stored in this manner under the conditions at Ottawa.

PLAN A VEGETABLE GARDEN THIS SPRING

It may be too early to plant, but it's not too soon to plan your vegetable garden now. You'll save a lot of time later by laying it out on paper, because you'll know just what seed to sow, how much to buy, and where to sow it! Vegetables—from your own miniature farm—fresh and full of vitamins—are health insurance for the whole family and consequently, the community itself. Any individual activity that so benefits everyone certainly comes under the heading of "Good Citizenship."

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

St. John's School Club Hold Meeting.

(Crowded out last issue)
St. John's School Club, Woodlee met Sunday afternoon last in the club room. The local school trustees were present. Everyone enjoyed an interesting and stimulating address by John Aylesworth, who is in charge of the recently established Dominion Experimental Farm sub-station on Highway 98, just west of the school. Refreshments were served.

School Trustees Charles Fureth announced that Mr. Abbott, who has successfully drilled and brought in a supply of good water for the farm sub-station, will this week look over the site to determine where a new well will be drilled for the school's water supply.

There was unanimously approved a resolution addressed to Bishop Kidd, of London, urging early consideration be given by the Diocesan committee to the establishment of a new high school at Woodlee.

Mr. Aylesworth reviewed a short history of the Dominion Experimental Farms. He said the local sub station planned on two, three and four crop rotation and would specialize in hybrid corn for the present. The audience was reminded of the great demand for trained specialists in the agricultural field, not only for farm work but by industries such as meat packing, fertilizer and spray manufacturers and food processors.

In charge of refreshments were Mrs. Alphonse Murphy and Mrs. Lucy Le-mire. The tastefully decorated tea table was presided over by Mrs. A. H. Teller, president of the C.W.L., and Mrs. Charles W. Diemer, president of the Altar Society.

Among those also present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Bissonnette, Rev. Edward G. Doe, Mrs. C. C. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Diemer, Mrs. Reg. Doe, Otis Fureth, Norbert Loebach, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Seguin, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Chevalier, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Chauvin, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dahl, P. Bourdeau, Michael Byrne, Ernest LaPlante, Miss Catherine McHugh, Miss Ann Mooney, Gabriel McPharlin, Mrs. Achille Mousseau, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mulline, Mrs. Leonard Pleschke, Herman Robillard, Sy Strong and Lawrence Tracey.

County Baseball.

By Carson Jessop.

With some three weeks to go before Essex County's foremost sport — baseball — swings into action on some sixteen diamonds, two of the main leagues in the county are rushing plans to be ready for an active season.

The North and South Essex League met in the Aberdeen Hotel, Essex, on Sunday, to complete plans for its line-up in the competition for this coming season.

Joe Daely, veteran Woodlee baseball boss, sat again at the chair to gather his followers for another hot season. Eight teams will again fight it out for top place.

McGregor, Point Pelee, Woodlee, Roseland, Busy Bee, Malden, Belle River and Stoney Point placed their names in the hat this year.

There was some idea that a nine-team league would be formed, but the old clubs voted down a nine-team league.

Dominion Golf Club were quite interested in getting a franchise but were squeezed out when the old clubs refused to budge on the idea of an extra team.

It is expected that the North and South League will get under way the first or second Sunday in May. The league was scheduled to start earlier but due to inclement weather this year the time was set back to give clubs a better chance to get in shape and give county fans something for their two-bits worth.

This North and South League, although a junior league in the county, if it continues its progress will, in time, rival the county league.

The County League, starting with a brand new executive, will continue as of last year, made up of clubs from the towns mainly in the county. From reports it is underway with the same eight teams that slugged it out for top rungs in the county senior circuit. Tecumseh, Belle River, Leamington, Essex, Kingsville, Harrow and Amherstburg, will cross bats again.

You fans have a lot to choose from in the way of baseball throughout the county this year. Give them the support they deserve.

It was rumoured that Tilbury intended to step out of the County League this year. Reports are that Tilbury will still maintain their berth in the league. McGregor was after a berth to step into a little faster competition but will remain in the North and South League to try and hang onto the first place berth they held last year after a tussle with "Pat" Dumouchelle's Roseland crew.

The dark horse in the county league this year, from all sports authority, will be the Kingsville club. Two teams in that town — the county team and the Canadian Legion club — this year have joined to form one club, which will bolster their roster considerably, and who knows what that will do to some of last year's clubs like the top teams, such as Leamington Barons and the Tecumseh Indians.

There was some idea that a nine-team league would be formed, but the old clubs voted down a nine-team league.

AN ODD MANIA, BUT...

Breaking windows is an odd and expensive mania that most sane people manage to control. Breaking insulators on Hydro poles, or shattering street lights, is an even more costly pastime that an astonishing number of boys and men fail to curb.

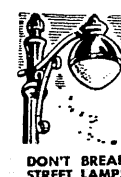

An insulator or street light sits up so invitingly... and, to the uninformed seems such a small and insignificant piece of equipment that it presents a tempting target. Few people would break insulators or street lights if they understood the damage that can result.

A broken insulator can cause a short circuit and cut the service on a line. The homes, the factory, the hospital or the stores depending on that line are cut off from power until the insulator can be replaced. Housewives are inconvenienced. Factories can be stopped with possible pay losses to the workers. Human lives can be endangered, especially in a hospital.

Broken street lights imperil both foot and vehicle traffic, and create an invitation to crime.

To repair damaged insulators and replace broken street lights requires men, trucks and possibly miles of travel. It all adds up to a big price for a target... and Hydro consumers pay that price.

Please use your influence at every opportunity to prevent the deliberate or careless destruction of public property.

Proposed Reservoir Discussion Open Letter to Ratepayers of the Town of Essex.

When you elected me as Mayor for the 1947 term, I promised the electors
I would do what I could to improve the town's water supply.

After many meetings and much discussion with the members of the Utilities Commission, and after an interview with the Department of Municipal Affairs and Provincial Department of Health, we have come to a decision that the increased reservoir supply is the only practical solution to our problems that this corporation can afford.
Although Department permission could have been obtained without a vote, the Council very democratically have decided to put this question to the ratepayers in the form of a money bylaw, for your approval, and in this
I am in complete accord.

Our present reservoir was completed in 1922, at which time we were using the Garrow well, and a well at the present waterworks location, which is now discontinued. In the intervening years we have brought in three new wells, with no additional storage capacity. Also while the town's population at that time was around 1,800, the number of homes with bath and toilet installations numbered about 50. These have increased so at the present time there are over 360 installations and these are being added yearly. The average daily quantity of water used by a toilet is 40 gallons.

The present usable reservoir capacity is less than 200,000 gallons. This we propose to increase to 1,500,000 gallons. This will allow greater aeration of the water and eliminate the sulphur gas, which is the cause of the disagreeable taste and odour.

There has been some comment against an open reservoir, but we did not decide on this type only because it is considerably cheaper, but because we feel that air and sunlight are the best agents we can use to improve the quality of our water. I would also like to point out that practically all of the large centres use the open type reservoir, i.e., Chatham, Toronto, Montreal, etc. This water will be filtered and chlorinated before being pumped to the town system.

Now, a word about the cost. Building costs at the present time are high, but our need is imminent. The $60,000 referred to in the bylaw represents the maximum cost. It could be considerably less than this amount, in which case the debentures will be reduced by the difference. But using this figure, the individual cost to the householder will show an increase of not more than 30c per month. Other communities in the county have spent, or are proposing to spend, much larger amounts on water supply. I refer to Wheatley with an expenditure of $90,- 000 and Belle River with an expenditure exceeding $100,000, also the town of Tilbury is faced with a further water supply expenditure. All these communities are using lake water.

In conclusion I would point out that if in years to come the City of Windsor should come close enough with their pipe lines to supply our town, an appropriate reserve supply would still be necessary to satisfy fire underwriters.

This article is prepared for those ratepayers who will find it impossible to attend the public meeting in the town hall, on Friday, May 2nd, at which time we will have a full and free discussion of this project and questions will be answered. Come if possible.

The Copelands Coming to Essex United.

What promises to be one of the greatest musical nights ever held in Essex and district is scheduled for Essex United Church, on Monday, May 5th, when Rev. Thos. Duff Copeland, former internationally known concert pianist and entertainer, from Aberdeen Scotland, and his wife, Mrs. Charlotte Copeland, formerly Charlotte Williams, singer and radio artist, now called "The Gospel Singer of a Generation, and Rev. John Hunter, former pastor of First Baptist Church, Essex, now of Detroit, will conduct a community-wide service of song, music and message.

M. H. Implement Dealers' As- sociation Meet in Essex.

A meeting of the Implement Dealers' Association was held in the Town Hall, Essex, on Thursday, April 24th, with dealers present representing all farm implement companies from Lambton, Kent and Essex Counties.
After a chicken dinner, which was served by the Rebecca Lodge, and enjoyed by the seventy members, the president, G. L. Guest, of Chatham, extended a welcome to all.

The minutes of the last meeting, which was held at Forest, was given by the secretary, Ernie Hanson, also of Chatham, in his informative and humorous manner. Several items of business were discussed, and A. L.
Thompson, who is president of the Ontario organization, gave a favourable report on the executive meeting recently held in Toronto.

The guest speaker for the evening was J. M. Reed, sales manager for the Ontario Branch of Massey-Harris
Co. His topic was "What the farmer expects of the Implement Dealer," and he used the headings of the Implement Dealer's certificate, which all members have displayed in their place of business.

In Mr. Reed's opening remarks, he congratulated the Implement Dealers' Association on their organization, and stated that the management of his company was passing encouraging words to dealers to join, who are not already affiliated with this organization.
Mr. Reed also pointed out that dealers should be well read in current events and be in a position to discuss with his customers their problems pertaining to farm operations such as the purchasing of good seed, cattle, etc.
Agriculture was fast becoming a business and farmers everywhere were better educated, and purchases were made in a businesslike manner, and no dealer should sell to any farmer any equipment that he does not need.
In closing, Mr. Reed mentioned the advantage to the farmer of having a good service shop and pleasant show rooms, with accommodations for the farmer and his family.
Mr. Reed was accompanied by G.
Platt, Western Ontario Supervisor for Massey-Harris Co., who voiced his appreciation for having the opportunity of being a guest at this meeting.
Thanks was extended Len Black for accommodation provided, and Mr.
Black was asked to convey to the ladies the appreciation of the group for the sumptuous dinner.

Suit is Dismissed.

(Crowded out last issue)

Drainage Court Referee James McNevin, K.C., Tuesday ruled there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a decision in favour of Thomas Chittle, Sandwich South farmer, who began action against the Townships of Sandwich South, Maidstone, and C. B. Allison, Maidstone Township engineer, asking $6,950 damages because of alleged faulty construction of a drain which intersected his property. The referee held that the defendants must build a new bridge for Chittle.

Alleged Negligence.

When the case opened counsel for the plaintiff, Desmond Deniau and Archie Gignac, alleged there had been negligence in construction of the Town Line and Mooney Creek drain and that as a result a nine foot dirt dyke had made two acres of Chittle's land useless for farming, crop damage had resulted, and sale of the farm had been blocked.

The referee decided the townships could not be held responsible inasmuch as the drain was necessary and engineers had testified that the work was carried out efficiently.

A bridge which was demolished to permit construction of the drain was found necessary and Mr. McNevin ordered that the two townships replace it as soon as possible.

Entered Six Claims.

Maidstone was listed in the attack as the defendant, even though it was the major part of the work and Sandwich South was named as co-defendant. Mr. Allison was named as co-defendant, but his name was included in the suit.

Six claims were entered against the townships, but only one was allowed to proceed. The others were dismissed as being without merit.

The referee said that the townships were not liable for the cost of the bridge, but that they were liable for the cost of the bridge if it was found that the townships were negligent.

County Soils Conservation Project Organized.

(Crowded out last issue)

Organization of a joint Conservation Project for Essex County instituted by the Agricultural Committee of the Essex County Council and the Ontario Department of Agriculture, was completed this week at a meeting of the committee.

W. J. Ash, chairman of the Agricultural committee of the Essex County Council, was elected chairman of the committee, and Angus McKenney, Agricultural Representative, secretary-treasurer.

At the close of the meeting Mr. Ash announced that Kenneth A. Standing, a graduate of the O. A. C. in 1943, had been employed as field man in connection with the Soils Conservation Project. Mr. Standing has specialized in soils and crops and during the last four years has been employed by a large agricultural industry operating in the county and has had an excellent opportunity to study soil and crop conditions here.

During the spring and summer, Mr. Standing will undertake a study of crop rotations as they affect the physical condition of Essex County soil with special reference to restoring the organic matter content.

The committee solicits the co-operation of all those interested in this important matter.

Hay Pasture Tests.	Extensive tests of pure species and mixtures of grass are conducted every year by the Division of Forage Plants, Dominion Experimental Farms Service. Information collected over a period of years shows that the yields may be greatly increased by the use of suitable grass and legume species. The addition of alfalfa to the yielding mixture in the Ottawa area for hay has given a long-time average increase of 30 per cent over mixtures containing alfalfa and used for pasture produced 20 per cent more than similar mixtures with no alfalfa. Ladino clover grown in mixtures produced over 20 per cent more than mixtures containing alfalfa or red clover as one of the legumes. The new varieties of grasses and legumes licensed in the Division continue to be more productive of hay and pasture than commercial sorts.

Big Ship Brings Beet Workers.

Officials of the Canadian and Dominion Sugar Company have received word that the first of the 500 skilled beet workers, from Western Europe, coming to this area, sailed from Southampton, England, on the Aquitania, on April 28th. The Aquitania takes five and a half days for the crossing, so that the newcomers should be at their destination in a few days.

There are only eleven persons in this advance party, but it is hoped that the rest will get shipping space soon in order that the workers will be here in time for the spring work on the farms in this area. Virtually all of the more-than-500 applications have been approved by the immigration authorities at Ottawa and instructions for the passing of these people by the government agents in Europe have been forwarded. It is understood that all who can pass the health tests will be allowed to come to Canada.

The 1946 crop was one of the best in the history of the sugar-beet industry in Ontario. The sugar content was high and the net returns to growers was a record. They were 232,000 tons of beets harvested. The labor situation was tight but the entire crop was harvested and processed efficiently.

Mother's Day May 11th

It all started back in 1907, when Mrs. Anna Jarvis and a few of her friends in Philadelphia decided to dedicate the second Sunday in May to her mother's memory. All Philadelphia observed it in 1908, and in 1913 the Congress of the United States made it a national holiday.

Today, the entire North American Continent dedicates the second Sunday in May to the best mother in all the world

YOUR MOTHER

Whatever you do, wherever you are, remember Mother and make it for her a "MOTHER'S DAY" in every sense of the word.

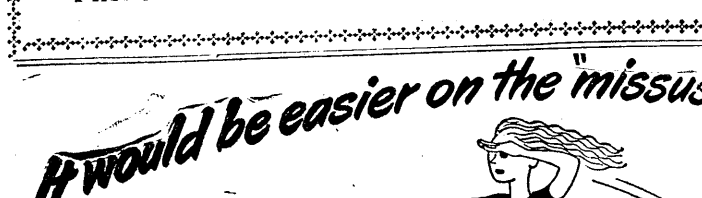

Remember, you can't find a more perfect token of affection than fragrant and beautiful flowers

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Stella Marie Martin (Snoes) who died one year ago, May 3rd, 1946.

Many sleep, but not forever; There will be a glorious dawn; We shall meet to part no never, On the resurrection morn.

From the deepest caves of ocean, From the desert and the plain, From the valley and the mountain, Countless throngs shall rise again.

When we tended with such care, Rudely taken from our bosom, How our aching hearts despair!

Round its little grave we linger, Till the setting sun is low, Feeling all our hopes have perished With the flow'r we cherished so.

—Lovingly remembered by mother, dad, sisters and brothers.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Eva Hutzel, who passed away six years ago, May 2nd, 1941.

"God give her beloved sleep," And while she lies in peaceful sleep, Her memory we shall always keep.

—Lovingly remembered by her family, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Basil Duncombe Simpson, who was accidentally killed May 6th, 1941.

Fond was the tie that was broken, Dear the one that is gone, In memory we shall keep him As long as the years roll on.

—Sadly remembered by mom, dad, sisters and brother Ken.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear father, William Price, who passed away five years ago, April 21st, 1942.

April comes with deep regrets, A month we will never forget, Though memory fades and life departs, He will always live within our hearts.

—Always remembered by his wife, Laurence and family.

Flowers for Mother's Day
May 11th

Mother! How much that one word means. Write to her, phone to her, but if possible visit her, even if only for a few minutes on Sunday, May 11th, and tell her how much she really means to you. If she has gone to the reward she so richly deserves, wear a flower in her honour on Sunday, May 11th, and place some flowers on her grave or in church. Whatever you do, wherever you are, remember Mother and make it for her a "Mother's Day" in every sense of the word.

Miss Nellie Brazill Passes.

Miss Nellie Brazill, a lifelong resident of Sandwich South, died at her home, on the Walker Road, at Paquette Corners, on Saturday of last week.
She had been in failing health for 17 years.

Miss Brazill was born in Sandwich
South Township, on October 1st, 1861, a daughter of the late Daniel Brazill and Teresa Halford, and had lived her lifetime at the family homestead.
She was a member of the League of the Sacred Heart, St. Clements Church, McGregor.

Surviving are three brothers and four sisters, Daniel, Patrick, John and Monica, living at home; Miss Blanche Brazill, and Mrs. C. Langlois, of Detroit, and Mrs. Fred Pettypiece, of Auld, in Anderton Township.

Services were held at 8.30 a.m. Tuesday at the residence, and at 9 a.m. at St. Clements Church, with Fr. Lefaive officiating. Burial was in St.
Mary's cemetery, Maidstone.

White-Haggins Nuptials.

At a quiet afternoon ceremony at the Cottam United Church parsonage, the Rev. Stanley R. Johnston united in marriage Miss Ruth Catherine Haggins, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville T. Haggins, of North Bear road, Cottam, and Everett Arthur White, of Leamington.

The bride was charming in an Alice blue crepe gown made on long torso lines, with trimming of the same material. Her headdress of white veiling was caught to her head in a coronet of white flowers, and she wore a coronet of American Beauty roses and a double string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Lawrence Johnston, of Essex, sister of the bride, as her matron of honour, wore an old rose jersey dress with cap sleeves and a corsage of Talisman roses. Her headdress, identical to that of the bride, was in matching color. Lawrence Johnston was best man.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, set in pink tulle, and flanked by burning white tapers in glass candelabra. Miss Mary Hill and Miss Edna Boultinghouse assisted in serving.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. White left on a motor trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in an aquamarine wool suit with brown accessories. Upon their return they will reside on the Second Concession, Mer-sea Township.

—Among former Essexites to visit town on Saturday evening last were Charles Coulter and William (Big Bill) Smith, former partner of the late Andrew Wood, both of Windsor.

Fire Loss $50,000 or More.

In one of the most disastrous fires to hit the Town of Essex in its history, the Essex Farmers' Grain Elevator and Chopping Mills, was totally destroyed early Sunday morning. The fire, which was noticed shortly after 2 a.m. by Roy Sadler, from his bedroom window, at his home a block away, evidently had smoldered for some hours, for it was no time at all after the alarm was sounded, until the whole interior of the building was a mass of flames. It appeared to have started near or in the ramp driveway, where two of the company's trucks were stored. Cause is not known, as there was no fire of any description in the structure.

After but a few minutes of valiant fighting by the local fire brigade, it was found they were battling against great odds and both Kingsville and Windsor Fire Departments were called for help. The Kingsville truck was in Essex just 15 minutes later, while the Windsor pumper arrived about the same time.

In spite of the fact that the weather was unusually calm, the Essex truck had to leave the fire to answer a call to Bert Ashton's home, a good two blocks to the east, to put out a roof fire started from a flying ember. Two local firemen, George Myles and Gordon Shavallier, were slightly injured while fighting the fire.

The business people of the south side of Talbot street can be very thankful there wasn't even a slight breeze from the northwest, for as it was the two Sivers properties and the J. C. Linton store were badly scorched and blistered, and even the town water tower was smoking.

The Company had insurance of $28, 000 on the buildings, the main portion of which was built close onto 60 years ago, by the present owners.

The directors have not decided, as yet, the size or shape of the building they will erect to replace the elevator, but have definitely decided not to build another elevator on the site.

James McMurren Passes.

Funeral services for the late James McMurren, who passed away at his late home, Belle River Road, at South Woodlee, on May 2nd, were held from the home to the village United Church, on Sunday, with Rev. D. Cavers officiating. Burial was in Jarlett Cemetery, where the Woodslee I.O.O.F.
Lodge, of which he had been a member since 1909, under the leadership of Elwyn Patterson, Noble Grand, conducted the services. The pallbearers were James Wright, Melvin Wright, Bruce Wright, Samuel Eldridge, Frank Eldridge and James Boggs.

Deceased was born in Orford Township, Kent County, on July 19th, 1865, a son of the late Joseph McMurren and Mary Paisley, but had lived at Wood-lee for the past 30 years, retiring from active farming in 1932.

Surviving are a son Walter, well-known Reeve of Maidstone Township, and a daughter Ella (Mrs. Sherwood Simon) both of Woodlee.

Essex County Pioneer Dies.

George Whaley, 95-year-old Essex County pioneer, died last week at his home near Olinda.

Mr. Whaley was born in Olinda and lived on the farm originally cleared by his father. He remembered Essex County when the principal industry was lumbering.

His father was associated in an iron mining venture at Olinda at the present site of the thriving Whaley Farm Peach Orchards.

Mr. Whaley was one of the pioneer peach growers in the county and was one of the first men to see the possibilities of the industry for southwestern Ontario.

He is survived by one son Earl, at home; and four daughters, Mrs. William Balmain, of London; Mrs. Ernest Galloway, of Ruthven, and Misses May and Viola, both at home.

Ontario British Flood Relief Campaign.

Organization details of the British Flood Relief Campaign, sponsored by the Government of Ontario, are now completed. Collection dates are May 1st to 15th for new and used clothing and food for the flood victims in England.

The Hon. Russell T. Kelley, Minister of Health, is the chairman of the campaign's central committee, with Christie A. McDonald, who organized last year's collection of clothing for Europe, as executive director.
It is the wish of the campaign committee that donations should be of moral building value as well as useful to the people of Britain whose need for food and clothing is desperate.
While it is hoped that clothing gifts will be of the highest quality, any serviceable garment or piece of clothing will be welcomed.

Essex Committee, headed by J. C.
Linton, will collect, on call, week of May 12th.

Moore-Martin Nuptials.

A quiet wedding was solemnized, at Westminster United Church, Windsor, by Rev. A. E. Thomson, when Connie Lou Martin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Martin, of Chatham, was united in marriage to John Harold Moore, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moore, of Windsor.

The bride was lovely in a poudre blue gaberline suit with a corsage of red roses and white gardenias. Her bridesmaid, Mrs. Thomas White, of London, also wearing a suit of poudre blue with a corsage of pink carnations and sweet peas. Thomas White, of London, assisted the groom as best man.

Mrs. Martin wore a dress of pearl grey, and black accessories, with mauve violets and sweet peas. The groom's mother wore aqua crepe and black accessories, with pink carnations and sweet peas.

A reception for forty guests followed at the Elmwood Hotel, Windsor, where the bride's table was centred with a four-layer wedding cake.

Following the reception the couple left for a motor trip to Northern Ontario. Upon their return they will reside in Windsor.

PICK-UP WEEK OF MAY 12th.

J. C. Linton

Local Chairman.

FRIDAY, MAY 9, 1947.

Questions and Answers.

Q.—I ordered a refrigerator several months ago and was quoted a certain price. Now I have been informed that the price has been increased. Must I pay the higher price?

A.—That is a matter which does not come under the jurisdiction of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. You should consult your solicitor.

Q.—Can you tell me why ready-sliced loaves of bread are not obtainable?

A.—Prohibition of ready-sliced loaves was first inaugurated as a simplification device. The restriction is being continued because in this type of loaf requires extra wrapping and there is a shortage of wrapper supplies.

Q.—Is it true that there has been an increase in the maximum prices of jams, jellies and marmalades?

A.—Yes. The Board recently permitted a ten per cent increase to offset the increased costs of labour, sugar, containers and other materials. Consumer prices will not be increased until present retail stocks are exhausted.

Q.—Why must we get a doctor's certificate each time we require more coupons for evaporated milk?

Live Stock Poisoned by Orchard Sprays.

Several cases of livestock poisoning were investigated by the Kentville, N.S., Laboratory of the Division of Chemistry, Science Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, during the 12 months ended March 31st, 1946. In the majority of cases it was found that the animals had gained access to orchard sprays and either ate grass wet with spray drift, or on which spray had dripped from trees, or drank water on top of flotation sulphur barrels, or had access to water contaminated in other ways from spray materials. In several cases, the level of arsenic in stomach contents, in milk, and urine was fatally high.

A.—The supply is so short that steps had to be taken to conserve supplies for infants and those who are ill. Your condition may improve from the time you first obtained your doctor's certificate and perhaps you would no longer require this commodity.

Q.—Where do we receive our renewal of special ration allowances for medical purposes?

A.—Recently all local ration boards were given authority to issue special ration allowances for medical reasons. You would therefore apply to your nearest local ration board.

Normal Fatigue.

It is natural to be tired — healthfully fatigued, after an expenditure of energy, and the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, reminds Canadians that this is part of the process of living. The Department also points out that fatigue produces waste products and that rest and sleep are essential to restoration of body cells. So all must have sufficient sleep more rest and sleep to compensate for growth and youthful frolics.

TO BUY AN INSURANCE POLICY

In 1845, Hugh C. Baker a Hamilton banker, felt the urgent desire to obtain security for his wife and children. But there was not a single Canadian life insurance company in existence at that time.

So Mr. Baker covered the 500-mile journey to New York on horseback, by stage-coach, and finally by river steamer down the Hudson to buy life insurance. Returning home he resolved to help his own countrymen obtain the same security. With a few associates in 1847 he organized the first Canadian life insurance company—the Canada Life.

Throughout its hundred years, this Company has brought security and peace of mind to Canadians in all walks of life.

Dundas to Celebrate Centennial.

Ontario's champion old-time fiddlers and square dancers will be decided at the Dundas Centennial which opens June 29th for a full week of sports, parades, carnivals and historical exhibitions.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King is expected to open the celebrations on Dominion Day.

Forced by the number of inquiries to declare the fiddling and dancing contests open, rather than confining them to agricultural groups, the Centennial executive this week let down the barriers. Already the official entry applications have begun to arrive.

There are no strings attached to old-time fiddling contest, which is open to anyone, with prizes of $50, $25 and $15. The dancers, however are limited to the first 24 entries. Each entry is a set of four couples, who must appear in period costumes. Prizes are $125, $75 and $50.

Dance entries already include two from Wentworth farm groups; Hagersville, Port Rowan and Halton Junior Farmers.

Highlighting the week's program will be a beauty contest, horse show, Scottish games, and various sports every day with a grand birthday party winding up the week on Saturday night. Champion dancers and fiddlers will take part in the program.

To date over 5,000 former Dundasites have received official invitations to attend the event, which marks the 100th anniversary of Dundas as a town. Names of hundreds more are being received every week from across Canada and the United States.

Keep Eggs Clean.

Cleaning eggs is not a substitute for clean eggs. No type of cleaning can do a satisfactory job on stained or very dirty eggs. Any type of cleaning removes to some extent the protective coating of the shell and hastens deterioration of quality. The surface of an egg is slightly moist when it is laid. Clean nest material is the only way to prevent staining.

In the laying house no dirty litter should be allowed, and frequent collection of eggs avoids dirt caused by birds walking over or soiling other eggs already in the nest. The point is to keep eggs clean and avoid the necessity and labour in cleaning them. Canada has attained a notable reputation on the British market for clean eggs.

SOYBEANS WITHSTAND FLOOD CONDITIONS AND ARE PLANTED LATE

FARMERS. The planting season is already seriously delayed. Fortunately, soybeans should be planted between May 15th and June 15th. Thus, the acreage you had planned for Spring grains should net greater returns, if you plant soybeans. With the present protein and fat shortage there is a ready market for all the soybeans you can grow. See your seed dealer today.

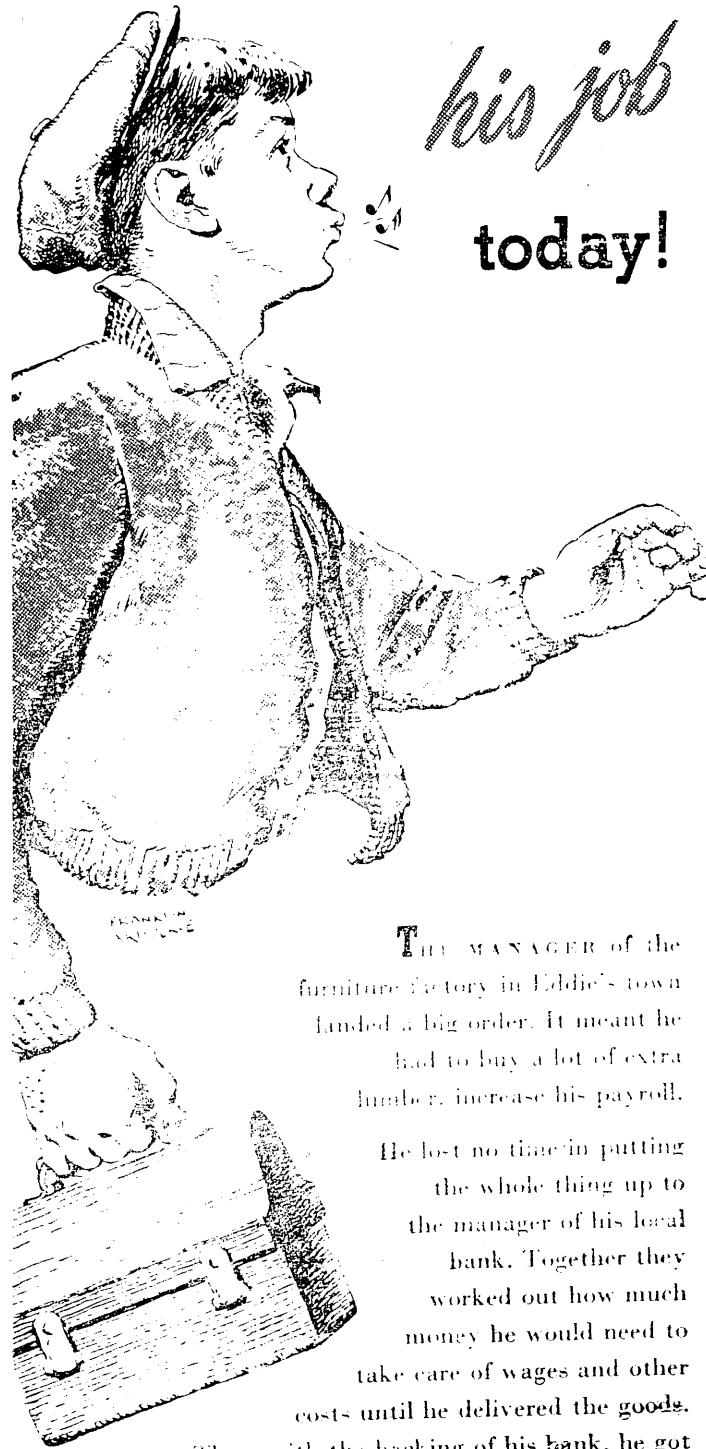

SEED DEALERS. Considering the lateness of the season, you would be well advised to check your soybean seed requirements as indications are that many farmers will now extend their soybean acreage. Victory Mills will do their utmost to co-operate in helping you secure the additional amount of seed you may need. Write us if you wish assistance.

FREE BOOKLET—"Farming with Soybeans". Write today for your copy of this booklet which gives complete information on varieties, preparation of seed bed, weed control, seeding, fertilization, harvesting, etc. We will be glad to ship grain and seed dealers any number of copies which they require for distribution to their accounts. Write stating number needed.

Eddie started his job today!

THE MANAGER of the furniture factory in Eddie's town landed a big order. It meant he had to buy a lot of extra lumber, increase his payroll.

He lost no time in putting the whole thing up to the manager of his local bank. Together they worked out how much money he would need to take care of wages and other costs until he delivered the goods. Then, with the backing of his bank, he got to work on the order.

... And that's where Eddie came in. He was put on the payroll—given his first chance to learn a trade. Right now he's on his way home to tell Mom and Dad how much he likes his new job.

WHEN metal parts break, don't throw them away. Let us estimate how much we can save you by saving them by welding. Remember... by oxy-acetylene welding we can repair broken metal parts so that they are as good as new. And when "worn out" parts are rebuilt by welding, they frequently will outlast new ones. Call on us—the chances are you will save both time and money.

DEAN AND CONVEY—ALWAYS BY CAR!

Essex Town Council.

Monday, April 28th.
Council met in regular session, at 8 p.m., with Mayor Linton, Reeve Irwin and Councillors Chase, Lee, Shaw, Francotte, Maedel and Pulleyblank present.

Rev. R. H. Parr addressed Council re dangerous situation at Cameron avenue intersection with Talbot, due mostly to the bad angle and the allowing of cars parking. He had to wait about five minutes earlier in the day before he could drive onto Talbot from Cameron.

Art Miller and Bill Linton, of the Kinsmen's Club, and Cap Miller, addressed Council re grant to Essex club.

On motion, a grant of $100 was made to come out of the Property and Parks committee share of budget.

Robert Bennett brought to the attention of Council the bad condition of the roadway in Maple Row. He had got stuck going to his son's home and had to call on a wrecker to pull him out.

Mr. Francotte reported that the road had since been scraped and he promised to gravel it shortly.

Mr. Bennett said he thought that the road needed some good heavy stones first before gravelling.

Bob Weller and Cecil Parker, representing the local Chamber of Commerce, brought recommendations from the Chamber, re parking of cars in business section of town, naming Talbot street corner and Gordon avenue, Talbot street and Wilson, Talbot and Medora avenue east, and Talbot and Cameron. They tabled a plan showing the "No Parking" sections recommended.

Dr. A. E. Benson and J. R. Linton presented a petition signed by all the ratepayers whose property faces Her avenue, from Alice street to Jenner street, requesting Council to construct a curb along each side of the street. The distance between the streets mentioned is 400 feet, so it will take 800 feet of curbing. It is proposed to leave 6 feet of boulevard on each side, which will leave a thoroughfare of 27 feet.

On motion, the petition was received, certified to, and the Ward Commissioners of Ward 2a and 2b empowered to have work done.

Mr. Francotte presented a bill from Alex Michael for the laying of a five-foot sidewalk along the side of their new building on Fox street. Mr. Michael thought the town should pay this account of slightly over $100.

Council thought that Mr. Michael had agreed to lay this piece of walk at his own expense. If the town laid a new walk on Wilson avenue, along front of new building, Council thought that Mr. Michael had told him that, if Council would lay a new walk in front of his new building on Wilson avenue, he would personally pay cost of laying new walk along side of building, on Fox street.

The account was, on motion, referred back to Mr. Francotte to return to Mr. Michael.

Charles Maedel gave a report on the progress of the jail.

Minutes were read and on motion of Messrs. Irwin and Francotte, adopted as read.

Chief Hogarth reported on cost of Caution Signs, at either end of town, at $170.00 or over $200 in place, while Warning Signs erected would cost about $10 each. He thought this was too expensive for this year if stop light is to be erected.

A lengthy discussion followed on parking on front street.

On motion of Messrs. Lee and Maedel, the taking down of the one-hour parking signs and having same repainted, was left with the Police Committee, with power to act.

Mayor Linton reported that T. Savill had spoken to him about a street light at the back of his property on Irwin avenue.

Mr. Chase reported that both Leonard Boose and Frank Ratcliffe had requested street lights.—Referred to the Fire and Light Committee.

Bylaw No. 1136, re closing of Her street and conveying same to Milo Mills, was passed.

The Clerk was instructed to answer letter of Hon. George Dunbar, Minister of Municipal Affairs, thanking his department for past favours and requesting that town still be kept under his supervision, except being relieved of having to have accounts approved by town auditors before local bank can honour same.

On motion, May 13th was designated as "Clean Up" Day.

Mayor Linton stated he had had communication re appointment of a Flood Relief Committee to gather food and clothing for England.

A committee composed of Mayor Linton, and Councillors Francotte and Lee, was appointed.

On motion of Messrs. Shaw and Pulleyblank, the Clerk was instructed to order Stop Light from Canadian General Electric, at price quoted.

On motion of Messrs. Pulleyblank and Lee, Mayor Linton was empowered to attend the Mayor's Convention in Ottawa, the first week in June.

Don Wilson addressed Council advising that the E.A. Oil Company were laying asphalt at his station, between sidewalk and pavement, and that the men doing work had advised him they would slope same to town catch basin, if it was wish of town.

Mr. Lee promised to have catch basin repaired if proper slope was given the asphalt.

The following accounts were passed:

Slaughtering Rules Clarified by Board.

The prices board has emphasized that although hog slaughtering quota restrictions were removed April 19th, all other slaughter and price control regulations still remain in effect.

To clarify the regulations, officials said that only the holders of valid prices board slaughter permits are allowed to slaughter livestock. It was also pointed out that in accordance with board regulations all meat must be properly stamped and all beef must be defatted and graded, while mutton must be stamped.

It is still necessary for all slaughter permit holders to file monthly reports showing the quantity of the various kinds of livestock slaughtered. These reports are to be sent to the nearest regional office of the prices board in which slaughter permit holder is located.

French-Hedges Nuptials.

(Crowded out last issue)

The Rev. Charles Kelly officiated recently at the ceremony in the rectory of St. John the Baptist Church, Amherstburg, which united in marriage Miss Doris Edna Hedges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hedges, of Harrow, and Marvin Norman French, of River Front Road, Anderson, formerly of Cottam. The occasion was also Mr. and Mrs. Hedges' 25th wedding anniversary.

The bride chose a forget-me-not blue dressmaker suit with black accessories and red roses and white carnations. Miss Virginia Richardson, of Harrow, as bridesmaid, wore a gray dressmaker suit with white and black accessories and a corsage styled the same as the bride's.

Homer Hunt, of Anderson, was best man.

A wedding dinner for the immediate families followed at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake in a bed of pink and white carnations. The bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Sellars, and Mrs. R. Richardson, assisted in serving. An evening reception was held later, the table being centred with a four-tiered wedding cake and flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra and bowls of pink snapdragons. Mrs. Marshall Enderby and Mrs. Wilfred Meloché poured tea and Mrs. Thomas Benoit and Miss Eileen Enderby assisted.

Mrs. Hedges chose for her daughter's wedding an aquamarine dress fashioned with a round neckline and push-up sleeves. Mrs. French mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue sheer frock styled with a square neckline and short sleeves. They wore pink and white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. French left later on a wedding trip to Sarnia. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. French will reside with the former's parents before taking up residence in their new home on Texas road, Amherstburg.

Warm Weather Tips.

"Don't demand too much of your body. Take it easy. Don't eat too many heat-producing foods, and your liquid intake should be increased, too."

This is advice for Canadians at this season of the year.

Medical authorities point out that when warm weather is on the way, special steps should be taken to conserve health.

M. P. Urges Capacity Beet Sugar Production.

Ontario Growers Support Reinstatement Normal Sugar Duties.

In a commons debate on the continuation of emergency powers, J. G. Diefenbaker, M.P., charged insufficient government encouragement had curtailed Canadian beet sugar production. "The six beet sugar plants have a maximum capacity of 15000 tons of refined sugar," he said, "which is 26 per cent of Canada's 1946 allocation (from the international pool), and is 44 per cent higher than the goal set by the government this year." Diefenbaker asserted that increased domestic production would assure Canadian consumers a larger share of sugar and "make available a wider distribution in the countries of Europe which require sugar."

Washington Government circles will observe the Canadian parliamentary member's remarks with interest for later this year the decision will have to be made whether sharing of world sugar supplies will be continued into 1948. Canada's contribution to the international sugar pool is small, compared with the U. S. and U.K. This was the subject of a letter written by the Hon. Roy O. Woodruff and published in the Congressional Record last February 10th, as follows: "The United States and its off-shore territories make the greatest contribution to the pool as they furnish over 60 per cent of the sugar consumed in this country (U.S.A.) in addition to sharing with other nations the 3,768,000 tons which the United States bought from Cuba (in 1946). By comparison Britain will provide less than 30 per cent of her sugar consumption whereas Canada will produce only 18 per cent of its sugar needs..." It is obvious that the administration in Washington simply stood on the sidelines and let the American producers and consumers carry the load for other nations."

In reply to the Diefenbaker charges, Justice Minister Hiley stated: "It is possible that by raising our tariffs high enough we could increase the production in Canada under present conditions."

But a balance of some kind must be struck there, and a reasonable course taken." Commenting on these remarks, officials of the Ontario Beet Growers' Association asserted they had merely asked for the same protection as that which existed before April 1st, 1942, when duties on imported raw sugars were suspended by order-in-council. As a result of this order, during the past five years raw sugar importations normally charged with the general tariff rate of duty ($1.29 per 100 pounds) as well as British Empire sugars, normally paying the preferential rate (.29 per 100 pounds) have all entered Canada on the same duty-free basis. They are all charged alike with the sugar administrator's levy of 25 cents per 100 pounds when sold at the refineries. The Ontario growers believe the reinstatement of the traditional protection pattern would be a reasonable course, and yield a return for beet sugar which would be more in line with the increased costs of beet production and factory processing.

Shield Baby Eyes.

Even when a baby is old enough for sunbaths, the eyes should be given special protection, say the health authorities. An infant should be shielded from direct rays of the sun until able to move about easily. Doctors suggest that the baby be placed with feet pointing away from the sun, so that eyebrows and upper lids shield the eyes. It is also a good idea to line the hood of a baby carriage with some dull, preferably dark material.

Squint Trouble.

Medical authorities urge those who habitually squint to seek competent advice. A squint isn't funny, they agree—it's a tip to see the eye specialist. Astigmatism causes blurred or distorted vision, and narrowing the eyelids and contracting pupils won't make up for it. Squinting causes strain, fatigue, general comfort and often headaches.

ARMENIAN STRONG MAN IN ESSEX.

Pictured above is Krikor Hekimian, 215 pound Armenian, of Toronto, a World War II veteran, pulling with his teeth a gasoline truck filled with 750 gallons of gasoline. He will demonstrate his strength in Essex, on Friday evening, at 7.30, on Fox street, alongside the Essex post office.

Harry Pettypiece Councillor for Colchester North.

Harry Pettypiece, well-known farmer of Colchester North, was given an acclamation for Councillor of the township, at the nomination meeting, held on Monday evening. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Lloyd Brush, who was appointed Township Clerk, at the last meeting of Council, to fill the office vacated by C. A. Keeley on his appointment as County Clerk.

Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley Bishop of Toronto.

Rt. Rev. Alton Ray Beverley, M.A., D.D., Suffragan Bishop of Toronto since 1934, was elected Bishop of the Diocese of Toronto at special session of Synod in St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, on Monday.

He succeeds Archbishop Derwyn
T. Owen, under whom he had served since 1931. Archbishop Owen, who died on April 9th, had been elected Bishop of Toronto in 1932, and when two years later, he was made Primate of all Canada and Archbishop of Toronto, Bishop Beverley was elected as his suffragan.

Attendance at the synod was one of the largest known. In the first balloting, votes were cast by 214 clergy and 382 lay delegates.

Bishop Beverley was born in Dorchester, Ont., in 1884, the son of Rev.
A. L. Beverley, one-time rector of St.
Mark's Church, London. He graduated at Forest High School, the University of Toronto, and Wycliffe College.

His service with the church dates to 1907, when he was ordained deacon of the Church of the Redeemer. A year later he was ordained priest at St. Paul's, Halifax. He became rector of Trinity Church, Quebec, in 1910, and remained there until 1919, when he became rector of Trinity Church, Barrie.

The first ballot revealed Bishop Beverley had been given 87 of the 214 clerical votes, and 173 of the 382 lay votes. It then was moved by Chancellor D. T. Synnons that it be taken as an election, since Bishop Beverley had a majority in both orders.

This, said Rev. Dr. F. H. Cosgrove, senior member of synod and former Provost of Trinity College, was without precedent, since at previous elections it had been the view that a majority of the total votes cast, in both orders, must be obtained.

Bishop Beverley agreed and moved that the second ballot be taken.

In the second and final ballot, 111 of a total of 209 clergy votes cast were for Bishop Beverley, more than were required for election. Of 340 lay votes cast, 223 were for Bishop Beverley.

Ray Beverley attended Essex Public school in the early 1890's, when his father was rector of St. Paul's Anglican Church, and will be well remembered by the older residents of town.

Councils Meet High School Board.

The Essex District High School Board called a meeting at the High School, on Monday evening, at which the members of the councils of the municipalities, included in the district, were invited. All the heads of the municipalities were present, along with many of the Councillors, to hear the Board officials explain the building of a proposed addition to the present High School building.

Speakers of the evening, for the Board, were John Shuel, chairman;
J. A. Naylor and H. W. Hall, principal, while the heads of each municipality, in replying to an invitation from the chair, thanked the speakers for the excellent and clear manner they had placed the facts before them and promised to place the request before their councils at the next regular meeting.

During the evening Mr. Hall, on request, advised his listeners the Essex High last year had the highest academic standing of any school in the county, the senior matriculation students passing 93% of papers tried.
He stated his staff had excellent rating with one classed Grade A and the rest all B plus. He also stated he regretted that he was losing three excellent teachers in Miss Rowe, who is going to Beamsville; Mr. Rapsey and Miss Hill, who go to St. Thomas.

The following facts were given each one present:

Argument for Proposed Addition.
During the last quarter of a century there has been no addition to the accommodations of the present school building and so, though the accommodations were adequate for 187 pupils when the school was built in 1922, it is altogether insufficient to house 315 pupils in 1947.

In 1922 the only option offered in lieu of the regular language courses, was the commercial option and, until the depth of the depression in 1930, this was a flourishing course. At that time commercial work was discontinued due to lack of funds. Owing to lack of space it has never been reinstated. Students who wish to prepare themselves for office work must either go to one of the several business colleges (at considerable expense to their parents) or to one of the other High Schools or Collegiates in the district at a cost of $180 to $200 per year to the ratepayers of Essex High School District.

By the School Tax Amendment Act of 1945, pupils who reside in the Essex High School district may choose to attend school in another High School for one of two reasons: (1)
if the school is not readily accessible;
(2) if the student can receive instruction in subjects which are not taught in the Essex High School.

As a result of this act it will be observed that the Essex High School, district must pay considerable sums to Leamington, Harrow, Amherstburg and Windsor for instruction in courses not provided here (since we must pay for the students of our district who attend other schools). Thus for this year the amount of claim is: Windsor, $2,410.76; Leamington, $2,278.59; Amherstburg, $202.75; Harrow, $470.45.

It is true that in some cases (notably such as Harrow) the reason for attendance outside our district is the proximity of the other school, but in a great majority of cases the reason given is that the Essex High School does not offer the courses required by students involved and thus the Board has no choice but to sanction the attendance of those pupils at other schools.

It should be pointed out that this payment to the other schools is an annual cost and that once our school is equipped to offer the courses of Commercial, General Shop, and Home Economics since the pupils involved would not increase any one class sufficiently to require its subdivision, practically the whole amount saved would be available for the retirement of debt incurred in applying accommodations for the new courses.

There are other vital reasons why the courses involved should be incorporated in our curriculum: (1) Students who have no aptitude for languages have no choice but to struggle through them in an attempt to achieve High School graduation. This struggle not only gives the student a dislike

Leafs Lose Opener.

Tom Howe Kingsville ace, outpitched two Essex hurlers on the Essex diamond on Sunday and his team defeated the Leafs by a score of 4 to 3.

Both teams had two earned runs. Wilt Greaves, Essex manager, started Jack Murray in the box, and while in trouble in both the second and fourth, the only run scored off his delivery was unearned. Rettig, due to his own wildness, was in trouble in three of the five innings he worked, and had two earned runs scored off his delivery.

The game opened with the usual opening day ceremonies. Mayor Jack Linton threw the first ball to Charles Maedel, at bat and Cap Miller behind the plate.

First Inning.

Kingsville—W. Snively flied high to Parent in center; E. Snively struck out; Ruscher singled to center and took second when Parent let the ball get through him; Red Ross threw out Bechard—0 run, 1 hit, 1 error.

Essex—Queen and Red Ross struck out; Brackell popped to W. Snively—0 run, 0 hit, 0 error.

Second Inning.

Kingsville—Alice lined a hard one to left; Loebach making a nice stop to hold it to a single; Bowles sacrificed; pitcher to first; Butler was thrown out by Murray; Alice moving over to third; Duncan hit to short; Queen juggled the ball and the batter beat the throw to first; Alice scoring; T. Howe flied high to Parent in center—1 run, 1 hit, 1 error; 1 man left.

Essex—Parent and Art Miller struck out; Loebach walked and Max Miller fanned—0 run, 0 hit, 0 error.

Third Inning.

Kingsville—Murray tossed out W. Snively; E. Snively lined to Parent; Ruscher beat out a hit along third base line, but was out stealing; 1 Ross to Queen; who covered—0 run, 1 hit, 0 error.

Essex—Luky Ross crossed up the Kingsville infield, laying down a bunt toward third; Murray sacrificed; T. Howe to Alice; Queen walked on four pitched balls; 1 Ross stole third and Queen stole second, with Red Ross at bat; Ruscher took Red's pop fly back of third; Brackell hit a single through third, to score 1 Ross and when Ruscher, who flied the ball, threw badly to Bowles, Queen also scored easily; Brackell stepped at second; Parent walked and he and Brackell worked the double steal; Art Miller struck out—2 runs, 2 hits, 2 errors.

Fourth Inning.

Kingsville—Queen made a swell play toward first and when Rettig threw on Bechard and threw him out; Alice walked; Bowles also walked; Butler struck out and Duncan popped to Brackell—0 run, 0 hit, 0 error.

Essex—Loebach flied high to Ruscher; W. Snively threw out M. Miller, and Luky Ross struck out—0 run, 0 hit, 0 error.

Fifth Inning. Kingsville—Rettig and Brown were the new Essex battery. Tom Howe struck out; W. Snively popped to Brackell; E. Snively hit a Texas League just out of Queen's reach in left; Ruscher walked on four pitched balls; both runners moved up on a wild pitch; Bechard lined a single to left to score E. Snively. Ruscher stopping at third; Alice struck out—1 run, 2 hits, 0 error, 1 left.

Sixth Inning. Kingsville—Bowles lined to Rettig; A. Miller took care of both Butler and Duncan, unassisted—0 run, 0 hit, 0 error.

Essex—Brackell hit an easy one to Ruscher, but the latter threw high over Alice's head and Brackell was safe on second; Parent popped to Bechard; A. Miller struck out for the third straight time; Loebach went out, third to first—0 run, 0 hit, 1 error.

Seventh Inning. Kingsville—Brackell threw out T. Howe; W. Snively grounded out, short to first; E. Snively walked and went to second on a wild pitch; Queen threw out Ruscher—0 run, 0 hit, 0 error.

Essex—Keele replaced Butler and took over right field, Duncan moving over to center; Max Miller walked on four pitched balls; Brown sacrificed; T. Howe to Alice; Rettig lined into a double play, W. Snively to Bechard, after hitting what would have been an easy double into left that was foul only by inches—0 run, 0 hit, 0 error, 1 left.

Eighth Inning. Kingsville—Bechard walked on four pitched balls; Alice struck out on three pitches; Bowles lined a single to center; Bechard stopping at second; Keele flied to M. Miller in right; Bechard moving over to third after the catch; Duncan hit to Queen at short, who tossed to Red Ross for a force play at second, but Ross dropped the throw and all runners were safe; Bechard scoring; T. Howe lined to Loebach in left, a hard hit ball—1 run, 1 hit, 1 error, 2 left.

the ball into the dirt, W. Snively took third and E. Snively second on the error; Ruscher singled sharply to left to score W. Snively, but E. Snively was an easy out on a perfect throw by Loebach to Brown; Bechard grounded out to A. Miller, unassisted, with Ruscher moving over to third; Brackell tossed out Alice—1 run, 1 hit, 1 error.

Roseland Wins Opener.

By Cars Jessop.

Before a small crowd as spring weather set in Sunday for local baseball fans, Roseland Shamrocks won their opening game by a score of 9 to 3 over Stoney Point in the first game of the North and South schedule, at Maidstone.

A perfect May day for baseball set the stage for a knock-down-drag-out contest. The game was opened with two minutes' silence for the late Mrs. J. J. Jessop, who died May 15.

Essex County Sportsmen's Association Meet.

At a meeting held in the Aberdeen Hotel, Essex, on Thursday night, Fred Briggs, president of the Essex County Sportsmen's Association, announced that immediate action will be taken in regard to the new concessions allowed to commercial seine fishermen and that the Department of Lands and Forests would receive a full report on the action to be taken in this respect.

The new additions to the license give the seine fishermen the privilege to take all species of fish bar four or five. Now these commercial seines are from 100 to 600 yards long and the damage they can do to our little pan fish would be irreparable in no time at all. However taking into consideration the fact that geographically there's great difference between our two lakes, such as Lake St. Clair, which happens to be small and shallow quite the opposite to Lake Erie, which is a very large lake and quite deep. So taking these facts into due consideration, we propose to ask the Department of Lands and Forests to leave the seine license as it has always been on Lake St. Clair, but to give the additions to its Lake Erie fishermen, as due to its depth very few of our pan fish would be caught, but lots of the larger coarse fish would. On the other hand, Lake St. Clair, being so shallow is a natural habitat for pan fish and this is where the damage would be greatest.

Mr. Briggs also made a statement in regard to the annual shoot held at Shawan, Ont. He said that due to the difficulty in obtaining ammunition and blue rocks that the shoot would be somewhat later this year, probably about the first week in June. As soon as a date was set it would be published in all the local newspapers and give members of this district plenty of time to get their shooting irons ready.

sight; this of course will mean higher school attendance with more critical overcrowding than ever.

The proposed wings will accommodate a work shop, a new gymnasium, a commercial room, an art room, another classroom, a kitchen and cafeteria, a records storage, an auditorium, while the present auditorium will be rebuilt into a home economics department.

Assessment — 1947. Town of Essex, $1,440,414 (18%); Township of Colchester North, $1,291,300 (16%); Township of Gosfield North, $2,063,346 (25.72%); Township of Sandwich South (part) $1,148,090 (14.33%); Township of Maldstone (part) $1,594,930 (19.92%); Township of Rochester (part) $473,000 (5.90%). — $8,011,080 100%.

Estimated Cost. Addition to building $235,000; equipment, $16,000; debt service on present building, $59,000 (Essex). Total, $310,000.

Debt service by Municipalities. Essex, 18%, $55,800; Colchester North, 16.13%, $50,003; Gosfield North, 25.72%, $79,732; Sandwich South, 14.33%, $44,423; Maldstone, 19.92%, $61,752; Rochester, 5.90%, $18,290. Total, $310,000.

Increased Cost Per Year. Following is the increased cost per year to Essex High School Board over a 25 year period: For retirement of debentures, $10,200; for interest on debentures, $3,600. Total, $13,800.

Increased cost to taxpayers if no grants received from Province of Ontario: Approximately 1.7 mills per annum.

If improved accommodation and new courses result in more students attending Essex High School in the number of approximately 75, it is to be expected that the usual percentage of the cost of education may be paid by Province of Ontario. In this case the mill rate would only need to be increased by 1 mill or less per annum.

The Magic of Muskoka...

Steamer "Nagano" on Lake Muskoka

Its very name means "blue skies!" And here's a tested recipe for holiday enjoyment... an overnight boat trip, a round of golf, a refreshing plunge in any one of the myriad lakes in this magical country. Gravenhurst, at the southern tip of this famous chain, chief among which are Lakes Muskoka, Rosseau and Joseph, is only a three-and-a-half hours' drive, north on highway No. 11 from Toronto. And this popular playground is easily reached by train or bus from any point in or outside the Province. For more details on Muskoka, write Ontario Holiday, Room 1004, Victory Building, Toronto.

PEOPLE ARE ASKING?

Q.—I own a small tourist home in the country. Does the Government have any control over housekeeping rooms in a country tourist home?

A.—If the accommodation is not seasonal boarding, three meals per day it would be considered shared accommodation and is covered by regulations for this type of accommodation.

Q.—I have been renting a house since 1943 and it is up for sale now. How long can a person stay in a rented house if the landlord sells it while you are still renting it?

A.—If the property was not purchased between November 1st, 1944 and July 25th, 1945, no valid notice to vacate generally speaking may be given the tenants of any private housing accommodation as long as the tenant pays his rent promptly and is well-behaved.

Q.—What is the ceiling price for 2 lb. and 5 lb. pails of corn syrup and also catsup if sold within a radius of five miles of London?

A.—Manufacturers price is set to wholesalers. Wholesalers mark up and retailers mark up is also set at basic period mark up provided it does not exceed the maximum mark up by the Board. To give you a direct answer we would have to have the name of your grocer.

Q.—My child was charged 8c for one chocolate bar. Why are storekeepers allowed to sell children like this?

A.—The ceiling price on chocolate of all kinds was removed on April 2nd. Storekeepers may charge whatever price they like providing their profit is reasonable and just. There is no reason, however, why anyone has to pay such prices if they do not wish to do so.

Q.—My butcher tells me there is no ceiling price on meat now. Is this right?

A.—No. There certainly is a ceiling price on meat and if you feel you are being overcharged let us know the name of the butcher and we will check his price immediately. He should have price charts displayed in his store.

Q.—Will there be any special coupon for canning sugar this year or will we use our S coupons?

A.—Ten purple Y coupons in your book will be declared valid for canning sugar. Five will be good on May 15th and five in July.

Band Medals to Essex County Boys.

More than 300 persons attended the first annual banquet of the South Essex Associated Boys' Bands, at the Harrow Municipal building, last week, and saw Prof. C. E. Thiele, of Waterloo, present medals to boys and girls from Essex, Kingsville, Harrow and Amherstburg bands which were won at the Waterloo festival last summer.

Training in Democracy.
Pointing out that there is no easy road to musical proficiency, Professor Thiele told parents and bandmen that the idea behind the training in a band is not to make all members of the band professional musicians but rather to enable young people to get more out of music.

"Music is more important today than it has ever been. The fact that you men are interested in the young of the community augurs well for the future of the community and the fact that hundreds of men across the country are assuming a responsibility toward youth speaks well for the future of the country."

The speaker spoke of the steady growth of band organizations in the province.

"Music," Professor Thiele continued, "is a deterrent to juvenile delinquency — particularly band music, which is the music of democracy — music which teaches boys and girls to play in harmony, to co-operate for the same objective and the same interest."

Bandmasters Important.
"Bandmasters must be decent men who have the necessary accomplishments and character to make you feel safe to trust your boys and girls to them. The day is far past when the intermissions to band practices were spent in the tap rooms."

"Your bandmaster (E. L. Robinson) has done a splendid job. I remember when he came down here and how proud I was when he presented his boys and girls at the Waterloo festival."

1947 Band.
Charles Broadwell, president of the South Essex Associated Boys' Bands, announced that the band tattoo sponsored by the organization will be held in Kingsville this summer.

Dr. L. W. Koch and Mr. Broadwell presided jointly. Other speakers included Dr. G. F. H. Buckley, Rev. John

MOTHER.

Who was the wonderful lady Remembered us in her every prayer,
Who did the Lord call to Him
When on earth she had done her share.

Who took that vacant seat in heaven
For no other could fill her chair
'Twas Mother

Who when we were troubled,
Would gently drive away all fears,
Who carried the heaviest crosses
As to others she brought good cheer.

Who, when the clouds were darkest Always happened to be near.
'Twas Mother

Who lived in the love of God,
To please Him did her best,
Who in her allotted years on earth
Answered each and every request.

Who, through her acts of kindness Earned her eternal rest.
'Twas Mother

Hespler Old Boys' Re-Union

This western town of Hespler is unique in one respect — for in all this wide world there is only one community named Hespler.

This fact came to light when officials of the third Hespler Old Boys' Re-union from June 30th to July 6th, searched guestbooks and similar reference sources for other Hesplers so that leaders of their communities could be invited here to join in the celebration. Finally the latest edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica established the fact that this is the only Hespler on this globe.

Like so many other Ontario centres, this Watford county community has had a number of names. It claims to be 121 years old but its history really goes back to 1818, when Abraham Clemens purchased 515 acres of Indian lands from Richard Beasley. The settlement was first called Beryville, after a pioneer Michael Bery; in 1885 became New Hope; in 1888 was incorporated as a village under its present name. Jacob Hespler, who arrived in 1844, had built a sawmill, a grist mill and distillery, and established a road system.

In the 1840's New Hope had a population of 100 and a grist mill, sawmill, tannery, tavern, store, pail factory, two smithies, two tailors and two shoemakers. In 1858 when Hespler incorporated as a village there was a population of 750 settlers and today the town has a population of 3,400 and fourteen prosperous industries.

Indoor Games.

Such games as volleyball, badminton, basketball and handball, make it possible for most Canadians to enjoy some form of recreation at every season of the year. The Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, recommends year-round sports activity to those who would preserve their health. After games such conditions as a shower or bath in an indoor pool is wise, followed by a brisk towelling, to keep healthy.

Health Laws.

It is just as important for Canadians to know the laws of Nature as the laws of the land, in the opinion of National Health and Welfare advisers. Ignorance of the law is no excuse in social offences, and ignorance of health rules leads to punishment as sure as that which Nature metes out to those who offend her wilfully. Public health authorities urge everyone to learn the basic principles of hygiene as outlined in health literature issued free on request through the provincial health departments.

School Lunches.

Consideration of the noon-day school lunch as an important contribution to a child's success at school is recommended by Ottawa health authorities. A child's progress in school and his interest in studies, may be affected by the type of lunch he gets.

Nutrition officials of the National Health Department point out that a good lunch for the school-age youngster should include milk, meat or meat alternate, whole wheat or Canada Approved bread, and a fruit or vegetable.

HANDS AT WORK...

LEARNING TO PRINT

ONTARIO'S future prosperity depends directly on a sufficient volume of production to satisfy domestic needs and assure for Canada a pre-eminent place in the markets of the world. Every individual product of Ontario's manufacturing plants requires the services of printing at some or many stages of its development... order forms... production forms... invoices... shipping bills... advertising... publishing. The whole printing industry is faced with unprecedented demands... and to meet those demands skilled hands are needed. For them great opportunities lie ahead. Higher wages, job security, better working conditions are within easier reach of those who have mastered a skilled occupation.

Today, through the plan sponsored by the Department of Veterans' Affairs and other agencies, thousands of young workers are being trained to meet the printing and other industrial needs of this Province. Graduates of these rehabilitation courses are now ready to take their places in Ontario's industry. Available to you are veterans, well started on the road to skilled printing trades such as hand composition, linotype and monotype operation, bookbinding, lithography and presswork. Seek them out with confidence. They are your future craftsmen.

40th District Annual of South Essex W. I.

(Crowded out last issue)
The 40th district annual meeting of the South Essex Women's Institute was held in Grace United Church, Essex, on Tuesday, May 13th.

Mrs. Stanley Orton, district president, presided. About 75 were present. Rev. R. H. Parr, pastor of the church, addressed the gathering and stressed our motto, "For Home and Country," and advised the members to exert their influence for good in the home and by their example and teaching lay a firm foundation for the life work of our youth. This was also stressed in the address of Mrs. F. L. McDougall, the provincial director to the Federated Board. The presentation of the flag was in charge of Mrs. Aaron Hill, honorary district president.

The guest speakers were Miss E. Collins, department speaker, who is one of four delegates to be sent to Amsterdam, Holland, for a world convention of Women's Institutes, where over thirty countries will be represented. Surely in the past fifty years the Women's Institutes have grown from a small meeting at Stoney Creek to a world convention. The motto for this movement is "Home and Country," and was started to help the rural women of Ontario to become better home makers and citizens and no nation can rise higher than the standard of its homes. The women of Canada honour the past achievements of the W. I. and face a glorious future.

Mrs. L. F. McDougall, Provincial Director of Federated Board, was also a guest speaker, who explained the co-operative programme. She also stressed the fact that we should study our paper for "Home and Country," and preserve all copies for future reference.

Mrs. Fred Oster, chairman of the London Convention area, informed us that their finances were very low, and it was unanimously agreed that each branch give an extra donation to carry on this year's work.

The Golden Jubilee meets at McDonald College, Guelph, on June 21st. She urged all, who possibly could, to attend same as we are sparing no expense to make this celebration an outstanding event in the history of Women's Institutes, which has done more than any other one organization to make this world a better place in which to live.

An excellent dinner was served at noon by the W. A. of the United Church.

The church was decorated beautifully throughout with spring flowers and the tables also decorated with the institute colors of blue and gold.

In addition to this the head table at which were seated sixteen, had a huge birthday cake, on which were forty blue and gold candles to celebrate the 40th District Annual. The candles were lit by Mrs. S. Orton and Mrs. A. Hill, and blown out by Mrs. Fred Oster.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. A. Tofflemire, president of the Essex Branch, and the response by Mrs. Henry Thrasher, of Anderton, who extended an invitation to hold our meeting there for 1948.

Opening the afternoon meeting was a sing-song conducted by Mrs. H. Harrow, of Essex, accompanied by Mrs. H. Piper, of Essex, at the piano.

North Ridge Evening Auxiliary.

(Crowded out last issue)
At the May meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of North Ridge United Church, for which Mrs. Glen McCreery opened her home on Talbot road, two new members were welcomed, Mrs. Florence Sweetenham and Mrs. Mary Flemming.

The president, Mrs. Russell Raymond, conducted the meeting, the theme of which was "Stewardship." She was assisted by Mrs. Flemming, who read the scripture lesson, also Mrs. Leonard Noble, Mrs. Alvin Raymond, Mrs. Edward Shewan, Mrs. Joseph Fox, Mrs. Frank Wagner, Mrs. Glen McCreery, and Miss Marion McCreery, who presided at the piano.

A feature of the evening was a layette shower for the babe and the missionary bazaar was packed, including three quilts, good used clothing and new clothing valued at $57.00. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Two pleasing solos were given by Mrs. E. Beaman, accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Pierce, at the piano.

Election of officers: Hon. president, Mrs. S. Orton, Olinda; president, Mrs. Bondy, of Malden; 1st vice-president, Mrs. O. E. Lonsberry, Cottam; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. A. Sinasac, Anderton; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jas. Ward, Auld.

The project for this year's work will be a speaker service on Citizenship and an Officer's Rally.

A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a gavel, by Mrs. E. A. McGee, to our newly organized Junior Institute, of Anderton.

The Olinda branch, whose "Tweedsmuir Village History" was judged best in South Essex district, has been sent on to Halifax to be judged against over 70 from other districts.

The Essex delegates to this meeting were Mrs. A. Tofflemire, Mrs. H. Piper, Mrs. H. Harrow and Mrs. G. Switzer.

A very instructive and inspiring meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

(Crowded out last issue)
The regular meeting of the Maidstone W. I. was held last week at the home of Mrs. Harold Hyland, with the newly elected president, Mrs. Keith Howard, in the chair.

SERVING CANADIANS

THROUGH CHEMISTRY

"Chemistry?"

IT DOESN'T MEAN A THING TO ME!"

WERE a farmer it might seem that way at first glance. But take another look!

Those fine crops, which mean so much to Canada's health and economy, often depend upon chemical fertilizers. Weed and pest destroyers, orchard sprays too, are but a few of the services that chemical research extends to agriculture.

Through good times and bad, the chemical industry plows a straight furrow, ever moving forward to create better things for farm, industry and home. Look to chemistry with confidence for a finer future... and to the C-I-L oval symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

CANADIAN INDUSTRIES LIMITED

SINCE 1847

100 YEARS AGO in Canada, mail was delivered by couriers who collected the postage in cash. The first sewing machine resulted in a riot among employees of master tailors. There were only a few struggling newspapers, and only the beginning of a railway.

Under such conditions and during a period of acute national instability, the Canada Life was born. Though many financial institutions failed in the great depression which followed, the Canada Life, founded on a sound and conservative basis, weathered the storm. It has progressed through 100 years of wars, epidemics and depressions. In the meantime life insurance has become the accepted means by which Canadians safeguard the security of their dependents.

Windsor Woman Addresses Group.

(Crowded out last week)
Mrs. Lyle Collard, of Windsor, the official representative of the Presbyterian Women's Association, was the guest speaker at the May meeting of the North Ridge United Church Women's Association, for which Mrs. Harry Hutchinson, Talbot Road, opened her home. Mrs. Joseph Fox, president, was in the chair; Mrs. Leonard Noble at the piano; and Mrs. Glenn McCrorey read the bible lesson. Mrs. Collard gave an inspirational address on the aims and the work of the Women's Association.

Play for All.

Children whose delicate or handicapped condition does not permit them to join in the more bisterous games, should be included in some form of recreational activity. The Department of National Health and Welfare, in a message to parents, points out that there are games which any child may enjoy, no matter what his constitution. And only in competitive games can a child learn necessary self-reliance and retain the sense of belonging to the social group.

I sell... SECURITY and PEACE OF MIND

That's a broad claim — so perhaps I should say that Confederation Life Association, which I represent, really provides this Security and Peace of Mind through its various types of life insurance and pension plans.

Longer and lower in appearance and powered by a 97-horsepower V8 engine having accelerated airflow for improved crankcase ventilation, 1947 models of the Ford DeLuxe and Super DeLuxe passenger car lines are now in production. Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, announced here this week.

The Super DeLuxe cars will be available in four body types. Tudor sedan, Fordor sedan, Coupe and Sedan coupe. The DeLuxe line is made up of the Tudor sedan, Fordor sedan and Coupe. Six new color shades are announced for the Super DeLuxe and five for the DeLuxe models.

In exterior appearance, the 1947 model changes include new hood mouldings, new hood medallion mounted above the grille, grille of sparkling stainless steel bars and heavier streamlined grille guards. Front end parking lights are mounted directly below the headlights for improved definition of the car's width in uncertain light. A longer, lower appearance is effected by the use of new body belt moulding combined with wider, lower fender mouldings and new body sill mouldings extended along the front fender skirts. Hub caps have been re-styled and bleed with unusually wide wheel trim rings for the Super DeLuxe. Door handles have been designed to blend with the body belt moulding.

Rear view changes bring a new deck lid ornament. Heavier bumper guards combine with a lower bumper for increased body protection.

Listed as other mechanical features are a large, easy-action clutch and improved positioning of the balanced carburetion system for greater fuel economy.

Car interiors have rich, two-tone color schemes to harmonize with instrument panel and outside coloring.

Swimming Pools.

Value of indoor swimming pools which provide recreational facilities in seasons when open-air bathing is not advisable is emphasized by the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. The government health authorities express the hope that in communities where indoor swimming baths are not available, public spirited citizens will band together to provide such aids to recreation and health.

Down at Heel.

You risk not only your social standing but your very health, if you do "down at heel" declares the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. An imperfect foot, spoiling posture and balance as well as increasing the risk of injury, is a real danger to the health of the individual. Consultation with the doctor is the first step in the treatment of the foot.

Correct education and fashion form the transient standards of morals, morality, except from age or dogma, is a duty of its own, the path of the soul—Mary Baker Eddy.

Old Orders Change.

By Joseph Lister Rutledge.
It is rather more than probable that Britain has fought her last battle. Britain will recover, but hardly again will she recover the vigour that gave her a unique solitary dominance in the affairs of Europe and the world.

Twice in little more than a generation she has stood at the barricades, saving the world time—time to assess issues, to make decisions, and, most of all, time to prepare. But to all this there was a cost, a cost that both Britain herself and the world at large are only beginning to understand. Never again single-handed can she face an embattled world.

Perhaps it was not wholly the war and its cost. Some Britons have long understood that it takes more than a single war to destroy a nation's power. It is not in Britain's power to regain such a place as Britain held in the world. Lord Halifax has said it more than a year ago when he spoke harshly of "Foreign Office Privileges" which, to his sober thinking, meant the assumption of responsibilities without the necessary supporting force. Lord Halifax saw it when, referring to India, he spoke of the "distasteful position in which Britain finds itself when its responsibilities are greater than its powers." And now the world has been spoken out loud in the British note announcing to the United States and the world that after March 31st Britain would be unable to continue her help to Greece and Turkey. It was saying in blunt words what some Britons had hankered to say for a long time, and what others had felt they would lose face by saying — there is a limit to the responsibilities that any one nation can assume.

Here it was at last, tossed into the world's lap with no possibility of mistaking. It wasn't a matter of pulling Britain's chestnuts out of the fire, for they were everybody's chestnuts. It wasn't a matter of what to do with Germany, for even that had become a problem within a problem. It wasn't a matter of saving Greece or safeguarding Turkey. It was a challenge to the policy of assuming that by delegating responsibility issues could be made to remain national rather than international and so, somehow, become less menacing. For the menace was there, a dream as extravagant and far-reaching as the Kaiser's dream of Germany's place in the sun; an ideology as destructive as that of Hitler or Mussolini.

Britain's statement means that the future is not Britain's battle. The time has come for a united force strong enough to say "No" and make the word stick.

Prevention and Cure.

Recalling the ages during which the sick were treated as objects of horror and disease was shunned public health authorities at Ottawa stress the modern approach to illness — study, treatment, and, most of all, prevention, where possible. Since most diseases can be cured, the Department of National Health and Welfare reminds Canadians that prompt medical attention is the answer to disease. The department also issues a reminder that the more we forestall disease, the less we will have to cure it.

There is no tyrant like custom, and no freedom where its edicts are not resisted.—Bovee.

The custom and fashion of today will be the awkwardness and outrage of tomorrow — so arbitrary are these transient laws.—Dumas.

THE NATION'S BUSINESS.

Discussion on last week's budget and the budget speech delivered by Finance Minister Abbott, still predominates in Ottawa circles. The outstanding feature of the discussions is an attempt to see behind the scene of Canada's economic and political welfare for information on which to base a forecast for the future. All agree that Canada is more prosperous than at any other time and that her prosperity reaches a larger proportion of her people than ever before. The question in many minds is our prosperity so soundly based as to give a reasonable guarantee that it will last?

Prosperity based on Production.

Few dispute that our prosperity is based on our production of goods and services which, it is estimated, will be more than twelve billion dollars this year — higher than the peak of wartime production. Our debts to other countries are 35% lower than before the war and in 1946 our sales to the world were greater than our purchases. Can this high level of production and sales — which means a high level of employment be maintained. Informed observers claim that Canadian purchasing power and a large part of the big expansion of industry can continue only if our sales to other countries is maintained. If this is correct it is clear that the interest Canadians have been taking in the Moscow and Geneva conference of foreign ministers and in Geneva conference of foreign ministers and in Geneva conference on international trade is overwhelmingly justified even on the basis of our own self interest, because without a settlement of the European problem an agreement to lower all barriers to trade, the basis of our present prosperity will be substantially reduced.

Communists Disappointed.

It is obvious that Canada's communists and extreme left wingers are disappointed at signs of continuing prosperity. Having predicted a depression and mass unemployment it sometimes appears that they are hoping that condition will come. They make every effort to discourage the hope for world peace and world trade. By continuous talk of disaster and depression they hope to create that condition by shaking the confidence of our people. It is an insidious and sinister campaign that we must guard ourselves against. Henry Richards, C.C.F. member in the Manitoba legislature followed this technique in his attacks on the United States and capitalism to the point that brought repudiation from his leader in the legislature.

Does Business Get Anything?
The Ottawa Journal (Progressive-Conservative) criticizes the federal government's budget on the ground that "business gets little" out of it. Perhaps it is true that business gets little out of it directly except the abolition of excess profits tax for next year. Britain and United States both abolished that tax more than a year ago.

Indirectly business got — from the cut on our income taxes — the release of a large amount of buying power, more customers with money to buy. Business also got some very sound advice from the Minister of Finance

Following are a few of the titles of the pamphlets: Cattle Lice: Control; The Cattle Rust Fly; Control of Insects; Attacking Vegetables under Glass; Insect Control in Lambing Camps with DDT; How to Foretell and Control Outbreaks of White Grubs.

The list can be obtained from the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, and a copy of any of the pamphlets will be sent on request.

which will benefit itself and Canadians generally — "keep prices as low as possible."

Our American Friends.

It is difficult to find any crystallized opinion on the question raised by a former Secretary of State of the United States: Should Canada join the Pan American Union? There are, of course a few imperialists who believe that such action would be treason to Britain and to our membership in the British Commonwealth. There are also a few extreme nationalists who would welcome the move for that very reason. It is safe to say that neither of these views represent any appreciable number of Canadians.

The only question in the minds of most observers here is: How can we contribute most of the peace and prosperity to the world? It is difficult to see where our present position could be improved by joining the western hemisphere organization. Few attempt to claim that we would have more influence or prestige as a member than we now have in North and South America. Some feel that we would actually have less influence than we now have as an independent with Lead Poisoning.

Eating lunch at the factory work-bench is dangerous, according to a warning from the Industrial Health division of the Department of National Health and Welfare. Workers, carelessly placing food on the work-bench, may add some such dangerous metallic substance as lead to their diet and, say the health authorities, lead poisoning is far too common an industrial disease. Care is also urged in measures for ventilating plants to clear air of lead dust and lead fumes.

Winter Sports.

Announcing that free copies are available, on application, of its booklet, "Better Health Through Skiing," the Department of National Health and Welfare suggests to Canadians that they begin, now, planning their personal programme of winter sports activities. The Department comments upon the all-year-round sports facilities in Canada and on the value of some form of recreation at all seasons.

OF CANADA

Place for 2, 4-D in Vegetable Garden.

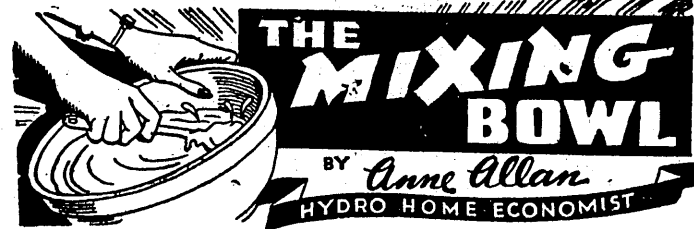

Most gardeners know by now that the comparatively new weed killer known as 2, 4-D kills many weeds effectively, particularly those of the broad leaves varieties such as plantain and dandelions. Less generally known, perhaps, is the fact that there may be a place for this new selective hormone spray in the vegetable garden.

Preliminary tests at the Dominion Experimental Station, Sault Ste. Marie, B.C., in 1946 indicated that 2, 4-D, if applied before the young vegetable seedlings show above ground, will control some garden weeds in areas sown with the slower germinating vegetables as onions, leeks, or parsnips. Care, however, should be taken to insure that this 2, 4-D pre-emergence spray does not come in contact with the vegetables known to be susceptible to the hormone spray.

Tests at Sault Ste. Marie indicate that some vegetables such as beets, carrots, dill, lettuce, peas, spinach and turnips are almost entirely killed or dwarfed by 2, 4-D when applied just as they are coming through the ground, or two weeks later when in the early seedling stage. Other vegetables, however, such as leeks, onions, corn, and to a lesser degree parsley and parsnips apparently are not affected by the application of 2, 4-D when breaking through the ground, and only slightly inhibited when sprayed two weeks later.

Some weeds commonly found in vegetable crops, like Western Yellow Cress, go out like a light when sprayed with 2, 4-D. Other weeds, however, such as pig weed and lamb's quarters are more persistent, particularly if they have been allowed to become well established. Tests have shown that all weeds should be sprayed if possible when they are in the tender seedling stage, using 2, 4-D at the concentrations recommended by the manufacturer and at the rate of one gallon per square rod. While spraying may not kill all the weeds in the vegetable garden, the careful use of 2, 4-D will help to eliminate such of the drudgery of hand weeding and hoeing for those gardeners who are interested in weed control by chemical means.

What happiness is, the Bible alone shows clearly and certainly, and points out the way that leads to the attainment of it.—Cokeridge.

Hello, Homemakers! When a long absent commodity finds its way back on the grocery shelves it receives an enthusiastic welcome.

So it is not surprising that with the appearance of rice, homemakers are writing to us for ways to use it. Some find the price high and want to know ways to use it wisely, others have thrown away prewar rice recipes. Today, therefore, we refresh your memory with rice recipes for soup, main course or dessert. Rice is a starchy food which should be cooked in plenty of hot liquid quickly. To prevent rice forming a sticky mass during cooking, sprinkle rice slowly into rapidly boiling water. Cook with out a cover keeping the food constantly boiling until rice is soft (about 40 minutes) then drain and pour a cup of cold water through the rice in a sieve, and place in a partially covered dish in a warm place before serving.

RICE SOUP.
For each quart of brown or white stock, use two tablespoons rice. Soak one-half hour in enough stock or water to cover it. Bring remainder of stock to simmering point. Add soaked rice and simmer in closed saucepan one-half hour.

CURRIED RICE.
1 cup rice
2 tablespoons fat
1 teaspoon chopped onion
2 1/2 cups boiling water
1 to 2 tablespoons curry-powder
2 tablespoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Wash the rice well. Place fat and onion in a stew-pan and cook them until the onion is yellow add the rice and stir the whole over a hot element for five minutes. Draw the pan off of the heat season with the curry-powder salt and pepper, stir well and pour in the boiling water. Cover the stew-pan and boil rapidly for ten minutes then cook very slowly for 40 minutes.

Curried rice is appropriate with any kind of meat dish that has been prepared with a sauce.

Rice Crown With Apricots.
Cook rice in milk and put in a buttered ring mold. When cool, turn into a fresh fruit dish. Cook dried apricots and place halves around the top of the crown. Strain the remainder of the fruit through a fine sieve and pour in the hollow of the crown. If this dish is desired hot put the mold in the oven for a few minutes before serving.

Trimming it with the apricots.
RICE MUFFINS.
1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup boiled rice, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup milk, 5 teaspoons of baking powder, 2 1/4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt.
Mix sugar, boiled rice, egg, melted shortening and milk. Sift baking powder, salt, and flour together, and add to the mixture. Bake in greased muffin-pans in electric oven (400 to 425 degrees) for 30 minutes.

CREAMY RICE PUDDING.
3 tablespoons rice, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 quart milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg.
Wash the rice thoroughly and add the other ingredients and pour into a greased baking dish. Bake from one and one-half to two hours in electric oven (250 to 300 degrees) stirring several times. The mixture should not boil.

This is the old-fashioned creamy pudding which has such a delicious flavour because of the long slow cooking. One-half cup of raisins may be added, if desired. Serve hot or cold.

TAKE A TIP.
1. To make broiled cube steaks, you can use either round steak or tenderloin, cut into individual serving pieces. To tenderize it, pound each piece with a wooden mallet or potato masher. Preheat the broiling element. Place steak on lightly greased rack of broiling pan two inches below the hot element. Brown for 10 minutes, then turn and broil on other side. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve.

2. Meat sandwiches are attractive. Cut canned meat in thick slices. Spread one side with prepared mustard or chili sauce. Whip mashed potatoes with milk and put in between slices of meat. Heat in a covered casserole.

3. A Souffle can be made on top of the stove. Put 2 squares of chocolate with 1 cup milk in top of double-boiler. Cook over boiling water until chocolate melts; beat until smooth with egg beater; add 1/2 cup sugar, dash of salt, 1-teaspoon vanilla and 3 unbeaten eggs. Beat vigorously one minute. Cover and cook 20 minutes without peeping. Remove from electric element. Serve warm with cream or top milk.

4. February salad: Mix 2 cups shredded carrots 1 small minced onion and 2 cups diced apples. Mix with French dressing just before serving. Sprinkle with paprika.

PEOPLE ARE ASKING?
Q.—What is the ceiling price of dairy and creamery butter and what is the difference between them?
A.—The ceiling price on dairy butter is 46c per pound prints and the creamery butter ceiling is 56c per pound prints. These can easily be distinguished by the labels as the name of the class of butter is printed on the label. Most dairy butter is sold on the local markets by the farmers who make this butter.

Q.—I have received a notice that my landlord is going to raise my rent from $35 to $50. How can he do that when the legal increase is supposed to be not more than 1 per cent?
A.—The notice you received is a copy of your landlord's application for such an increase. This application must be considered and approved by the rentals division of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board before any revised rate is effected. When the decision on the application is made you will be notified by Board authorities and sent a copy of the decision.

Q.—I recently bought some maple syrup which tastes like some sugar preparation and not the true syrup. Where can I have it tested?
A.—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board does not have any regulations governing the grading. You should consult the nearest office of the Department of Agriculture.

Q.—I am going to operate a store selling soft drinks confectionery and other goods. Must I obtain a license from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board?
A.—Yes, all businesses requiring a sugar quota must have a Board license. These and dealers in coal or coke must have licenses because, even though these commodities have been removed from price controls, the Board is still interested in and concerned with their proper supply and distribution.

Q.—Could you tell me the ceiling price, if any, of shortening?
A.—Shortening comes under ceilings regulations, but the price varies according to the price which your retail dealer pays.

The Nurse.
By Ed. Byrne.
The nurse is a mighty person. Her steps are quiet and fast. We wonder how her patience Year after year can last.

Her smile, it gives you courage. Her kindness brings you rest. To make you well more quickly She will always do her best.

Treats her patients all alike. Be they rich, or be they poor. She goes far beyond her duty Of that you may be sure.

She served for years in training. Sacrifices she has made, Doctors are almost helpless Without the nurse's aid.

When we call upon her for help. And think we're very ill, And others do not seem to help us. We know the good nurse will.

With her kindness and care. She will somehow pull us through. We give credit to the doctor But must give her credit, too.

She is the queen of patience, Through suffering and strife. We know that all good nurses Have a hard but useful life.

Every heart that has beat strong and cheerfully has left a hopeful impulse behind it in the world, and bettered the tradition of mankind.—Stevenson.

Control Live Stock Insects With DDT.

Insecticides offered for sale in Canada must be registered in accordance with the provisions of the Pest Control Products Act. Under the regulations of this Act, the ingredients, guarantee, purpose of the product, directions for use, and the text of labels of insecticide materials are reviewed by officials of the Dominion Department of Agriculture before applications for registration are accepted. Mention of this is made in the processed publication "Livestock Insect Control with DDT" to give assurance that proprietary insecticides may be purchased and used with confidence, in accordance with the claims and directions shown on the labels of the products.

Information is given in the circular about DDT formulations, oil sprays, containing DDT, powders and water suspensions, control of flies and other insects in and about farm buildings, including horn fly control, control of lice with DDT — cattle, horse, hog, sheep, goat, chicken, and dog — bedbugs in chicken houses, sheep ked sheep blowflies, fleas, and ticks. A copy of this processed publication No. 65, may be obtained by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

...and I said CHEVROLET

"Why was Chevrolet my choice? Because, like most women, when I shop my one idea is to get the most value for my money—and Chevrolet is the car that gives you just that. As far as beauty, comfort, and all-round quality are concerned, Chevrolet is way up there with the big cars. Yet when it comes to price—well, the price is so much lower it's hardly believable. And another thing I like—the upkeep cost won't strain our family budget! Yes, my choice was Chevrolet, and my husband says I couldn't have chosen better.

Wettest Spring.

According to the Detroit Weather Bureau, this is the wettest spring in history, with a total rainfall since January 1st, of 18.88 inches, over 60% of the annual quota. In March, April and May there has been a total of 15.37 inches, an inch and a half over the old record of 1943, with still four days to go.

Eugene O'Neill Passes.

Eugene O'Neill, aged 61, of 1183 Church street, Windsor, died Wednesday at his home, following a brief illness. He was born in Elmira, N.Y., and had lived in Windsor for 35 years. He was a member of the Essex County Sportsman's Association.

Mr. O'Neill is survived by his wife, May; two sons, Verne, of Windsor, and Kenneth, at home; one daughter, Pauline, at home; one grandson; three brothers, Harry, Lionel and Elmer, all of Oldcastle; and two sisters, Mrs. Justus O'Neill of Oldcastle, and Mrs. Garnett Webster, of Toronto.

Services will be conducted on Friday at 1:30 p.m., from H. S. Anderson Funeral Home, to St. Stephen's Church at 2 p.m., with burial in St. Stephen's cemetery.

Receives Promotion.

Howard Felstead, accountant at the local branch of the Imperial Bank the past nine years, on Saturday received the good news from the head office of the bank, in Toronto, that he had been chosen to manage a new branch of the bank, recently completed, in Aylmer, Ontario.

Howard, as well as Mrs. Felstead, have made a great many friends in Essex since coming here from Niagara Falls. He is president of the local Chamber of Commerce, who are sponsoring a complimentary dinner in his honour, in St. Paul's parish hall, on Monday evening, to which all of the community are invited. He was a member of the Essex Public School Board for a year, has taken an active part in the work of Central Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and of Essex United Church.

We are sure the people of Essex and surrounding district will be sorry to learn of his moving away from town, but offer him congratulations on his promotion.

Accident at Cottam.

A serious auto accident occurred in the centre of Cottam, on Saturday afternoon, when a car, driven by Joseph Couture, of Stoney Pointe, crashed head-on into a car driven by W. Brobst, of Windsor. It was reported Mr. Couture, who was driving toward Essex, hit the Brobst car while trying to avoid striking a dog crossing the highway. Mr. Couture suffered several fractured toes and head injuries. In the Brobst car were five Windsor men, on their way to the opening of the district Scout camp, Camp Erwig, at Wheatley. Harry Gignac was the most seriously injured, suffering a fractured knee. Mr. Brobst has fractured ribs and lacerations, while Harry Lassaline received a fractured collarbone.

Steed-Pipes Nuptials.

The following item was taken from the Vancouver, B.C. Times: Banff, Calgary and Lethbridge are marked on the honeymoon itinerary of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lyle Steed, who were married early Thursday evening in Metropolitan United Church.

The traditionally beautiful ceremony, performed by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, featured a combination of pastel spring gowns, the dignity of naval uniforms, and the colorful setting of tulips, narcissi, lilac and bridal wreath. The former Beverly Aileen Pipes, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pipes, 1752 Armstrong avenue, was given in marriage to the groom, a PO Writer, R.C.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steed, Essex, Ont., by her father.

Whispering taffeta, fashioned in Queen Anne mode, with sweetheart neckline and full skirt slightly en train, formed the bridal gown. A shoulder-length veil was held beneath a Queen Anne headdress, and the bride wore lace gloves and carried a bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley. In similar taffeta gowns of lemon yellow and of heavenly blue, featuring pleated overskirts forming draped bustles over the pencil-skirt skirts were Miss Shirley Normand and Miss Audrey Pipes, sister of the bride. Both wore floral headresses and carried colonial bouquets.

John Turner, PO, Photographer, was best man, and seating guests were Stoker PO. Gordon Lintman and PO. Writer Mark Preston.

Miss Pamela Newton sang "Beloved It Is Morn", and E. Holloway presided at the organ. Harvey Weber proposed the bridal toast at a reception held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Pipes assisted in welcoming guests. Tall white candles flanked the three-tiered cake centering the bride's table.

Following the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Steed will reside in Winnipeg, Man. "The bride chose for travelling a check suit of pale grey with matching hat, rose wool topcoat and black accessories.

To Sing First Mass.

Rev. Fr. Arnold Francis Loebach, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Loebach, of Gosfield, a graduate of Essex High school, who will be ordained to the sacred Order of Priesthood, at London, on Saturday, May 31st, will sing his first solemn high mass in Holy Name of Jesus Church, Essex, at 10 a.m., on Sunday next, June 1st.

Rev. Fr. M. I. O'Neill will be assistant priest; Rev. Fr. W. J. King, deacon of the mass; Rev. Fr. E. Parr, sub-deacon; William Loebach, master of ceremonies; E. Laroque, Thurifer, and L. Seguin and J. Hollerhead, Acolytes. Preacher for the service will be Rt. Rev. Monsignor L. M. Forristal, D.P.

Percy W. Lee Injured.

Percy W. Lee local assistant postmaster, is a patient in Grace Hospital, Windsor, to where he was rushed, by ambulance, on Saturday night, after being knocked down by an auto, driven by Doug Loucks, of town. He was about at the centre of Talbot street, crossing diagonally across the highway from the east side of the street, at Arthur avenue intersection, and was walking home with Orvan Whittall, who saw the car coming, but Mr. Lee on his left, apparently never noticed it and walked in front of the vehicle. It was raining at the time of the accident and the Loucks car was making the turn onto Arthur avenue from Talbot.

Percy while not completely out of danger, is progressing favourably. He has a fracture at the base of the skull and other bruises about the body.

Essex Cadet Corps Gets High Commendation.

Essex High School cadet corps drew high commendation from Major J. C. Young, district cadet officer, at the annual inspection last Friday afternoon.

Wins Praise.

In addressing the cadets, Major Young said: "The Essex cadets are held in high esteem by cadet services and today the leaders were good from the commanding officers down — a credit not only to themselves and their instructors, but to the community. He especially praised "the good cadet spirit and the friendly community spirit of Essex."

100 Take Part.

More than 100 boys, all in uniform, took part, under the battalion commander, Don Johnston, and his assistants: Bill Raymond, company commander; Jim Myles, George Pfahler, Marcel Allison, lieutenants; Albert Fair, Elgin McMurren, Lloyd Harrow and Elmer Standish, sergeants. Lieutenant J. H. Rapsey is instructor of the cadets.

The general salute was sounded by Sgt. Bill Naylor, of the 22nd Recon Regiment, and the drummers were George Heath and Delbert Matlack.

100 Girls.

There were 100 girls in B Company of five platoons under the direction of Miss Helen Murphy. The commanding officer was Patricia McCreey and Corporal Morris was second-in-command. Catharine Neice was sergeant-major and the four platoon commanders were Barbara Allen, Lillian McMullen, Mary Hutchins and Frances Mulcaster.

Thirty girls under Virginia Gauthier formed the special platoon of nurses. The sergeants were Shirley London, Mary Naylor, Patricia Schram, Margaret Ramsom and Betty Cowan. The B company of girls did company drilling, platoon drilling, gymnastics and first aid work. The boys demonstrated drill, semaphore signalling, and physical culture training.

High School Notes.

Some of the University results have been announced during the past week, and the following Essex High School graduates have been successful: Donald Vanstone, 1st year Chemical Engineering, Queen's University; Carman Ciphery, 2nd year Ontario Agricultural College; Lawrence Loebach, 3rd year Engineering Physics, University Toronto; Olin Huggard, 3rd year Chemical Engineering, Queen's University (Olin won a $100 prize); Norma McCreery, 4th year Political Science and Economics, Western University (Norma has been awarded a Fellowship at Radcliffe, which is a Woman's college associated with Harvard University).

Arnold Loebach, another graduate of Essex High School, will be ordained to the priesthood on May 31st, at St. Peters Cathedral, London, Ont. His first mass will be held at Essex on June 1st.

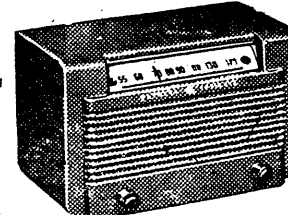

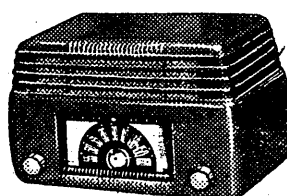

Four Essex High School girls have recently graduated as nurses. They are Dorothy MacDowell, Mary Butts, and Marjorie Neice, from Grace Hospital, Windsor, and Helen Groves, from St. Joseph's Hospital, Chatham.

The staff of students extend congratulations to all these students who have been successful. We shall look forward confidently to the success of others whose reports are not yet published.

—Due to a steady levelling off of unemployment the Essex office of National Employment Service is being closed as of June 1st, according to Jack Linagar, assistant manager of the Windsor office.

Loses Sister.

(Crowded out last issue.)
Mrs. Gordon Weatherbie received word on Sunday of the death of her sister, Catherine (Mrs. Hazen Bernard) which occurred in St. Joseph's Hospital, Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Surviving, besides her husband, are four children; her mother, Mrs. Douglas De Young, of Amherstburg; a brother, Reginald De Young, of Windsor; and five sisters, Mrs. G. Weatherbie, of town; Mrs. John Massey, of Coldwater, Mich.; Mrs. Gilbert Saunders, of Shmoo; Mrs. Wm. Laing and Mrs. Orville Hunt, of Amherstburg.

Burial was in St. John the Baptist Church cemetery, Leamington, on Wednesday.

Dominic Lepain Dies.

Dominic Lepain, aged 81 years, passed away in Hotel Dieu, Windsor, on Monday.

Deceased had farmed all his life. He was a member of Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church, Malden.

Surviving are two sons, Frank and Russell, both of Sandwich South; a brother, Edward, of Sandwich West Township; and a sister, Mrs. Ed. Denison, Sandwich South.

Nylon from Corn Cobs.

How many pairs of stockings can be made from a bushel of corn cobs?

The answer is "none." But the corn cobs and stocking will soon be close relatives. After years of study in their test tube world of never ending wonders, American chemists have developed a process to turn furfural, a chemical contained in corn cobs, into cotton and rice hulls, into adiponitrile, a key substance in nylon making.

It was recently announced that a large unit which can produce tons of adiponitrile from furfural will be built at an electro-chemical plant in Niagara Falls, N.Y. An estimated 200,000,000 pounds of cobs, oat hulls or similar farm products will be required annually to meet present demands.

As this new development is confined to the United States, it is not yet known when or if Canadian farmers will benefit from the discovery. At present nylon yarn is being produced at C.I.L.'s plant at Kingston, Ontario, from a white flake derived from components of coal, air and water.

Funeral services were held this (Thursday) morning from his late home on Walker Road, at 8 o'clock, thence to St. Mary's Church at 9 a.m. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. John Grey Guest Speaker

(Crowded out last issue)

Mrs. John Grey, regent of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.O.F., Windsor, addressed members of the Essex Chapter at the recent regular meeting at the home of Mrs. E. A. Naylor.

Counselling the members to "take an interest and be leaders in your own community" Mrs. Grey told of some of the problems of the work and gave helpful advice.

The regent was appointed as representative to a meeting in the Legion rooms to discuss plans for the proposed memorial park.

Mrs. Victor Jones was named convener of the Rose Tag Day to be held June 7th.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Amcott. Mrs. A. Plant assisted the hostess in serving tea.

Field Service Clinic.

Invitations have been sent to 10 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in the Windsor area, to take part in a Field Service Clinic in Windsor on Wednesday, May 28th. This clinic is one of a series of one hundred clinics being organized by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce across Canada, the purpose being to continue the program, initiated in 1946, of assisting Board and Chamber organizations in improving their activity and efficiency, and in addition to sponsor the establishment of National Affairs Committee in each community.

The agenda will include talks on "Board of Trade Fundamentals" by T. H. Hamill, assistant Ontario manager, Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and "Program of Work," by C. K. Bantock, Field Service Representative, Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and discussion by delegates on local program problems, as well as the organization of National Affairs Committees.

A list of the Boards and Chambers expected to attend includes: Belle River and district, Tilbury, Essex, Amherstburg, Harrow, Kingsville, Leamington, Comber, West Lorne and LaSalle.

Creed of Minorities.

By Joseph Lister Rutledge.

One of the amazing facts that give a startling significance to the growing threat of communism is that everywhere it is a minority. Even in Russia this is true. It is a threat not because of any weight of numbers but because it is an active and aggressive creed that is not disturbed by the thought of consequences. In Russia the prevailing group and major propaganda centre of this destructive creed, only a little better than three per cent of the people are communists. Over the whole of Europe, the hotbed of leftist thinking, the percentage is about the same. So, too, in Germany and France. It is strongest in the least stable and least prosperous countries. In the Balkans, communism represents four per cent of the people; in Italy, five; in Greece, six.

The lesson is clearly drawn. There can be no truce between responsible majorities thinking in terms of political and economic democracy and the rule of minorities in the regimented control of the police state. History has made it clear to us that wherever minorities have succeeded in dominating the will of the majority some form of political aggression has been born. It is no less true in our own age. The "will to power" did not die with Germany's defeat. It blossomed anew in the thinking of the Kremlin and only an aroused majority can protect itself against minority thinking that might again bedevil the world.

The tenets of communism are easily spread among despairing peoples who have lost confidence in order and look to disorder to adjust the balance and give to each his place in the sun. The reluctance of democratic majorities to suppress any form of political thinking has given this way of thought the opportunity it needed to work underground and to sow antagonisms and disorganization. Had it remained a denationalized way of thought its growth might have been hard to stay. But day by day, it has become more clear that it is a creed that accepts direction from only one source. The imminence of that world threat is bringing the majorities into line against infiltrating minorities. In China the Moscow-supported communists are slowly losing ground. In France the challenge to the communists, "You cannot be with the Republic and against the Republic," has brought a schism in the communist ranks. A hard core of resistance is implicit in President Truman's policy in Greece, and in Secretary Marshall's stiffened attitude in Moscow. Canada has tried its real intellectuals, and Washington has demanded a purge of its officialdom. At least the majorities seem to be awakening to the fact that you dare not be gentle with the creed of any revolutionary minority. —Liberty Magazine.

Filthy Flies.

The seasonal warning is up, at Ottawa, against flies. Health authorities, in calling for a war on the familiar pests, remind Canadians that flies pass on infection directly from filth to food. Thorough coverage, and eventually complete destruction of all garbage, is essential to maintenance of a healthful environment. The use of screens to keep flies out of dwellings and away from food is also advised.

Radio Programs.

Below will be found a list of dates for radio programs which should be of interest to the people of Essex County. These radio sketches are being sponsored by the Essex County Tourist Association and started off on April 10th, with a Jack Miner memorial broadcast; on May 16th, the subject was "Ferry Service on the Detroit River." Coming dates: May 23rd, "Ambassador Bridge"; May 30th, "The Detroit-Windsor Tunnel"; June 6th, "Along the Detroit River in 1827"; June 13th, "Comber"; June 20th, "John Askin and His Associates"; June 27th, "Hiram Walker, Railway Builder"; July 4th, "The Telephone Comes to Essex County"; July 11th, "Belle River"; July 18th, "The American Invasion under Brigadier General William Hull"; July 25th, "Amherstburg and Fort Malden Museum."

On June 20th, the speaker will be Robert M. Fuller, principal of Douglass avenue school, Windsor. George F. Macdonald, president Essex County Historical Society, will broadcast July 13th. The speaker, July 25th, will be David F. Botsford, Curator of the Fort Malden Museum, Amherstburg. Remaining radio sketches are being delivered by Doctor Neil F. Morrison, member of the staff of W. D. Lowe Vocational School and author of the text "A Commercial and Economic Geography."

Rest the Eyes.

Rest your eyes at frequent intervals, when doing close work. Look at a blank wall, or some distant object. Use your eyes sparingly during illness or convalescence when they are particularly susceptible to fatigue, and always read with adequate, steady light, properly located. Avoid reading in bed for extended periods, or in moving vehicles.

These tips of sight saving come from National Health authorities at Ottawa.

School Lunches.

"You can't fill the head when the stomach is empty" the health authorities remind Canadian parents. When mothers are preparing those box lunches for the children take to school, the medical experts suggest that substantial and sustaining foods be included. Not just sandwiches with fillings "painted" on. These won't give the children the energy they need in coping with their studies — or play.

Eating Out.

Even if you must eat all three meals a day in restaurants, you can still select healthful foods, according to the health authorities. They suggest that Canadians study cafe menus with health in mind, and warn that, no matter how they are priced, too many sweet or starchy foods aren't bargains in the long run.

As a tip on eating out, the experts point to whole wheat, rye or "Canada Approved" bread. These are necessary for health maintenance.

Restaurants will stock healthful foods if there is a regular demand for them.

Healthful Personality.

The health factor in personality is the theme of an announcement from Ottawa, where the health authorities of the Department of National Health and Welfare point out that a pleasing personality presupposes tip-top health. The fit person is more likely to be cheerful, full of life, and, above all, tactful, the doctors say. Hence health is essential for success in human relations.

PEOPLE ARE ASKING?

Q.—Is there a ceiling price on goose feathers and goose down?
A.—No. Both have been removed from price ceiling regulations.

Q.—I own a house which rents for less than $35 a month. May I apply for a price increase giving the tenants a two-year lease?
A.—Under order No. 707 it is immaterial what the amount of rent if it is a complete housing unit, built or structurally altered before January 1st, 1944 and which has a lawful rental at present. In such case the landlord may increase the lawful rent up to 10 per cent provided he serves the tenant with a special two-year lease on forms provided by the W.P.T.B. This does not apply to shared accommodation.

Q.—I bought a jar of strawberry jam this week and paid five cents more than I ever paid before. Has there been a price increase allowed?
A.—Yes. All jams, jellies and marmalades were given an increase in legal ceiling price of 10 per cent on April 8th. This increase was allowed to offset the increased costs of labor, sugar containers, pectin and other materials.

Q.—I understand that landlords may apply for permission to obtain possession of their homes if they were purchased during a certain period. Would you please tell me the correct dates.
A.—The period is between October 31st, 1944, and July 25th, 1945.

Q.—If I make babies cotton clothing for sale, must I have the price approved by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board?
A.—Yes, after procuring a W.P.T.B. license, send samples of the garments to the pricing officer at the Federal Building, London.

Mankind is not disposed to look narrowly into the conduct of great victors when their victory is on the right side.—George Eliot.

Under powers given by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to the Co-ordinator, Foods Administration, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1. This order comes into force on May 19th, 1947, and replaces Administrator's Order No. A-2139, as amended, which is hereby revoked. 2. For the purposes of this Order: (a) "No. 1 Canada," "No. 2 Canada," "No. 3 Canada," and "No. 4 Canada" mean, respectively, soya beans graded in accordance with the standards for such grades established by Order in Council P. C. 6125, dated July 16th, 1942; (b) "Sell" includes offer to sell.

3. Any consideration, money or money's worth given or paid by the buyer to any person in connection with the purchase of any soya beans or received by the seller from any person in connection with the sale of any soya beans shall constitute part of the price of such soya beans.

4. The maximum price at which any person may sell any soya beans in bulk to any person, (a) delivered at Halifax, Quebec City, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Lethbridge or Vancouver shall, according to the grade and the moisture content of the soya beans sold, be the price listed for the same in the following table:

Moisture content	Maximum Prices per Bushel in Dollars According to Grades.

Over 19% — deduct from the prices listed above for 19% moisture content soya beans, 3 cents for each one per cent or fraction thereof by which the moisture content is over 19%.

5. The maximum price at which any person may sell any soya beans packed in bags to any person shall, according to the point at which delivery is made to the buyer, be the maximum price at which he may sell soya beans of the same grade to that person in bulk as fixed by Section 4, plus 8c per bushel when packed in second hand bags and 10c per bushel when packed in new bags.

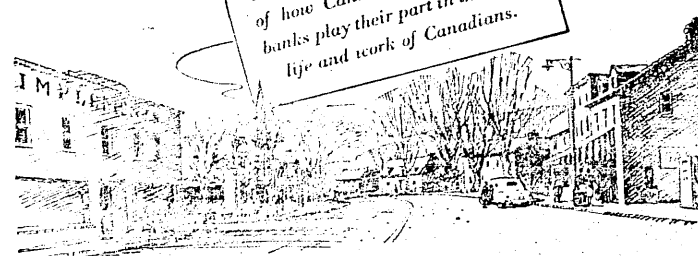

BIG TOURIST SEASON AHEAD!

THE THOMPSONS are busy as bees, getting their place in shape for the tourist season. This year, with three more cabins, electricity and a modernized kitchen, they hope to do even better than before.

They were able to make these additions because last fall Mr. Thompson drove to town to see his bank manager. He knew about the nice little business the Thompsons had built up; a bank loan was quickly arranged.

Now the Thompsons can handle more tourists and increase their income. At the same time Canada will benefit from the extra tourist dollars they take in.

THIS IS ONE INSTANCE of how Canada's 3,200 branch banks play their part in the daily life and work of Canadians.

—A Correction.

—In our report of a recent meeting held at the Essex High School, when the High School Board met with the Bonus Amicus Club Will Buy Books.

The Bonus Amicus Club meeting in the Union Hall, with Mrs. Elwyn Patterson, Mrs. Clifford Ruston, and Mrs. Alvin Elliott in charge, heard "Anna and the King of Siam" reviewed by Mrs. David Cavers, and decided to purchase study books on family relationships to be followed in the monthly meetings.

Mrs. William Henderson, Mrs. Richard Ruston, Mrs. Leonard Pickle and Mrs. Earl Stowe were winners in the secular contests, and Mrs. David Cavers and Mrs. Donald Weaver, in the Biblical contest.

The June meeting will be held at the home of an ex-member of the club, Mrs. Henry Bolton, in Windsor.

Reduces Prices to Pre-War Level.

Herbert Smith, general manager of Pumps & Softeners, Limited, London, Ont., announced effective immediately prices on Duro Domestic Water Softeners are reduced to the pre-war level. These price reductions are effected because of return to greater than pre-war production and full-time employment. The economies which increased production have produced are now being passed on to the Canadian consumer.

Mr. Smith feels that this policy is the most effective means of controlling the vicious spiral of consumer costs.

Behind Closed Doors.

During the war Canadians tolerated a good deal of regimentation and accepted many mild and not-so-mild forms of socialism in the belief that in order to defeat totalitarianism it was necessary to adopt many of the Nazi techniques.

Canadians are in no mood to continue accepting rules and regulations formulated behind closed doors and subject only to brief examination by Parliament. Today, citizens are eager to establish at least a few guaranteed liberties; and they insist with increasing vigor that any new law or regulation should be submitted to Parliament before it becomes a fait accompli.

Evidence of this public concern is the clamor against the CBC and its practice of operating behind closed doors. Last year the people of Canada paid almost four million dollars in license fees to support the CBC, and they have every right to demand that the press and the public be admitted when CBC deliberates matters of public importance. Certainly when private corporations give shareholders every opportunity to participate in important long-term decisions, CBC can have no legitimate reason for acting in a secret, cloak-and-dagger manner.

The select radio committee of the House of Commons is now holding its hearings. It might do well to find out what has already taken place behind the closed doors; and what can be done to keep the doors open to the searching light of public opinion.

To reform a man you must begin with his grandmother.—Victor Hugo.

Early plows were hewn from tree-trunks. About 1800, cast-iron moldboards began to be used.

100 YEARS OF PROGRESS

in making Farm Implements

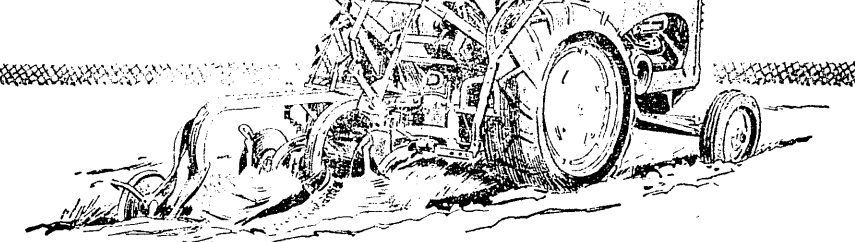

AS LATE AS 1794, wooden moldboards were hewn from tree trunks, and when the first cast-iron plows were made, farmers believed that the cast iron "poisoned the land." Then came lighter weight steel plows. Soon plows were being made in factories at much lower cost than they could be made by the local blacksmith.

Since 1847 when the first Massey plow started producing plows and other farm implements, machine methods have almost completely replaced hand labor on the farm.

Plowing requires more power than any other farm operation. Today on thousands of farms in Canada and throughout the world, Massey-Harris plows drawn by powerful Massey-Harris tractors speed across the fields, enabling the farmer to plow twice the acreage he formerly plowed with a four horse outfit.

Today Massey-Harris makes a type of plow for every purpose—walking plows, tractor plows, disc plows.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLANT SOYBEANS

Normal soybean planting period is from May 15th to June 15th

MARKET—There will be a ready market for soybeans as oils and fats will be in short supply for some time to come. Canada will need proteins to go along with the increased Canadian crop of feed grains.

This is the year when soybeans will show their great value to Canada's agricultural and food economy.
